

After Divorce, She Becomes the Billionaire Heiress (Sylvia and Cyril) Chapter 201-210

Chapter 201 Sending Flowers

The three of them felt a bit uncomfortable, preparing to go teach Cyril a lesson, but Cyril went to Silvia and said a few words, then quickly turned and left before Silvia could react, as if Silvia would chase after him.

Cyril's attitude, along with what he said, was heard by the others. He came just to apologize to Silvia, something that was never even imagined before.

"Is he crazy? Cyril never does something like apologizing even if the heavens fall, and considering what happened today, I thought he'd hold a grudge against you and come to give you a lecture. I didn't expect he just came to apologize"

This made them all feel very strange about Cyril's attitude today. Wasn't what Cyril did today a bit beyond normal?

However, although they were curious, no one continued to think too much about it. Since Cyril wasn't here, they had a great time playing. By the afternoon, Silvia parted ways with them and went to the amusement park

When Silvia got off, he ran excitedly and Miles also arranged the time with his family. When they arrived at the amusement park, Jimmy was eagerly waiting for Silvia. When he saw her, he hugged her.

"Sister, you're so nice! Do you know I've been bored at home, and Dad doesn't want to let me out to play? He even wants me to reflect on my mistakes. But now you're finally here to take me out to play. Let's go, let's go! I know so many fun things here. Do you want to go to the haunted house first? Let's take Dad in and scare him!"

As soon as he said this, Jimmy's head was fiercely hit by Miles. When he was speaking ill behind someone's back, couldn't he see if there was anyone around? He said such things while he was still there, really not afraid of getting beaten?

Jimmy held his head, feeling proud of himself, and glanced at his father. Although he knew his father was there, he didn't expect his father to hit him so hard in front of Silvia. It really hurt just now.

"Dad, you're so mean! You just hit me like that. Do you know how uncomfortable I am? I won't talk to you anymore. Sister, let's go, let's play."

After saying that, Jimmy couldn't wait to drag Sihda into the amusement park Miles followed behind, taking one step at a time. How could he not see through this kid's little thoughts?

After saying so much to Silva, Jimmy actually didn't want Miles to take Silvia away with them. But how could Miles let Silvia go with them directly? This kid had to What if he tricked Silvia while they were in there? What would they do then?

However, Miles was thinking too much in the next period of time because many didn't actually plan to watch Silvia. Instead, he took Silvia around and made her very h

As the sun set, the three of them spent the whole afternoon at the amusement park. Silvia and Miles sat on the side, each holding an ice cream, enjoying themselves.

"Sister, wait for me here!"

Suddenly, Jimmy saw something and said to Sida, then ran to say a few words to his father. Seeing Miles nod, he happily ran away.

Simia was a bit curious about what he was going to do.

"He's probably preparing a surprise for you."

Miles saw Silvia's curious expression and explained, but after explaining, he didn't know if this explanation could be considered a surprise.

via was quite curious, wanting to know what surprise Jimmy could prepare for her. After waiting for a few minutes, Jimmy ran back. He still had a bunch of flowers in his hand.

So this was the surprise Miles mentioned. To be honest, when Silvia saw Jimmy holding this bunch of flowers, she thought it was quite cute.

Jimmy was st young, and the flowers almost blocked his way, but he still ran very fast, carefully holding the flowers as if they were something very important

When he finally ran to Silvia's side, panting heavily, and handed her the flowers, his face was still full of happy smiles, and there was sweat on his forehead Silvia took out a tissue to wipe his sweat.

"Sister, these are flowers for you. Dad said roses shouldn't be given to you, but i think since you're so pretty, you should have roses. So, do you like these flowers? If you don't like them, I'll go buy another bouquet for you now, okay?"

Jimmy was still young, but he knew roses were given to people you liked. He liked Silvia very much, so he wanted to give her this bouquet of roses. There shouldn't be a big problem, right?

Just as he finished speaking, Miles's mouth twitched. Where did this kid learn from? He even went to give flowers to someone.

"So, did you learn anything good at home today? Or just want to give flowers to someone? Are you used to giving things to people like this at school?"

Miles suddenly remembered a few days ago when he went to school and saw his hesitant expression. In the end, the teacher only said politely that although children were young, their value formation was still very important. What did it mean for parents to lead by example? But when he saw the flowers in Silvia's hands just now, he suddenly understood the meaning behind the teacher's words.

"Wonder why that little girl always has a bunch of flowers in her hands. It turns out it's from you, huh? What have you learned at school?"

Like a little scoundrel at such a young age, Miles was not light-hearted. He grabbed Jimmy's ear and Jimmy winced in pain, wanting to look for Silvia, but Silvia couldn't help at all. Just turned her head away, not wanting to get involved in the father-son matter.

Of course, even Silvia didn't expect that Jimmy would know to give flowers to a girl at such a young age. This was quite interesting.

Fortunately, Miles did leave some face for Jimmy, not letting him lose face here, after scolding him a bit, he let go of his hand, Jimmy sat pitifully beside Silvia, holding onto her arm tightly.

"Sister, why didn't you save me just now? Dad was about to throw me out just now!"

Chapter 202 High Profile

Silvia couldn't help but smile. If it weren't for this child doing something secretly to make Miles angry, Miles wouldn't have done something like this.

"Do you want to tell me what exactly you did at school to make your dad so angry? Only then will I know what to do."

Silvia blinked, seeming to coax Jimmy. After a moment of silence from Jimmy, she decided not to ask anymore. If she said it out loud, she'd probably feel very unstable. It wouldn't be good if she looked down on Jimmy's father,

"I think it's better not to say. These things don't need to be talked about. What do you think, sister? Otherwise, let's just go out and play. I know many fun places."

