

Ability 41

Chapter 41: Thunder Skill Conceptual Change, Enlightenment of Electric Element!

"It has begun, it has begun!"

"Is it possible to create such a huge wave just at the beginning?"

"It's so magnificent!!"

"It was worth coming here just to watch the tide, two words, totally worth it!"

"..."

The tide-watching tourists were deeply shocked, even though the splashes from the waves hit them, their enthusiasm was not quenched!

Lin Beichen stood out among the crowd.

The excitement belonged to the others.

From the moment the first wave hit the embankment, he felt as if something heavy had struck the depths of his mind. At the moment, he was staring ahead.

The rain poured, the waves surged!

Thunder and lightning were constant!

His thoughts were flying!

The spiritual light that flashed before during the rain watching at Dragon Tiger Mountain once again appeared as bright spots in his mind!

But...

This time, the spots were not as uniformly bright as before; there were differences in brightness!

"Which point is it?"

"Where exactly is that missing point?"

Looking at the increasingly spectacular scene in front of him, Lin Beichen's mind continuously highlighted brighter points from the already bright spot, layer by layer!

"Almost there!"

"Very close!"

Just then.

Rumbling thunder came from further where the river and sky met, the unprecedented roar made people's heads buzz, instantly drowning out all sounds between heaven and earth.

"Boom——!!!!"

"Boom——!!!!"

"..."

White lines that should have appeared on the surface of the river directly appeared as thick and rolling waves. In the blink of an eye, they surged over the embankment, hitting it instantly.

"Bang——!!!!!"

The tremendous crash sounded like the embankment was collapsing.

A huge wave over ten meters high rose into the air!

Blotting out the sky and the sun!

The next moment!

An even higher wave appeared!

And along with the higher wave, a massive purple-white lightning bolt cascaded from the sky, like a winding giant python, striking straight down!

"Crack——!!!!!"

At the moment the sky-shattering sound burst forth.

The tail of the purple-white lightning seemed to collide with the massive wave that had just risen.

"Wow!!! So magnificent!!"

"What kind of immortal sight is this?!"

"..."

The tide-watching pier burst into an uproar!

But...

Lin Beichen was oblivious.

In that instant.

Everything around him seemed to disappear along with that "collision," all was silent, and he felt like he was standing there alone.

That "collision" seemed to have struck directly into his mind.

It illuminated the brightest point among the countless stars!

Making all other spots pale in comparison!

"It's it!!"

Lin Beichen grasped that bright spot in his mind!

Instantly!

A mysterious enlightenment surged into his heart!

He couldn't explain what this enlightenment was, but at that moment, he knew exactly what he had to do!

Contemplation!

In the illusion becomes reality.

The tiny electric arcs still stretched across his body like a dense net.

Lin Beichen carefully savored the enlightenment that had just flooded his heart, then began to visualize an electric arc moving towards the "swollen" position.

Unlike before!

This time...

The electric arc was an independent entity, not moving along with other arcs, and it moved extremely fast!

In an instant!

It reached the "swollen" position.

"It worked!!"

"It finally worked!!!"

Lin Beichen couldn't have been happier!

He had traveled for so many days, visited so many places.

All for this moment!

Of course, he didn't forget to observe the subsequent developments, as the arc had only reached the "swollen" position, whether it would disappear was still unknown!

Under his scrutiny.

The arc lost its sense and vanished!

At the same time.

The "swollen" position showed no changes, but two inexplicable forces appeared nearby!

To be precise...

There were two 'points'!

Two weak, inexplicable forces that did not gradually disappear, roaming near the "swollen" position as if they were part of the body.

Lin Beichen carefully felt them.

He discovered...

They actually possessed electric properties to some extent, hot, swift, dazzling!

"Elements?"

Under the incredible Heaven-Defying Comprehension, a concept appeared in his mind.

This "element" was not from the periodic table, but was visualized, not within the realm of science, never recognized by human cognition energy.

As soon as this concept emerged, he visualized the two inexplicable forces at the "swollen" position again, his thoughts widened like an ocean.

"Electric arc? Electric element? They must be electric elements!"

"It seems..."

"Just as humans are divided into male and female, electric elements can be collectively referred to as electric elements despite their differences!"

At this moment, Lin Beichen suddenly found that the two electric elements felt similar to the inexplicable forces he visualized deepening the "swollen" position when he first comprehended Thunder Skill!

"Could it be that those inexplicable forces from visualizing the "swollen" position were also electric elements? The aggregation of electric elements?"

"But I didn't sense electric properties in them before!"

"Was it because..."

"They became macroscopic and stable when aggregated? Like how the human body carries positive and negative charges on a microscopic scale, but isn't electrically charged on a macroscopic scale?"

"So all the guessed vital forces and energies, the visualized Yin and Yang Qi, the inexplicable forces felt, were actually all electric elements? It's just that electric elements hadn't been truly visualized before, so they couldn't be truly defined?"

"If that's the case..."

"Then by visualizing all the electric arcs on the body to the "swollen" position, and allowing the "swollen" position to divide them into electric elements roaming nearby, wouldn't I no longer need to visualize electric elements to deepen the "swollen" position? I could directly mobilize the nearby electric elements, reaching the "swollen" position faster!"

"The only issue is..."

"Will the electric elements appearing near the "swollen" position after all these arcs reach it always stay there?"

"And..."

"Though these two electric elements feel like the previously visualized inexplicable forces, it's still just a guess. Can they really be used to deepen the "swollen" position?"

Thinking through this, Lin Beichen visualized the two electric elements reaching the "swollen" position again.

Without even guiding them, the two electric elements returned to the "swollen" position, collided, and vanished.

At the same time.

The "swollen" position deepened!

Though not by much, only by a tiny bit, it indeed deepened!

"It works!!"

Lin Beichen's heart surged with excitement.

Heaven-defying comprehension is no joke...

He could really comprehend the solution to problems...

Chapter 42: The True Visualization Realm!

Lin Beichen knew that he was just one step away from making his series of speculations come true!

"Continue visualizing!"

He wanted to visualize all the remaining electric arcs to the "swollen" position to see if all the electric elements would hover near the "swollen" position.

One...

Two...

...

As one electric arc after another was swiftly visualized to the "swollen" position, the area around the "swollen" position was filled with free-floating electric elements. The two types of electric elements were clearly separated and did not interfere with each other!

Finally, the last electric arc was visualized to the "swollen" position...

The last two electric elements also joined the surrounding free-floating electric element camp.

"Hmm?!"

As Lin Beichen visualized these free-floating electric elements, a flash of inspiration crossed his mind. With all these elements hovering around the "swollen" position, hadn't he essentially pinpointed the "swollen" position?

However, he did not dwell on this thought.

Because...

He had more important matters to confirm!

"In the imagined body of 'Illusion Becomes Reality,' all the electric arcs have fused into the swollen area."

"So..."

"Does this mean that in reality, my body is no longer electrified?"

Lin Beichen withdrew from visualization, returning his thoughts to reality. He didn't have time to feel the booming atmosphere at the Qiantang River pier; first, he felt his body.

"No... no electricity!!"

"The static electricity on my body has all disappeared!"

Although he had somewhat anticipated this, Lin Beichen was still extremely excited within. This was not merely about making the electricity disappear from his body.

It also meant...

At this moment.

He had completely mastered "generating electricity"!

"So it seems..."

"This is the true Visualization Realm, where control is foolproof and there are no side effects!"

Lin Beichen redefined the realm he had divided in his heart.

At this moment, he had fully perfected the 'Visualization Realm'!

Suddenly, he frowned and instinctively touched his abdomen, more specifically, the area where his liver was.

"This sensation..."

"Isn't it the same as the 'swollen' feeling in the illusion of 'Illusion Becomes Reality'?"

"What is going on?"

For a moment, he felt unsure about distinguishing between reality and the illusion of 'Illusion Becomes Reality.'

Fortunately, it lasted only a moment.

The next instant.

A flash of insight crossed his mind.

"Could it be..."

"The 'swollen' position is the liver's location in the body??"

At this thought, Lin Beichen's mind opened up instantly!

"Previously, there was no sensation, yet now there is such a strong feeling..."

"Is it because of the changes that occurred after all the electric elements fused into the swollen position?"

