

The Alpha Train Novel - Chapter 71

Chapter 71

Chapter 71 I realize it's the first time she's said something without me having to ask her for feedback. I take that as a good sign and slide my fingers inside her. Her moan is louder this time, or maybe it's because she's not face down, or possibly the sound is echoing around the room. I didn't come during class, thank goodness, but I know I will before I leave. The sounds she makes, the way she calls my name, is more than any man could withstand.

I pull off her breast with a soft pop, scraping her nipple with my teeth as I look down at my hand that is already soaked with her arousal again. Her scent is so strong, so intoxicating that I just want more. I look up at her. Her eyes are closed, her throat exposed in a way that makes my gums sting again and makes me almost desperate to accept her submission, and her lips are puffy from my kiss. She's so fucking beautiful. "Christina," I say, my voice raspy with my own desire.

Her eyes flash to mine. "May I use my tongue on your clit tonight? It's a way for you to start getting comfortable with my mouth on you, especially in this room," I say to her. "Yes, I think I would like that very much," she gasps. I growl, hungry for more of her taste as I begin kissing my way down her stomach. "You can hold on to me, Christina. I prefer it," I tell her. Her hands return to my hair and shoulder.

The one in my hair begins sliding through, her nails grazing over my scalp and making the hair on my body stand up as my nerve endings ignite. I slide the hand that was teasing her nipple down and gently spread her pussy lips, exposing her swollen clit to me. My head is spinning with her scent, and I moan as I take my first real taste of her, sliding my tongue from the top of her clit to the bottom.

Her entire body tenses and her hand fists in my hair, giving me that little bit of pain that I like. I take a moment while sliding my fingers in and out of her to lick her and taste her before beginning to apply pressure to her clit. "Sebastian," she moans, and her inner walls begin fluttering around my fingers. I growl softly against her clit, and she gasps, pressing her hips against my face and fingers. I increase the speed of my fingers as I slide my tongue up and down her clit.

Her breathing changes, becoming more ragged but her grip on my hair doesn't lessen. I feel the nails of her other hand sinking into my back where she's gripping my shoulder. I change the movement of my tongue, making little swirling circles as I continue to move up and down her clit and that sends her over the edge, her walls clamping down on my fingers, the muscles much tighter this time with the increased intensity of her orgasm.

o.o % 12:30 Chapter 71 "Oh fuck, Sebastian!" She cries, the sound echoing around the room. # 288 Voucher I growl more loudly when I realize that her body isn't coming down.

I hold her in the orgasm, forcing her to accept what I'm giving her. The moment she starts to come down, I push her back up and over again, my own body jerking with my release as I listen to her visceral cries of pleasure, her gasps, and eventually her whimpers as her entire body surrenders to me.

When I finally pull off her clit, her body is still shuddering with the aftershocks of such a long, hard orgasm. I take her hand off my shoulder and pull it to my lips as I watch her, my fingers slowing inside her. When I see the tear at her eye, I reach up and wipe it away, her face leaning into my touch. She doesn't open her eyes, but I cup her face and watch her, stroking my thumb over her cheek until the aftershocks finally subside.

When I slide my fingers out of her body, I press a hand to her stomach, helping to ground her while she regains her composure. When she finally opens her eyes, I smile down at her. "Wow," she whispers. "I'll take that as a good sign," I say, feeling very pleased with myself. My wolf is prancing around in my head, very proud of our accomplishment. "I don't have any other words. I'm sure there are some, but my brain isn't working," she says, her voice a bit rough from screaming her pleasure. 66.2%

Chapter 72 "Wait here, let me get you some water," I say, going to the water cooler we keep here for this very reason. I fill a cup of water and bring it over to her, helping her to sit up and holding her steady when she sways. "Drink this," I say to her. She does and I grab her robe, putting it around her shoulders while the blood moves back through her body. "Do you want some more?" I ask when she finishes the water. "No, thank you," she says, carefully sliding off the table.