To prevent Silvia from continuing to ask, Jimmy grabbed her and wanted to leave. Silvia, of course, cooperated very well, knowing the kid didn't want to say much, so she didn't ask more. After they played around for a while, until it was dark and the lights in the amusement park came on, they left.

After playing around, they were both hungry. Miles had already thoughtfully made arrangements. He waited until they had enough fun, then drove them to the restaurant. This time, when they went to the restaurant, Silvia felt something was off. It seemed like they were being followed.

Subconsciously, she turned her head and saw a car behind them, following them all the way,

"There were people staring at us in the amusement park just now. If nothing unexpected happens, it should be reporters wanting to dig out some news from us this time we came out to play. But don't worry, my people will handle it."

As soon as Miles knew that there might be reporters coming in, he was ready. He had already instructed his people to handle these things, so there was no need for Silvia to worry.

Silvia nodded. She believed Miles could handle these things. However, he overlooked how fast those reporters spread news online and immediately posted the photos they took. Now, everyone online was looking at pictures of Silvia and Miles playing with the child at the amusement park. They didn't expect their outing this time to be so high-profile. Were they starting to date?

Of course, not only did online netizens see these photos, but also Bruce. Bruce happened to see this photo at home, and his face darkened for a moment, but he smiled the next second. Forget it, as long as his sister was happy, they wouldn't care too much about what his sister did.

"Whether those online news are true or false, it doesn't matter as long as you're happy. By the way, how has the company been doing lately? Does your sister have any thoughts on the company?"

Stanford also saw the online news, but he didn't care much. After a casual smile, he asked about the company's affairs. Bruce put away his phone and began to discuss the online and company matters with his father.

"Little sister is very smart, so I estimate that in another year or two, she'll be able to completely take over all the affairs of the company, not only domestic but also foreign. But if she's willing to slow down, it doesn't matter to wait a few more years. Besides, I can take this opportunity to pave the way for her a bit more"

"You don't need to pave the way for her deliberately. She's very smart and can handle these things on her own. So you just need to take care of your own affairs. By the way, how is the contract negotiation going with Miles? Their contract is quite good, and what about your development plans?"

Stanford nodded. His children all had their own ideas, so he wasn't in a hurry.

But he heard that several collaborations in the company had stalled for a while. He didn't know why, but he had left these things to his children to handle, so Stanford wouldn't ask too much. He just wanted to know why they hadn't moved for so long

"These things are all handled by my sister. She wants to take this opportunity to clean up some people in the company, so everything will be slower. But don't worry, Dad, my sister can handle these things well"

"I certainly believe that your sister can handle these things well, but I'm a little worried about whether your recent actions are too relaxed. Although your sister has the ability, you also need to help her handle these things well what if she's tricked by this group of people?"

After hearing what Stanford said, Bruce fell silent. When he took over the company, Stanford didn't care about his life or death at all. He struggled to get to where he was today. And why hadn't he helped his sister yet? if he hadn't helped, Silvia wouldn't know how long it would take to sort out those people, let alone clean up that group. That would take even more effort.

Forget it. Since their whole family cares so much about Silvia's thoughts, they wouldn't pay too much attention to what their son does

When the three of them finished dinner and came out, they met a group of reporters. The reporters saw Silvia extremely excited and rushed over. If it weren't for Stanford and the group of bodyguards around Silvia stopping the reporters, they would probably have to aim their cameras at them and take pictures.

"These reporters are really crazy, but will they delete these photos they took? Actually, I don't care about my data, but I think the child is still young. Doing this now, the news, it probably won't be good."

if it gets on

Sylvia had a terrible headache. She knew that with her current situation, news was a common occurrence, so she had long since grown indifferent. But she just didn't want to involve children in these matters. After all, Jimmy was still young. Exposing him to such things so early wouldn't be very friendly to him.

Moreover, she didn't know what these people the internet would say about such a young child, so Sylvia was more worried about this

But Miles seemed unusually calm. "I think if they really take pictures, they'll subconsciously delete Jimmy. After all, they don't want a third wheel"

Hearing this, Jimmy posted on the side. Why was he the third wheel?

Chapter 203 Interrogation

The next day at work, Sylvia learned that the news of her following Miles yesterday had already spread.

Although most of the news had been intercepted, Miles realized that some of it had already been leaked before being intercepted. So, whatever they did was already a bit too late. However, these news didn't have much impact on Sylvia. Regardless of how much these rumors spread online, they didn't affect her. She went about her work as usual. The only inconvenience was that there were paparazzi almost every time she went out.

"It's quite interesting, isn't it? You're not even from the entertainment industry. A celebrity just goes out for a meeting, yet these people keep hovering around you," Juliet said, glancing outside. Last time when Sylvia and Miles went out together, she didn't join them because of work commitments. Later, when she saw Sylvia and Miles leaving together, she thought they were going out alone.

After contacting others, she found out that they went out together after the mountain climbing activity. Sylvia's energy was indeed impressive. Even in such circumstances, she could still go out

"They've been hovering around me for quite some time, so it's not really surprising anymore. But you seem to be very curious about these things," Sylvia remarked.

“How could I not be curious? Miles seems like a nice guy. Even though I realized something was off that day and wanted to get some information, I knew Miles had already taken care of it beforehand. We saved a lot of trouble,” Juliet replied,

If Miles hadn't taken care of those things beforehand, they would have been in trouble by the time they found out

Of course, the enthusiasm of these online people couldn't be stopped. They all wanted to know what the relationship between Sylvia and Miles was. After all, Sylvia had divorced Cyril not long ago, and suddenly there was another person around her. How could they not be curious?

“But I am curious. What's the situation between you and Miles? Why were you together at that meeting, and he even brought his son? Do you really intend to steal someone's account? I don't care what he thinks, but I think we should focus on our career now. You need to take over the company. Your brother's goal is for you to take over the entire company within two years.”

