Chapter 61

Chapter 61 "Yes, actually. We need to..." he looks at Tyler and Ezra. "Reset the Beast." He keeps it vague so they don't have any knowledge going in of what to expect. "I'm guessing we're going to have a few more challenges today." "Yes," both Ezra and Tyler say together. The instructors all smile or chuckle. Alpha James tilts his head, cracking his neck. "Been a while since I've ridden the Beast," he says. "Define a while, Alpha," Ezra says astutely.

James is known for making young Alphas think he's an easy competitor when he's anything but. They'll challenge him and he quickly hands them their ass. It's another lesson that many Alphas need. Never underestimate your opponent. He shrugs. "A couple of weeks," he says, drinking his coffee. "That's what I thought," Ezra says, drinking his. "What's for breakfast, Haley?" I ask her, then turn to Tyler.

"Or should I ask you?" "I just answer the questions I'm asked," he says, putting his hands up. "And what question were you asked, young Alpha?" Sylvie asks him. "If I like yogurt parfait." "And do you?" I ask him. "With strawberries and blueberries, yes," he smiles. "So, yogurt parfait? Anything else?" I ask, turning back to Haley. "Avocado toast, grilled tomatoes, bacon, and sausage." "Damn, I hope I get challenged today.

I need to work off all this food I've been eating," James says, rubbing his stomach. Sylvie arches an eyebrow at him, but he only smirks at her. We eat breakfast, then Sebastian and I head out to reset the Beast. "How are you feeling this morning," he asks me once we're alone. "Really good. More relaxed than I ever remember feeling in my life." "Good. I'll take that as a win." "Oh, you definitely won," I say, making him chuckle.

0.0 % 12:28 Chapter 61 As we walk up to the Beast, he turns to me. "Have you ever reset the Beast?" "No. I'm not sure why, maybe because you and Alpha James usually run this class." 288 iVouchers He walks me through where and how to reset the arrows and the fire, not showing me anything else since I haven't gotten that far into the Beast. "If an Alpha makes it to the arrows, you'll have to go pull them from the targets between contests.

You'll turn the system off down here, then you'll have to climb down outside of the Alphas' view until they've all reached this point of the Beast. You'll have to remember to turn it back on when you're done before returning to the front. Are you good with that?" he asks, showing me the ladder to get up and down this section of the Beast without being seen. I nod and he shows me where the gas is for the fire section, where to turn it on and off, and how to refill it if the gas tank depletes.

"As you get farther through the beast, I'll show you more," he says. "Until then, if anyone gets past the flames today, which I doubt, I'll reset it. Also, if I'm in a challenge, and someone falls, I'll need you to get to them, check their injuries, and take them to the infirmary if needed." About the time that we get back to the front, the group is arriving. "Good morning, everyone! Welcome to day two of Strength class.

We had a good start to our semester yesterday with Christina making it farther than any of the instructors," Sebastian says, and then turns to me. "I also did a little research and Christina got farther than any Alpha in our recorded history on her first try. So, there's the standard to beat," he says, shocking me. Everyone begins clapping and I feel my cheeks heat again. "So, let's get to it. Who wants to challenge an Alpha this morning?" he says, rubbing his hands together.

I realize that I haven't warmed up since I didn't run this morning, so I begin stretching while both Ezra and Tyler step forward. "Go ahead, Ezra," Tyler says. "You sure?" "Yeah. I'll be right behind you," he says. "Which instructor are you going to challenge, Alpha Ezra?" Sebastian asks him. I'm not surprised when he looks at Alpha Daniel. He's the youngest of the Alphas here and still in great shape. Ezra wants a tough challenge. "Alpha Daniel." "Human or wolf?" Sebastian asks.

"Human." Alpha Daniel smiles. "Let's see what you've got kid." Sebastian leads me over to the starting lineup, showing me where and how to stand to start the challenge. He nods, 38.9% 12:28 Chapter 61 letting me know that I should announce it. "You've got this, Ezra," I say, knowing it helped to calm me yesterday. He gives me a quick smile and nods before refocusing. "Competitors ready?" I wait for them to get into their stance. "GO!"

Chapter 62

Chapter 62 Both men race up the initial ramp and over the spinning pads. Ezra wobbles a moment, but he makes it. I step back just far enough to see him leap for the bar ladder. He and Alpha Daniel keep pace as they pull themselves up with their arms, then lock the bar into the next rung of the ladder. They're almost neck and neck as they get to the top. Once they slide onto the stand, we can no longer see them. I tilt my head, listening as they move into the next challenge.