"They not only pinpointed the 'swollen' position in the illusion of 'Illusion Becomes Reality' but also reflected it in the body in the real world?"

"If that's the case..."

"Could it mean that electric elements are not just visualized but also exist in the real body's physical state?"

"Then..."

"The source of generating electricity with the palm lies in the liver?"

"..."

As these thoughts raced through his mind.

Suddenly!

A familiar sensation surged up!

It was the feeling he had experienced atop North Mountain; it was oppressive, awe-inspiring, and a flutter of the soul!

Lin Beichen: ??

Again?

What's going on?

Why does this happen from time to time?

This strange feeling left him no time to think about anything else.

Just then.

"Rumble...!!!"

A deep, resounding thunder roared from the sky, much like the one he had heard atop North Mountain, full of fierce anger and authority, but even stronger!

At this moment, even the surging river seemed to calm down significantly.

The next instant.

Everyone saw it.

A thick bolt of lightning, tinged with purple and red, struck down from the gray sky, seemingly ripping the heavens in two!

"Crack—!!!!"

With the sound of tearing silk, the lightning streaked downward!

"Hmm??"

"This extraordinary lightning looks like it's striking toward that direction!"

They seemed to sense it, looking in unison at one direction.

And that direction...

Was precisely where Lin Beichen stood!

Lin Beichen himself felt the sensation even more intensely, as if this bolt of lightning was targeting him once again!

"Bang—!!!!!!"

At that moment, a massive wave, tens of meters high, rose from the river, creating a water curtain that blocked everyone's view of the distance.

The next instant.

With a thunderous crash, the lightning struck directly on the rising wave.

"Boom—!!!!!!"

The deafening roar erupted!

The water curtain exploded before everyone's eyes, turning into a torrential downpour that scattered in all directions!

In that moment, the atmosphere at the Qiantang River pier reached its climax!

"Wow, the lightning actually struck the wave. It's the scene I've always feared and hoped to witness!!"

"That lightning was terrifying! I almost thought it would hit and cause a major accident!"

"This experience as a special forces tourist watching the tide has paid off! I've seen the tide and now lightning striking the wave. It's amazing!!"

"This has been an unforgettable experience of watching the tide!"

"I filmed it, I filmed it. Once I put this on TikTok, I think I'll go viral!"

"Who doesn't have it on film, right?"

"..."

The tourists all had a feeling that if it hadn't been for the water curtain created by the massive wave, the lightning would have struck the crowd. They felt a mixed sense of escape-from-death relief, and their emotions were somewhat out of control!

As for this feeling...

Lin Beichen felt it the most deeply.

Just now, at the moment when the lightning struck the wave.

Lin Beichen clearly saw the water curtain shatter right before his eyes first!

He had a feeling that without the water curtain, it wouldn't just be the tourists sensing the lightning almost hitting the crowd—it would have hit him precisely!

"Again, that palpitation feeling!"

"This is the second time!"

"Why is this happening?"

"Could it be..."

"That he truly has a premonition ability for lightning-related dangers?"

"But was that lightning really aiming for me just now?"

"And why would it target me?"

A series of questions floated through his mind.

Lin Beichen stopped watching the tide, lifted his head to the sky, and fixed his gaze on the lightning flashing across the sky.

He waited until the sky began to clear and the Qiantang River's tide started receding.

But he didn't feel that sensation again, nor did any lightning strike his way.

"This isn't right!"

Then, an idea struck Lin Beichen.

"Last time the lightning struck was when I achieved Enlightenment for palm electricity generation. This time, just as I cleared the electricity from my body and perfected the Visualization Realm, the lightning struck again!"

"Is it a coincidence?"

"Isn't it too much of a coincidence?"

He pondered over it but couldn't figure out a reason. After all, it only happened twice, and there was no lightning striking him at the moment.

"Forget it!"

Lin Beichen decided not to dwell on it; it wasn't beneficial to worry about it.

He extended his hand, entered visualization, and then generated electricity with his palm.

Watching the faint, tiny electric arcs in his palm, he was happy that his body would no longer carry static electricity, causing unnecessary troubles, and he also planned for the future.

"Now that I have completely mastered palm electricity generation, with no side effects."

"Next..."

"I have to study how to enhance its power!"

"Strive to achieve the level of Palm Thunder as soon as possible!"

Chapter 43: College, Here I Come

At this moment, the tourists at the tide-watching pier have begun to leave one after another.

Seeing that the sky had completely cleared and the warm sunlight had driven away the dark clouds, Lin Beichen knew that the thunderstorm had ended. There was no need for him to stay here any longer, so he left along with the crowd and returned to the hotel.

Resting on the bed, Lin Beichen looked at the several unissued plane tickets on his phone, and began to ponder.

"There are still a few stops left..."

"Should I still go?"

According to his previous plan, there were a few more places to visit after watching the tide at Qiantang River. But he didn't expect that the purpose of his journey would be accomplished here at Qiantang River.

"Go!"

Soon, Lin Beichen made a decision.

"Although I have completely controlled the Visualization Realm and cleared the electric element from my body, I still need to enhance the power of the electricity from my palm. Continuing to travel might help with future improvements!"

With this thought in mind, he immediately took action!

He began to visualize the position where the electric element appeared, guiding and steering the electric element towards his palm, and finally into his palm.

"Da da...da..."

Electricity appeared.

Lin Beichen looked at the tiny, almost undetectable electrical arcs on his palm and fell into deep thought.

"How can I enhance their power?"

At this moment, he thought of something, raised his eyebrows, and immediately began to experiment.

He directly visualized the electric element appearing in the "swelling" position, and the nearby free electric elements moved together towards his palm!

"Da da...da..."

Electricity appeared in the center of his palm!

But...

It was still so weak, no different than before!

"Is it not feasible?"

Although Lin Beichen was disappointed, he wasn't discouraged and continued to ponder.

As he pondered, it soon reached midnight.

Feeling drowsy.

Since he had improved his Mental Realm, he wasn't in a rush. So, after washing up, he lay down to rest. Early the next morning, he rushed to catch a plane to leave Hang City for his next stop.

In his subsequent travels...

He pondered how to enhance the power of the electricity in his palm while enjoying the scenery along the way, and continued to improve his Mental Realm.

More than ten days passed in a flash.

It was almost time for school to start.

That day, on TikTok.

A topic appeared on the hot list, [Meet the High School Top Scorer Who Got Full Marks, Comprehending Dao at Dragon Tiger Mountain]

The topic's popularity soared rapidly, almost reaching the top of the list!

Clicking on the topic.

Most of the short videos were of the same kind, such as transformation videos.

The content of the videos was also similar.

With a piece of instantly galaxy-spanning BGM.

First was a sketch of mountains and rivers, with a man holding an oil-paper umbrella standing on an observation platform at a high place, surrounded by mist and mountains.

Then, as the BGM changed, the frame switched, and it transformed into another photo!

These photos were varied, mostly featuring the publisher's own traveling and sightseeing pictures, trying to express that they were the person in the painting!

However, the most popular video within the topic was a short video by the original creator of the mountain and river sketch.

The BGM in the video was a piece of ancient style music.

The picture was the blogger's own mountain and river sketch, and after a rendered transition, the photo became the scene from the painting—

A misty sky, Lin Beichen standing on the main peak observation platform at Dragon Tiger Mountain, holding an oil-paper umbrella, surrounded by fog and rain!

The video caption—

"On a rainy day, I came with sincerity to Dragon Tiger Mountain to listen to the Daoist from Celestial Master's Mansion, and happened to see a young man. I felt a profound atmosphere and made a sketch to remember!"

The video was posted over ten days ago.

It hadn't gained much attention until now.

Perhaps because school was starting.

Someone discovered that the young man in the video was the top scorer with full marks, and it was rapidly shared. One person told ten, ten told a hundred, and later it was spread by major media accounts, causing it to explode in popularity.

"Blogger, wake up, you're viral!"

"Man, I see that the blogger's other videos of the same type have at most a few hundred likes, but this video directly got a million!"

"The top scorer with full marks is really carefree, even went to Dragon Tiger Mountain. Was he going to comprehend the Dao? Does he believe in the Dao?"