I move her slippers in front of her feet and she steps into them. "I don't think I'm going to bother getting dressed. I'll just walk back in my robe. I'm sure everyone is in their rooms by now." "I'll get your clothes and walk back with you," I say, wanting to make sure she's okay. I don't expect that she'll get at-tacked, but she's still a bit wobbly. When I come back out of the locker room with her clothes, I catch her looking at my shorts.

I'd done what James suggested thankfully, since I came twice while I was keeping Christina on that high. When I see her lips press together, I smile. "Something wrong?" I ask innocently. "No," she says, not looking at me. "If you're worried that I didn't enjoy myself, you're welcome to touch my shorts and see how wet they are. I told you, you're an incredible, gorgeous woman, Christina. I'm just a man. My response to you isn't something I can control." She looks at me and hesitates.

"You'll be touching me starting tomorrow night, right?" She looks up at me as if that realization just dawned on her. "Yes," she says. She places the hand flat against my shorts, my dick flexing against her hand. She smiles at me. "Good to know one class will be easy for me to pass," she says, making me laugh. "I have no doubt that it will be your easiest class," I say. We walk out the front door and I turn off the lights before we head back to the dorms.

0.0 % 12:30 Chapter 72 "You should probably drink some more water tonight," I tell her. "And set an alarm. If I thought I slept well last night, I bet I sleep like the dead after that orgasm." 1288 iVouchers "Was it only one?" I ask feeling curiously possessive. The first one, when she was on her stomach doesn't count. But I thought I'd pushed her up and over a second time while she was on her back. She looks at me. "I honestly don't know.

It might have been two but if so, the second one came so hard and fast after the first one that I really don't know." "So, two back-to-back, or one really long orgasm?" I ask as we step inside the dining hall and head for the stairs. "Yes." I nod. "Either is acceptable," I say, making her laugh. "You'd think you were in the Academy." "I may be a retired Alpha, but I'm still an Alpha with a reputation to uphold," I tell her. It's partially true.

The bigger reason is that I want her to always remember who gave her the best orgasms of her life. It's possessive and unreason- able, but it's the truth. When we get to the top of the stairs, I take her face in my hand and lean in to kiss her gently. "Thank you for trusting me," I say. "Oh, Sebastian. Once again, it's me who needs to thank you," she says, leaning her forehead against mine. I smile and press my lips to her forehead.

"Sleep well, Christina." "You too, Sebastian." I wait until she's inside her room before turning to go to mine. When I check the time, I realize it's later than I expect- ed. I smile. That orgasm I gave her lasted even longer than I'd realized. I growl with self-satisfaction before washing my face and my own orgasm off my body. Then, I crawl into bed with Christina's scent still lingering on me. Her scent lulls me into one of the deepest sleeps of my life. Christina Holy Mother Moon Goddess!

Never, EVER, in my life have I had that happen. That was ... mind-blowing, amazing, incredible, dazzling... shit, there aren't any words that can describe what Sebastian did to my body. I mean, I know I'll be learning how to please him, but it's not the same.

The man is a master and I'm more than happy to let him use my body as the instrument to create his masterpieces. But the Alpha in me also wants to make him feel the same way he's made me feel. Giving him an orgasm and getting the points for the class seems like it will be easy, although I'll be sure to keep my ego in check. But I don't just want him to have an orgasm. When I arrive at breakfast, I'm one of the first ones there. Mia is there as well. "Hey, how are you after last night?" I ask her. "Still pissed," she growls.

"Did he actually put his fingers inside you without permission?" I ask, appalled. "No, I didn't let it get that far, but he was definitely going on to. He was sliding his fingers around my entrance, and he'd just slid them to my entrance when I stopped him. Fucking arrogant prick of an Alpha." "What did Alpha James say?" "He asked me if I wanted him booted from the Academy.

