Chapter 201: Going to War for the Country, Not a Blade of Grass Grows!_3

"Good!"

Kong Hui immediately went to execute the order.

Song Xiangdong looked at the other security bureau leaders and continued, "I heard your discussions just now. I will think about it carefully. You all consider more possibilities as well. We'll have another meeting in the afternoon to discuss further. Also, we'll listen to Lao Kong's conversation with the foreign organization then."

"Yes."

The leaders of the security bureau nodded and left the conference room one after another.

For a moment, only Song Xiangdong was left sitting in the conference room, deep in thought.

What should I do?

At this moment,

the secretary walked into the conference room, came to Song Xiangdong's side, and said softly, "Director Song, Lin Beichen is here."

"Why is he here?"

Song Xiangdong looked at his secretary in confusion.

The secretary explained, "While you were in the meeting, Lin Beichen called to say he had made progress in his cultivation and wanted to come for a rating test. I arranged for an agent to bring him over."

He explained the situation succinctly.

Song Xiangdong nodded and then stood up, "Since he's here, I'll go greet him personally. Let's go, lead the way."

"Yes."

Under the secretary's guidance, Song Xiangdong soon met Lin Beichen, who had just arrived at the security bureau.

"Lin Beichen, congratulations on making progress again."

"Director Song, I'm here to trouble you again."

Lin Beichen smiled awkwardly and then followed Song Xiangdong towards the testing area.

On the way, he suddenly thought of something and casually asked, "By the way, Director Song, did you find out who sent the two people who came to kill me?"

"It should be a foreign organization."

Song Xiangdong revealed the investigation results.

But as soon as he mentioned this foreign organization...

He unconsciously thought of the current problems they were facing, and his expression became serious, exuding a heavy aura.

Having mastered ancient martial arts, Lin Beichen was very sensitive to changes in others' auras. He immediately sensed the change in Song Xiangdong's demeanor.

Seeing Song Xiangdong's expression,

Lin Beichen asked, "Director Song, is there a problem? Why do you seem so different when you mention this foreign organization?"

"This foreign organization..."

Having been in contact with Lin Beichen for so long, they were very familiar with each other, and Song Xiangdong had no guard up against him. Like talking to a friend about his troubles, he roughly explained the current predicament.

Upon hearing him,

Lin Beichen's eyes flashed with contemplation. After a moment, he said to Song Xiangdong, "Director Song, how about I give it a try?"

Lin Beichen volunteered because he felt he had received a lot of help from the security bureau and they had given him many privileges.

Mutual assistance and contributing to the country.

He felt he should extend a helping hand in the security bureau's time of need.

Besides...

There was another very important reason.

He wanted to test his true strength.

Since he started cultivating, he had been constantly cultivating and improving, occasionally encountering danger, but none of it was truly dangerous.

He actually craved an opportunity for real combat.

To unleash his abilities!

And now...

The opportunity had arrived!

Song Xiangdong never considered sending Lin Beichen at first.

After all, Lin Beichen was extremely important, even more so than a few agents and whatever intel they had gathered.

But now, hearing Lin Beichen's proposal,

he hesitated for a moment and subconsciously contemplated the possibility of Lin Beichen going to rescue the agents.

And surprisingly!

If it were Lin Beichen...

The security bureau's current predicament could be resolved!

Lin Beichen wasn't a member of the Great Xia military, and his strength was reliable.

But...

Song Xiangdong snapped back to reality.

But he was Lin Beichen!

As he struggled with the decision,

Lin Beichen quickly understood what he was thinking and smiled, "Director Song, don't worry too much. My strength has improved again. Ordinary firearms can't harm me. I am confident that even if I can't rescue the agents, I can still retreat unscathed. Cultivating in the path of immortality requires a sense of crisis and urgency to advance and grow faster. Constantly avoiding danger will only make me stagnate. This kind of battle is what I have been looking forward to."

"..."

Song Xiangdong looked into Lin Beichen's eyes.

Their gazes met.

He saw calmness, sincerity, and determination in Lin Beichen's eyes.

After a moment, a relieved smile appeared on Song Xiangdong's face, and he nodded, "If that's the case, then I'll trouble you, Lin Beichen."

Chapter 202: The Center of Attention, The Nation Shaken!

Song Xiangdong thought it over and decided to agree with Lin Beichen.

Besides respecting Lin Beichen's choice and decision, he genuinely felt that Lin Beichen leading the mission was the best option at the moment.

Of course, he had already prepared himself mentally for any eventualities.

Lin Beichen successfully rescuing the agents would be the best outcome.

But if any unforeseen situation arises...

At that point, no matter what international rules or any other irrelevant restrictions are in place.

He would spare no expense to get Lin Beichen out!

Lin Beichen smiled and nodded, then said, "Rescuing people is the priority, Director Song. We can do the rating test after I return."

Upon hearing this, Song Xiangdong felt inexplicably more confident and replied, "Okay."

After speaking, he didn't hesitate and immediately contacted other security bureau leaders to hold another emergency meeting.

"Lin Beichen, come with me to the main conference room for a meeting."

"Alright."

Lin Beichen knew this meeting was likely related to his impending rescue mission in Snake Eye Province.

When they arrived at the main conference room, all the leaders were already in place, including Kong Hui, who had been liaising with foreign organizations.

Lin Beichen?

The security bureau leaders were momentarily stunned upon seeing Lin Beichen follow Song Xiangdong in, subconsciously thinking about something.

Could it be...

Before they could contemplate further...

Song Xiangdong looked at everyone and asked, "Did anyone come up with any solutions just now?"

"..."

The security bureau leaders shook their heads.

Song Xiangdong had anticipated this result, so he directly announced, "Then let's not waste any more time. I've decided to entrust the challenging mission of rescuing the agents in Snake Eye Province to Lin Beichen. From now on, we will fully support Lin Beichen's rescue efforts."

As expected!

The security bureau leaders had already considered this possibility.

