

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1325 I Refuse

Chapter 1325 I Refuse

Marley was flattered and replied, "I will work hard and study well, thank you, Minister Turner..."

Selena glanced at her before taking a step forward.

Just as Marley let out a breath, she suddenly heard a quiet, almost imperceptible whisper that was carried by the wind and into her ear.

"Diego was once a top researcher at the Institute. I'm waiting for you to return to that position."

Marley was shocked and looked at Selena's back.

If Selena had not spoken to her earlier, Marley would have almost thought that the words were just a figment of her imagination.

But she knew that wasn't the case. Selena did say those words.

Selena was waiting for her to climb back to that position on behalf of the Baxter family.

As Marley looked at the misty rain, she thought of a pair of black, empty eyes.

There was nothing particularly special about Marley that would attract the attention of Miss Turner.

The only thing that set her apart from the other members of the Baxter family was that she was the only one who had not hurt Kyra.

That was why Selena had chosen her to repay Diego's favor.

In the misty rain, Marley bent down as she watched the gradually moving figure of the young girl.

Leia caught sight of Marley's movement and relaxed her furrowed brows.

Thank goodness this was a different girl from Constance, otherwise...

Hmph!

Thinking of Dante, who was tortured by illness and pain almost to the point of being unrecognizable, Leia's eyes flashed with anger.

She looked at Selena's delicate face and asked softly, "Madam Selena, is there anything else to be careful of on the Baxter family's side?"

Selena shook her head. "The Baxter family is destined to decline in this generation."

Leia snorted, "Madam Selena, you have done nothing wrong. Those troublemakers from the Baxter family deserve to be taught a lesson!"

"Without their family background to rely on, they won't be able to bully people anymore. Madam Selena, you're doing a good thing!"

Selena chuckled and curved her lips. "The Baxter family is just the beginning. There will be more families to be reshuffled."

For example, the Shaw family, the Riddle family, the Soo family, and the Poole family!

Everyone who owed the Turner family would eventually pay the price for their actions.

Facing many respectful and fearful eyes, Selena calmly walked into the conference room.

The people in the research department had prepared everything early on when they learned that Selena was stepping into the research institute.

Although they had only worked together for a short time, everyone knew that the new head of the research department was someone who hated wasting time.

So they prepared their work meticulously and dared not be the slightest bit careless or negligent.

In the gap left by the arrival of the Turner family's miss, the entire research department fell into an unprecedented state of clarity and seriousness. Even the top executives of the research institute who had opposed Selena before had to admit that the research department under the Turner family's hands and the one under the Shaw family were completely two extremes.

Under these circumstances, everyone knew in their hearts that it was only a matter of time before the Shaw family was driven out of the research institute.

In the evening, when Selena had finished her work and was about to go home, someone suddenly approached her.

Selena looked at Matilda who had come in and put down the glass in her hand. "Miss Wallace, what's the matter?"

Selena and Matilda were not particularly familiar, so it couldn't be a private matter that brought her here.

Selena had a pretty good idea of what kind of business could make Matilda come in person.

Immediately, a playful smile appeared at the corner of her mouth. When Matilda met her teasing gaze, she smiled gently and said, "Let me make it clear first, this is not my intention. I'm just responsible for being a messenger."

Selena leaned lazily against the table, and asked with a teasing tone, "Miss Wallace, you can go back and tell them that I won't take care of this matter."

Matilda was surprised, "Do you know what I'm here to talk about?"

"If you come to the research department in person, it must be related to the mechanical field. And so far, there is only one thing that you urgently need to solve."

Matilda smiled wryly, "Those people probably hope that you can help take a look at the future development of the mechanical field in H Country, and..."

And as everyone thought, Selena, as the head of the research department, should also have a strong interest in "Sacred Pearl."

Selena shook her head, "I have no interest in 'Sacred Pearl.' Moreover..."

She curved her lips into a cold arc, "Once 'Sacred Pearl' is opened, the most dangerous person will either be me or my boyfriend. Under these circumstances, I have an absolute position to refuse this request!"

Matilda lowered her eyelashes, "The Judicature will definitely help the Turner family and will not let anyone hurt the Turner family again."

The harm of the past cannot be undone.

So this time, there can be no regrets left behind.

Matilda didn't speak too conclusively. After all, anything could happen in the unpredictable capital.

No one dared to guarantee Selena that she and the Turner family would not encounter danger in the future.

Selena smiled, "So Miss Wallace, you can go back and report now."

Matilda looked at Selena and after a moment, said, "I thought you might be interested in the 'Sacred Pearl'."

This was the main reason she agreed to be the spokesperson.

The "Sacred Pearl" was the greatest invention in the current field of machinery.

Whenever any mechanic mentioned it, their eyes would light up.

No one would want to miss the opportunity to study the "Sacred Pearl".

Except Selena.

Selena blinked and laughed, "I lost interest in the 'Sacred Pearl' a long time ago. What I'm more interested in now is my boyfriend."

Selena didn't insist, and Matilda didn't force her. She nodded and said, "Sorry to bother you, Miss Turner."

She picked up the hat on the table, put it on her head, and turned to leave.

After Matilda's figure disappeared from sight, Selena lowered her eyelashes.

According to Diana's ability, she was absolutely unable to shake the "Sacred Pearl" at all.

She had been researching for so long without any progress, so it was necessary for those few people to take action...

And at this time, Diana must be in panic and collapse.

Was her stuff so easy to steal?

If Diana stole it, she must be prepared to pay the price!

Selena smiled slightly and walked out.

The news that Selena refused to participate in the study of the "Sacred Pearl" also quietly spread in the upper circles.

This made many people who were hostile to the Turner family breathe a sigh of relief.

Selena's talent in the field of machinery was too terrifying. Many people were afraid that if she mastered the "Sacred Pearl", she would use it against them.

That would be a very scary thing!

Those who knew this news at the moment also put their hearts down.