"Does anyone else feel the same way, that from the photo alone, you can almost sense Lin Beichen's ethereal and free spirit? It's a perfect match for this sketch of mountains and water!"

"When the exam scores were just released, I saw his interview, didn't think much of it then. But looking at it now, how come he looks so charismatic, so attractive?"

"Question: If you believe in the Dao, can you become the top scorer with full marks?"

"Ah, ah, I was also at Dragon Tiger Mountain that day, and saw him at the observation platform. I felt it was him, but he felt so ethereal and otherworldly. I felt so ashamed that I didn't have the courage to look more closely and confirm. Didn't expect it to really be him!"

"This temperament is amazing. How can someone be so excellent in both studies and personality?!"

"..."

The comment section under the original creator's video exploded with discussion.

As the topic [Meet the High School Top Scorer Who Got Full Marks, Comprehending Dao at Dragon Tiger Mountain] reached the top of the hot list, the video's popularity remained high for days!

Until...

The night before the start of the school year.

Lin Beichen, idly swiping his phone in the hotel, stumbled upon the video himself!

Eating melons and getting involved himself!

After browsing for a while, he put down his phone, planning to go to bed early to catch an early flight to Imperial Capital University the next day.

Although Lin Beichen had never thought that going to university would be of much use to him, he couldn't not go.

The top scorer with full marks not going to university, staying idle at home? Causing public opinion? What would be the point of doing something so conspicuous? It would not only fail to positively impact the creation of the Cultivation Method but might also cause obstacles, attracting constant public attention!

Moreover...

Others' opinions could be ignored, but how to face his parents?

There were so many things to consider, and just choosing to go to university, making a decision that any normal person would make, could put him at ease. So why not go?

What's more...

Creating the Cultivation Method emphasizes Enlightenment!

Who can say there won't be more ease in finding Enlightenment at university?

Thinking about it over and over.

He couldn't find a reason not to go to university.

"I hope I can gain some enlightenment at university!"

This was Lin Beichen's last thought before he drifted to sleep.

Since the journey after Qiantang River, he hadn't stopped researching how to enhance the power of the electricity in his palm. He tried many methods and tried to gain enlightenment, but made no progress.

When he opened his eyes again, he was awoken by the alarm clock.

Looking at the sky, not yet fully bright outside.

He stretched, with a hopeful smile on his face.

"University..."

"Here I come!"

Chapter 44: Physics Major F4

Imperial Capital International Airport.

It's usually quite crowded, and today is a special day—school starts, so the vast airport hall is packed with people!

"There are just so many people!"

Lin Beichen managed to squeeze out of the sea of people with his suitcase.

At this moment, at the airport entrance.

A series of buses were parked neatly in designated areas, each with a big red banner with yellow characters on it.

"Welcome new students to Huaqing University!"

"Welcome new students to Imperial Capital University of Technology!"

"Welcome new students to Imperial Capital Normal University!"

"..."

They were all buses from various universities in the Imperial Capital to pick up new students.

There are just too many universities in the Imperial Capital!

Lin Beichen was about to go numb from looking for the bus to Imperial Capital University.

Just then.

A soft and gentle voice sounded in his ear.

"Lin Beichen?"

He turned around to look.

Zhou Ya stood beside him with a backpack, her head tilted slightly, looking at him with a somewhat unsure expression.

"It really is you!"

Zhou Ya gave a cheerful smile, but then her expression became somewhat subtle. She was surprised and amazed, feeling that Lin Beichen's aura had changed significantly compared to a few months ago, though she couldn't quite describe it.

"What a coincidence!"

Lin Beichen was very happy. Meeting an old friend in a foreign land, and a pretty girl at that, how could he not be happy?

He waved and greeted her, asking, "Did you also get into the Imperial Capital?"

"Yes."

Zhou Ya nodded and said, "I got accepted into Imperial Capital Normal University."

Just then, her phone beeped.

She glanced at her phone and then immediately turned to look not far away, where a middle-aged man was standing and waving with two large suitcases on either side.

"That's my dad; he got the luggage."

Zhou Ya waved back at her dad and then turned to Lin Beichen, "I should head to my school now. Our schools are close by, so we should meet up often!"

"Yes, let's meet up often!"

Lin Beichen watched as Zhou Ya was picked up by her dad and then finally found the bus to his school. He took the bus to Imperial Capital University and eventually arrived at the registration area for new students.

At this moment, in the area.

Numerous tents were neatly arranged, each with a label indicating departments like Electronic Information Engineering, Geology, Engineering Mechanics, and so on.

As for his major, Lin Beichen had decided at home when he was researching how to eliminate the electricity from his body. He chose Physics so he could scientifically research electricity.

He walked a few steps and saw the tent for his major.

Inside the tent, a male and a female student were sitting at the table with a roster of new students' basic information.

Seeing Lin Beichen stop in front of the tent, the female student proactively asked, "Junior, are you a Physics major?"

At first glance, she was captivated by his aura. Who wouldn't like a sunny, cheerful boy?

Moreover...

She felt this boy looked oddly familiar!

"Yes, senior."

Lin Beichen nodded and said, "I'm here to register and find out where my dorm is."

The female student became more energetic and looked at him the way a gray wolf looks at a little white rabbit.

Seniors liking juniors and upperclassmen liking freshmen is a university rule!

Why did she volunteer to welcome new students?

To get an advantage by being close to water, of course!

And now the "moon" has come!

She tidied her hair, her voice softening, and picked up the roster. "Junior, what's your name? I'll sign you in and find your dorm."

"Thank you, senior. My name is Lin Beichen."

"Alright, Lin Bei... Hmm?"

The female student suddenly felt something was off. Her pen paused, and she looked up in surprise at Lin Beichen, exclaiming, "You are Lin Beichen???"

She finally realized why he looked familiar!

He was Lin Beichen!

Lin Beichen applying for Physics had been spread around Imperial Capital University since the day he applied.

Almost every student at Imperial Capital University knew about it.

Especially...

The Physics majors.

They all knew that the first student in history to get perfect scores in all subjects would become their junior!

These two volunteered not just to get an advantage but to see this legendary student sooner!

Her exclamation immediately drew attention from the surrounding students.

"This junior is Lin Beichen?"

"He's the Lin Beichen who got perfect scores in all subjects?"

"Yes, yes, that's Lin Beichen! I just saw his photo at Dragon Tiger Mountain on Douyin yesterday!"

"It's Lin Beichen. I watched that interview several times!"

"..."

As more and more people recognized Lin Beichen.

The students around, both upperclassmen and new students, gathered around him.

"We only saw him on our phones before; now we're seeing him in real life!"

"Quick, take a picture, then post it on Huaqing University's forum, saying that the top high school student is reporting to Imperial Capital University! Ever since the news that Lin Beichen confirmed his enrollment here, Huaqing University hasn't been able to lift their heads. Now let's give them a final blow!"

"Lin Beichen looks even more charming and handsome in real life than in the videos!"

"Lin Beichen, can we take a photo together?"

"..."

The commotion drew even more people from the outside to join in the excitement.

Lin Beichen didn't expect to cause such a scene, looking bewildered as more and more people surrounded him!

"At this rate..."

"I might not make it to my dorm today!"

He quickly looked at the female student from earlier and said, "Yes, I am Lin Beichen. Senior, where is my dorm?"

"Junior, I know!"

Before the female student could answer, the male student volunteered, "I'll take you there right now!"

Without another word, he grabbed Lin Beichen's suitcase and, with a protective expression, carved a path through the crowd, quickly taking him to the dormitory building.

"Junior, here we are."

"Thank you, senior!"

"No problem."

The male student waved dismissively, "Ensuring your safe registration is our duty as Physics seniors!"

Lin Beichen: ...

This senior is a bit dramatic?

And... kind of cute?

He declined the male student's offer to help move his luggage to the dorm and, after confirming his dorm number, said goodbye and headed upstairs with his suitcase.

"207... 207..."

"Here it is!"

Lin Beichen stopped in front of a dorm room.

The nameplate on the door frame read—207.

Looking at the slightly ajar door, he gently knocked and then slowly pushed it open.

At this moment, an excited and happy voice came from inside.

"Oh ho!"

"The final member of the Physics F4 is finally here!"

"Throwing a party!"