After a brief reflection...

Lin Beichen was indeed the most suitable candidate for the rescue mission!

Of course, to the security bureau leaders, sending Lin Beichen to rescue the agents seemed a strange decision, filled with questions and doubts.

But no one expressed these thoughts.

They chose to trust Song Xiangdong.

Since the Director had decided, he must have his reasons!

"Yes!"

The security bureau leaders collectively nodded in agreement.

Song Xiangdong looked at Kong Hui and asked, "Old Kong, what did the foreign organization say? Did you manage to find out the agents' current status?"

"They're all alive."

Kong Hui's expression had noticeably relaxed compared to before, and he continued, "I've been in dialogue with the foreign organization. They sent videos proving that although the agents have some external injuries, their mental states are quite good. However, how to get them released was not clearly answered by the other side. We don't even need to deliberately stall for time; it seems like the other side is stalling by themselves. It's uncertain what other moves they have."

"As long as they're alive."

Song Xiangdong and the other security bureau leaders all breathed a sigh of relief, fearing that something might happen before they had a chance to act.

At this moment, Song Xiangdong thought of something and asked Kong Hui, "Old Kong, did the agents send back the route they used to evade the major forces in Snake Eye Province and reach the vicinity of the foreign organization?"

"Yes!"

Kong Hui immediately operated the computer.

Instantly!

A map appeared on the screen.

It was Snake Eye Province!

Next.

He marked a route on the map.

"Director Song, it's this route."

"Good."

Song Xiangdong looked carefully at the route, thought for a moment, and then said to Lin Beichen, "Lin Beichen, when you reach Snake Eye Province, you can use this route to reach the foreign organization's base. The major forces in Snake Eye Province didn't notice the previous agents, so this path is safe. However, the route the agents used to infiltrate the foreign organization's base may have been locked down, so you'll need to find another way to enter the base."

"Okay, I understand."

Lin Beichen nodded.

Song Xiangdong then asked Kong Hui many other questions to ensure that Lin Beichen had all the necessary information.

Finally...

He arranged for Lin Beichen's transportation to Snake Eye Province, then handed him a mini camera.

The camera was about the size of half a button, resembling a black pearl.

"Lin Beichen, wear this properly. When you arrive in Snake Eye Province, activate the camera. It is the most advanced equipment today, made of new materials. It's fireproof, waterproof, bulletproof, and provides a delay-free, 360-degree panoramic view with night vision, allowing me to monitor your situation and letting you observe your surroundings."

"Okay."

Lin Beichen carefully put the camera in his pocket.

Song Xiangdong then looked at Kong Hui and instructed, "Take Lin Beichen to the armory and equip him with the most advanced gear."

After that, he turned to Lin Beichen and advised, "Remember, no matter what happens, your safety is the highest priority."

"I understand."

"..."

Song Xiangdong thought carefully and had nothing more to add, so he patted Lin Beichen's shoulder. Despite a myriad of thoughts, he simply said, "Alright, go ahead and be safe."

"Director Song, don't be so serious."

Lin Beichen smiled casually and said, "Wait for my good news."

Chapter 203: The Center of Attention, The Nation Shaken!_2

After speaking, he waved his hand and left the conference room under Kong Hui's lead.

At this time, Song Xiangdong looked at the other security agency leaders and ordered, "Arrange your current tasks, and once Lin Beichen arrives at Snake Eye Province, stay here and monitor his every move in real-time. Be prepared for any emergency and react swiftly."

"Yes!"

The security agency leaders left the conference room one by one to arrange their work.

Once they all left.

Only Song Xiangdong remained in the conference room.

"There's still an important matter..."

Song Xiangdong took out his phone and dialed a number.

An elderly but strong and cheerful voice came from the other end of the phone.

"Director Song, you've been contacting me quite often these days, is it for the mobilization again?"

"Chief Ma, we might be gearing up for something big."

The Ma referred to by Song Xiangdong was the Military Pavilion's Chief, Ma Jin.

The Military Pavilion holds the highest status in the military, similar to the Police Bureau in the police sector.

Hearing this, Ma Jin's tone immediately became serious and asked, "What's going on?"

"I sent Lin Beichen to Snake Eye Province to rescue the captured agents."

Song Xiangdong had already briefed Ma Jin and Meng Hongjian about Lin Beichen's matters.

Upon hearing this, Ma Jin understood what Song Xiangdong meant by a big move and replied solemnly, "Got it."

With that, he hung up the phone.

And shortly after he hung up the phone.

Almost simultaneously.

All five major military districts of Great Xia received a directive from the Military Pavilion——

[Immediately mobilize the main forces of the subordinate military districts and gather at headquarters!]

Mobilize the main forces of the subordinate military districts?

What's the plan?

The commanders who received this directive were confused. It seemed unlikely that there would be a war, as Great Xia hadn't had significant conflicts with anyone recently.

However, whether they understood or not.

A soldier's duty is to obey orders!

They immediately relayed the directive to the subordinate military districts.

...

North Mountain Military District.

"Beep—"

With the sound of whistles arising, the entire military district saw soldiers running, along with the movement of armored vehicles and tanks.

Amidst the chaos, there was a hint of order.

Quickly, they assembled.

Hundreds of fully armed soldiers stood neatly on the playground.

In front of them.

Were several tanks and numerous armored vehicles.

"Commander, the North Mountain Military District troops are assembled. Awaiting orders!"

"Depart!"

"Yes!"

The shouting officer turned to the soldiers and roared, "All troops, move out!"

With this command.

Hundreds of soldiers quickly responded, some boarded tanks, others armored vehicles...

In less than half a minute.

"Boom—"

Accompanied by the engine roars, the vehicles drove out of the military district, proceeding grandly towards the headquarters.

...

Main roadway in North Mountain City.

Upon receiving the coordination request from North Mountain Military District, the police immediately dispatched traffic officers to temporarily control and close off the various main roads in the city.

