140 Tomb Owner's Identity, Revealed! The Priceless Item Within the Pagoda! (3)

He quickly lifted the tablet up and placed it vertically on the floor tiles.

Although there were many small words on the stone tablet that could not be read clearly, the words themselves were relatively undamaged and were actually well-preserved.

With the aid of a magnifying glass or similar objects, or perhaps at a location with good lighting, one would definitely be able to make out what the words read.

Of course, Luo Feng did not have a magnifying glass on him. Instead, he got Qin Rubing to bring out a flashlight to illuminate the text for him to read. With a smile, he announced, "Looks like my guess was correct. This is Eunuch Wang's grave!"

!!

As he spoke.

Luo Feng shifted the camera so that the words on the stone tablet could be read by the viewers.

"F*ck! It really is the West Military Commander?"

"Awesome! The host is so awesome. How did he managed to analyze it so accurately?"

"How can the host deduce the tomb owner's identity so clearly without even a single epitaph in sight!"

"Sherlock Holmes, who? Move aside from Old Luo!"

"Eunuch Wang really is awesome. To think that he's in charge of the western front at the tender age of 10!"

"What's the use of being awesome if he still dies miserably!"

With the matter now settled, Luo Feng headed to the next treasure dot.

10 minutes later, the floor tiles hiding the item had been dug up.

The item in question was a box that looked very exquisite.

But in terms of size, it was about the same size as the box that had Eunuch Wang's manhood in it.

He opened the box and saw a square-shaped trinket inside.

[Ding! The official seal of the Ming dynasty's west military district!]

[Worth 150 million!]

"F*ck! Brothers? I think I just found something awesome!"

"This should be the official seal of the eunuch, the former commander of the west military district!"

Luo Feng exclaimed excitedly.

“Official seal? That little thing?”

“Is the official seal of a eunuch very valuable?”

“If the host says it’s good stuff, then it must be good stuff! ”

“F*ck, even eunuchs have official seals? This is the first time I’ve heard of it!”

“Can this thing be as valuable as the chicken cup from earlier?”

“I’m not sure about that, but there are very few official seals of eunuchs like this in history! ”

“I think it should be over a hundred million, right?”

“There aren’t many treasures in this tomb, but all of them seem to be a cut above regular treasures!”

“In terms of the official seal, could it be the official seal of the Imperial Stable? After all, he was once the eunuch in charge of the Imperial Stable!”

Looking at the bottom of the official seal, Luofeng exclaimed with delight, “It’s not the seal of the Imperial Stable! It seems to be a seal of some kind of imperial envoy. It should be a major seal of the imperial envoy.”

“Damn! A major seal of the imperial envoy? Are you sure you’re not fooling me, host?”

“Why do I see some weird symbols on the pattern? What’s at the bottom?”

Luo Feng smiled, picked up the official seal and dug out some ink from the box. “There’s even Longquan ink in the box? Not bad... Although it’s just a smidgen of it! But oh well, I’ll be using the ink to stamp this seal for you all to see!”

“Damn! Longquan ink?!”

“Host, don’t be so extravagant! Don’t use it!”

“Yeah, don’t use it!”

“The host is wasting tens of thousands of yuan just to prove a point?”

Seeing that Luo Feng had obtained a sheet of xuan paper from Qin Rubing and was going to stamp a seal on it using Longquan ink, everyone was immediately felt a sense of waste.

Longquan ink? Live streaming the stamping of a seal?

Isn’t this too extravagant?

“Brothers, the seal has been stamped. This piece of paper should be the only copy that has the imperial eunuch’s seal in this world! Perhaps it may be worth hundreds of thousands of yuan? Also, since this stamp utilized Longquan ink, maybe it could fetch an even higher price!”

Luo Feng flashed a toothy grin.

The viewers went crazy again.

“What the hell? This is worth hundreds of thousands again?”

“Old Luo, hurry up and stamp a few more!”

“Didn’t you hear what Old Luo said? It’s valuable only because it’s the only copy! If more copies are produced, its value drops precipitously!”

Qin Rubing nodded at this and said, “Indeed. If this is a one-of-a-kind, and it’s stamped with Longquan seal ink, then just the official seal stamp alone is worth tens of thousands! But it must be a one-of-a-kind, otherwise its value is only that of the Longquan seal ink itself!”

[Natural Home’s Ji Shunjin: Natural Home wishes to buy this print! We’re offering 500 thousand!]

“Get lost! Mods, ban this person!”

Damn.

Someone is actually buying it.

Upon noticing this, the viewers went silent.

Old Luo really was not one to do things pointlessly.

However, thinking about it, if the seal itself is already worth hundreds of millions, it stands to reason that a print of the seal should be rather valuable as well!

“Now that the seal has been stamped, I’ll show you the seal’s inscription!”

Luo Feng lifted the seal.

He knew that it was probably made of various materials such as silver, jade, and gold.

The inscription read: “Authorized by the Imperial Household Department, under the General Directorate of the Western Military District, for matters concerning defense.”

“See this? Eunuch Wang was indeed responsible for defending the western front of the capital!”

“And you see, the side of the seal says it was made by the Ministry of Rites in the 12th year of the Chenghua period!”

“It must be genuine!”

Luo Feng took a deep breath. “I can confirm that this thing is very valuable!”

He carefully put the item away.

Today was a good day.

Another item worth hundreds of millions had been obtained.

“Old Luo, aren’t you going to host a giveaway?”

“Yeah, after all the valuable treasures you’ve obtained, you’d better share your wealth or we’ll curse you with misfortune!”

“Don’t bother holding a lotto! Just hand it all over to me!”

“I don’t wanna participate in a lotto too! Just give me the d*ck and I’ll be satisfied!”

“That thing might be worth tens of thousands, but will anyone buy it?”