"Fuck!" I hear from Alpha Daniel. Sebastian is standing beside me and his nose goes up in the air. "He got nicked," he says softly to me. 2 It's only a couple of moments later when I hear the whizzing of an arrow and then the softer sound of the arrow sinking into flesh instead of the target. I hear Ezra cry out and I'm running before I hear his body hit the ground. . Christina "Oh, that fucking hurts!" Ezra growls as Sebastian and I rush up to him.

He's got an arrow through the fleshy part of his arm. He sits up, glaring at the arrow in his arm. "Christina, for these, we can pull them out here. You still send them to the infirmary to make sure no bones were nicked or broken," Sebastian says, and I watch as he unscrews the end of the arrow, so he can remove the arrow nock. When he does, he hands it to me, just as Alpha Daniel jogs up. "Take a deep breath, Ezra," Sebastian says. He does and Sebastian tells him to do it again.

"When you exhale this time, I'm going to pull it out," he says. Ezra nods and Sebastian braces his hand on his shoulder. I do the same on his other shoulder. When he starts to exhale, Sebastian yanks the arrow out then puts pressure on the wound while Ezra curses a string of expletives. "Christina, can you get him to the infirmary?" Sebastian asks me. I'm about to agree, when Alpha Daniel says he'll do it.

"I think I need a couple of stitches," he says, gesturing to his leg that's covered in blood. He helps Ezra up and they head off to the infirmary. Sebastian turns off the machine then he and I climb up into the Beast and pull the arrows out of the targets. Once they are reloaded and the machine is back on, we walk back out and everyone looks at us. 0.0 % 12:28 Chapter 62 288 ¡Vouchers "Alpha Ezra is on his way to the infirmary. You still want a shot, Alpha Tyler?" he asks. "Absolutely.

I choose Alpha James. Human form," he says. It's a gutsy choice. He knows that James is adept on the Beast. James begins bouncing on his feet. "Time to take this young Alpha to school." "I thought I was already here, Alpha," Tyler says in a surprisingly teasing tone. "So you are, Alpha Tyler," he says as they walk up to the starting lineup. Sebastian nods at me and steps back. "You've got this Tyler," I say. "Alpha James is going down," he says confidently. Alpha James just laughs.

"I hope you can do it, kid," he says. "Competitors ready? GO!" I say when they're set. 2 Once again, I turn and watch until I can't see them any longer, then I listen. Alpha James doesn't get nicked like Alpha Daniel, but I hear that same sickening, soft thunk and I'm running before Tyler cries out and falls to the ground. Tyler's arrow is through his thigh. "Shit that fucking hurts!" he yells. I rush up beside him as Sebastian begins unscrewing the arrow nock.

"You got as far as Ezra did," I tell him. "But not as far as you," he says. "There's always tomorrow, Alpha," I say, turning to Sebastian. He keeps Tyler on his back, and I hold his hand while Sebastian rips the arrow out. Then he pulls his shirt off and ties it around Tyler's thigh. "Go get that stitched up. You'll heal faster," Sebastian says. I help Tyler up and wrap his arm over my shoulder. "You're with me, Tyler," I tell him. "Which challenge is the fire challenge?" he asks me. "Fourth.

I got past the arrows, but not the fire." "Want to tell me how you did it?" he asks me. I look at him and he's smiling at me. "How do you think I did it?" I ask him instead. Part of the Beast is using your intelligence so I don't want to give him an answer I know he can figure out himself. He's quiet while we walk. We're almost to the infirmary when he stops and looks at me. "The targets? "

Chapter 63

He nods, and I'm confident that he'll make it to the fire challenge tomorrow. Alpha Daniel and Alpha Ezra are already stitched when we get there and the three of us make our way back. Alpha Logan and Alpha Noah both have towels against their faces. Alpha Logan's nose looks like it was broken but someone put it back in place and Noah's lip is split and bleeding. I look at Mia. "Neither of them got past the spinning pads," she says, arching an eyebrow as if their efforts were pathetic. Yikes.

I look up as Sebastian calls the start of another challenge, Alpha Liam against Alpha Benjamin. Liam gets across the spinning pads, but when he leaps at the bar ladder, his hands slip, and he falls to the ground on his back. Sebastian gets to him first, and by the time I get there, he's gasping for air. He, like me, had the wind knocked out of him and his back is bruised, but he's okay. "Christina, are you challenging anyone today?" Sebastian asks me. I look around.