Taking over the entire company meant a lot of work. It meant that for the next two years, Sylvia would probably have to work tirelessly before she could fully control the company. After all, when Bruce took control of the company, it took several years. Even though someone paved the way for her now, Sylvia would still have to work very hard for two years.

Sylvia nodded. She knew her brother's plan very well. As for the situation between her and Miles, it seemed like no matter how she explained it, nobody believed her, so she didn't bother explaining. Anyway, even if she didn't explain, those who believed in her would still believe in her.

“There's a party tonight, and I'll go with you. But there might be a small problem. The people we're dealing with at this party are quite difficult, especially at the dinner table. They don't listen to reason. Be careful then. I've also arranged two bodyguards for you. If it's really not working out, let's just tear up the agreement”

Juliet was a little worried. If it were any other matter, it would be okay, but if Sylvia were to be harmed this time, it would be really bad.

“Oh, I see. Anyway, your arrangements are fine. Whatever you arrange, I'll follow,” Sylvia said.

Sylvia didn't think there would be any major problems with these matters. After all, Juliet had arranged everything for her. When they arrived downstairs at the company, they saw another car parked there. It was Cyril's car Ignoring it, they were about to go in when they were stopped.

“Do you have time? I want to talk to you properly. I know we have no relationship now, but I still want to sit down and talk, shouldn't be a big problem, right?” Cyril said. Syhta laughed when she heard Cyril's words, Even if she had time, she didn't want to talk to Cyril.

Moreover, wasn't there a big problem with their previous relationship?

“I don't think there's anything to talk about between us. And as for our previous relationship, what relationship do we have? What are you pretending to be emotional for?” Sylvia's words embarrassed Cyril, as he knew Sybia wouldn't give him any face.

“The things between you and Milles have caused quite a stir. Do you know the impact of doing this? Although I don't know how you got this job, I still hope you can live your life well Don't get involved with Irrelevant people anymore,” Cyrill said.

Sylvia found Cyril's words amusing. Where did he get the face to say these things to her? Didn't he know what their relationship was like before? Did he need to come here and say these things to her?

“Since you think everything I have now has come through illegitimate means, what's the point of saying these things to me now? I'll be with whoever I want to be with. What's it to you? Besides, who are you to me? What are you doing here talking to me? Don't you find yourself disgusting?” Sylvia rolled her eyes and pushed Cyril aside. With Juliet, she walked into the building, leaving Cyril behind. What's wrong with him? He came here early in the morning, saying these things to her. Is his brain not working properly?

“I heard last time he banned Karena, saying she's gone completely crazy. What is he thinking? Clearly, he was very affectionate towards Karena before, but now he's turned his back on her.”

Chapter 204 Banquet

Isn't that right? Back then, how good he was to Karena, all these people saw it. But now, Karena says she's been banned, and it's all over. The new and naive, pushing someone to the brink, it's no wonder. Actually, he's not a good or kind person either. Yet, here he is, full of sorrow, coming to Sylvia and saying so many things.

Honestly, it's quite surprising to see. Is he really capable of doing such things?

“Don't bother about him. He thinks he's angry now and all the things he's doing supposedly for me are just to satisfy himself. Let's just pretend we didn't see him. But today's headlines will probably be quite lively again. ”

Although Cyril's actions did move him somewhat, Sylvia was still quite troubled by the trouble he brought after coming to seek solace.

So, after discussing these matters with pallet, Sylvia immediately instructed her assistant to suppress all information about him and Cyril for today. If anyone dared to leak it, they would be in trouble.

After handling this matter, Sylvia and Juliet immersed themselves in today's work. It wasn't until the afternoon that Sylvia finally stopped.

"Your brother won't be joining us for the afternoon party today. We need to leave together," Juliet said as she came to find Syha early. They needed to change clothes before going out since it was quite an important occasion. Sylvia was already prepared, so they could leave whenever. After packing their things, they left.

Both of them changed into dresses before heading to the venue of the banquet.

It must be said that there were quite a lot of people at the banquet today. Sylvia quickly found them and the person they were supposed to talk to. As she walked over, she noticed that the other person's eyes were extremely ally when he saw her. Sylvia lonew that today's banquet probably wouldn't go smoothly.

"This guy is famous in the circle for being a pervert. He doesn't even know your identity. If he really does something out of line today, you don't want to give him face. We don't have to seal the deal today, but we've been set up this time, so we have to come"

Juliet whispered in Sylvia's ear. They were indeed set up this time, and it seemed that someone among the shareholders didn't like Sylvia, so they deliberately left this trap. If they had known earlier, they wouldn't have come here to talk Unfortunately, it was too late now.

Understanding Juliet's implication, Sylvia and Juliet went straight to greet the person. The other party didn't know Sylvia's identity but thought she was a woman close to Bruce, the shadowy woman. In such a situation, the man's gaze towards Sylvia was particularly disgusting. Sylvin wore an impeccable smile on her face, but when she noticed the man's gaze, her eyebrows couldn't help but twitch.

"Although Theard that Bruce is not interested in women, I didn't expect the women around him to be so.... Intriguing. Both you and Juliet really shine," the man said, his gaze becoming even more lascivious. Why did he dare to speak like this to her? It was probably because of Juliet's status that he didn't dare to offend her.

"I've also heard that your wife is someone you can't afford to offend, so you've been very obedient recently. But it seems that the rumors outside are a bit off, aren't they? Sylvia's words instantly made the man's expression extremely ugly. Although many people knew that he was afraid of his wife, not many dared to say such things to his face because they often mocked him behind his back.

Now, hearing Sylvia say this, his face became extremely ugly.