"Woo~ Woo~"

Police sirens continuously echoed throughout the city.

Irritating and unsettling.

Adding to the serious and heavy atmosphere.

"What's going on? Why is the main road closed?"

"There was no notification yesterday. Had I known, I would've taken a different route. Is this stupid navigation system slow to react? It's leading me here!"

"Are any big figures coming? But there hasn't been news of such events recently?"

"..."

Outside the main road, a long line of blocked cars had formed.

The drivers, confused about the situation, exchanged complaints through their rolled-down windows.

Just then.

"Boom—!"

The ground shook as rumbling noises emerged from the distance.

They could feel the vibrations through the chassis of their cars.

They instinctively looked towards the source of the sound.

Dust filled the sky.

First, several armored vehicles emerged from the dust, followed by tanks.

"So many armored vehicles and tanks? What's going on?"

"It's no wonder the main road was controlled and closed. It's to make way for these big guys."

"Why are there so many armored vehicles and tanks? Is it an exercise?"

"Their direction seems to be towards North Mountain, an exercise there?"

"Is it possible... maybe a war is coming?"

"Who would we be fighting? There hasn't been news of Great Xia having significant international conflicts recently!"

"..."

The scene erupted!

Under the astonished gazes of everyone.

The military convoy sped away, disappearing quickly at the end of the road.

With that, the main road no longer needed to be controlled and closed.

The traffic police lifted the control.

The drivers who had been stuck eagerly entered the main road as it cleared.

Soon, the traffic flow was restored.

Every car moved according to traffic rules.

Suddenly!

A red Porsche 911, like a red lightning bolt, weaved through the traffic, narrowly avoiding multiple accidents, speeding towards North Mountain.

Cai Taimei sat in the driver's seat, glancing at the cars she overtook in the rearview mirrors, a look of arrogance and pride on her face.

A flamboyantly dressed woman sat in the passenger seat.

Chapter 204: The Center of Attention, The Nation Shaken!_3

At this moment, the alluring woman looked at Cai Taimei with an expression that could melt anyone's heart and bit her lip, "Brother Cai, there's only half an hour left, can we make it?"

Cai Taimei shivered all over when she called him "Brother Cai," and almost lost his grip on the steering wheel. He quickly reassured her, "Don't worry, we won't be late."

"That's great!"

The alluring woman giggled sweetly and discreetly reached out towards the driver's seat.

Cai Taimei shivered again.

Then suddenly.

He seemed to be fueled by adrenaline; he pressed the accelerator harder and almost spun the steering wheel so fast it could smoke.

"Beep beep—!"

"Beeeep—!!!"

"..."

The Porsche 911 sped like mad.

Just then.

Suddenly!

Cai Taimei slammed on the brakes, furrowing his brow as he looked ahead.

Because the sports car's chassis was so low.

He couldn't see what was ahead.

They were boxed in by SUVs in front and on both sides, all moving at 50 miles per hour.

He kept hitting the brakes.

Until finally...

They matched the speed of the cars in front.

Any faster and they would crash!

Cai Taimei cursed loudly, "Are these cars full of idiots? All playing with their phones?!"

Fuming with road rage, his hand never left the horn.

The alluring woman pursed her lips, "Forget it, Brother Cai, don't rush. If we really can't make it, I'll just reschedule..."

"No need to reschedule!"

Hearing her switch from "Brother Cai" to "Brother" only made Cai Taimei even angrier.

Just then.

He spotted an opportunity to overtake!

"Vroom—-!!"

He floored the gas.

Cai Taimei swerved in forcefully, not even looking ahead, focusing on the car he cut off in the rearview mirror, sneering, "Idiot, serves you right for driving so..."

"Cai... Cai... Cai 哥!"

The alluring woman was so shocked she could barely speak. freewebnovel.com

Cai Taimei turned to look at her.

However, out of the corner of his eye, he caught sight of the scene in front of them.

A colossal object!

A tank!

The two-lane road was almost completely taken up by it.

The barrel pointed skyward!

In front of it were several more tanks and armored vehicles.

It was the North Mountain military convoy!

"Holy... Holy shit?!"

Cai Taimei was dumbfounded, finally understanding why these cars were moving so slowly.

He looked at the tank in front, his eyes filled with shock.

He gulped several times, not even glancing at the alluring woman, stuttering, "Well... you can reschedule, I really can't overtake this!"

...

Not just in North Mountain City, but all over the country, wherever there were military districts, something significant was happening.

In some cities...

Fighter jets were even flying overhead!

For a moment, although it didn't create widespread panic, it did raise a question among the people—

What exactly is going on?

...

...

Atlantis.

Secret base, meeting room.

The same eight foreigners were still seated around the meeting table as before.

Griffin reported, "Minister, Sexton just contacted me. He said Great Xia has found one of our organization's branches, the most important one that holds all the crucial research data. They've got it under surveillance and we can't make any hasty moves. At the same time, that branch has captured a few Great Xia agents. Great Xia is demanding their release soon. I've told Sexton to stall for time, giving us a chance to think of a response."

"You handled it well."

The elder at the head of the table nodded in satisfaction and then looked at the others, "Based on Griffin's report, what are your thoughts?"

Before he finished speaking, the others started voicing their opinions one after another.

"Minister, since this branch is the most important and holds the research data, we must save it."

"I agree. We can send a small team to infiltrate and help the branch transfer the data. Once the transfer is complete, blow up the base, including the Great Xia agents!"

"Yes, we can't let the Great Xia agents go back."

"However, until we finish transferring the data, we can't openly confront Great Xia. Continue delaying as Griffin instructed Sexton."

"..."

They all supported sending troops to aid the organization.

Blatantly disregarding international rules.

In fact...

In their subconscious, it was as if international rules didn't exist.

Atlantis's long-standing arrogant and unreasonable behavior had made them used to overstepping boundaries.

Listening to their input.