I told him I'd give him one more chance but if he pulls that shit again, he's out." "I think that's more than fair and honestly, I'm glad it was you and not Charlotte or Haley." "Me too. Chapter 74

"Find the weaknesses in his defenses, Christina. Quit playing with him." "Maybe he's playing with me, Alpha James," I say, not taking my eyes off of Alpha Benjamin. "He's old, Christina. He's getting tired. Take him down," he says. "Who are you calling old, old man?" Alpha Benjamin says, swinging a punch. I take the hit to my shoulder, letting the momentum of the hit spin me around behind his body.

His body is still in the extension from the punch, and I swing my leg up and slam my foot into the back of his knee, the one bearing most of his weight. He goes down to one knee and before he can get up, I leap on his back and put him in a choke hold. In a surprising feat of strength, he stands up so I wrap my legs around his waist, ready should he throw himself backward to land on me.

The move to stand cost him valuable time, time that my pressure hold has stopped the flow of blood and oxygen to his brain. Rather than throwing himself backward in a move I'd have to counter, suffer through, or would be forced to release him so I don't get crushed, he begins to sway. "Yield, Alpha Benjamin," I say, holding on tightly. He sways a moment more, his hands come to my arms to try and force me off the chokehold. I hold tight and the sweat on my arms helps me by making his hands slip.

When he falls back to his knees I put my feet on the ground, ready in case he's faking, but I don't think he is. "Yield," he says, tapping my arms. I immediately release him stepping back. He falls forward while the young Alphas around me cheer for my victory. I don't join in. I crouch in front of Alpha Benjamin. "Give it a minute, Alpha," I say to him. Someone hands me a bottle of water and I open it, handing it to Alpha Benjamin.

He sits back on his heels and drinks while Sebastian hands me another bottle. I drink it down in one go, still watching Alpha Benjamin. It wouldn't be the first time I'd caused someone to pass out. "That, young Alpha, was one of the best sparring matches I've had in a very long time. I'm surprised none of the packs have scooped you up to be their Lead Warrior," he says. "Dane's been asking me for years," I say, standing and giving him my hand to help him up. "But you've declined? Why?" I shrug.

"It felt like a handout." He stares at me a moment. "Well, that handout just handed me my ass. Well done, Alpha Christina." "Thank you, Alpha." Christina o.o % 12:30 Chapter 74 I grab another bottle of water and jog inside to shower before lunch duty. Laura jogs up beside me. "That was awesome, Christina! I knew you were good, but I didn't know you were that good," she says. "I train a lot," I say. "Obviously," she says. "Oh, hey, I have lunch duty with you.

Haley made a menu for the week. "Well that makes things easy!" I say. "Yep, see you down there." I shower quickly and head downstairs. When I get to the dining hall, I hear Alpha Daniel talking to Laura. "Laura, I need your assistance right now. Everything else can wait." "But, Alpha..." "Now, Laura." "What's going on?" I ask walking in. 288 iVouchers "Laura's the float and my assistant, Mia, is busy at the moment.

I need someone to help me get some things ready for my class tomorrow." I turn my body just enough so that I'm standing in front of Laura, putting myself between her and Alpha Daniel. The movement does not go unnoticed by Alpha Daniel who raises an eyebrow at me. "Alpha Daniel, I will remind you that this is not your pack, nor do we maintain strict hierarchal lines in the Academy. You are not in charge here and Laura, while a floating assistant, is on lunch duty today.

If she were to stop what she's doing to help you, lunch would be late. If lunch is late, then either everyone has to shovel food into their mouths to be in class on time or every afternoon class will run late today. I guarantee you when Alpha James and Luna Sylvie ask me why lunch is late, I will be happy to explain to them that it was you who thought that your priorities took precedence over that of the Academy. I would assume that Alpha James will make note of that, and I doubt you'll ever be invited to work here at the Academy again." Alpha Daniel looks at me, stunned.

Chapter 75

Chapter 75 "Now, the correct approach that you should have taken is for you to ask Laura if she's available to assist. When she said no, you could ask her if she knows where Charlotte is and you could ask Charlotte for assistance, since she is also a float. However, unless it is an emergency, and needing assistance for a class tomorrow does not constitute an emergency, you do not pull assistants off their assigned duties. Is that a problem, Alpha Daniel?" "No.