“So, you don’t even know why you’re here today. How dare you talk to me like this? Aren’t you afraid that if we don’t reach a cooperation today, the people in your company won’t let you off?” The man’s tone became threatening Hearing the man’s insinuations, Sylvia laughed directly. Was he joking? Who was playing whom among the people in the company? And what did it have to do with this man they couldn’t reach a deal today?

“Then I’m sorry. If we really can’t reach a deal today, I’m sure there won’t be any problem on my end. But if you do something here today, and your wife finds out about it, then I’m not sure,” Sylla threatened lightly. Who wouldn’t threaten others? Sylvia smiled lightly, causing the man’s face to lose all its light.

Sering this, Sybia felt that there was no need to continue socializing too much. She suddenly felt that it was meaningless. As she was preparing to leave, she suddenly saw someone coming from afar. This person was none other than a shareholder of the company.

Sering this person, Sylvia understood why she was talking to him today. It was probably because this shareholder deliberately set her up. Now that she’s come, if she doesn’t give this shareholder the trouble he deserves, then her coming here today would be in vain. Just as she was about to leave, she hesitated for a moment

Juliet still had other things to do, right? So she didn’t follow Sylvia. Therefore, she didn’t know what had happened on Sylvia’s side, but she believed that with Syhta’s character, she definitely wouldn’t let herself be wronged

Moreover, she had already told Sylvia before coming here how to handle things if something bad happened. So Sylvia must be able to handle these things well

Therefore, she went about her own business confidently. When she saw the shareholder and then looked at Sylvia’s expression, she knew that the shareholder was in for a rough today. But it didn’t matter, anyway, that shareholder deserved it

Chapter 205 Renclusion

Chapter 205 Resolution

That shareholder still didn't know what had happened exactly. He only knew Sylvia was coming today. Originally, he didn't want to come to this kind of banquet. But he thought about how he had tricked Sylvia into coming before, so he wanted to see how much trouble Sylvia would be in today. That's why he decided to come. As expected, many people recognized his identity, and when they saw him, they all wanted to chat with him, stroking his ego greatly.

"Sering you all here, I don't need to run anymore. I was worried I wouldn't find you today. Oh right, Sylvia, how's the cooperation you're supposed to talk about today? The company has high hopes for you. You must make this deal happen. Otherwise, even with Bruce, you might not be able to stay," the man threatened as soon as he opened his mouth. Sylvia laughed upon hearing this. Who was trying to intimidate whom?

"Don't worry. This deal definitely won't happen today, But Bruce won't trouble me. As for whether he'll trouble you, I'm not sure. Oh, and you usually wouldn't come to events like this. Today's sudden decision to come must be to see me embarrassed, right? But you're too late. The joke s'already over. Also, next time you come to bother me, at least investigate properly. This is a guy alcaid of his wife. If his wife hears about what happened today, you won't be able to escape. Wow, you really aren't afraid to offend me. I might as well take away all the power you have," Sylvia calmly replied. These people all wanted to scheme against her, but did they even have the ability to do so

After Sylvia said this, both the shareholder and the man's faces turned extremely ugly. They didn't expect Sylvia to say such things. Sylvia's words clearly showed she wasn't afraid of what might happen today.

"I don't believe you'd dare to tell Bruce about what happened here today. If he finds out, do you really think he'll keep you? Don't forget, you only got into the company through some shady means. Now, if you make him unhappy, don't think about staying here anymore. I won't care how much effort you put in to enter the company," the man continued, trying to threaten Sylvia, Sylvia remained silent. She knew what these people said was true. Bruce might be the sole decision-maker in the company, but many people still wanted to pull him down from that position, and they would resort to disgusting means. This had happened before.

But with Bruce's current capabilities, removing someone's power was as easy as pie. Did these people ever think about what would happen if they got into trouble and Bruce decided to deal with them?

"If you think."

“A group of people surrounding a woman here, using intimidation, doesn’t seem right. Everyone knows the purpose of today’s banquet. You brought people here, thinking Sylvia would be easy to manipulate. But have you ever thought about whether she really is?”

Just as Sylvia was about to speak, a voice interrupted her. She turned to see Cyril coming over. Recently, she had seen Cyril much more often than before. Sylvia furrowed her brows slightly, not quite understanding Cyril’s actions. However, she didn’t dwell on it too much. If Cyril wanted to do something, let him do it. It didn’t concern her much..

But what Sylvia couldn’t accept was why he always said he was by her side. Did he think this would improve their relationship? Wasn’t that a bit unrealistic?

Seeing Cyril approaching, the others restrained the expressions on their faces. Although they dared to yell at Sylvia, they didn’t dare to treat Cyril like that. After all, they couldn’t afford to offend Cyril

“We didn’t mean that. Actually, what we meant was....

“What do you mean? I’ve seen plenty of you before. You just want to sell a woman and gain some benefits. A man has to rely on a woman for profit. Don’t you think your actions are ridiculous?” Cyril, already used to such things in this circle, quickly saw through their intentions. He just hadn’t expected to meet Sylvia here. Did Sylvia really understand the nature of this banquet before coming? What if something really happened here? What should he do?

Thinking of this, he felt a bit worried. Seeing Sylvia’s expression, he hesitated for a moment, unsure of how to leave this place.

Pursing his lips, Cyril said to them, “I can pretend I didn’t see anything today and take these people away. But if you do anything dirty behind the scenes, I think Bruce’s desk will be full of information about you tomorrow morning.”

Chapter 206 Making Myself Miserable

Before coming here, you mentioned that you had thought about many things that could happen, such as being drugged at the wine table. But you never imagined you would be in trouble before even reaching the wine table.

And it was Cyril who unexpectedly came to your rescue. You couldn’t help feeling embarrassed about it. You could accept help from anyone, but you couldn’t accept Cyril’s help.

