

A Trash 31

Chapter 31

Shocking! Wood From the Dinosaur Ages? Priceless! (2)

Upon hearing that, Su Meiji thought about it. Xiao Fang was also an honest person.

Moreover, there was no harm in taking a look.

She immediately let her into his office and opened the live-stream of the Treasure Hunter.

“Brothers! Don’t believe it!”

“Are the experts back yet?”

“Please explain it to the noobs!”

“Why don’t you believe me every time I say something?”

Of course, Luo Feng had successfully obtained the beehive.

It seemed that all these bees had gone out to gather honey. Although some remained to guard the hive, there were not many of them. When they returned, they would definitely know that their hive had been stolen.

“Looking at the closeness of the hive and the location of the cliff...it does seem to be fairy honey.”

“How should we contact the streamer?”

Su Meiji and Xiao Fang watched the live broadcast excitedly. She relied on this honey to make a name for herself because the rich had been superstitious about this honey all these years...

She really wanted it.

“I don’t think it’s possible! This streamer turns off his private messaging function when he streams! We can tip rockets for 5,000 yuan each. That way, the streamer will definitely see it and will reply to us!” Xiao Fang knew this platform very well. Soon, she came up with a plan for Miss Su.

“What about this gift? How much is it?” Su Meiji pointed to a gorgeous angel wing.

“Uh! Miss Su, that’s the descent of an angel! It’s 88,000 yuan!”

“This is it. Give him this tip and shout out to him!” Su Meiji said shockingly.

Xiao Fang was dumbfounded.

How magnanimous of President Su.

[Kang Yun Healthcare Center: Streamer, I’ve given you an angel! Look, it’s yours in exchange for your honey! Our Kang Yun Healthcare Center wants it for 1.2 million!]

“Not for sale, not for sale!”

“The streamer said it before! He’s not selling it!”

“It doesn’t matter how much you tip!”

Luo Feng took a look. Kang Yun Healthcare Center was quite rich, giving him more than 80,000 yuan to attract his attention.

But was 80,000 yuan a lot?

For the current Luo Feng, it was definitely not much.

“F*ck! Streamer, don’t be so arrogant. They gave you so much money, and you rejected them just like that?”

“What’s wrong with rejecting Kang Yun Healthcare Center? Didn’t the number one health center in the country, Mrs. Han, get rejected just now?”

“That’s right, that’s right. The streamer said that he would stay at home and drink it himself. He won’t sell it!”

“Hey, streamer, aren’t you single? The owner of Kang Yun Healthcare Center is an attractive woman!”

“I think I’ve heard of her. She’s quite famous in Jiangnan. She’s called the number one beauty in Jiangnan. In other words, she’s Yafei from the “Battle of the Dead”, a young lady who started from scratch.”

When Luo Feng heard this, he said bluntly, “Tsk, as if I’ve never seen a woman before. Isn’t it good to have a hot chick at the club every day? Who cares about her?”

“What kind of streamer is this?!”

“And hot chicks?”

Su Meiji never expected that after tipping him 88,000 yuan, she wouldn’t even have the chance to say a word.

After all, she was the chairman of Kang Yun Healthcare Center and was worth three billion.

How could he be so arrogant?

“Cough, cough, cough. Miss Su, this streamer likes to joke. Perhaps he’s just joking with some hot chick!”

“The key is that five catties of honey is enough for half a year!”

Xiao Fang also knew that a cup of tea didn’t cost much because it was just a smidge of honey, but it could be sold for 3,000 yuan. It was definitely effective. Continuing to drink it every day was very beneficial to the body.

One million yuan for five catties of honey could be sold for a total value of 30 million yuan. Along with other health programs and the sale of beverages and food, it could bring in more than a hundred million yuan.

This was a healthcare center. The profits were terrifyingly high, but it wasn't like they were scamming people ruthlessly. This was because the rich did not lack money. Even if they knew, they would not care.

"Alright, Xiao Fang, you can shout out in the live-stream yourself. Don't tip him anymore. Try to contact him again and discuss it properly! If we can't get such a thing and let other healthcare centers get it, more rich people will definitely run away! The popularity of fairy honey among the rich in the past few years has been simply terrifying!" Su Meiji said in a regretful tone. She relied on this honey to make a name for herself. Would this honey also be the reason she closed down?

Back then, when she started her career, it was this thing that was hyped up to 350,000 yuan per kilogram.

She had completely caught up with the trend and was only lucky to be where he was today. After the price stabilized, it had become hot again in the past few years.

She had been in charge of the Kangyun Healthcare Center for eight years and now had a market value of five billion at twenty-eight years old.

If she did not make any breakthroughs, her dream of building the company into an organization with a market value of 10 billion yuan before she turned 30 would be ruined.

"What? Old Luo, the honey you picked is worth a million yuan?"

Luo Feng wrapped the beehive in his clothes and came up.

That thing was worth a million.

An Peng was dumbfounded.

"Don't doubt it. Some healthcare centers have already raised the bid to 1.5 million! But I won't sell it either! This thing is really rare! Eating it every day can't cure all illnesses, but for women, many gynecological illnesses can be effectively treated!"

...

How could Luo Feng sell such a good thing for a few bucks?

Those people in the healthcare center were dreaming. No matter how much money they offered, he would not sell it.

"Old Luo, I really admire you. Is this luck? Or are you really that capable?"