No problem," he says, looking at me a moment longer before looking behind me. "My apologies, Laura. I'm unused to not getting my way. Do you happen to know where Charlotte is?" "I'm right here, Alpha. What do you need?" Charlotte asks, walking in. "There you have it, Alpha," I say, not budging and holding his gaze. He looks at me a moment longer, then turns to Charlotte. I turn to Laura and nod for her to go into the kitchen. "Thank you," she mouths to me. I nod.

I've barely taken two steps when I see Sylvie leaning in the doorway of the kitchen like she was enjoying the show. "First you take down an Alpha using your strength, then you take one down using your words. I just knew watching you this semester was going to be fun," she says, smiling at me. "You could have jumped in, you know." "Why? You had it covered, and I was enjoying the shock on Alpha Daniel's face at you dressing him down.

That's obviously never happened to him before," she says her smile widening. "So, did Laura tell you that our resident chef created a menu for the week?" "She did," I say and I get busy making lunch. The rest of the afternoon is busy with classes. Sensory class is quickly becoming my favorite. I love being able to use the time to hone my senses, figuring out what animals I'm hearing in the woods and using my other, lesser senses to help me figure it out.

Maybe because Alpha James and I share hearing as our heightened sense, but I feel like he pushes me hard in this class which I like. I already feel like my senses are sharpening. After that is Finance which gives me a headache and then Dealing with Crisis. By the time the day is done, I'm tired, but I know I'm not done yet. At dinner, I get a coin from Alpha Benjamin for defeating him in sparring and surprisingly, I get one from Alpha Daniel.

When it's my turn, I give out my coins, saving Sebastian's for last. The entire time I'm giving them out, I can feel the heat of his gaze.

When I finally turn to him, he smiles, watching me with that same heated stare that he had last night. "For yet again giving me the best, most incredible orgasm of my life," I tell him, handing him the coin. I notice that my 'O' coin has taken the center spot on his necklace as if he's proud of it and showing it off. "I'll strive to do better," he says. "Honestly, Alpha, I don't know if my body can take it." "It can," he says.

It's like a promise of what's to come and my entire body clenches in anticipation. I feel my cheeks get pink as heat flows through my body, heading straight to my core. "Something to look forward to." After dinner, I walk up to Sebastian. "Where would you like to meet tonight?" "Would you be comfortable meeting in my room?" "Of course. Fifteen minutes?" "I'll see you there," he says. I go to my room, getting mentally prepared. This is like a class. No. For me, it is a class.

So, I think about everything that Sebastian said to the others during class last night and when I have a plan, I walk to his room and knock. When he opens the door, all thoughts leave me. He's wearing nothing but a towel slung low on his hips. "I thought this would be easier." "Uh, yes, yeah. That will make things easier," I say, stepping into his room. "So, um..." I stutter, trying to get my brain working again. The man's body is fantastic.

If I didn't know better, I'd say he was still an active Alpha. He's that fit. I take a deep breath. "I know that things are a bit different with us, but I thought we'd start where you always start with me, by sitting and talking first," I say, turning back around once I have control of my hormones again. 54.3 %

"Well, I got to watch my assistant defeat a retired Alpha this morning. That was a very proud moment, although I'm pretty sure she was holding back," he says to me. "You think I was holding back?" I ask, surprised.

"Weren't you?" I frown. Was I? "There were several times when you had an opening, and you didn't take it. I don't think it's a lack of knowledge or skill that kept you from defeating Benjamin more quickly, but I'm not exactly sure what it was. Do you know?" "I didn't feel like I held back at all." "Hmm, well then, I'll keep watching and see what develops." "Your assistant didn't make it past the ice again today." "She will.

Damn. His body is perfect, with muscles rippling across his arms, back, thighs and even his buttocks. His broad shoulders slide to a deep V, ending in narrow hips and an absolutely perfect ass .