“Why are you here today? Cyril stopped in his tracks and turned to ask Sylvia directly. Her tone was somewhat unfriendly, which made Sylvia want to laugh. What does Cyril have to do with me? Who is he to meddle in my affairs?

“Why do you think I’m here? Of course, I’m here to discuss cooperation. How can’t you see that? If you can’t see it, I suggest you go to the hospital and get your eyes checked again,” Sylvia replied bluntly, her tone impatient. Cyril paused slightly after hearing this.

Originally, he came forward to help Sylla, not to make her feel any dicerent. The reason he did this was actually to let Sylvia see the true face of this banquet. But Sylvia’s current attitude was unexpected.

“I don’t know why the company sent you here, but do you know this banquet has always been about sending women to these unclean people? They use women to gain benefits. Didn’t you say you’re doing well on your own? Why did you make yourself so miserable? Cyril looked at Sylvia with some concern, but even he didn’t notice the sudden pang of distress in his eyes.

In the years of marriage with Sylvia, although they both had different feelings about this marriage, he knew Sylvia was indeed a wronged woman. But he would never let Sylvia experience such things. If being with Bruce meant experiencing such things, why continue with it?

“You have better choices. Why do you have to be with Bruce? If Bruce really cared about you, he wouldn’t let you come to these things. And Miles, do you know Miles will also come here today? He’s not good for you either!” Cyril looked at Syhta, wanting to speak urgently. But seeing Sylvia’s impatient expression, he hesitated. Why was Sylvia always so indifferent to him? This made him feel a sense of powerlessness. Obviously, he did all this for Syhia’s good, but why did Sylvia’s attitude make him feel like the distance between them was growing?

“I might have made a mistake, but you seem to feel very miserable today. That’s just how you feel, but I don’t feel miserable at all,” Sylvia interrupted Cyril’s words, not wanting to continue the conversation with him.

“Anyway, thank you very much for helping me out today, although I don’t think it was necessary,” Sylvia added. Cyril looked at Sylvia and realized she really didn’t care about these things, or even about what he said. Suddenly, he felt a little powerless. Clearly, he did all this for Sylvia’s good, but Syhta’s attitude made him feel like the distance between them was growing

“I didn’t mean that. I just.. Cyril tried to explain, but Sylvia interrupted him.

*Enough, I think you’ve said and done what you wanted to today. You’ve always wanted us to meet and talk about recent things. I’ve given you the chance now. I’ve said what I had to say. There's nothing else to discuss," Sylvia interrupted Cyril's words. Every time she met Cyril, she felt her mood would become very bad. This time was no exception.

Cyril didn't speak anymore. Since every time he said something, Sylvia would interrupt him, there was no need to continue talking

"Goodbye."

After waiting for a while and seeing that Cyril really had nothing more to say, Syria waved her hand. After today, there shouldn't be any reason for him to want to talk to her again. She went to the side and called Julie to let her know she had come out. Julie had been watching Sylvia bring taken away by Cyril just now, and she was stunned on the spot, not knowing what to say

Then she immediately called Bruce to report the situation here. Bruce also had a puzzled expression. Now that Sylvia had taken the initiative to call, Julie rushed over without hesitation, wanting to ask what was going on between Sylvia and Cyril, and why they ended up together again.

"Didn't we agree when we left home? we should focus on our careers. Why are you getting involved with Cyril again? Don't tell me you're having second thoughts. I'm telling you, I'm the first one to disagree! Julie exclaimed anxiously

"You're overthinking it. I really didn't think Cyril would show up here today. Please calm down. There's no basis for what you're saying," Sylvia replied, feeling a headache coming on. Why did it feel like what Jolie was saying had happened a long time ago?

Julen obviously didn't believe Sylvia at first, after all, Sylvia had a history.

"I'm telling the truth. I didn't know he would show up here today. He inexplicably pulled me over and said tonight's event was all about using women to network. But what does that have to do with me and him?"

Chapter 207

The two of them huddled together, feeling puzzled by Cyril's actions today, but they couldn't be bothered to think about it anymore.

After finishing their tasks, they went their separate ways. After all, they still had a lot of work to do, and it wasn't worth wasting their time over such a small difference

After several busy days, Bruce was about to go on a business trip again.

The original plan was for Juliette to accompany him on this trip, but for some reason, on the day of departure, there was a sudden change, and Juliette took a week off, refusing to leave the house.

At first, Sylvia didn't think anything was wrong until the third day when she suddenly saw a message from Juliette online.

There was only a blue sky above, but the caption below was a crying emoji. Seeing this expression and caption, Sylvia immediately realized that something was wrong, and she immediately called Kate and the others to inform them. Kate and the others didn't know what had happened to Juliette, but when they saw the message she sent, they all looked puzzled.

So that night, they called Juliette out. Juliette had been living aimlessly for the past few days, showing no intention of dressing up at home, looking extremely dispirited. When they saw Juliette, they felt like they were seeing the wrong person. How could they have seen Juliette in such a sorry state?

When they saw each person's shocked expression, Juliette couldn't help but sigh. She didn't want this either, but what could she do? Secretly loving someone was really too painful.

"Could it be because of my brother? He's gone abroad on a business trip, and originally, you were supposed to go with him. But somehow, it changed at the last minute, and he took someone else instead. That's not right. My brother always plans things in advance and never changes them. Your appearance has made me a little anxious."

Sylvia was just testing the waters because she knew that Juliette's change in mood over the years was related to her brother, but what had happened between them? How could they change so much all of a sudden?

Sylvia was puzzled, and not just her, even the others felt a bit awkward. Among them, it wasn't a secret that Juliette liked Bruce. However, Juliette never said it to his face, and Bruce probably had no idea either.