"Have all the Alphas been challenged?" I don't want to win just because the other Alphas are tired from having already run through the Beast. "I wouldn't call what Noah gave me 'a challenge'." I smile. "Then yes, Sebastian. I challenge you, in human form again." He smiles and Alpha Daniel limps up to start our challenge. When he tells us to go, we both rush forward.

This time, Sebastian is faster on the spinning pads, but I'm faster on the bar ladder and I slide onto the ramp seconds behind him. I check the targets and the direction of the arrow launchers and make my way across the rope bridge with only a small slice where an arrow nicks me. I take a deep breath when I get to the fire, hearing the flames blazing out as Sebastian makes his way through. I crouch, and race through the fire, prepared for that final blast.

It knocks me aside but not off the platform and I get to the next ramp and the fifth challenge. "Nice, Christina!" Sebastian encourages me. From fire to ice. The next challenge is what looks like metal pilings covered in ice. Shit. There are five of them, each one a little higher than the last. I'm pretty sure that if I do the same thing I did with the spinning pads, leap quickly, I'll get across. 0.0 % 12:29 Chapter 63 288 iVouchers I take a deep breath and leap.

One, two, three... and my foot slips out from under me. I slide sideways, grasping at the piling with my hand, just enough to swing my body back to the piling and slam my chin against the ice at the top. I bite through my tongue and taste blood pooling in my mouth. My hands grasp, trying to hold on, but I slip, unable to find any purchase on the slippery surface . I fall back to the ground, landing on my feet, but the sting of the landing shoots up my ankles all the way to my hips.

I hear a much softer landing beside me, and Sebastian is there, gently taking my face in his hands. "Let me see," he says, examining my face. "That's going to bruise," he says, gently running his thumb over my aching chin. "I can already feel it," I say and he frowns. "Did you bite your tongue?" I pull out of his hands and spit blood on the ground. "Sure-did." "Are you hurt anywhere else?" "My ankles sting and my hips are aching.

I didn't bend my knees when I landed and I felt it all the way up to my hips," I tell him. "I can work on that tonight in class. You'll just have to tell me if you're more sensitive than usual." "I can do that," I say, remembering that tonight is our first sex class, where I'll be the partner in front of the entire room. Sebastian I knew Christina would be a great assistant and an even better student. I just had no idea she'd be such a fantastic challenge.

Part of me is thrilled that she challenged me again on the Beast. It shows focus and determination. And I'm proud that she made it to the next level. She may end up being the first person to ever get through the Beast on week one. After lunch, I make sure that everything is ready for the sex class tonight. I expect that Christina will be nervous, but I know she'll still ask if there's anything that needs to be done. For tonight, I just need her to relax.

The Alpha Train Novel - Chapter 64

Chapter 64

A thought springs to life in my mind, a way to get her ready for being touched in the class and maybe have her or- gasm on the classroom table after everyone is done for the night. I won't do it during class . Tonight is about getting the young Alphas connected to their partners, not trying for an orgasm. When I'm done, I join the Managing the Pack class. This is Daniel's class, but I'm his back up. This, unlike the ones that James and I teach, is a classroom setting.

The six students file in and Christina walks up front. "Alphas, is there anything I need to do to help assist in this class?" I look at Daniel. He's the lead, but he has his own assistant, and Mia is more than capable. "I think we're good Christina. Mia is proving to be an excellent assistant," he says smiling at her. "It's good to have someone who is used to filling in the gaps of an Alpha." "I've got your back, Alpha," Mia says smiling.

"But here, Christina, you can pass these out on your way back to your seat," Mia tells her, handing her a stack of workbooks that we'll be using in this class. Since it's the first class, I let Daniel do most of the talking. James and I usually assess our new instructors to see if they are good at teaching. Daniel is straightforward and no nonsense, but I think he'll do well here.

I add my own feedback when he asks or when my experience differs from his, but mostly, I focus on the students and specifically Christina. She is taking more notes than the others. It could be that she's more conscientious, but I think it has more to do with her lack of knowledge and preparation for managing a pack. She's not an Alpha heir and the only other person writing as much as she is, is Tyler.

We won't have time to meet tonight because of class, but I make a mental note to talk to her about the class tomorrow when it's my turn to be the partner. Heat flares in my body at the thought. As much as I love having my hands on Christina, the idea of her having her hands on me, touching me, eventually putting her mouth on me... I shake my head. I need to focus. I shift in my seat, trying to find a more comfortable position now that my cock has responded to the idea of Christina touching me.