His thighs are big, but not overly so and his calves are proportioned well with his thighs. He turns and looks at me. "Christina?" "Are all retired Alphas as fit as you are, Sebastian?" "I don't know. What I do know is that James and I have to stay fit to keep up with the young Alphas who come in every semester.

If not, I wouldn't be able to keep up with them or you, especially when riding the Beast." "Well, I'm sorry to stare, I just wasn't expecting you to look quite so good," I say honestly. 2 "Thank you," he says, grinning before he turns his face away from me. I walk over to him, running my hands over his shoulders and back, getting a feel for his muscles. When I get to his lower back, I feel the tension there, different than in his shoulders where I carry mine.

"You carry your stress in your lower back," I say. "I do," he answers. I slide my hands back up, running them down his arms, getting accustomed to the lines of his muscles, then I return to his neck and graze my nails from his neck up into his hair. I smile as goosebumps light up all over his body. This is going to be fun. Sebastian Christina's hands are soft, but firm and I feel my body responding the moment she begins sliding her hands over my body.

It feels like she's searching the muscles of my body, hunting for the places that are sore and need attention. She may never have given a massage before, but I already know I'm going to feel great tomorrow. And then she slides her hands into my hair. Her nails scraping against my skin makes my body tingle. As her hands slide back down my back, I feel her face near mine. "May I use my mouth on you, Sebastian?

Get you used to feeling my lips against your skin?" And just like that, I went from partial erection, for full, aching hard on. "Yes. " "Thank you," she says. She's been paying attention. She's using my own methods against me. I have no idea if they are this effective with her, but they are extremely effective at getting me turned on. I'm just thankful that I'm on my stomach. I'm very relaxed. I'm getting closer to that trance state that is the goal of the massage. I can't remember if we were done talking about her classes, but I'm so relaxed that I can't muster the energy to ask her.

She moves to my ass, massaging the muscles that I didn't realize were sore, but are, especially around my hips. I moan again as her hands move to my thighs. She's careful not to pull the hair out of my legs as she moves down to my calves . When she gets to my feet, I moan loudly. I hear her chuckle. "Sore feet?" she asks softly. "Apparently," I murmur. She spends time working on my arches and the knots she finds there as well as massaging the tops of my feet which also feel sore.

By the time she begins working her way back up my body, I'm very relaxed, more relaxed than I remember being in a long time. I can hear my breathing as it deepens, the cadence following the rhythm of the slow movement of her hands gliding over my muscles. I jolt awake, looking around and realizing that Christina is gone. There's a blanket over me and a note beside me on the nightstand. 'Sleep well, Sebastian.' I look at the clock. Two a.m. I get up and check the door. Locked. I smile.

She was looking out for me. I use the bathroom and get back into bed, pulling the blanket up and finding the spot she touched, breathing deeply and letting her scent lull me back to sleep. 0.0 % 12:31 Chapter 77 288 (Vouchers In the morning, I wake up and see that I'm running a bit late. I quickly get showered and dressed and head downstairs. Christina is already there along with several other morning people. "Did you sleep well, Sebastian?" Christina asks me as I pour myself some coffee.

"Very well. I'm sorry I fell asleep on you," I tell her. She chuckles. "I took it as a compliment." When I look, James has an eyebrow raised in my direction. "Last night was Christina's first time acting as student. Her massage put me to sleep." I turn and look at her. "I guess we're good on trust." "Well, we've been working on it for a week, just in a different way.

I think I got the easier part of this." "Building trust is only easy if you put the effort into it and you don't betray it," I tell her honestly. "I have no intention of betraying your trust, Sebastian." "I have no intention of betraying yours either, Christina." 2 Strength class started in same way it usually does, on the Beast. Logan made it to the second challenge, but slipped and fell, knocking the air out of him.