Chapter 45: The Principal's Visit

The voice fell, and the dormitory door fully opened.

Lin Beichen looked inside the dormitory.

A standard four-person room.

Bed above, desk below.

There were already three people inside.

Two people were simply tidying up the dormitory, glanced, nodded, counted as a greeting, and continued to clean the dormitory.

Another person was carrying a broom and walking towards the door.

"Welcome, welcome!"

It was the person who had just spoken.

This guy was a bit over 1.7 meters tall and looked like he weighed over 170 pounds. Chubby, fair-skinned but not greasy, he looked fresh and neat, with a face full of smiles.

He familiarly grabbed Lin Beichen's luggage and pulled it into the dormitory, then poked his head out to look outside the door and said, "Buddy, came by yourself? Your parents didn't come to see you off?"

"No, I can handle it myself, so I didn't let them come."

Lin Beichen smiled.

His welcoming roommate gave him a thumbs up and smiled, "Awesome."

As he turned to walk towards the dormitory.

He suddenly frowned, then sharply turned his head back, took two steps back, looked him up and down, and wondered, "Hey, buddy, why do you look so familiar?"

The two roommates cleaning heard him say this, stopped cleaning, turned to look at the door, trying to see how familiar he looked.

However, before they could take a closer look.

The welcoming roommate exclaimed: "You are Lin Beichen!"

At this moment, the other two roommates also recognized Lin Beichen.

How could he not look familiar!

Actually, it could be said that almost everyone in the physics major knew Lin Beichen.

As the top scorer in the history of the college entrance exam, who attracted the attention of the entire internet, he was going to be their colleague. Of course, they would look up information related to Lin Beichen.

Lin Beichen felt a bit uncomfortable with his roommate's startled reaction, and said modestly, "Yes, it's me."

Roommate trio: !!

They knew Lin Beichen would be their classmate, but didn't expect this wave to directly upgrade into a roommate relationship!

"Wow! Lin Beichen has become our roommate, this is incredible!"

"We were just talking about, when the last roommate would arrive and what kind of person he would be, didn't expect, ah didn't expect!"

"Just saying, you think the guys in the neighboring dorm will be envious of us, right?"

"Brothers, what do you think of us hanging a banner at the door? Just write... Welcome Lin Beichen to move in!"

...

The welcoming roommate kept talking non-stop, in fact, he was the only one talking all along, no one else could get a word in.

Lin Beichen: ...

The more he listened, the more black lines appeared on his forehead, defeated by his roommate's randomness.

Luckily, the welcoming roommate soon realized something, slapped his forehead, and exclaimed: "Oh, look at me, too excited and forgot to introduce ourselves. Brother, my name is Han Yuan, from Liao Province."

After saying that, he pointed to the roommate on his left.

This roommate was also a bit over 1.7 meters tall, somewhat dark-skinned, skinny, honest-looking, wearing large black-rimmed glasses, at first glance, he seemed kind of a bookworm.

"His name is Liang Dong, from East Mountain Province, same as you."

After introducing Liang Dong, he immediately pointed to the roommate on his right.

This roommate was over 1.8 meters tall, had a proportional build, a head of hair styled like Rukawa Kaede, looked very shy, giving off a sunny older brother next door vibe.

"His name is Wu You, from Guang Province."

Liang Dong, Wu You: ???

Could self-introduction have a mouthpiece?

However, they were already used to Han Yuan, so didn't mind.

Liang Dong smiled, his smile made him look even more honest, said: "Welcome, welcome, I'm from Zi City, East Mountain Province's exam was so tough this year, you still managed a full score in all subjects, that's impressive!"

Wu You's smile was quite unnatural, he nodded: "Uhm... uhm..."

He stuttered for a while but couldn't say anything.

This made Han Yuan anxious, directly transformed into a mouthpiece again: "He wants to say welcome, understand, he originally has social anxiety, with your inherent aura, it's worse now. Once we get familiar, it'll be okay. He was almost like this when I first came."

Wu You gave Han Yuan a grateful glance, awkwardly smiled: "Yes."

"No problem."

Lin Beichen smiled, then puzzled: "What's the deal with the physics major F4 you mentioned?"

Once he mentioned this.

Wu You looked at Han Yuan with disgust, a look of I don't know, I don't participate.

Liang Dong smiled and said: "This is all Han Yuan's nonsense, he's recently obsessed with classic old dramas, claims himself as Simon, insists on forming some physics major F4."

"How's it nonsense?"

Han Yuan looked heartbroken, "rebuking" Liang Dong and Wu You, who had just agreed to form F4 with him.

Playing and joking...

The four quickly became close friends!

Just as they were almost done tidying up.

A knock on the door sounded.

"Knock knock knock—"

"Is Lin Beichen here?"

A somewhat hoarse voice came from outside.

The four looked at each other, finally, three gazes fell on Han Yuan, hadn't had time to be the loudspeaker, the news got out already?

Han Yuan shrugged, indicating that it had nothing to do with him, then he got up to open the door.

There were two people standing at the door.

The one in the front was a middle-aged man in his 40s, not very tall, lean.

The man behind him was much taller, in his 60s, had a fat body, his hairline almost reaching the back of his head, looking distinguished and kindly, wearing gold-rimmed glasses.

Principal?

Though Lin Beichen and his roommates didn't recognize the middle-aged man in the front, they knew the old man behind him-

Imperial Capital University principal, Hao Jianhua!

"Lin Beichen, we finally meet."

The middle-aged man in front of Hao Jianhua waved to Lin Beichen.

Lin Beichen was stunned for a moment, remembered his voice, confirmed who he was-

Imperial Capital University director of admissions, Sun Minghao!

"Director Sun."

Lin Beichen stood up to greet, then looked at Hao Jianping, said: "Hello, Principal."

Sun Minghao, directly recognized, felt very happy, but he knew he wasn't the main character now, just smiled and said nothing.

Beside, Hao Jianping walked to Lin Beichen, lightly patted his shoulder, his eyes full of satisfaction and pride, gently said: "Lin Beichen, very glad you chose our Imperial Capital University in the end, I believe Imperial Capital University won't disappoint you. I came today just to check on you. If you have any questions, feel free to tell me..."

Unconcealed favoritism!

He didn't want to hide it!

Such an excellent student should be favored!

At this moment, Han Yuan and his roommates, who seemed to turn into little transparent, looked at each other, the excitement on their faces couldn't be hidden.

"Imperial Capital University principal personally visiting our dormitory on the first day of school."

"This is truly unheard of!"

"Our roommate..."

"Made Imperial Capital University's principal set a precedent!"

Under the gaze of his roommates, Lin Beichen smiled and replied: "Thank you for the principal's concern, I have no special requirements at Imperial Capital University, as long as I can focus on researching Thunder."

Chapter 46: Perception of Thunder, The Astonished Crowd

"Researching thunder?"

Upon hearing this, the roommates were surprised, but didn't think much of it since their major was related to scientific research.

The principal naturally agreed repeatedly, sharing the same general thoughts as the roommates, clearly misunderstanding Lin Beichen's intentions.

If the principal ever discovers Lin Beichen's methods of researching thunder, one wonders if he will regret it.

The principal and the director came unexpectedly and left quickly.

After carefully asking Lin Beichen if he needed any help, they requested—yes, requested, not demanded—that he give a speech representing the new students at the opening ceremony. They briefly showed concern for the other three roommates before hurriedly leaving.

Because of their appearance...

Lin Beichen's dorm room was immediately exposed!

Suddenly!

Students from the Physics department rushed to meet Lin Beichen. Not just them, but students from other majors and dorms soon followed suit.

Day after day...

Room 207's threshold was almost worn out!

It felt like a celebrity fan meeting every day!

This scene didn't last very long...

Until the freshman opening ceremony!

After Lin Beichen finished his speech, the curiosity about him lessened significantly, and naturally, no one visited Room 207 as often anymore.

Evening, Room 207.

Han Yuan looked at the door with boredom and muttered, "So many people have been coming and going recently, it's a bit unsettling now that no one is coming."

"Tch!"

Wu You rolled his eyes at him, hoping this would happen every day due to his social anxiety.

At this moment, Liang Dong, watching Lin Beichen heading out, asked, "Beichen, heading out to study again?"