I have no doubt that she'll pass the sex class with flying colors. I'm having orgasms before she even touches me. The bigger issue will be me not embarrassing myself by shooting off the moment her hands wrap around me... And there I go again, not helping my currently worsening situation. James is teaching the next class. I sit in, but afterward, I pull him aside. He's been working with Sylvie as his assistant for a long time, and he's been teaching the sex class for years.

He must have some words of advice for not exploding in front of the class. "Hey, you got a minute?" I ask him as everyone files out of class. I smile at Christina as she passes. I better get that fucking 'Q' coin at dinner. 0.0% 12:29 Chapter 64 When Sylvie walks out, he slaps her ass, hard. She turns and raises an eyebrow at him. "Stop marking your territory, Alpha." "Are you sure you're going to be okay with this set up?" I ask him. He knows I'm talking about the sex class. "I don't have a choice." "You always have a choice." He presses his lips together tightly. "Did you need something?" he asks, shutting the conversation down. If I had more time, I'd press, but I don't. That doesn't mean I won't be revisiting this later. "Yeah, I need advice." He relaxes and leans against the wall. "What's up?" I sigh and run my fingers through my hair.

"I'm just going to ask." "Good, that would help, I'm hungry," he says, sounding more like himself. "Have you ever, uh, had an orgasm while you were instructing the sex class?" "All the fucking time. I've just gotten used to it now." I look up at him. "Seriously?" 2 "Sylvie's fucking hot and she makes those sweet little sounds that I love.

The woman doesn't even have to touch me and I'm exploding in my pants." "So what do you do?" "Double up on your briefs, don't wear boxers, and wear black shorts. I tried cups but that was ... weird depending on how early in the class I came. You could try padding too, but that was bulky and more obvious, I thought."

"Thanks." He slaps a hand on my shoulder. "So, things are moving forward with you two in this class? I mean I've seen the trust you're developing and the two of you work nearly seamlessly in the Strength class. But you think she's ready for tonight?" "I think she is. More importantly, she thinks she is. This week will be easier, and I have time to work with her to pre- pare for next week.

By then, everyone will know each other better, so that should help too." "And you're going to be her partner so she can take the class?" he asks me as we begin walking toward the dining hall. "Yeah. I think we're going to use Mondays and Wednesdays for her to practice on me and the other days will be me with her, preparing for class." "And eventually, the classroom won't be where most of the work is being done, so you can give her more days to practice.

Are you sure you're ready for this setup?" he asks me, using my words. "Do you really want to start that conversation? Because it's going to go both ways." "Let's table it then." "Good idea." By the time dinner is over, I feel like I'm going to burst. I'm practically desperate to get Christina's O token. James starts off like he does every night, going around and handing out coins.

He and I are both generous with our as- sistant coins because we know our lives would be miserable without them here to help us. I'm surprised, but pleased, when Daniel gives Mia one for anticipating what he needs before he does. I'm not surprised that she earned it, I'm surprised that he thought to give her one. Will also gives his tokens easily, giving Haley more tonight for her assistance, but also giving them out to the other assistants and young Alphas.

When it's my turn, I give one to Ezra and Tyler for making it as far as I did on my first try at the Beast, I give a gold token to Christina for getting to the next challenge on the Beast and a silver one for being an incredible assistant, which she is. I give others out to the assistants and then it's the young Alphas' turns. Ezra hops up quickly, giving Christina one for encouragement and Tyler one for being an equal competitor.

Tyler gives Christina one for making him think through his strategy on the Beast. Interesting. He also gives Ezra one and then gives several of the assistants for various reasons. When Christina stands, something coils in my stomach. I want that coin. I want it more than I've wanted just about 0.0% 12:29 Chapter 65 288 Vouchers anything in my life. It isn't rational, but it's how I feel.

Even my wolf is pacing in my head, and it feels like his fur is trying to sprout on my arms and back, making me feel on edge. She goes around, being generous with her coins for the assistants, then gives one to Tyler for figuring out his own strategy for the Beast and one to Alpha Daniel for making her first managing the pack class understandable. Then she turns and looks at me. I hold her gaze as she walks over and I don't take my eyes off of hers as she lays the coveted coin in front of me.

"For giving me the best orgasm of my life." I hear the howls of the others around me, but I ignore them as hot possessiveness flows through me. It's a feeling I haven't had since my mate passed away, but the feeling is just as powerful as the one I used to have with her. Without taking my eyes off hers, I reach out and slide the coin across the table before pocketing it. "Thank you," I say. She raises an eyebrow at me, a smile tugging at her lips. "Oh no, Sebastian. Thank you."

