Chapter 11

At the same time, she is warning Selena that Luke is only using her to fight the Riddle family, and that she remains a roadside trash, not worth mentioning.

Selena stood beside Luke and looked straight at Leah with a faint smile, "Leah, can you be any bitchier?"

Leah's reddened eyes immediately burst into more tears, "Sis, I'm doing this for your own good."

Selena cut off her words, her eyes filled with ice cold, if there was a deep meaning. "Whether I am a fool or not, you know better than everyone, what, scared?"

She cocked her head, a playful, icy smile pulling at the corners of her mouth, "I haven't even started and you're already scared, how can you play later on?"

Leah's face turned white at the sarcasm and as she was just about to speak, Dominic smoked a cigarette and looked at Selena who didn't even give him a glance from the beginning to the end, his eyes narrowed slightly and he spoke out in annoyance, "Enough, Leah, she wants to degrade herself, why do you have to be a good person in vain? She deserves to die out there!"

Leah said softly and aggrievedly, "But my sister is alone and stranded, she is easy to be cheated, in case she makes a big trouble in the future and involve the Riddle family and the Walson family"

Luke gave a sneer, "Miss Riddle, you think too highly of you."

Leah looked at the man, reserved and voluptuous, and gritted her teeth in hatred.

Luke's lips hooked, "If I want to deal with the Riddle family and the Walson family, I will just need to give an order, do I need to use a woman who was swept away? Do you think I'm as shameless as you?"

He looked at Dominic whose brow was furrowed, with a few hints of interest under his eyes. "Also, I am not this blind-eyed Mr. Walson, so it is better to say this to the man beside you."

When he finished, he stepped aside and made a graceful "please" gesture, "Let's go, Lady Selena."

Selena admired Leah's pale face for a moment, smiled lazily and turned to leave in a leisurely manner.

Leah looked at her back with a sinister look in her eyes and clenched her fists.

Dominic's thick eyebrows were furrowed deeply, "What made Selena enter Olympus Group? And why does Luke think so highly of her?"

Leah lowered her eyebrows, her face covered with worry, and said in a low voice, "It's all my fault, my sister left home with nothing on her, she doesn't even have a place to live, in case she degrades herself and follows the example of those women who don't love themselves and go to extremes."

Dominic remembered Luke's reputation as a "playboy", his face was sullen, "Selena, what a bitch!"

Selena walked to the car and turned to Luke with a faint smile, "Thanks a lot, Mr. Jordan, I'll go back first."

Luke personally pulled open the car door, smiling, "Lady Selena, let tell me know what you need in the future, and for the sake of my life, please don't run around."

If she was bullied on his turf, Osvaldo would definitely blame on him.

Selena looked at the warning and coldness under Luke's eyes, knowing clearly that he was worried that she would be sad because of Dominic and Leah, she explained, "People who have completely become the past are not qualified to make me sad."

Selena, who could be hurt by that pair of scum and bitch, was already dead.

To the current Selena, they were just enemies.

A brilliant light flashed in Luke's eyes, and a smile grew on his face, pleased with Selena's perceptiveness and decisiveness.

If, having been hurt to this extent, she is still coupled up with Dominic and refuses to take a hard hand, then she is not worthy of Osvaldo.

How could such a noble man become a spare tire for other men?

Even if Osvaldo loved her, he would never allow such a thing to happen.

Selena leaned over and got into the car, drove back to the castle.

Just as she walked into the living room, the old butler greeted her with a big smile and handed her an expensive jewellery box, "This was delivered this morning, young madam, see if you like it, let them redo it if you don't."

Selena opened the lid of the box.

A delicate necklace was seen lying quietly on the precious velvet, carved in the shape of a star, glowing with a light of understated luxury.

It is the blue jewel.

Selena's eyes lit up with an unconcealed expression of fondness, "I like it, thank you, Hugo."

She brought the necklace upstairs, put it away in a drawer, rested for a moment, got up and went into the study.

She knew too little about the entertainment world, and it was not easy to find a heroine character who would fit into Selena's script.

Dominic returned to the Walson's.

When his mother saw him walk in, she asked, "Did you find Selena?"

Dominic lifted his hand to loosen his tie and grunted coldly, "Yeah."

"Then why didn't you bring her back?" Mrs. Walson was angry, "Have you forgotten what I told you?"

Dominic looked high and proud, thinking of Selena's coldness today, his face was unpleasant, and he asked in disbelief, "Mom, she can't get away."

For so many years in the past, it was Selena who pestered him, and it had become a habit for him to call on her and wave her away.

As long as he gave her good look, Selena would come back to him every time.

In Dominic's heart, it was just him dumping Selena.

It was absolutely impossible for Selena to disobey him.

Mrs. Walson was very dissatisfied with her son's obstinacy and heavily slapped the table, snorting, "You really think Selena won't be angry with you, don't you? Since you repudiated your marriage, has she ever come to you of her own accord? Once a woman's heart is dead, she can be much more ruthless than a man. If you continue to get close to Leah, and when the twenty percent of shares become someone else's, you will cry!"

Seeing that Mrs. Walson was really angry, Dominic frowned and said in a deep voice, "Mom, I know, I'll go find her tomorrow."

When Osvaldo returned home in the evening, he was told by the maid that Selena had spent the afternoon in the study and had not come out for dinner until now.

Osvaldo lifted his steps upstairs, gently pushed open the door of the study and found the sleeping Selena on the sofa in front of the floor-to-ceiling window.

In the warm yellow light, the young girl's slender, soft body is curled up, her hands are resting regularly on the side of her face, and her face is tinged with sweetness.

Half-read book was scattered on the carpet.

Osvaldo walked silently to the girl, half crouched down and gazed down at the delicate and pretty face.

She did not sleep soundly, and seemed to have nightmares, her brow furrowed, her soft red lips bitten white, but no sound ever came out

Osvaldo leaned over and dropped a gentle kiss between her eyebrows, saying gently, "It's okay, sleep well."

Whatever her nightmare was, it will end now.

Her family did not protect her, her biological father did not love her, he will be there for her!