Freshmen don't have classes until after military training is over.

But from the first day of school until now...

Lin Beichen would run out whenever he had time, rarely staying in the dorm.

This made them wonder if this guy had abandoned them to date someone!

After "interrogation," they found it wasn't the case.

According to Lin Beichen...

He was going out to study!

This made them marvel that someone who could score full marks in all subjects was indeed a monster, not only with high talent but also more hardworking, leaving no path for others!

"Yeah, that's right."

Lin Beichen nodded. He said he was going to study, but actually, he was researching how to enhance the electric power emitted from his hand.

As he was closing the door.

Liang Dong said, "Beichen, come back early tonight. Military training starts tomorrow, so rest well. It's forecasted to be over thirty degrees and sunny; if you don't rest well, you might get heatstroke tomorrow!"

"Got it."

Lin Beichen gestured "OK," closed the door, and headed to the place he had been going these days.

This place was at the northwest corner of Imperial Capital University, very secluded with hardly anyone around, but with pretty nice scenery.

Once he arrived, he immediately focused on how to increase the power of the electricity emitted from his hand.

However, before school started...

Lin Beichen had already thought of and tried all possible methods, but none worked.

Since then...

He hadn't come up with any new ideas.

Rather than research and thinking, it was more about waiting, waiting for a moment of sudden inspiration!

These past few days, with Heaven-Defying Comprehension, he felt he was getting closer to that moment!

But exactly how close...

He couldn't tell!

The sun set, the round moon rose.

The sunset was soon swallowed by the night sky.

"Feels like I'm so close to figuring something out!"

"But just missing that little bit!"

Lin Beichen shook his head in regret, looked at the time—it was almost ten at night—and remembered Liang Dong's reminder. He stopped thinking about it, returned to the dorm, washed up, chatted with his roommates for a bit, and then turned off the lights to sleep.

The next day, he was woken not by the alarm, but by the commotion from dorms upstairs, downstairs, and next door.

The once quiet dorm building was now bustling with activity even before noon; by six-thirty, it felt like the first day of business at a commercial center!

"Quick, quick, we need to gather at the playground by seven!"

Despite his chubby figure, Han Yuan was agile, hopping off the bed while grabbing his clothes, his belly jiggling. He patted his stomach, laughed, "This fat belly will be handed over to the drill instructor today!"

Wu You, brushing his teeth, exited the bathroom and mumbled through his toothbrush, "The drill instructor doesn't want it."

He wasn't socially anxious at that moment.

"Big guts!"

Han Yuan pretended to attack, but actually rushed into the bathroom, locked the door, and mocked Wu You tapping on the door, "To punish your nonsense, I'm taking a big dump first, go rinse your mouth next door!"

In this lively atmosphere, soon, all four roommates were ready.

Wu You was still retaliating against Han Yuan for hogging the bathroom; the two playfully fought their way to the door, with Liang Dong following.

Just as the three were about to leave.

Lin Beichen's voice suddenly rang out, "I feel like it's going to rain today, better bring umbrellas."

"Rain?"

The three glanced outside.

Though it was early morning, the sun was already scorching, and the sky was cloudless.

Han Yuan looked puzzled, "Does this look like rain?"

Liang Dong checked his phone, scratched his head, "I didn't miss it, the forecast says no rain today or the next two days. It's unlikely to rain today."

The three looked at Lin Beichen, faces full of confusion and doubt.

"Uh..."

Lin Beichen didn't know what to say. He couldn't tell them he sensed thunder, right?

Since watching the Qiantang River tide and mastering the Visualization Realm, during his travels, he discovered he had a mysterious sense for thunder!

This sense wasn't direct, like feeling thunder in the sky or where it was gathering; it was more subtle, almost unnoticeable.

But...

It was a feeling!

The sense of thunder!

Like how a person with rheumatism can feel rain coming!

They don't know where the rain is, but when their joints ache, they know it's going to rain!

Initially, he thought it was an illusion, but after careful observation, he confirmed it wasn't.

Whenever he had this mysterious sense...

Thunderstorms followed!

No exceptions!

"Let's go, let's go."

Lin Beichen smiled, changed the topic, grabbed an umbrella, and walked out of the dorm first.

The puzzled faces of Han Yuan and the others remained, why bring an umbrella?

But for some reason...

Maybe Lin Beichen's perfect scores cast a strong halo!

They subconsciously trusted him.

Despite not believing it would rain, they still brought umbrellas, just in case.

Claiming:

In case the sun gets too hot, the umbrellas could be used for shade during military training breaks!

Chapter 47: Casting Spells on the Spot, Shocking

Seven o'clock!

Imperial Capital University's main sports field.

The sports field is almost as big as two football fields, and the surrounding track is over a kilometer long!

At this moment, neatly aligned rectangular formations are arranged in an orderly manner on the sports field.

"Military training officially begins!"

With the command of the senior instructor standing in the middle of the field, the military training for new students at Imperial Capital University officially started.

In an instant, commands and slogans rang out one after another!

The atmosphere was enthusiastic!

Two hours later, it was time for a break and adjustment for everyone.

The sun was blazing, and the temperature was unbearably high. Even the instructors were feeling parched.

"Everyone, gather here!"

At this time, the instructor for the physics major stood in a shaded area and ordered the new physics students.

The freshmen's eyes lit up at the sight, and they ran to the shaded area, praising the instructor as a good person.

Just as they were starting to feel somewhat refreshed...

They gradually noticed...

That many other majors had started their talent showcases in their rest areas!

"Just because you are so beautiful!"

"Cilantro, cilantro, I just love eating cilantro!"

"..."

Singing, dancing, rap—there's everything!

"We can't be outdone!"

The instructor understood that the annual talent competition for new students had arrived. This segment is not mandatory, but it naturally occurs every year.

He glanced around and asked, "Does anyone have any talents? Hurry up and show off to let the new students from other majors see the spirit of our major! Plus, if your performance is good, you might just get priority in choosing a partner!"

The physics students looked at each other, and eventually, all their eyes unconsciously settled on Lin Beichen.

They didn't know if Lin Beichen had any talents, but they just wanted to see!

Lin Beichen: ??

Why is everyone looking at me?

The instructor saw this and laughed. This is what everyone wanted!

So he said to Lin Beichen, "What's your name? Get up here and show us a talent!"

"Reporting, instructor, my name is Lin Beichen."

Lin Beichen stood up and said innocently, "But I don't have any talents."

Before the instructor could say anything,

The physics students, and even students from neighboring majors who saw Lin Beichen stand up, started to jeer.

"Give us one!"

"Give us one!"

"..."

The instructor was a bit surprised to see Lin Beichen's popularity and thought that this talent show should definitely feature him!

Seeing this, Lin Beichen knew he couldn't escape.

But what talent should he perform?

He really didn't have any talents...

Except for his good grades...

And the ability to emit electricity from his palm!

Performing palm electricity?

Wouldn't he be immediately taken away by the government for research?

Wait, electricity...?

He suddenly thought of something and immediately nodded, agreeing, "Alright, I'll perform a talent for everyone and draw a talisman to seek rain!"

Classmates: ?

Instructor: ?

In the scientifically oriented campus of Imperial Capital University, performing something with a mystic perspective?

It's certainly unique!

However, they didn't think much of it, considering the rain-seeking diagram as similar to the Eight Trigrams Diagram, purely symbolic and without any real effect.

Before they could say anything,

Lin Beichen had already picked up a tree branch and began drawing in the sandpit next to the shaded area.

Although he had seen talismans online and in the Celestial Master's Mansion's Imperial Decree Pavilion and remembered their appearances, he didn't have any artistic skills.

The drawing came out...

Absolutely dreadful!

It could be compared to a chick pecking for rice, awkward and crooked, almost like ghostly scribbles!

But Lin Beichen didn't care, just drawing it was good enough—it was all for show anyway.

He nodded in satisfaction and said, "Alright, talent showcase complete!"

Everyone: ...

They couldn't bear to look.

If they hadn't seen him drawing by hand, they'd think it was drawn with his feet!

No one is perfect!

The top scorer in the national college entrance exam wasn't good at drawing!

But it seemed none of them could draw talismans either, considering no one had drawn them before.