She turns and I watch her walk back to her seat as James stands up. 2 "And THAT, young Alphas, is the goal to achieve with your partners in the sex class. Hopefully, you've started work- ing on building trust already. If you haven't, you' re already behind. Tonight, you'll start working toward THAT achievement," he says, pointing at me then Christina. "See you all in an hour." Christina I was embarrassed to give Sebastian my 'O' coin. First, it looks a little battered and bruised.

Second, he deserved to know that it was the best orgasm of my life, but to say that in front of all the Alphas? That was the part I struggled with. 59.3 %

The Alpha Train Novel - Chapter 66

Chapter 66

Chapter 66 However, the moment I looked up at Sebastian, I knew I had to tell him. I've never seen hot possessiveness aimed at me like I saw in his gaze. I've seen it in my brother's eyes when he looks at his mate. I've seen it in hers when she looks at Dane, and in other mated pairs when they look at each other. But no one has ever looked at me like that. Something about it made my wolf stand up and take notice in a completely unexpected way. I felt that same posses- siveness coming from her.

I've never been possessive, never felt possessive. Until now. Something deep inside me is more than excited that I de- cided to take this sex class. It means that Sebastian will be MINE. At least for ten weeks. When we leave the dining hall, I head upstairs like everyone else to get my things and head to the classroom. "So, were you just being nice, or did you mean it?" Liam asks, falling into step beside me. I know he's talking about my comment to Sebastian.

"If you have to ask, then I pity poor Mia this semester," I tell him, before turning down my hall. "Don't you worry about me, Christina. He won't be the first young Alpha I've whipped into shape," Mia says, following me down the hallway. "I have every faith in YOU, Mia. It's the arrogant Alpha that needs to figure his shit out," I say, looking past her to where Liam is watching our exchange. I grab my robe and slippers and step into the hallway. I'll change in the classroom locker room.

"Can I come with you?" Haley asks, walking out of her room at the same time. I quickly look to make sure she has her robe and slippers. "Sure." "Me too?" Charlotte asks, stepping out of her room. "Come on," I say. When we step outside, Haley looks around making sure we're alone. "Is it normal to be nervous?" she whispers. "Yeah, I feel really anxious. I'm second guessing my decision to do this," Charlotte says. "I will tell you what Alpha Sebastian said to me.

The only thing you need to do is relax. You are the vessel that is allowing these Alphas to learn. If they do something you don't like or it hurts, you need to tell them, and Alpha James will be there walking around to make sure they don't do anything they shouldn't or that they listen if you say something hurts.

I completely understand feeling vulnerable, but this week, we're all on our stomachs while the Alphas learn about your bodies and massage you." 0.0 % 12:29 Chapter 66 "So, we just get a massage this week? Both nights?" Charlotte asks. 288 ;Vouchers "I believe so. And personally, I think you both have good Alphas. I think they'll be polite and do the best they can, knowing that this isn't a true sexual relationship. Just make sure you're guarding your hearts.

It's hard to become as vulnerable as we need to be and not have our hearts get involved, but that's OUR role in this," I say, giving Haley a look. "I'm trying, Alpha, but it's really hard." I know the feeling. "You have to try. Tyler isn't eighteen. When he goes home and has his birthday, he'll most likely find his mate or go searching for her in the other packs. You wouldn't be the first person an Alpha has left with a broken heart, Haley.

Just be careful and I know it's easier said than done." "Thanks, Alpha." "You know you can call me Christina, right?" I ask her. 2 "Not now that you're taking the classes. You're a young Alpha just like they are," Charlotte says. "Not exactly. I have ten years on them." When we get to the bathroom, I show them where the lockers are and we all change into our bathrobes and slippers.

Mia, Sylvie, and Emma join us as we're finishing up and I show the two ladies where we enter the classroom from here. When we walk in, both women suck in air. Sebastian is already here. He looks over, assessing Haley and Charlotte, and my protective stance near them. "Ladies, come on in," he says, keeping his tone moderated. They do, but I can hear both of their heartbeats increasing. "These are the tables where you and your Alpha will be getting acquainted.

I'm not sure what Christina has told you, but your only role here is to relax," he tells them calmly. "That's what she said," Haley says, smiling at me. "Christina would know. I've only had a week to work with her and look how far we've come in that week. This week will hopefully be about continuing to develop trust between you and your Alpha. You'll need to be honest with them about the type of touch you like and don't like, but it's up to them to get it right, not you." 53.6 %

Chapter 67 As he's talking, Tyler, Ezra, and Noah walk in from the other side of the building. Seeing their partners, Ezra and Tyler make a beeline over to us. "Is everything okay?" Ezra asks, watching Charlotte closely. She smiles up at him. "Just nervous." "How could you not be? It's not like this room isn't intimidating. Even I feel nervous," he says to her in a jovial way I would have never expected from Ezra.