Originally, Juliette hadn't planned to come out today or tell them what had happened to her, but then she thought that she couldn't keep these things hidden for too long. Instead of waiting for them to find out later and make things awkward, it would be better to clarify things now,

"I was supposed to go on the business trip with him, but I drank a little too much before he left, and then I confessed to him. You should have noticed that Bruce never had thoughts about me. So when I confessed to him, he rejected me without hesitation. Or should I say, he didn't reject me, I didn't say anything, he just said that I hadn't figured things out yet, so he asked me to think it through before saying anything. Then he took someone else on the trip with him. He said it himself, isn't that a rejection? So what else is there for me to say?

any

After saying this, everyone was shocked because they never thought it was because of this. They looked at each other, at a loss for words for a moment.

They had known for a long time that Juliette liked Bruce, but it had been so many years, and Juliette hadn't said a word or shown any signs. So they thought that maybe nothing had really happened. But when Juliette said this, they realized that they had born too nave t drunk this time and made a mess of things. But I don't think my brother meant to reject you. Maybe he was just surprised and really wanted you to think it over. Maybe you're overthinking it a bit. It shouldn't be that complicated."

"Sex you got d

Sylvia thought that her brother was indeed capable of doing such things. He wouldn't directly reject Juliette, especially after so many years of knowing each other. But to say that he rejected juliette seemed a bit off. However, Syria couldn't quite figure out what was missing.

"Why isn't it that complicated? Don't you know my brother? If he doesn't like someone, how could he keep going around in circles with you? He just doesn't like me, so he transferred me away and didn't let me go on the trip with him. I've known for a long time that he doesn't like me, so this confession was just my wish. I knew a long time ago that there was no chance between us. Well, that's it. I've decided to hand over all my work in a few days and go home. My mom called me a few days ago and said that I can't keep fooling around like this, so I'm thinking of getting married."

Juliette's indifferent attitude shocked everyone. They gasped, some looking incredulously at Juliette. Could such words really come out of Juliette's mouth?

In the beginning, Juliette didn't want an arranged marriage in her family, so she came to Ivan Group to work as Bruce's assistant. Now, she wanted to go back for an arranged marriage because of Bruce. To be honest, it was very difficult for anyone to accept.

er all these years of knowing each other, and I really

"How about you think about it again? I'll call my brother and see what he thinks. I don't think my brother is that heartless. After all Think " originally intending to deceive herself, Sylvia suddenly didn't know what to say when she thought about Bruce's attitude. There really wasn't much difference in how he treated them, mainly because Bruce treated them all like younger siblings, but since they were the same age as him, there wasn't really anything different in his thoughts.

Juliette smiled bitterly, but Sylvia didn't know what to say, so was it necessary for her to deceive herself here? It wasn't necessary at all. If he doesn't like me, he doesn't like me. I won't cling to him

Chapter 208 Can't Let Go of You

Juliette put on an indifferent front, but deep down, everyone knew she hadn't really moved on from this.

She waved her hand with a smile and said, "You don't need to worry about me too much. It's just a man, no big deal. I did like him, but it might have been just youthful foolishness, and after all these years, I was just eager to get an answer. Now that I have the answer, I have nothing to dwell on. You don't need to worry about me I'm fine oh, I heard there's going to be an auction by the Woolood family in a while, Let's go check it out together"

With the person involved speaking like this, what else could the others say? They could only nod, feeling a sense of regret in their hearts. Loving someone for so many years, to suddenly let go, how could one possibly move on?

similar to Juliette's. So, over the years, they sympathized with each other and Sylvia understood this best. Just like how she had pursued Cyril for so many years, her feelings were so became the best of friends due to their shared secret.

For anyone, choosing to let go was a very difficult decision. Sylvia understood this very well, so she understood where Juliette's sadness was coming from. She didn't say anything, just tightly held Juliette's hand. No matter what decision Juliette made, Sylvia would always stand by her side. Whether she liked it or not, it was ultimately a personal choice.

"If you've really made up your mind like this, then we'll definitely be with you. After all, you're the most important to us. As for Bruce's side, Sylvia will have to worry about that."

Kate and Brenda directly expressed their attitudes. Duncan didn't come today because they all felt Duncan was too unpredictable, so they didn't call him. In fact, their decision was quite right. Bringing Duncan here might have led to unpredictable consequences.

"I know I'm the most important to you guys, so I told you about this. Well, my feelings for him have ended led anyway, so it's so it's time for me to start anew. I think it's fine. My mom sent me a photo this morning. I think the guy looks quite handsome Based on that, I think it's necessary to go on this blind date. How about we go together?

When Juliette talked about handsome guys, her eyes lit up, leaving everyone unsure of what to say. But deep down, they felt relieved. If they could move on from this, it would be for the best. As for other matters, they could deal with them later. After all, they weren't particularly important.

"If you're going on a matchmaking date, you must bring us along. If the other person doesn't like you and likes one of us instead, where will we cry? Also, don't go causing trouble everywhere. You know about Sylvia's situation recently. She and Miles are making progress. Don't mess things up for them."

Kate butted twice. He didn't want to join in the fun. He wasn't at the age to get married yet, so he wanted to see what the other person was like. Watching the fun was fine, but getting involved wasn't something he would agree to.

Upon hearing Kate's words, Sylvia was speechless. He had already said that he had nothing to do with Miles, so why didn't these people believe him? Did his usual attitude really show that he cared so much about Miles? This made him a bit uncertain.

"You're always clinging onto Sylvia. If things don't go well later, I want to see how and ward you'll be. Alright, let's not talk anymore. Today, I'm going shopping. I have to dazzle at that auction later. After all, this is my official debut to everyone. I can't afford to lose face."