The elder pondered for a moment before making a final decision, "Very well, we'll proceed as you've suggested. Griffin, you'll be in charge of sending the troops to support the organization."

"Yes!"

Griffin immediately set out to execute the plan.

Soon, he had selected an elite squad of dozens from Atlantis.

Secretly sent to Snake Eye Province!

Meanwhile, back in Great Xia.

At the Security Bureau.

Conference room.

The Security Bureau leaders sat around the table, all looking serious.

At this moment, Kong Hui's phone vibrated. He looked at it and smiled with joy.

"Commissioner Song, Lin Beichen has successfully entered Snake Eye Province."

"Good."

Song Xiangdong nodded.

Then.

He and the other leaders turned their eyes to the screen in front of them, wondering, "Why hasn't he turned on the camera yet?"

As they pondered.

Suddenly!

The blank screen flickered.

Then it showed an overgrown tropical rainforest.

Lin Beichen walked through it in combat gear!

"Plop—!"

"Plop—!"

"..."

Footsteps echoed clearly in the conference room.

At this moment, Lin Beichen looked down at the camera.

On screen, it seemed as if he was looking at every person in the room.

In a low voice, he reported, "Commissioner Song, I have safely arrived in Snake Eye Province and am following the agents' route to reach the foreign organization's base!"

Chapter 205: Breaking the Game, The Truth!

The camera Lin Beichen was wearing was just a recording device, not a communication device.

It only had audio recording capabilities, meaning that everything he said, as well as the surrounding sounds, could be transmitted to the conference room accurately and without delay.

But...

He couldn't hear what was being said in the conference room.

Song Xiangdong understood the characteristics of the camera and didn't say anything.

He operated the computer for a while.

Instantly!

Several real-time perspectives appeared on the projection screen, showing the surroundings of Lin Beichen.

At this moment, Song Xiangdong advised the security bureau leaders, "Carefully observe Lin Beichen's surroundings for any unusual situations, and issue a warning promptly if anything is detected."

Although it was impossible to communicate directly with Lin Beichen through the camera, it had its own warning signal, which could help Lin Beichen grasp which direction the anomaly appeared in without delay.

"Yes!"

Under the close watch of the security bureau leaders.

Lin Beichen followed the route taken by previous agents, almost effortlessly reaching within one or two kilometers outside the foreign organization's base.

At this moment, Kong Hui said to the security bureau leaders, "Lin Beichen cannot follow the same route taken by the previous agents when moving forward."

As he spoke.

The security bureau leaders immediately understood...

Every step from now on had no precedent to follow.

It was all up to Lin Beichen!

Not only did they understand.

Lin Beichen himself also realized this.

Looking at several forked paths ahead of him, he chose the rightmost path without any hesitation.

"This is the way!"

On the way, Lin Beichen had already determined a route through analysis of the terrain around the foreign organization's base.

Upon seeing his chosen route,

The security bureau leaders immediately pulled up the surrounding topographic maps and started to analyze.

"The rightmost path seems to lead out of the jungle."

"It's a downhill path."

"What is Lin Beichen thinking?"

"..."

Just as they were discussing.

Lin Beichen had already walked out of the forest and arrived at a cliff, stopping in his tracks.

For a moment, the real-time view on the projection screen wobbled.

The security bureau leaders saw the full appearance of the cliff through his perspective.

The cliff was almost vertically ninety degrees to the ground and very high. The top was at least forty to fifty meters above the ground, reaching up as if soaring into the sky.

The rock wall, except for some seemingly loose rocks, had no noticeable protrusions.

"What does this mean, why did he stop here?"

"Is Lin Beichen planning to climb up this cliff?"

"Where does climbing lead to?"

"..."

During the discussion, the security bureau leaders held the topographic maps and reanalyzed the situation.

Soon, they discovered...

The top of this cliff was within a two-kilometer radius of the foreign organization's base.

Located at the rear of the foreign organization's base.

"This path...it can hardly be called a route, but if he can really climb up here, it's indeed a good point to approach the foreign organization's base."

"Indeed, a place like this might not even be patrolled by the foreign organization."

"..."

The security bureau leaders discussed this possibility, but their eyes never left the projection screen.

At this moment, they saw Lin Beichen approach the rock wall and tap on it.

This scene confirmed their thoughts—

He was planning to climb the cliff!

"But, Lin Beichen didn't have any climbing equipment with him, how would he climb up?"

"With such an angle and height, even with professional equipment, it would be difficult to climb."

"However, with Lin Beichen's physical resilience, even if he fell from the top, there wouldn't be any safety concerns."

"..."

The security bureau leaders, including Song Xiangdong, didn't fully know Lin Beichen's capabilities. Their understanding was limited to the rating tests they'd seen. They weren't clear about any other skills Lin Beichen might possess.

Especially...

Lin Beichen had mentioned before setting off that he had made progress in his cultivation, and they had no real concept of his current abilities.

They had no idea how Lin Beichen planned to scale such a high cliff.

Just then.

The sound of a falling rock broke the silence.

"Crash—!"

The sound drew the security bureau leaders' attention.

On the projection screen.

Lin Beichen's hand was deeply embedded in the rock wall, with small rocks and soil falling from the gaps between his hand and the wall.

At this moment, his other hand emitted a faint golden glow.

Next.

Like a knife cutting through butter, his golden-glowing hand slid smoothly into a higher position on the rock wall.

As the security bureau leaders had suspected.

Lin Beichen intended to enter the foreign organization's base from the rear by using this cliff as an entry point.

As for how to reach the top...

He hadn't had a clear plan initially, but seeing the cliff sparked this idea in his mind instantly.

"!!!"

The security bureau leaders were dumbfounded. Could anyone really climb a cliff like this?

With this...

What climbing equipment was even necessary?

He himself was the equipment!

Under their amazed gazes,

Lin Beichen seemed to turn into Spider-Man, with each climb up, his hands and feet seemed to weld against the rock wall.