It has the effect I know he was hoping for and I see Charlotte's shoulders relax. "Are there assigned tables, Alpha Sebastian?" he asks. "First come, first served," he says. "Let's pick our table," Ezra says to her. He glances up at me as he walks away and I give him a nod of approval. Well done, Ezra. "We should pick our table too. Hurry before they take the one we want," Tyler whispers at Haley, making her giggle.

She points to the table closest to this end of the room and they rush over to it. "This one's ours," Tyler announces loudly. "Then we'll take this one," Ezra says, moving to the table closest to them. "Which table do you want?" Noah asks as Emma, Mia, and Sylvie walk out. "I don't mind being in the center," she says. Why am I not surprised? "When everyone is here, we'll get started," Sebastian says as James walks in. Sebastian holds out his hand to me and leads me up to the dais.

"Do you want to sit until it's time to get started?" I nod and hop up on the table, looking out over the class. "Breathe, Christina," Sebastian says softly. I look at him and find him watching me. "You did well with them but take your own advice. Your only goal is to relax." "It's technically your advice, but okay," I say, smiling at him as Logan and Liam finally enter. Mia and Sylvie have already chosen their tables.

When a woman who has just had the best orgasm of her life asks if they teach you that in the Alpha Academy, the answer is yes. Everything you think you know about how to please a woman is probably wrong." Logan and Liam look at each other and roll their eyes. Man are they in for a rough semester. "Believe me, what you think you can do, you can't. We're going to teach you how to be the best lover anyone can be.

There's pride in being an Alpha, we need to be the best at everything and that includes being the best lover a woman has ever had. You're fucking Alphas, you have a reputation to uphold, but it also comes with responsibility. Women will fall in love with you, not just because you are an Alpha and the position you hold gives them stability, but you will take them places that no other man, except another Alpha, can take them.

You need to be careful who you engage in sexual relationships with when you return home. You wouldn't want to ruin your chance with a fated mate because someone you've played around with isn't willing to let you go." 2 I'm pretty sure that was meant for Emma, but I watch Haley and Charlotte as they glance at Tyler and Ezra. I'm not sure if this speech is helping them or making them more nervous. Tyler winks at Haley and Ezra puts up a hand in front of his chest, like a secret high five.

Charlotte quietly taps his hand with her. "We've got this." He says it softly enough that I can't hear it, but I read his lips. "The first rule of sex class is check your ego at the door. Believe me, if you don't, you won't pass this class and there are a lot of points in the class. Thirty of them are available to everyone. But there are twenty additional points that are only available to one person.

If you happen to get all fifty points in this class, you are one third of the way to being number one on the leaderboard without getting any other points. Think about that." Christina Sebastian goes on to explain that this week is about getting to know their partner's bodies through massage, next week we'll be turned over and he explains the expectation to give an orgasm through touch by the end of the week.

He goes on to explain that they have two weeks after that to bring their partner to oral orgasm before the class becomes more of a discussion and working through issues. 45.0 %

These women are here as volunteers to give you the practice that you need to learn and to become a better lover." "Questions?" Sebastian asks. When there aren't any, he continues. "Some quick housekeeping items. Every time you walk into this room, check your table. Make sure the device is locked so the table doesn't collapse while your partner is on it. There is a mechanism here," he says, leaning over the table to point to a switch, "where you can turn the heat on the table.

I suggest that you get here early to do that to help your partner relax more quickly. Ladies, there is a hanger right here for your robe. When you come in and are asked to get on the table, you will leave your robe here." "Any questions?" he asks as the Alphas all look at their tables, looking to find the switch and where the locks are on the table legs. I'm pleasantly surprised that all five Alphas double check to make sure the locks are on so the tables don't collapse. "One final rule.

These women aren't your sex partners, they are volunteers. You will ask permission at each session to touch them in whatever way you think you might want or need to touch them during the class or during any individual sessions you have outside of this classroom. If you don't get their permission ahead of time, you either ask them during your session, or you don't touch them in a way they haven't agreed to. That looks something like this," he says, turning to me.