Noah couldn't make it across the first challenge, and I can tell he's getting frustrated. "Alpha Noah, don't let it get in your head. Don't let the Beast defeat you before you even get on it," I tell him. I know he's not listening now, he's too frustrated, but hopefully he'll think about that between now and tomorrow. Liam got knocked off by the arrows again, but Ezra made it to the fire before getting blown off the Beast. Both Christina and Tyler fell at the ice challenge.

"Christina, I'll tell you the same thing I told Noah," I say, coming to check on her. Falling off the ice section is the biggest way that young Alphas break something. So far, Christina hasn't broken anything, but she's been pretty bruised up every day. Today is no different. She slammed her thigh against the top of the piling before falling. Today she has a gash along with an already ugly bruise. "Don't let the Beast get in your head. You've been in this spot for three days.

You need to figure out how to get past it," I tell her. She nods. "Get to the infirmary and have that looked at. You're off sparring today." 49.0 % 12:31

Chapter 78

"I'll be back to help out." "Take care of yourself so you can heal. Tomorrow is Friday, we still have one more Strength class before the week- end," I tell her. I was hoping she'd defeat the Beast faster than any other Alpha, but she's starting to let it get in her head. I send her off, then set up the sparring partners. James walks up to me.

"Is she okay?" "Bruised and she has a gash, but she'll be healed by tomorrow," I tell him, giving Tyler some pointers how his approach with Daniel needs to change before moving to the next group. "That's not what I mean. Is it getting into her head?" he asks. "Yeah, hers and Noah's. " He nods. Between the two of us, we'll make sure that Christina doesn't fail. Somehow, during our time tonight, I need to help her see that she can find another way to defeat the Beast.

Liam POV After lunch, I try to approach Luna Mia again. This is the fourth time I've tried to approach her but she's unwilling to even let me apologize for Tuesday night. "Luna Mia," I say walking up to her. "Alpha Liam, I have nothing to say to you," she begins. "Please Luna, I just..." She snarls. "Did you not hear me, Alpha. Do you have wax in your ears?" she growls. "No, Luna." . "Then get out of my sight," she snarls. I go to my next two classes, struggling to focus.

If I can't figure things out with Luna Mia, I won't pass the sex class. I know they told us we didn't have to win the ten-point coins to pass the Academy, but I haven't earned any single coins, not like Tyler, Ezra, and even Christina who are earning them every fucking night. At this rate, I won't pass the Academy, and I'll prove my father right. That I truly am the fuck up he says I am. When we get to the Communication class, Logan shoulder bumps me. "You okay, man?

You've been out of it all day ." o.o % 12:31 Chapter 78 "Yeah, I'm good." I'm anything but good. 1288 Vouchers When we sit, Alpha James tells us we're going to start interviewing each other. This is our way to practice focusing on the person in front of us, listening to what they have to say, and learning how to get to the heart of an issue. That gives me an idea, and my hand shoots up in the air. "Alpha Liam?" Alpha James asks. "Can we pick the topic of conversation?" His eyes narrow at me.

"Yes." "Can we choose our partner?" He looks at me long enough that I'm ready to start squirming in my seat. "For today, I'll allow it," he says. "Then I'd like to go first." He leans against the wall, still watching me as he crosses his arms over his chest. Finally, he gestures at me. "Go ahead." "Alpha Christina," I say. She looks surprised, but we both get up and step to the front of the class where there are two chairs facing each other. I lean forward. "I want to know how he did it.

How did Alpha Sebastian gain the trust you needed for the sex class so quickly." Christina When Liam called my name, I expected something ridiculous and snarky, maybe even trying to figure out how to get me into bed. Of all the questions that he could have asked, this is not one that I expected. "You want to know how Sebastian gained my trust?" I ask slowly, as if I misheard him. "Yes. Luna Mia won't speak to me and if she won't even talk to me, how am I supposed to pass the sex class.

I don't expect to get the fifty points, but there are thirty points available to all of us, and I'll never get them if she won't even speak to me." He's serious, completely and totally serious. It's really bothering him that she won't speak to him. Well, if this is what he wants, then I hope he's ready for the truth of my answer. I lean forward, mirroring his posture. "You want to know how to gain Luna Mia's trust? Well, I'll tell you, you fucked up from very beginning.