Everybody was awkwardly stuck between praising and criticizing, making the scene a bit uncomfortable.

"Beep beep beep!"

Luckily, the assembly whistle blew in time, and the instructor salvaged the situation.

"Alright, alright, continue with the military training."

Military training resumed!

But shortly after, no one noticed...

What was once a clear sky suddenly had clouds drifting in from nowhere, blocking the blazing sun and casting shadows.

At this moment, no one realized the problem, they just felt it was less hot and even slightly cool.

However, it didn't take long for a muffled thunder to suddenly explode.

"Boom—"

"Boom—"

As the rumbles of thunder continued, raindrops the size of beans started falling rapidly.

"..."

Instructor: ????

Classmates: ????

When they realized it, the first thing that came to mind was Lin Beichen's rain-seeking talisman.

Could it really be raining now because of that eye-sore drawing?

Was that really a rain-seeking talisman that could summon rain?

So effective??

What kind of mysticism is this!

As they were still bewildered and pondering,

The head instructor ordered a temporary break to avoid the rain.

At this moment, they instinctively shifted their gaze to Lin Beichen.

Only to find...

Not just Lin Beichen, but his roommates had already anticipated it, with umbrellas up, chatting leisurely.

Utterly carefree.

Han Yuan looked at Lin Beichen, clicking his tongue, "Impressive, Beichen, who knew you had the skill to summon rain?"

His tone was teasing, clearly not believing that Lin Beichen could actually summon rain, just joking.

After saying that, he slung his arm around Lin Beichen's shoulder, speaking mysteriously, "How did you know it would rain today? Teach your buddies, this would definitely work in wooing girls!"

Liang Dong nodded in admiration, "Beichen, you're incredible. More accurate than the weather forecast, it really rained. Did you study meteorology? How did you predict it?"

As Lin Beichen was pondering how to get himself out of this,

Suddenly!

Classmates swarmed over.

"Lin Beichen, is that really a rain-seeking talisman? Does mysticism really work?"

"I saw the weather forecast for the week, no rain, but you drew the talisman and it rained. Amazing, can you really summon rain?"

"A genius is a genius, even in mysticism."

"..."

Left and right, it seemed like they had a hundred questions for Lin Beichen.

Fortunately, Lin Beichen and his roommates were used to big crowds, like when the whole dormitory came to room 207 to see Lin Beichen at the beginning.

They were accustomed to helping Lin Beichen handle such matters.

"You all let this guy fool you, he's knowledgeable in meteorology, knew it would rain today and told us to bring umbrellas. Look, we're all holding umbrellas! Who else would bring an umbrella on a sunny day?"

As the spokesperson for room 207, Han Yuan explained to everyone, and seeing the umbrellas, the classmates understood, looking at Lin Beichen with admiration.

Comparing with others can be infuriating!

He's proficient in meteorology and...

Can use it to enliven the atmosphere!

Create suspense!

True active learning and application!

Not studying foolishly at all.

He deserves to be the full-score champion of the college entrance exam!

So amazing!

The classmates couldn't help but praise him. Their distractions meant no one asked how he used meteorology to predict the rain.

The thunderstorm came suddenly and left quickly.

Military training resumed!

However, the thunderstorm had cooled down the scorching sun.

The new students completed their day of training in the cool weather.

As the head instructor announced dismissal,

Lin Beichen was the first to run off, looking for a place to study thunder enhancement.

And not just today...

During the rest of the military training...

Every day, as soon as the training ended, he was always the first to dash off!

He was the focal point among new students.

Countless eyes were secretly watching him.

This behavior of his naturally attracted a lot of curiosity, and after a while, a big question mark formed in their minds—

What was he rushing off to do every day?

Chapter 48: Sudden Enlightenment! Learn new knowledge!

Once curiosity appears, it spreads like wild weeds and cannot be suppressed!

Many students, in order to figure out what Lin Beichen was up to, followed him closely after the military training, right to his secret spot.

"Lin Beichen goes to the open space in the northwest corner of the school to study after every training!"

The news spread quickly!

It even reached the ears of the seniors!

When it comes to studying, Lin Beichen is a role model among role models.

The place where Lin Beichen studies every day...

It must be a good place to study!

On this day, after the military training, Lin Beichen went as usual to study how to enhance the power of generating electricity with his hands.

When he arrived...

He was completely dumbfounded!

The place that should have been empty was already packed with people!

There weren't many freshmen; if there were, they were just there for the fun. Mostly, it was seniors who had come early to study after their classes!

Lin Beichen: ???

What's going on?

Has my place been stolen?

Why so many people all of a sudden?

He still didn't understand what was happening, staring blankly at the seniors immersed in their studies in front of him.

"Forget it!"

"Today I won't study. I'll find another quiet place first!"

Lin Beichen wasn't too hung up on his secluded spots.

Imperial Capital University is huge...

There are plenty of secluded places, right?

He wasn't wrong and did indeed find another place, but it was only a day before it got occupied again.

And...

Not just once or twice.

Every new place he found was like this!

Even though Lin Beichen later figured out why and explained that he wasn't there to study, it was of no use.

He found, they followed, he couldn't shake them off.

In the end...

He could only helplessly accept the situation.

After all, Imperial Capital University's campus is public, and he couldn't stop others from coming, right?

This situation lasted throughout the entire military training!

"It'll be fine after today!"

In one of the few remaining secluded spots at the university, Lin Beichen sat on a stone bench, feeling completely relaxed.

"The military training is officially over. Everyone will start their regular classes tomorrow, and my every move won't be watched by so many people anymore. This place should remain undiscovered for a long while."

He took a deep breath, adjusted his mindset, and then focused his attention to start pondering.

One minute...

Two minutes...

...

Time ticked by.

This could be considered Lin Beichen's most deeply immersed moment of recent contemplation.

Suddenly!

The long-awaited opportunity appeared!

A flash of insight crossed his mind—

Liver!!

"Was the position I guessed about during my visualization corresponding to my liver?!"

"Right now, it seems that mere visualization can't enhance the electric power in my palm."

"Maybe..."

"Could the real liver enhance the electric power?"

"Is that possible?"

Lin Beichen's previous research had been all about visualization, and he hadn't really considered looking at his actual body.

Now, the opportunity had come.

It suddenly made him think of something he hadn't noticed before.

He quickly tried to sense his liver, hoping to feel something, but after a long time, he couldn't feel any difference, and he felt like a headless fly, not knowing where to start!

Though he didn't succeed,

But...

His thoughts opened up instantly!

"Study the liver or the human body!"

"Using visualization to generate electricity with my palm must be closely related to my body!"

"Just like..."

"I had thought before that the 'inflated' position is the key between visualization and reality!"

The more Lin Beichen thought, the clearer his thinking became, and the more speechless he felt - he had missed such an obvious point until today!

Although...

He wasn't sure if studying the human body would enhance the electric power in his palm, but this was another unexplored path after trying countless methods!

It was worth a try, and he had to try!

"Studying the human body, the liver, that should fall under the realm of medicine, right?"

"Medicine... basic medicine?"

"What's the first professional course in basic medicine tomorrow?"

Lin Beichen checked the internal network on his phone.

Systematic Anatomy!

That's it!

Originally, he thought about attending classes like students in the physics major normally, without using his special privileges, but now he had to leverage the conditions he had negotiated with Imperial Capital University.

"I won't attend professional classes tomorrow!"

"I'll be an auditor in the basic medicine class!"

With the decision made, Lin Beichen noticed it was getting late, so he got up to leave, returned to the dorm to chat with his roommates briefly, then did his night routine and slept. He woke up in the morning, had breakfast with his roommates, told them he wasn't going to class, and then headed to the teaching building for basic medicine under their surprised eyes.

Han Yuan had an expression of deep regret and exclaimed, "Is it human nature's distortion or moral collapse? The top scorer of the college entrance exam is skipping his first class in college!"

"You're actually jealous, aren't you?"

Wu You timely added.

Han Yuan jumped and wrapped his arm around Wu You's neck, gritting his teeth, "I liked you better when you had social anxiety!"

"I remember Beichen said he negotiated with the school before applying, that he didn't have to attend classes. I don't remember the specifics though."