"Christina, do you agree for me to use my hands and my mouth on your body in any way that I feel will help you relax this evening?" "Yes, Sebastian," I say. He smiles then turns back to the class. "Alphas, get permission and ladies, you may get on the table, face down." I hop down and remove my robe, noticing that the young Alphas seem too preoccupied to stare up at me while I'm getting on the table. That makes me feel a bit better.

When I'm in place, I feel Sebastian slide my hair off my back and then I feel heat beside my head. "I want to try something tonight. Do you trust me?" he whispers. 0.0 % 12:29 Chapter 68 "Yes," I say, nodding. "Good. When I dismiss class, stay put." "Okay." I lay there, feeling Sebastian press a hand to my back, as if letting me know he's there. "Ezra, Charlotte is shifting around, make sure she's comfortable." 1288 Vouchers I realize he's waiting to start until everyone is ready.

I hear James go over and it sounds like the blanket under Charlotte bunched and was pressing up into her hips uncomfortably. I'm guessing she raced to get on the bed and just needed to readjust the blanket underneath her. "I'll be right back," he says quietly to me and a moment later, the lights in the room dim. I take a deep breath. As if my body is already trained to respond to the dimming lights, I feel myself start to relax. 2 their partners.

He's back a moment later and he begins instructing the young Alphas on how to properly massage. He keeps his voice low as his thumbs begin working their magic over my shoulders and neck. "You'll want to learn where your partners hold their stress. These ladies work hard to make sure that we only have to focus on the educational part of the Academy. They do so much behind the scenes that we can easily forget how stressful their jobs are. It will be the same when you find your mates.

Lunas do so much for their Alphas behind the scenes. If she's your fated mate, the woman who is perfect for you, she'll anticipate what you need before you do. But you should never take that for granted. You should remind her that you never forget what she does for you and who she is to you." His voice is mesmerizing, and I feel myself falling easily into that trance state. 61.9 %

Chapter 69

Chapter 69 "Christina holds her stress in her shoulders, neck, calves, and shins. Each woman is different. You'll need to figure out where your partner holds their stress. Work out the knots for them, help them find their way into sleep or the trance-like state where their body becomes malleable for you and you can work out their stress for them." "Too hard, Alpha Logan," I hear Sylvie say quietly. I hear murmuring and then it's quiet again.

I periodically hear murmuring around the room, probably Alphas checking in with their partners, or partners giving feedback about their touch, but Sebastian's hands never stop working and when he gets to my calves, I moan at the feel of his strong thumbs working over the muscles. As Sebastian begins working his way back up, I begin to hear other soft moans or whimpers around the room. At least some of the Alphas have found the spots where their partners are sore and are working those out.

I feel the heat of Sebastian's body as he leans over me, his lips pressing against my spine as his hands continue to massage my legs. "Trust me, Christina?" he asks, and I nod. His head stays near mine, but I feel one hand slide between my thighs. I can feel how slick I am and when I feel a finger slide inside me, I gasp, my body tensing. "I won't make you come in front of the class, but I'd like to try it in this room after they leave. Do you agree?" I nod.

I know I need to get comfortable having an orgasm here, on this table, in front of the class. His lips press to the spot where my neck and shoulder meet and my body shivers in response. He slides a second finger inside me and my body arches, wanting him deeper. One hand continues to stroke inside me as the other rubs circles on my lower back. I have to fight the moans that threaten as I feel myself getting closer.

Sebastian must recognize when I'm on the verge of coming because he slides his fingers out of me and this time, my gasp is from frustration. "I promise I'll make it up to you," he says in my ear before kissing my shoulder and standing up. I can feel the difference in him, and I know he's about the call the end of class when I hear Mia's sharp voice. "Alpha Liam, I did NOT give you permission to put your fingers in my pussy. I don't give a fuck if Christina put you in your place earlier.

You don't use me to try to prove her wrong." I lift my head and see Liam looking startled. "Touch me again without my permission, and I'll break your nose with my foot. Got it?" she snaps. "Yes, Luna. I apologize," he says as James stomps over to him. Even from here I can hear him growling. 0.0 % 12:29 Chapter 69 288 ¡Vouchers "Alphas, help your partners up. If you did your job well, she'll be a bit dizzy.

Make sure she gets some water and is steady on her feet before you send her to get changed." Sebastian's hand on my back keeps me where I am, but I watch as the others help their partners up, both Ezra and Tyler handing the robes back to their partners. Emma leans her head against Noah who looks completely lost as to what to do since Emma is still naked. Mia is up and has her robe on, striding for the bathroom before anyone else, leaving Liam to deal with a very angry James.