When Juliette spoke, the others didn't say anything. They just obediently went out with her to pick clothes. The places they frequented were all high-end, so they didn't encounter any trouble along the way, leaving them all very satisfied

After picking several outfits, Juliette felt much better, and everyone could sense her improved mood. It was just that the others felt a bit exhausted from following her around. "Thad a great time shopping today. Thanks to all of you for coming with me. So, to show my appreciation, I've decided to treat you to drinks at the bar tonight"

Juliette's state didn't seem right, especially since she wanted to go to a bar. No one said anything, just accompanied her. But when they arrived at the bar, they suddenly realized that today's plan might not have been a good one.

Because they ran into Cyril here, along with his buddies. Suddenly, they felt a bit embarrassed.

Because nobody had forgotten what happened on the mountain that day, especially Cyril and Jonathan. They were the ones who lost the most face that day, besides Cyril.

Jonathan didn't want to see Sylvia and his group, so when he saw Sylvia approaching, he just turned and left

"We're all here for a gathering, and he still follows over. It seems this woman still has a place in his heart. Since she's with you, he caused so much trouble on the mountain that day. I think he's a bit confused about his identity. Don't give him any good looks, or he won't even know who he is."

Jonathan said this as he left, not afraid of Sylvia hearing. In fact, he said it so Sylvia could hear

When Sylvia and the others heard this, they rolled their eyes. Jonathan and Cyril seemed to be taking themselves too seriously.

"This isn't your bar, I'll come if I want to. Saying I have him in my heart is the biggest insult to me. Also, have you been too idle lately? Your wife wants a divorce, and you don't mind care, do you?"

Everyone knew where it hurt, so they hurt each other. Who was afraid of whom?

Everyone knew about the recent trouble between Jonathan and his wife.

Chapter 209 Gift for You

Chapter 209 Gift for You

Jonathan's face darkened when he heard these words. The fact that these people knew about his family affairs made him uneasy. If they brought it up openly now, he would truly be astonished.

"Now you're unhappy? If you know you're unhappy, then keep your mouth shut. Do you have no sense of what to say and what not to say? What's going on in your head?"

Juliet was not in a good mood today. Anyone who approached her received a couple of harsh words from her. Jonathan's face didn't look good, and he got his share of rebuke as well. Afterwards, he kept quiet, not daring to speak again. These people seemed to escalate things with just a few words..

Originally, Cyril had something to say to Sylvia, but with the situation escalating, there wasn't much left to say. So, they all went back to their seats, but Cyril's gaze occasionally fell on Syhria

In the end, this situation didn't last long, mainly because Cyril kept staring at Sylvia, making everyone uncomfortable. Why was he staring at her like that? It was all in the past.

Initially, after the encounter at the bar, Cyril might have tried to approach Sylvia again. Unexpectedly, for more than half a month until Bruce returned from his business trip, Cyril made no moves.

However, in this month and a half, Juliet did have some other actions. She handed in her resignation. When Bruce received this resignation, he didn't react much because he knew Juliet's background and knew she wouldn't last long in the company anyway. So, her resignation didn't surprise him.

There was no attempt to retain her, so Juliet left. She felt extremely sad. That evening, she attended the auction in splendid attire, looking exquisite and beautiful, causing everyone's eyes to linger on her.

When Sylvia saw Juliet dressed like this, she glanced at her brother subconsciously. However, she was a bit disappointed that her brother had no reaction, acting as if he hadn't noticed.

"Don't you think Juliet seems a bit seems a bit different today? Why are you so calm?" Sylvia said, somewhat puzzled.

Bruce, hearing Sylvia's words, glanced at Juliet and nodded. "She looks very beautiful today. After all, she's here to show her true identity, so her attire is understandable. What's wrong? Do you think she doesn't look good today?"

Seeing Bruce's expression, Sylvia didn't know what to say. Was this what he meant?

"Forget it, you never understand what I'm trying to say. You'll end up lonely someday if you continue like this. I wonder who could tolerate your personality," Sylvia said, feeling exasperated.

Sylvia didn't bother to argue with Bruce anymore. She turned around to find Juliet, Juliet was busy talking to a few other people whom she had befriended. Since everyone knew Juliet's identity, they were quite happy chatting with her. When Sylvia walked over, Juliet and Sylvia left to talk privately.

Though they weren't sure about Sylvia's identity, they could guess that she was friends with Jebet. Her identity couldn't be that bad.

"oh, let me tell you, on my way here today, I ran into Cyril. He was dressed quite nicely. It seems he came for you. Did Miles come today? If he did, maybe he could help you with something." Juliet said.

Sylvia hadn't encountered Cyril on her way here, so she didn't know about the situation Juliet mentioned.

"Can't we handle things ourselves? Do we really need Miles to solve everything? Besides, what does Cyril have to do with me now? You think too much, and maybe he came today for other reasons. Besides, today's auction is quite substantial"

Hearing Sylvia's words, Juliet stopped talking. She seemed a bit annoyed, as if she understood what Sylvia meant.

"Forget it, it's not a big deal. I won't sit with you today. After all, I've revealed my identity today and need to entertain others. By the way, when will you reveal your identity? Many people asked me about you today. Since they know they can't just approach you casually, they're curious. But if they find out you're the future heir of the Ivan family, will they be shocked?"

Juliet looked at Sylvia curiously. She was quite curious about what Sylvia would say. What would happen when Sylvia's identity was revealed, especially to Cyril, after knowing the gem be let go of?

"I don't know about that. It's a matter for the future. Besides, people want to establish good relationships with you now. Why do you keep dragging me into this? Anyway, let's stop here. I'll go up first. My dad really likes a vase today, so my brother and I must buy it for him."

Although Juliet had decided to let go of Bruce, she still felt very sad, especially when Bruce's wisdom was mentioned. She seemed a bit absent-minded.