In a blink,

He was almost at the top of the nearly forty to fifty-meter tall vertical cliff.

Chapter 206: Breaking the Game, The Truth!_2

And at this moment.

The sudden sound of conversation came from the top of the cliff, instantly tensing the nerves of the security agents who had not yet recovered.

"I really don't understand the point of having us patrol here."

At the top of the cliff, two blond and blue-eyed foreigners stood a few meters from the edge, each with an old standard automatic rifle slung over their shoulders.

From their conversation, it was clear...

They were members of an overseas organization.

The member who had just complained continued, "This cliff is so steep, not to mention people, even birds don't fly here. Isn't it a waste for us to be here?"

"You're unhappy to be here?"

The other member shook his head with a laugh and said, "I heard that the reason the base is making such a big fuss and sending so many people to lock down all routes to the base is because Great Xia's agents have infiltrated the base. At any moment, we might face firepower from Great Xia. Lying low here is better than being anxious on other routes, right?"

"Well, you said it right..."

"Crash—!"

The sound of falling gravel interrupted his words.

The sound wasn't loud, but in the silence that surrounded them, it was exceptionally clear and piercing.

For a moment, the two members looked at each other.

Exchanging glances...

They confirmed that the other had heard the sound.

They hadn't misheard.

The two members turned their gaze towards the edge of the cliff; the sound had come from there!

How could the sound come from below the cliff?

What made that sound?

With doubt and curiosity.

They unconsciously walked towards the edge of the cliff.

"Crash—!"

"Crash—!!"

"..."

As they got closer to the edge, the sound of falling gravel became clearer and clearer.

The sound was coming from below and rising up, seemingly reaching the top of the cliff any moment!

Something's wrong!

Definitely something's wrong!

And at that moment.

They reached the edge of the cliff and, without thinking, instinctively stuck their heads out to look beyond the edge.

In their gaze.

About two meters from the edge.

There was a person, with no visible climbing gear or safety equipment, but he clung to the cliff wall with his hands and feet, parallel to the wall.

And beneath him...

Just looking at it made one dizzy.

Though the drop was only about tens of meters, it seemed like an abyss!

"!!!"

Both members were dumbfounded.

There... there was someone?!

They really found someone guarding here?

Free climbing this cliff?

How did he do it?

They didn't know much else, but they were certain this person wasn't from their organization.

Which meant he was the enemy!

Both members were about to raise their rifles.

At that moment, they saw...

The man on the cliff's hand suddenly emitted a faint golden glow, and then he thrust his palm into the cliff wall with a swoosh.

"?!?!?!"

Both members were stunned and dazed.

Was this how he climbed the cliff?

His hand could penetrate the cliff wall?

And the light from his hand...

What was that light?

They felt like they were watching a special effects shot.

"Bang——!!!"

The loud noise snapped them out of their daze.

At that moment, Lin Beichen detached from the cliff, propelled himself high, and shot up above their heads.

Immediately after.

He gathered Gold Element in his lungs and concentrated it in his hands.

The light in his hands grew even brighter!

Blinding their sight and impacting their minds.

In the next moment.

The light before their eyes was magnified a hundredfold.

Two balls of golden light flew out from Lin Beichen's hands, instantly striking the two members.

"...!!!"

There was no scream of pain.

The two members' bodies trembled violently, a series of sounds like exploding beans echoed within their bodies.

In the next moment.

Their bodies shriveled and softened, like deflated balloons, and the automatic rifles slung over their shoulders pressed them directly to the ground.

Blood seeped from their eyes, ears, and noses.

More blood, mixed with organ fragments and white bone shards, gushed from their mouths.

Dead, utterly and completely!

From the moment the two members peered over the edge of the cliff to their present deaths.

The entire process took only a few breaths of time.

And all of this...

Was broadcasted in real-time to the security bureau's conference room screen.

"..."

Silence.

For a moment, no one in the conference room spoke.

"!!!!"

Everyone was dumbfounded.

Seeing the two members spot Lin Beichen, they thought he was in trouble, at least struggling on the cliff, maybe even being forced to jump.

But unexpectedly...

He resolved it so effortlessly.

Fortunately, it was him!

If it had been any other agent or even a special forces squad...

In this situation, it would have been a dead end!

At this moment, Lin Beichen's voice sounded in the conference room.

"Director Song, the cliff edge will serve as my entry point into the overseas organization base. Now I will explore a route to infiltrate from the rear of the base."

Upon hearing this, the security bureau leaders came to their senses and saw on the screen that Lin Beichen had calmly landed at the top of the cliff and was walking into the forest.

"Given the skills Lin Beichen just demonstrated, I believe he wasn't exaggerating when he said he would rescue the agents. Even if he fails, he will surely escape unscathed."

"It feels as though Lin Beichen's combat ability has improved significantly compared to before in the specialty supermarket."

"Earlier, he mentioned he had made progress. Could it be that the gold light from his hands can now be fully released like his Palm Thunder?"

"In terms of power, his earlier move seemed comparable to Palm Thunder."

"..."

Chattering filled the conference room.

Lin Beichen's display of skill...

Amazed everyone with his strength, bolstering their confidence that he would succeed in rescuing the agents.

During their conversation, the security bureau leaders kept a close eye on the screen, monitoring every angle to help Lin Beichen identify any anomalies around him.

Clearly, the starting point of this route being the cliff...

The overseas organization had not paid attention to this route.

As he explored further...

Apart from the two members at the top of the cliff, he encountered no other organizational members.

As time passed...

The sky grew darker.

Lin Beichen, holding a map, kept adjusting his route and exploring the forest.

At this moment.

Suddenly!

He froze, his eyes lighting up as he looked ahead.

Through dense trees and underbrush.

The outline of a large building became faintly visible.

If he guessed right...

That should be the overseas organization's base, right?

And the back of the base?

Though the destination seemed so close at hand.

However...

Lin Beichen didn't rashly charge forward.