Sylvie is up next, following Mia. "What did you say to him?" Sebastian asks me, still watching the others. "He asked if I'd exaggerated that you'd given me the best orgasm of my life, and I told him that if he had to ask, I pitied Mia this semester." "That's one way to deflate an ego," he says. "I think Mia's way was much more effective," I say. "Am I the only one who can't wait for Friday?" Charlotte asks Haley as she walks over to her.

"You don't have to wait, right Alpha Sebastian?" Ezra asks, looking up at us. "That's right. It's at your discretion, Charlotte. You can use this room at any time, or you can meet somewhere that both you and your Alpha agree on," he says. His thumbs have started massaging my ass cheeks again on the side of the table where the others can't see. He's slowly making his way back down to the ache that he's promised to ease for me. "Foama, class is over.

Make your way to the bathrooms and get changed," Sebastian says sternly. I look over and see hands on Noah's chest as if she's encouraging him to continue what he's started. 61.5 %

Chapter 70

"Yes, Alpha," she says, looking at Noah hopefully. He doesn't look interested in her suggestion at all. Smart man. Next week can't get here soon enough for him. I lay my head back down as I hear the room emptying. "Seb, you guys okay?" James asks. "Yes. We're going to continue now that everyone is gone." "See you tomorrow," he says. I've just heard the door click shut when Sebastian's fingers slide back inside me.

"Now, let's see if I can make you come in this classroom." Sebastian "I know this position isn't exactly conducive to making you come, but you're here, you're relaxed and you're wet, so let's try it," I say, sliding my fingers in and out of her while she lies face down on the table. "It feels really good," she says, her hips arching up against my hand. I push my fingers as deep as they can go then twist them back and forth inside her.

Her body tenses and she moans, but I know that she's not close yet. I begin sliding my fingers in and out, twisting my wrist so I can slide my thumb underneath her and rub her clit as I'm sliding in and out. She gasps and after a few more thrusts of my fingers, I feel her inner walls begin to flutter. There we are. I use my free hand to massage her perfect ass cheek and because I can, I lean down and gently bite her muscular ass.

As expected, her moans get louder as I add the little bit of pain to go with her pleasure. "Sebastian," she says, and I'm starting to realize that she says my name when she's going to come. I love that. I curve my fingers just enough to add some pressure to her g-spot as I continue to increase the speed of my fingers and add quick circles against her clit with my thumb. The angle is uncomfortable for me, but I don't care.

I want to know that she can relax enough to have an orgasm while in this classroom. When her body arches off the table and I feel her inner walls begin to contract, I hook my fingers completely and thrust faster until I feel her walls clamp down on my fingers. "Sebastian!" she cries, gripping the sides of the table and lifting her head up as her body rocks with her orgasm. I growl softly, my wolf preening at making her come on our fingers.

I lean over her, kissing her shoulder up to her neck the way that makes her body shiver for me. "That was good, but not nearly as good as last night. Would you like to roll over so I can give you a much stronger or- 0.0% 12:30 Chapter 70 gasm, Christina?" I purr in her car. Her body shivers again. "Yes." 288 iVouchers I wait until her aftershocks slow before sliding my fingers out of her. When I look at them, they're soaked with her arousal and release.

As she rolls over, I catch her gaze and hold it while I bring my fingers to my mouth. "Fuck," I say as my tongue greedily laps at her arousal on my fingers. My entire body responds to her taste of rum, berries, and a hint of vanilla. My eyes roll closed while I enjoy her taste and for the first time in a very, very long time, I feel the sting of my canines as they threaten to extend. I need to get my wolf under control.

I take a deep breath and lick the last of her taste from my fingers before opening my eyes. Hers are wide on mine, her mouth open in a soft 'O' of surprise. Without thinking, I lean over and take that mouth with my own. The kiss is slow, and I still feel drugged from her taste as I let myself drown in her. I feel her hands slide up, one into my hair and one on my shoulder. While I kiss her, I slide one hand to her breasts, feeling her nipples which are already hard and ready for my touch.

I begin gently tugging on them while deepening the kiss, capturing her moan in my mouth as she arches into my hand. "You taste so incredibly good," I murmur, before I begin kissing my way down her jaw to her neck, careful to stay away from her bare marking spot. I've already had to get my wolf under control once. I don't want to risk doing something unforgiveable. I kiss my way down her chest, to her breast before sucking her nipple into my mouth.

I slide my hand over her stomach, feeling the muscles quivering as I make my way to her slick heat. "Fuck, Sebastian, that feels so good," she says. 58.1 %