Liang Dong shrugged, looking at Han Yuan, "If you're jealous, why don't you drop out, ace the entrance exam with perfect scores, and negotiate your own terms?"

Han Yuan: ...

"Go, go, let's get to class!"

He didn't want to talk anymore, feeling everyone was targeting him. Being handsome is such a target!

Soon, the three entered the classroom, found seats, and not long after, the bell rang and the professional course teacher came in with textbooks and the roll call sheet.

The teacher introduced himself and then started calling the roll.

"Lin Beichen!"

Not even looking at the roll sheet!

He directly called Lin Beichen's name.

It wasn't to pick on him, but to satisfy his little vanity, knowing the top scorer in history was his student!

"..."

Silence.

No response.

The students looked around but couldn't find Lin Beichen.

"Not here?"

The teacher didn't get angry. All the teachers at Imperial Capital University knew Lin Beichen's situation, he only felt a bit disappointed. Was his class that uninteresting?

Some were troubled, some were happy.

In the basic medicine classroom.

The systematic anatomy teacher was overjoyed to see Lin Beichen auditing his class, teaching with the same dedication as if the principal was attending an open class!

"Human anatomy studies the human body's morphology and structure, its development and evolution. It's a branch of morphology in biology. Its basic mission is to explore and explain the structural characteristics of human organs..."

Lin Beichen listened attentively, through half a class, the lecture was excellent and covered organs like the liver.

But...

Even with Heaven-defying Comprehension, he didn't feel any insights, not even the faintest ripple of thought.

"Could it be..."

"That studying the human body this way doesn't work?"

"Or shouldn't I start with medicine to study the body?"

As he thought this, it struck him...

This is Western medicine!

Medicine isn't only about Western medicine!

Talking about studying the body and organs evokes modern scientific methods naturally tied to Western medicine.

He was the same, so he thought of auditing Western medicine classes first.

"Western medicine is too scientific!"

"Science requires evidence, quantification!"

"Like this anatomy class..."

"A heart, a liver... presenting everything about it to you, what's there to think about?"

"Without thinking, how can you gain insights?"

Lin Beichen realized why he wasn't enthused about Western medicine, and new ideas emerged in his mind.

"There's also Traditional Chinese Medicine!"

"If Western medicine doesn't work..."

"Maybe TCM will?"

Chapter 49: Breakthrough, Thunder Power Greatly Enhanced, New Realm!

"Traditional Chinese medicine is not like Western medicine, where everything is proven and quantified."

"Traditional Chinese medicine is more like philosophy, it involves the predecessors' summaries of their own body consciousness, which allows people to think!"

"Moreover..."

"Didn't I originally comprehend Yin and Yang Qi by using the core principles of traditional Chinese medicine to understand and thereby visualize two unknown forces, eventually making my palm generate electricity?"

The more Lin Beichen thought about it, the more he felt that traditional Chinese medicine might be the direction of medical research he needed to study the human body. He then took out his phone and quickly searched, soon determining the major he wanted to pursue—Traditional Chinese Medicine.

On the first day of the Traditional Chinese Medicine course, Basics of Traditional Chinese Medicine!

He glanced at the passionate professional course instructor on the podium and, taking advantage of her inattention, left the classroom quickly through the back door without a trace of reluctance, heading straight to the Traditional Chinese Medicine class.

"The human meridian system is divided into meridians, collateral channels, twelve regular meridians, twelve muscle regions, and twelve skin areas..."

The instructor of the Traditional Chinese Medicine course was unhurriedly explaining the basics of traditional Chinese medicine—meridians to the students.

Lin Beichen walked in quietly from the back door, found a seat in a corner, and sat down without attracting anyone's attention.

At this moment, on the multimedia projection screen.

It showed a full-body diagram of the human meridian points, divided into front and back views, with the body's organs, meridians, and points detailedly labeled!

Comparing these diagrams and listening to the professional course instructor, he instantly caught up with the progress.

"Right now, we are discussing the Stomach Meridian."

"Now we've moved on to the Lung Meridian."

"..."

Lin Beichen listened very attentively, more so than the freshmen of the Traditional Chinese Medicine major. But by the time he listened to the second lecture, only a few minutes remained before class would end, yet he still hadn't gained any insight, feeling no sense of enlightenment.

"Does traditional Chinese medicine not help me either?"

"Could it be..."

"That studying the human body through medicine is truly ineffective?"

Lin Beichen began to reflect and summarize.

Just then.

The professional course instructor said, "The liver governs free coursing, liver qi moves smoothly, the qi mechanism is unobstructed..."

At the same time.

The focus was placed on the liver and its meridians and acupoints on the human meridian diagram projected on the screen.

In an instant!

All surrounding sounds seemed to disappear into thin air.

His vision became more and more blurred.

Until...

All he could see before him was the key content marked on the meridian diagram!

"How similar!"

The more Lin Beichen looked, the more he felt that the part of the key content marked out was very close to the route imagined in "Illusion Becomes Reality" for the Thunder Element to be activated and guided, but not exactly the same.

The imagined route corresponded to the human meridians and acupoints, which were relatively complex and cumbersome. For several acupoints, the human meridians were a straight path, but the imagined route was winding, filled with obstacles!

"Could it be that..."

"The imagined route in 'Illusion Becomes Reality' corresponds to the human meridians?"

"And the 'swollen' feeling previously experienced corresponds to the liver in the human body..."

"So everything imagined actually has traces in the body?"

"Could it be that everything imagined in 'Illusion Becomes Reality' is a projection of the real body's state?"

Lin Beichen's thoughts overflowed!

He felt like he was about to comprehend everything!

But soon...

He discovered a problem.

"If the previous speculation is correct."

"Then..."

"It would be wrong to think that the Electric Element is not just in imagination but also exists in the body. The Electric Element shouldn't be in the body, it's something else, but what is it?"

Lin Beichen tried to sense something at the position of the liver but felt nothing.

At that moment.

A flash of inspiration erupted in his mind!

Another enlightenment!

"The Electric Element is the Electric Element!"

"It doesn't need a counterpart!"

"The Electric Element imagined is the Electric Element in the body, they are not separate but unified!"

Upon this thought.

Lin Beichen suddenly sensed his entire liver filled with the feeling of the Electric Element!

"The Electric Element!"

He didn't know why he could suddenly sense the Electric Element.

Enlightenment is existence?

Without enlightenment, there is no existence?

But this was not important; the important thing was that he sensed it!

The location of the previous 'swelling' corresponded to the liver, and the guiding route corresponded to the meridians.

Everything was ready...

Just need to find the Thunder Element to move the imagination into the real body for experimentation!

Now the Thunder Element has arrived!

"Let's give it a try!"

Lin Beichen was eager to operate the imagined set within his body!

He concentrated his attention on the location of his liver.

About to ponder how to move the sensed Electric Element in the liver.

Naturally...

Where the mind willed, the Electric Element moved with the heart!

"It can work!"

A good start is half the battle!

This gave Lin Beichen great confidence!

He recalled the imaginary route, compared it with the just-understood human meridians and acupoints, and began moving the Electric Element!

"The starting point should be the Zhangmen point in the Liver Meridian of the Foot Jueyin, then rising to the Qimen point, the highest point of the Liver Meridian of the Foot Jueyin!"

"But..."

"Here it could obviously directly switch to the Lung Meridian of the Hand Taiyin by connecting Qimen with Zhongfu, but the imaginary route has many more meridians, seeming disordered, yet finally arriving at the Zhongfu point?"

Lin Beichen hesitated for just an instant, then decided to follow the human meridians to move the Electric Element, since the route finally reached the Zhongfu point, what mattered how it got there?

"Anyway, this is just a trial!"

"If it fails, I'll follow the imagined route next time!"

He moved the Electric Element directly from the Qimen point to the Zhongfu point, but soon encountered the same issue.

"The Zhongfu point could switch directly to the Jiquan point of the Heart Meridian of Hand Shaoyin, but there are many meridians on the route again, finally reaching the Jiquan point!"

This time, Lin Beichen didn't hesitate; if the choice was wrong once, so be it. It didn't make sense to not choose directly reaching the Jiquan point from Zhongfu.

He moved the Electric Element directly to the Jiquan point.

Afterwards, he encountered the same situation a few more times.