He knew.

The closer to the base, the easier it was to be exposed.

Caution is key to safety!

Lin Beichen cautiously probed forward, but to his surprise.

There were no sentries, no patrols!

What was going on?

According to the two people at the cliff top...

Wasn't the overseas organization supposed to be heavily monitoring and locking down the base surroundings?

So how come there wasn't a single soul here?

Could this not be the overseas organization's base?

But the coordinates matched closely enough, it shouldn't be wrong, right?

...

Lin Beichen couldn't quite figure it out.

At that moment, a faint sound of water came from ahead.

"Whoosh---!"

The sound of water was urgent.

Walking a little further...

Suddenly!

The view opened up before him.

As he saw the scene...

It instantly made everything clear.

"No wonder there's no one..."

"I see!"

Chapter 207: The Descent of the Demon God!

Not far ahead is the edge of the forest.

Outside the forest, there is a rushing river.

The depth of the river is unclear, but it is about ten meters wide, resembling an ancient moat.

Protecting the base of the foreign organization on the opposite bank.

The base is surrounded by tall walls, making it impossible to see inside.

The walls are about four or five stories high.

There is a wide platform on top of the walls, where two organization members stand with guns, their backs to the forest, constantly observing the inside of the walls.

And below the walls.

Four or five organization members carrying guns patrol along the narrow bank of the river, watching the surface of the water.

At this moment, Lin Beichen had already silently approached a thick tree covered with weeds at the edge of the forest, hiding behind it, quietly observing the movements on the opposite bank, his brain working at high speed, thinking about how to infiltrate the base without being noticed.

At the same time.

What he saw was synchronized to the leaders in the security bureau conference room.

"Judging by the positions of those two people on the wall, this should be the rear of the foreign organization base."

"With such a wide and fast river and high walls as barriers, sneaking in without being detected... seems impossible."

"No wonder Lin Beichen got so close to the base, yet there are no foreign organization members patrolling in the forest; given this scene, it does seem unnecessary."

"Although there aren't many foreign organization members in sight, I think it's impossible to infiltrate the base through here. Should Lin Beichen consider changing routes?"

"..."

If it was just about getting into the base from the rear.

They were one hundred percent confident that with Lin Beichen's skills, he could accomplish it.

Barging in would certainly succeed!

But...

Doing so without being detected, without exposure.

Based on the current scene.

They all thought it was an impossible task.

Unless he could fly!

This was the only way the security bureau leaders thought the impossible could be made possible.

Lin Beichen thought the same.

Unless he flew up!

He looked at the distance between the forest edge and the opposite bank, then assessed the height of the walls, calculating in his mind.

It's possible!

If he used Lightweight Skill...

He could fly directly to the top of the wall!

After confirming this, Lin Beichen looked at the scene in front of him again, his mind quickly mapping out his next steps.

Then.

He began to feel the flow of air around him, and the Gold Element in his lungs started to gather towards his feet.

He waited.

Waiting for the best moment to strike.

One second...

Two seconds...

...

Time passed by the minute and second.

Who knows how much time had passed.

The leaders in the security bureau conference room were getting drowsy from the wait.

"What is Lin Beichen doing now?"

"Yeah, he hasn't moved for so long. If he doesn't plan to change his route, does he intend to stubbornly stick to this one?"

"Lin Beichen is a bit stubborn. If he can't come up with a plan, he should change the route."

"..."

As they were discussing.

Suddenly!

Through the projection.

They saw...

Lin Beichen moved!

Lin Beichen darted out like the wind, his feet flashing with pale golden light, stepping into the air.

In just the blink of an eye.

He had already flown across the wide, fast river, above the heads of the patrolling organization members below the wall.

Flying higher than the wall!

"!!!!"

The security bureau leaders stared at the projection in amazement, their eyes filled with disbelief, with only one thought in their minds—

He really can fly?!

Unlike the leaders who could share Lin Beichen's perspective.

The foreign organization members patrolling below the wall suddenly felt a chill on their scalps, their peripheral vision catching a glimpse of a faint golden light flashing above.

Instant reaction!

They all raised their guns towards the sky.

Nothing!

The dark sky showed nothing.

An illusion?

The organization members instinctively thought they might have imagined it, but seeing others react too, they felt something was off.

Could they all be mistaken?

At this moment, one of the patrolling organization members immediately took out his walkie-talkie and asked, "Anything up there?"

At the same time.

Hearing his question.

The two organization members on the wall, who were watching the base's interior, instinctively turned to look around.

Unlike their counterparts below, their view was unobstructed.

At that moment, they saw a scene they would never forget.

A man in combat gear walking leisurely in the air, each step leaving a faint golden trace.

Simultaneously, brighter golden light appeared on his hands.

"?!"

The two members were completely dumbfounded, not daring to breathe.

What did they just see? Was this a god descending?

Seeing it with their own eyes had a tremendous impact on their vision and minds, rendering them incapable of any reaction.

Until...

They saw the golden light in the man's hands expanding before their eyes.

Their strong survival instincts finally snapped them back to reality.

But it was too late!

Before they could react, the golden lights hit them with precision.

In an instant.

Chapter 208: The Descent of the Demon God!_2

Both of them ended up like the two members on the cliff's peak, their entire bodies deflated like punctured balls, crushed to the ground by the weight of their guns, with blood, organ remnants, and bone fragments seeping out from their orifices.

Almost simultaneously.

Lin Beichen landed lightly without making a sound.

He swiftly moved in a single bound to the two bodies on the ground, picking up the radio that had just gone off.

"Safe."

Less said, the fewer the mistakes.

Lin Beichen replied intentionally in a brief manner, making it difficult for others to discern the voice's tone or speech habits.

And his goal was achieved.

Because the response came almost in the next second after the question, the patrolling members below didn't hear any unusual sound from above the wall.

Hearing the information from the radio, they didn't give it much thought.