On day one, Alpha James told you to start building trust with your partners. And what did you and Alpha Arrogance number two 42.2 % 12:31 Chapter 78 288 ;Vouchers do?" I say, pointing to Logan. "You walked out without even saying hello. How very arrogant and disrespectful of you. Then, in your first class, you try to prove a point without getting the consent that Alpha Sebastian told you that you are required to obtain, once again proving how disrespectful you are.

You broke the first rule of the sex class, Liam. Check your ego at the door. Your ego is so fucking big, I'm surprised you even made it through the door."

Chapter 79

"How do I fix it?" he asks earnestly. I sit back, looking at him. "You have a long fucking way to go, and you did it to yourself. You want to know what Sebastian did to earn my trust?" "Yes!" "He talked to me. He asked me about myself. He and I would meet at night and talk about each of you on the days you got on the Train. We talked about me taking the classes this semester, what that would mean for me. We talked about which of you I thought was my biggest competition and why.

He took an interest in ME. He showed me that he cared about ME as a person." "She's refusing to even talk to me!" he insists. "How can I build trust if she won't talk to me?" "You practically violated her, Liam! Do you think she's just going to forgive you? You're lucky this whole fucking Academy didn't come raining down on you. Mia is a wonderful, intelligent, strong, loving woman. We ALL care about her. And do you know WHY we didn't come for you, Alpha? Because of her!

She was willing to give you a second chance. The only reason you haven't been kicked out of his Academy and lost your future position as Alpha, is because of her." I see the shock on his face. I'm sure James told him he was on very thin ice here at the Academy, but maybe he wasn't quite as blunt as I'm being. "How do I fix it?" he whispers. I look at him for a long moment. I can tell he means it. For once, there is no arrogance on his face, only a pleading for me to help him.

"Check your ego at the door," I say more calmly. When he opens his mouth, I raise my hand. "I'm talking, you're listening." He nods and closes his mouth. "So far, you've been trying to talk to her on YOUR terms, privately, away from others. Why would she trust you in that environment? You've already proven that you're not trustworthy. Get rid of the arrogance, be willing to be humble, and find a way to talk to her when she's in a group.

She may not talk to you right away but start talking to the assistants around her. Ask them about themselves. Ask them about their day. Ask them why they chose to ride the Train. Ask them anything that has nothing to do with you and everything to do with them. Get to know them and when she sees that you mean it, that you're being honest about it, she'll start talking to you. Then, you have to continue to do it. You have to mean it. You don't have to like her, but you do have to respect her.

And you have to care 0.0 % 12:31 Chapter 79 enough to get to know her as a person." He sits back, obviously thinking through my response. 288 ¶ Vouchers "Well done, Alpha Christina. You've given Alpha Liam a lot to think about," Alpha James says. "You two can go back to your seats." Alpha James goes on to discuss how my focus on Liam was perfect, even though I called out others as part of the conversation. I look over, seeing Sebastian leaning against the wall, watching.

He catches my eye and winks at me. I smile and re-focus on class. At dinner, I'm pleasantly surprised when Liam walks to our table and asks to sit with Luna Mia, Luna Sylvie, Laura, Alpha James, Alpha Sebastian; and I. Mia stares at him, but Sylvie offers to let him sit. He's obviously struggling and this time, I'm not going to throw him a bone. He knows what he needs to do and it's up to him to do it.

Apparently, Alpha James and Sebastian feel the same way because neither of them helps him open the conversation either. "So, um... how was everyone's day?" he asks. Laura looks around, obviously feeling the pressure, but she's always been very easy-going, so she opens up. "My day was great. I got to video call Kevin, that's my mate," she says. "It must be hard for you to be away from him," Liam says, taking the lifeline she threw him and running with it. "It's really hard.