Sylvia also realized she had said something wrong and looked nervously at Juliet, hoping her words wouldn't cause any reaction

Juliet smiled, "It's nothing. After all, I've already decided to let go."

Hearing juler's words, Sylvia didn't feel relieved. Instead, she became more worried. She felt things weren't as simple as they seemed.

After talking for a while, when they were about to return to their seats, Cyril came over holding a booklet. Sylvia immediately recognized it as the booklet used for today's auction. She wondered why Cyril was holding it.

"Take a look and see if there's anything you want. I want to give it to you."

Cyril's words made Sylvia stop in her tracks, looking at him strangely. She thought Cyril might be seriously ill today, otherwise, why would he say such a thing?

Chapter 210 Humiliation

Sylvie and Juliet looked at each other, both silently communicating with their eyes, feeling that Cyril today was truly reaching the peak of absurdity.

Sylvia glanced at the auction booklet in his hand and calmly withdrew her gaze.

"I don't want anything, and there's not much between us. So, you don't need to think about giving me anything. I don't need these things. If I need something, I have the capability to obtain it myself."

Sylvia wasn't lying. With her current wealth and status, it would be quite difficult for her not to be able to purchase anything here. She wasn't foolish enough to wait for gifts from others.

Cyril remained silent, gazing at Sylvia.

"It's not easy for you to come here either. I saw a ruby necklace today that I thought would look great on you. So, I want to give it to you, if you don't mind."

"I do mind very much, so please don't give me these things. I'll say it again, what I want, I can obtain through my own status and position, far better than you imagine."

Sylvia said this earnestly to Cyril, but she wondered if he believed her.

In reality, Cyril didn't believe Sylvia's words. He thought she was pretending to be strong. He didn't believe she didn't want these things. He really wanted to help her obtain them.

"Enough, Cyril. She doesn't want them. Why do you insist on giving them to her? After all, she's already the vice president of the Yuan Group. She doesn't need our things. If you give them to her now, she'll just see it as you hindering her relationship with Bruce."

Jonathan, who seemed to appear out of nowhere, spoke, making his words sound irritating. They didn't know about the relationship between him and Bruce, so they always thought their contact with Bruce was for advancement. Sylvia had never bothered to explain. What was the point?

Belief is belief, disbelief is disbelief. He never felt the need to explain to these people, because he no longer had any relationship with them. What was the point of explaining? It was better not to explain at all.

Juliet rolled her eyes beside them.

"Are you guys crazy? Sylvia doesn't need it now, so why do you keep insisting? Is it to impress Sylvia or to impress yourselves? When we got married, I didn't see you care so much about Sylvia. How come now, when she's divorced, you suddenly remember her good qualities? Now you want to start making amends. Have you ever thought about what you've done over the years? And let's not talk about other things. Can I just ask, can we be so presumptuous to give you things here? Do you take yourself so seriously?"

Juliet's words successfully silenced Jonathan because they only found out today about Juliet's other identity. Indeed, with Zhou Lian's identity, there was nothing difficult for her to obtain. Besides, these people, who had no idea of Juliet's identity before, always assumed that anyone who could play with Sylvia wasn't of high status. They looked down on people, and only now did they realize how absurd their actions were.

"Your presumption is quite impressive. Not only towards Bruce but even towards women, isn't it? Why do you still feel unsatisfied after getting Bruce? Do you need to find someone else to maintain your position? Syhda, you are even more disgusting than imagined. I thought tricking Cyril into marrying you was the most despicable thing you could do, but now you're even more detestable."

These words from Juliet were clearly meant to humiliate Sylvia. But Sylvia took it as if it didn't matter because she had heard too much humiliation over the years. If she took every word they said to heart, she would have died of anger long ago.

Moreover, ultimately, it was because of Cyril's indulgence. If Cyril hadn't indulged in these things, how could they say such things in front of her?

In the end, it was because Cyril didn't value her. If he valued her, these things wouldn't have happened today. In fact, even before, they wouldn't have happened.

So, after hearing these words, Sylvia remained expressionless, just looking at Cyril. She wanted to see what Cyril's attitude towards these matters was. When she turned her head, she found Cyril's face was dark and unsightly. Both Juliet and Sylvia were stunned by his expression. It was as if they suddenly realized that something was wrong. Wasn't it a bit too late now?

“That’s enough. Do you always humiliate Sylvia like this? you clearly know that when I married Sylvia, I never considered divorce.”

Cyril’s face became exceptionally grim because he realized that the words Jonathan used to humiliate Sylvia today were words he had heard before. But back then, he didn’t take them too seriously. But now, he realized that such humillating words had been sald many times before.

Clearly, they knew that when they got married, they never thought about divorce, But they had never given themselves this face, let alone Sylvia in their eyes. Was Sylvia really so cheap? Of course, at this moment, she suddenly realized that they thought Sylvia was cheap because of her attitude. Before, it was because he didn’t protect her properly. Now that he knew, he would protect Sylvia properly.

“Don’t pretend to be affectionate here. Who are you trying to impress with this act? Now that you know they’re humiliating Syba, what were you doing before? Did you not know anything before? Enough, like you, who clearly knows these things, but doesn’t want to intervene. Now you realize how wrong they are. Do you think you have no faults at all? What kind of man ignores his wife’s feelings?”

Juliet was really fed up. She kept highlighting her loving wife here. Didn’t they find it disgusting? Even outsiders felt a bit intolerable.

“Let’s stop talking about this. Don’t we have other things to do today? Don’t waste time on such trivial matters.”

Seeing Juliet angry, Sylva gently patted her back, asking her not to be so angry. It wasn’t worth getting upset over such trivial matters. Sooner or later, he would realize how wrong he was,