Assuming they were just being overly cautious, like startled birds, they resumed their orderly patrol along the riverbank.

Lin Beichen was secretly observing their every move from atop the wall.

At this moment, he knew there was no need to observe any further, so he quickly descended the wall and started exploring the interior of the base.

Inside the Security Bureau's meeting room.

It wasn't until he had dealt with several more organization members that the leaders of the Security Bureau snapped out of their dreamy state from witnessing the previous scenes.

"Lin Beichen can now fly?"

"Flying... it doesn't seem quite like flying. From his movements, it seems more like Lightweight Skill."

"What other surprises can Lin Beichen bring us?"

"I initially thought he would have to change his route to infiltrate the base. At that time, I thought he would need to fly to follow this route, but he actually did!"

"It's not just you, I thought the same, and then I got proven wrong."

"..."

Despite their conversation,

they continued watching Lin Beichen through the screen.

A dark night for killing!

Lin Beichen had already lost count of how many organization members he had killed at this point.

Given his skills, he could easily avoid these members without them noticing.

But he couldn't avoid them.

He knew before infiltrating that he couldn't wander around the base like a headless fly; exposure would be inevitable. He already had a plan in place.

He needed to find the exact location of the captured agents through the organization members.

However, his planning differed significantly from reality.

The foreign organization only knew something had happened these past two days but weren't aware of what exactly.

The news that Great Xia's agents infiltrated the base seemed to be under wraps.

As a result, even after killing so many organization members, he still hadn't discovered the agents' precise location.

Lin Beichen knew he couldn't continue like this. If he kept killing, the base would be filled with bodies, impossible to conceal, and definite exposure would follow.

But he had no other plan.

How could he accurately know where the agents were held?

As Lin Beichen continued exploring the base, he kept pondering possible solutions.

At this moment, a chaotic set of footsteps clearly reached his ears.

He quickly hid himself.

Several seconds later.

A few figures staggered towards him from afar.

A total of five people, one in the front, the remaining four trailing behind.

The person in the front wore a complacent, arrogant smile, with the four behind him showing fawning expressions.

At this point, one of the four flattered, "Team Leader Tuo Ping, it's all thanks to you that we can get some fresh air, even with the organization's heightened alert."

"Exactly, exactly!"

Another beside him quickly nodded in agreement.

The team leader, Tuo Ping, waved his hand without looking back, arrogantly saying, "This is nothing."

"I wonder what's going on with the sudden alert; they didn't clarify, leaving everyone anxious."

Someone murmured from behind.

Hearing this, Tuo Ping snorted, "That's because they don't dare tell you, fearing you'd be more anxious after knowing."

"Team Leader Tuo Ping, do you know what's happening?"

"Of course."

Tuo Ping, with an expression suggesting nothing was beyond his knowledge, feeling the eager eyes behind him, bragged, "Just yesterday, five Great Xia agents were captured inside the base. Now you understand?"

The four organization members behind him felt a sudden chill. They knew exactly what this meant—the base had been exposed!

However, realizing they were in Snake Eye Province,

they felt a bit more at ease.

One of them couldn't help but flatter, "As expected of Team Leader Tuo Ping, you know everything."

"Absolutely, with such sensitive information, it's clear you're close to joining the core of the organization."

Another hurried to add praise.

The remaining two quickly joined in the flattery, elevating Tuo Ping to cloud nine.

The team leader's position, though slightly higher than average members, was still far from the so-called core. They were thousands of miles away from it!

Feeling elated, Tuo Ping said, "What do you mean close to the core? Let me tell you, I'm already part of the core. I personally detained those five agents. If they didn't trust me, if I weren't considered core, would they entrust me with such an important task?"

Chapter 209: Demon God Descends!_3

He exaggerated a bit.

Actually, he was just an escort, accompanying the core members of the organization to detain the five agents.

There were more than ten people like him.

However, when he said he personally detained the five agents, he wasn't lying.

Lin Beichen, hidden in the dark, brightened up. Originally, because he had already killed enough people, he didn't intend to do anything to these five.

But...

Upon hearing what Tuoping said, he decided not to be polite.

Inside the security bureau meeting room.

The leaders of the bureau were just worrying about how Lin Beichen couldn't find where the agents were being detained, but now they were all smiles.

"It's like someone delivering a pillow right when you're sleepy!"

"Lin Beichen is finally going to make some progress this time."

"..."

Just as they were talking.

Through the projection, they saw Lin Beichen in the dark start to move!

Lin Beichen saw the five people passing right by him, and since Tuoping hadn't looked back for a while, he knew this was his chance to strike.

He gathered the Gold Element in one hand.

A golden light appeared!

Immediately, he swung his hand fiercely at the five people in front of him.

In an instant!

A thin golden arc, like an incredibly sharp blade, sliced through the gray night sky, flashing past the necks of the four people behind Tuoping, and then disappeared.

"..."

Silence.

For a moment, the flattering voices around stopped.

The sound abruptly ceased.

Tuoping frowned, immediately displeased, not understanding why his four little followers, who had been praising him to the high heavens, suddenly stopped.

It made him feel extremely uncomfortable!

"What's wrong with you guys?!" freēwēbñovel.com

Tuoping turned around in dissatisfaction.

The four organization members were still in the posture of walking forward, as if frozen in the moment when the golden arc flashed by.

Blood gushed out from a circuit around the middle of their necks.

From that circuit...

Their heads, along with the severed necks, shifted uniformly, sliding from the neat cut to the other half of their necks.

"Thud——!"

Four heads fell to the ground simultaneously.

Rolling to a stop at Tuoping's feet.

"!!!!"

Tuoping's mind went blank.

"Thump——!"

At this moment, the four headless bodies fell heavily to the ground.

The dull sound brought him back to his senses a bit. Seeing the familiar flattering faces on the heads on the ground, a bone-chilling coldness spread through his body, making every hair stand on end!

Tuoping didn't know how those four died, but he knew now that where he was standing was extremely unsafe.

