

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1335 Quite Tragic

Chapter 1335 Quite Tragic

This matter is not a secret!

This is also why Patrick considered Osvaldo and Alfie, but did not consider Christ.

The reason why he finally agreed to the marriage alliance between the Turner family and the Anderson family was twofold: firstly, Selena liked that man. Secondly, whether it was Osvaldo or the Anderson family, they were the only ones who had not harmed Selena.

As for Cassius, who was responsible for the tragedy of the Turner family, he was no longer considered a member of the Anderson family.

Oscar was somewhat surprised, "Then why..."

When Christ looked at Selena, the emotions in his eyes did not seem fake.

Patrick shook his head, "I asked Selena, but she didn't want to say."

Oscar lowered his eyes.

He had investigated everything about Selena in Creephia. The current ruler of the Poole family was not a good person. His methods were even more ruthless than Dexter's.

Why would such a man suddenly develop feelings for a girl he had tried to kill three or four times?

Seeing that Oscar seemed to care about this issue, Patrick said, "Christ once had a beloved half-sister, who was cruel and caused harm to many people. Selena ruined her."

His voice suddenly lowered, "That woman once accidentally obtained the carnelian that my uncle gave to Lady Nevaeh..."

When Oscar heard the word "carnelian," his pitch-black pupils shrank almost imperceptibly.

Patrick continued, "Christ should have started to look at that woman differently because of the carnelian."

In other words, the person Christ wanted to cherish was the owner of the carnelian.

That person was Selena.

But how did two people, one the eldest son of the Poole family and the other orphan from Creephia, come to know each other?

Patrick knew that there must be hidden secrets, but since Selena didn't want to say, it was obvious that she didn't want people to know about the entanglement.

Oscar almost instantly linked Selena's acquaintance with Christ and Lady Nevaeh's death together.

His tone was cold, "Where is the carnelian now?"

"Selena has taken it back and now has it in her possession."

Oscar did not speak again.

Selena held her phone and found a secluded garden before looking down to start typing.

She didn't have much experience texting her boyfriend and was struggling with it now.

If the people on the empireknew that Miss Riddle, who was known for being able to turn the tides of a situation with ease, was having trouble with a simple text message, they would be shocked.

But in reality, Selena was really stumped.

She looked at her phone on the table with a rare serious expression.

She had typed a few lines but they didn't seem right, so she deleted them.

She had to report relevant matters while also expressing her longing and care as a girlfriend... it was so difficult!

Leia followed behind Selena and saw her mistress staring at her phone with a conflicted expression, obviously thinking about something related to her young master.

She spoke up and asked, "Madam Selena, are you going to call the young master?"

Selena shook her head, "The meeting later will surely be lengthy. I want to send Osvaldo a text message."

Why not just tell him directly?"

Leia was about to speak but seeing Selena's expression, she swallowed her words.

How could she ruin Madam Selena's rare moment of concern for the young master?

The young master would be very happy to receive Selena's carefully crafted message, and he would definitely have a surprise for her...

Leia looked at Selena and smiled, her eyes narrowed into a slit.

She stood up and prepared to pour Selena a glass of water, but when she looked up, she suddenly saw someone walking towards them from outside the pavilion.

Leia's brows furrowed, and she looked at the newcomer with caution.

Selena seemed to sense that something was off and raised her head to see Alfie standing in front of her.

Selena looked at the man she was once engaged to and put away her phone.

She thought to herself that the research institute was really lively today.

Not only had the Shaw and Poole families arrived, but even the Soo family, who had been low-key for so long, had sent people over...

Selena sat still, just looking at Alfie and said casually, "What's wrong, Mr. Soo?"

Alfie smiled at her, "No, I just saw you over here and came to say hello."

Selena furrowed her brow, and Leia glared at Alfie with anger.

Only someone with low emotional intelligence like Selena would believe such a reason.

If the man from the Poole family was openly coveting Selena, then the man from the Soo family was dangerous and insidious to the core.

Leia felt aggrieved when she realized that all the men, including Osvaldo, appeared completely innocent in front of Selena, but turned into wolves who would eat people without spitting out their bones when they turned their backs.

Thinking about this, Leia suddenly felt a bit sad.

How could so many men be interested in Madam Selena, who was so kind, cute, and even young?

She was even deceived by men.

If Lady Nevaeh and her husband were still alive, they would definitely protect Selena and prevent these groups of people from approaching her.

Suddenly, she felt a sense of desolation in her heart.

After realizing what she was thinking, Leia shook her head hastily and threw out the absurd idea in her mind.

Although her young master had some suspicion of "deceiving" Madam Selena, he truly loved Selena.

He would definitely treat Madam Selena well for the rest of his life. Unlike Christ and Alfie, although it was not their intention, they and their families had hurt Selena.

These two men were not qualified to compete with her young master for her.

She glared at Alfie with a cold light in her eyes, perhaps influenced by the previous thoughts, thinking that if Alfie dared to disrespect Selena, she would rush over and beat him up.

Alfie naturally noticed the girl's vigilance, but he didn't pay attention and smiled as he sat down in front of Selena. "Miss Turner, do you want to know why I appeared in the research institute?"

Selena looked at the gentle and dignified man in front of her and raised her eyebrows.

She did want to know why Alfie was here because in her expectations, the Soo family had disappeared for many years, and there was no entanglement with the research institute. Today's play should not involve them, but Alfie appeared here unexpectedly.

Selena asked in a calm voice, "Mr. Soo, are you here to help them against the Turner family?"

When Alfie heard Selena's question, his smile suddenly disappeared.

He looked at Selena with a trace of sadness in his eyes and asked, "Are all the people who appear before you without reason your enemies in your heart?"