I didn't realize how hard it was going to be, and it's only been a week." "Do you think it's harder because it's new?" he asks. "No, I think... well, I never truly understood how powerful the mate bond is until I met him," she says, looking at the others at the table. "It's very powerful. I don't think you can describe it in a way that others would understand if they've never felt it," Sylvie says, joining the conversation. 58.1 %

Chapter 80 "Maybe we can have him come up for a couple of days. It would probably help both of you. We could figure out several times over the semester when you two could get together. It doesn't mean you could get away without working, but..." Alpha James begins. "We would work around it, Laura. That's a wonderful idea, James," Sylvie says. The rest of dinner is a bit awkward with Liam trying to find things to talk about with the others, and hoping that Mia will jump in.

She watches him, frowning frequently, but she doesn't participate. When dinner is over, Alpha James begins by giving out coins. I'm surprised when I get one from him for giving a 'Damn good lecture and meaningful points for consideration' in the Communication class. I'm even more surprised when I get one from Liam for helping him and I'm not at all surprised when I get one for Sebastian for a great massage and an even better night's sleep. When it's my turn, I give Liam his first token.

"For humbling yourself and asking the right questions." I give several others, including lots to the assistants, except for Emma who still hasn't earned any except from Logan. When we're done, Sebastian suggests that we meet in the classroom again. "I want to make sure I answered any questions you had about your classes before I passed out on you last night and then, I'd like to see if I can win another token," he says, grinning like the Cheshire Cat.

not to break me Sebastian," I say, but my body is already betraying me. I can't wait. He leans in, his breath caressing my ear. "I promise if you shatter for me, I'll put you back together." My entire body shivers and heat swirls in my core in anticipation. "Deal," I say to him. That same heated, possessive look is back in his eyes. Damn he's so fucking sexy. "See you in fifteen," he says. As soon as he walks away, Mia is there.

"You want to tell me what the fuck that was with Liam?" Sebastian I get to the classroom, setting up the table and turning on the heat. Then I dim the lights and wait. And wait. It's not like Christina to be late and I've just about decided to go look for her to see what's going on when she rushes in through the locker room entrance. "Sebastian, I'm so sorry I'm late," she says, rushing over to the dais.

I quickly get to her, giving her a hand so she o.o % 12:31 Chapter 80 11 288 Vouchers doesn't trip on her slippers as she steps up. She's breathing heavily and her hair looks like she yanked it out of the ponytail it was in earlier. "Breathe, Christina. Is everything okay?" She takes a deep breath. "Yeah. Mia caught me after dinner.

She wanted to know what was going on with Liam, so I filled her in on the Communication class." "How'd she take it?" I ask her, stroking her arm as she catches her breath. She obviously ran over here and rushed to get changed. "She was as surprised that he sat with us at dinner as I'm guessing we all were." "Hopefully, he'll keep it up. You gave him a lot to think about today. For your first time, you were excellent," I tell her honestly. "Well, I had a good teacher," she says.

"Don't do that, Christina." "Do what?" she asks frowning. "Don't give Dane credit for your accomplishments. Many Alphas have good role models and don't do anything with it. Many have shitty role models and still excel. It's your choice and your ability that made your response to Liam what it was." "Well, I agree that I did it. I just think that having watched Dane speak to our pack members in a similar fashion for years has helped me to learn more quickly." "Helped you, yes.

Accomplished for you, no. What else would you like to talk about tonight? I'd like to talk first be- cause I want to try two different things tonight." "Okay. Umm, how about Managing the Pack," she says, and we talk through her questions about what occurred in that class today. I lean against the table, fascinated as always with how intelligent and intuitive she is. I guide her to finding the answers she's looking for, rather than giving them to her and watch her think through her responses.

This woman is so sexy on so many levels, and she does it without even trying. "I think that's it," she says, flashing me a smile. "Alright. How about you get on the table, face up for me," I tell her. She moans as soon as she lays down. "Oh, this heat feels so good on my hips." 53.9 %