If he didn't leave now...

He might end up just like them.

Run!

That was the only thought that came to Tuoping's mind.

But as soon as he turned around.

A figure flashed in front of him.

Before Tuoping could see who it was, he felt a tightness around his neck, making even breathing a luxury.

Lin Beichen grabbed his neck, didn't waste words, pointed at the heads on the ground, and coldly said, "If you don't want to end up like them, tell me where you have detained the agents of Great Xia?"

In the end, Tuoping was just a vain little person. Now, with his life in someone else's hands, he was already so flustered that he didn't know north from south.

"I'll say, I'll say, I'll tell you!"

Afraid that if he spoke too slowly or too late, he'd get his head cut off, Tuoping quickly told the location of the five agents, in great detail, afraid that Lin Beichen wouldn't be satisfied.

"I've told you everything, so..."

"Crack—"

Before Tuoping could finish pleading for mercy, with a crisp sound, Lin Beichen snapped his neck.

At this moment, his terrified face showed a thick expression of disbelief, as if to say — I told you everything, why did you still kill me?

Lin Beichen had only promised not to let Tuoping end up like the other four, but he never said he wouldn't kill him. As for Tuoping's expression, he completely ignored it.

Lin Beichen quickly cleaned up and hid the five corpses to avoid discovery, then moved rapidly towards the place where the agents were detained, following Tuoping's route.

A few minutes later.

He stopped, hid in the dark, and looked ahead.

"The agents should be locked up there!"

Chapter 210: Surging from All Directions, Blazing a New Trail!

Ten meters away, there was a row of rooms, with only one room having two armed organization members standing guard, one on each side of the door.

The leaders of the security bureau breathed a huge sigh of relief as they observed the scene through Lin Beichen's perspective.

"It seems that the leader named Topin wasn't lying."

One of the security bureau leaders smiled with relief, and the other leaders did the same.

Since earlier, the security bureau leaders had been worried that Topin's confession wasn't true and was a trap to lure Lin Beichen to his death.

After observing the situation along the way, they saw nothing different from what he had described, only then did they feel at ease.

"According to Topin, only these two guards are watching over the agents, which means this should be an easy task for Lin Beichen, right?"

Another agent spoke, receiving unanimous agreement from the others.

Having personally witnessed Lin Beichen's infiltration into Snake Eye Province, they had absolute confidence in his abilities.

Every leader of the security bureau had excited and thrilled expressions in their eyes.

Based on Topin's previous confession, the foreign organization focused more on patrolling outside the base, while the internal defenses were not heavily fortified.

This made them firmly believe that once Lin Beichen met with the captive agents, they would surely be able to escape the base successfully.

"Director Song, I think it's time to notify the support team to prepare."

Lin Beichen might be acting alone in Snake Eye Province, but outside, the security bureau would definitely provide support.

When Lin Beichen arrived in Snake Eye Province, the support team from the security bureau was also in position, waiting at the outskirts of the province, ready 24/7.

Song Xiangdong agreed that this was necessary, and he just gave the notification.

Suddenly, a leader from the security bureau said, "Lin Beichen is about to make a move."

On the screen, Lin Beichen, hidden in the shadows, had golden glows flickering around his hands.

After carefully observing, and confirming that no organization members would patrol around for a while, he decided to take action.

He didn't hesitate.

Lin Beichen flicked both hands, and two beams of golden light instantly shot out from the darkness, precisely hitting the two unsuspecting guards.

"Clang—"

The sound of firearms hitting the ground echoed.

Lin Beichen quickly approached the door, swiftly found the room key among the fallen guards, unlocked the door, and entered.

Inside the room, the five agents were tightly bound hand and foot, their mouths gagged, each one lying on the ground like a caterpillar.

It was incredibly dark.

The five agents could only see a dark figure. As it drew closer, under the faint light, they finally saw who it was.

Lin Beichen?!

The five agents immediately recognized Lin Beichen. They had previously helped Lin Beichen handle some aftermath work, like sealing off information and witnessing others sign SSS-level confidentiality agreements.

"Don't shout, I'm here to rescue you."

Lin Beichen warned the five agents first, then removed their gags.

The agents, well-trained, weren't exactly panicked at this moment.

Someone immediately asked, "Lin Beichen, I know you. What are you doing here?"

Lin Beichen's importance wasn't a secret in the entire security bureau; everyone knew he was extremely important. But why he was important, only a handful of people in the security bureau knew, and the five of them definitely weren't in the know.

"Yes, you being a key protected person of the security bureau... what's going on?"

"Lin Beichen, has the Great Xia's rescue force already taken over the entire base and you found us first?"

"..."

Five agents tried to make sense of the current situation.

Lin Beichen shook his head and briefly explained the situation to them while untying them all.

The five agents were speechless, finding it too unbelievable.

In their view...

The fact that a university student, previously under the key protection of the security bureau, was sent alone to rescue them sounded absurd enough.

And even more absurd was...

He had successfully infiltrated here, untied them, and restored their freedom.

Suddenly, a clamor of footsteps came from outside the room, from all directions, drawing closer with each passing moment, accompanied by shouting voices.

"Hurry up, hurry up!"

"The enemy is likely near the room where the Great Xia people are held."

"..."

At this moment, a large number of organization members were pouring into the base from outside, while those within the base were converging on the room where Lin Beichen was.

Exposed!

It wasn't that Lin Beichen had made any mistake and got discovered.

The problem was with the ones he killed, Topin and his men.

Unlike the other organization members Lin Beichen had killed, who were dutifully staying at their posts,

Topin and his men were slacking off, and this was quickly noticed and reported to their superiors.

The upper-echelon members were furious; how dare they slack off at such a critical moment!

They immediately ordered their men to find them and bring them over.

But when they searched...

Not only did they find Topin and his four decapitated subordinates, but also over a dozen still-warm corpses.

Such an incident occurring at this moment...