Each time, he chose the simplest route without hesitation.

Until...

The Electric Element reached the palm!

Under his expectant gaze.

"Dada...dada...!!"

With a series of extremely clear crackling sounds, his palm generated electricity!

This time...

It was real electricity, visible to the naked eye!

Strands of electric arcs, like those produced by a stun baton, blue-white, slender, curved, and jumping!

Dense enough to fill the entire palm!

"Has the power...increased?!"

"Succeeded???"

Lin Beichen couldn't believe the arcs in his palm. This time it was seen with his eyes, not just felt!

As long as the arcs were visible, it indirectly proved their power!

Happiness came too suddenly!

So sudden, he felt surreal!

At this moment, he also had a new enlightenment!

"Generating electricity in the palm through imagination means subconsciously controlling the Electric Element to ambiguously reach the palm because it was unconscious, entirely using the feeling feedback from the Electric Element to guide it, not precisely, which is why the imagined route differs from the actual body's meridian and acupoint path, mainly at crucial turning points!"

"But now, I have moved from imagination back to reality, controlling the Electric Element's every step in the body entirely clear, all the simplest and most correct routes, thus the final result is the generated electricity in the palm being stronger, with no waste, all gathering in the palm!"

With this thought, his mind inexplicably filled with ideas again.

"In this light, everything imagined wasn't really 'false', but rather in the light of Heaven-Defying Comprehension, temporarily incomprehensible or ungraspable things were blurred into something acceptable, hence appearing 'false'."

"Perhaps this is why I alone have a unique method!"

"Only I possess Heaven-Defying Comprehension!"

"No need to say more, just consider the Electric Element, no one has grasped it, yet it isn't within human recognition of power, and how can one create a 'method' for an uncomprehended force?"

"Only I have the opportunity to transform 'true' into 'false', through imagination, achieving yet unmastered feats, even if the completeness was minimal!"

"And now..."

"I should have made a breakthrough!"

"Completing the transformation from 'false' to 'true'!"

Lin Beichen realized that his palm's electric power increase was not just an improvement in power but involved deeper changes!

"Thus..."

"This realm should be called the Reverse Truth Realm!"

Chapter 50: Summoning Thunder on a Clear Day!

The crackling sound of electricity in Lin Beichen's palm was not very loud, but it was just as out of place as he was. Many students heard it.

They instinctively turned to look in his direction, but didn't notice anything unusual.

At that moment.

Suddenly!

That familiar feeling surged up in Lin Beichen's heart once again!

It was oppressive, awe-inspiring, a tremor in the soul!

The third time!

This time...

He could feel that it was even stronger and more intense than the first two times!

Lin Beichen: ???

When will this end?

Why is it this feeling again??

Before he could think any further.

The next instant!

A thunderous and tearing sound exploded!

"Krrr—!!!"

"Bang—!!!"

A shattering noise followed closely behind.

The two sounds merged into one!

Everyone was startled!

"My God, what was that sound?!"

"It sounded like lightning to me?"

"Really? It sounded more like an explosion to me!"

"Did something happen outside?"

"..."

The classroom instantly erupted into chaos.

Every student was whispering and looking around, but among them was one student who continued to quietly sit at his desk, unaffected, completely out of place with the rest.

"With such a loud noise just now, he didn't even move. Isn't he too focused?"

"He looks so familiar!"

"That's Lin Beichen, the top scorer in the college entrance exam with full marks!"

"Yes, yes, that's him. What's he doing in our classroom? Is he interested in our major?"

"No wonder he became the number one in exam history. Just look at his level of concentration. Who can match that?"

"This is true single-mindedness. I'm in awe!"

"..."

While everyone else was looking around, confused, Lin Beichen sat perfectly still, but his mind was clear.

There was definitely a lightning strike!

Just now.

Even though he didn't see where the lightning was, he once again felt that familiar sensation of being targeted by lightning, just like the previous two times!

"Once or twice, this feeling of being targeted by lightning might be a coincidence or my imagination."

"But..."

"Three times? That can't be a coincidence, right?"

"And it happened on a clear day!"

"Who would believe this isn't aimed at me?"

At that moment, Lin Beichen's mind replayed the scenes from the three times he had been targeted by lightning.

Suddenly, he had an enlightenment!

"What I sensed before wasn't a coincidence!"

"Three times!"

"Each time a lightning strike happened during a breakthrough!"

"Could this be the Thunder Tribulation?"

Thinking about the "Thunder Tribulation," he immediately had a new enlightenment. Since he practiced unique Thunder Skills, there couldn't be a Thunder Tribulation. The Thunder Tribulation itself was a form of 'skill,' a natural 'law!'

"All things in the world follow the law of energy conservation, but I have mastered the ability to break this balance, thus disrupting the system!"

"Perhaps..."

"This is more like a natural response to my special existence?"

Lin Beichen thought this was the case, but he still called it "Thunder Tribulation" out of habit, even though this Thunder Tribulation was not the same as the traditional one.

"For now, the lightning isn't really going to strike me, but the feeling that it will is growing stronger!"

"As my Thunder Skills become more refined and my realm increases in power..."

"The lightning is bound to strike me eventually???"

Lin Beichen's heart skipped a beat, feeling even more uneasy.

While he was having this sudden realization, everyone in the class had noticed that the unusual loud sound seemed to have caused a power outage?

"All the multimedia devices' lights are off; the power must be out!"

"Could it be related to the sound just now?"

"Damn, did the school's power station explode?"

"..."

At this point, the professional course teacher interrupted their discussions and said: "Quiet down, everyone. I'll go find the electrician to check it out. In the meantime, read your books."

Saying that, he pushed open the door and walked out of the classroom.

However, as soon as he stepped into the corridor, he was stunned.

Not only were the classroom doors along the entire corridor open, but so were those on the opposite side of the hallway, and on the floors above and below. Teachers were stepping out one after another.

Teachers: ???

They looked at each other, puzzled.

"Why is everyone coming out?"

"My classroom lost power, so I was going to find the electrician."

"Such a coincidence? My classroom is out too!"

"Yours too?"

"Has the power gone out everywhere??"

"It looks like the whole teaching building is out of power!"

"..."

In a few words, the teachers understood the situation and then went to find the electrician.

The electrician conducted a series of checks.

Finally, they reached the rooftop of the teaching building.

There was only one lightning rod device on the rooftop.

At that moment, the lightning rod was pitch black.

The electrician was dumbfounded at a glance.

It had been struck by lightning!

He couldn't help but look up.

The blazing sun and clear skies!

Electrician: ??

How could there be lightning on such a clear day??

How could the lightning rod be damaged like this?

He couldn't understand it.

But...

His job wasn't to understand but to repair, though there was no way to repair it now.

Without a replacement lightning rod and enough manpower,

He noted down what he saw and left to write a repair report as soon as possible.

The news spread quickly!

Imperial Capital University forum.

The incident had become a hot topic.

"I heard the whole Second Teaching Building lost power because it was struck by lightning?"

"That's so strange. It's a perfectly clear day today. Where did the lightning come from?"

"So... the loud noise this morning was the lightning hitting the lightning rod? It scared me!"

"The lightning rod is damaged for sure, but whether it was lightning is uncertain. I just took some photos of the rooftop. Picture.JPG."

"Who swore an oath to their lover again?"

"Folks, it really came from a lightning strike! I was running at the time and saw it by chance. I saw it with my own eyes. It really was a lightning strike on a clear day, and it was spectacular!"

"Not only did I see it, but I also captured it! Picture.JPG!"

"It was really lightning! It looks terrifying!"

"I knew I heard the sound of lightning!"

"Luckily, the lightning didn't hit anyone but the lightning rod!"

"A lightning strike on a clear day, this is the first time I've seen it! How does that work?"

"..."

In the end...

Everyone was more concerned or puzzled about this: How on a clear day did lightning suddenly strike, and why did it happen to hit the Second Teaching Building!

Many people even went to ask the professional course teachers and students who were in the Second Teaching Building at the time, but regardless of students or teachers, they were all equally baffled.

All they could provide was an identical response—

Don't ask, we don't know.

Ask again and the answer would still be... We were in class when there was a sudden loud noise, then the whole building lost power, and that's all there was to it.