The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4261-The Devouring Demon replied, "Alright. As long as you help me purify my soul and eliminate the other consciousnesses within me, I swear to serve you."

"That won't be a problem." James nodded.

The Ignis' amazing flames were fully capable of purifying the Devouring Demon's soul.

"You're a powerful person. I'll have to plant a sigil in the deepest part of your soul to prevent you from double crossing me. If you ever betray me, I'll activate the sigil and obliterate your soul."

"Wait, what?" The Devouring Demon hesitated.

Giving the terms some consideration, he nodded and said, "Fine, do it."

He gave the deal a lot of thought and came to the conclusion that it was worth the sacrifice. Even if his soul was bound by a sigil, he would not die as long as he stayed loyal to Wyot. Once his soul was cleansed, he would gain complete control over his body and would not have to worry about being overthrown by the souls within him.

The Devouring Demon urged James. "Let's get started with it."

"Alright." James nodded.

James briefly explained a number of precautions for the process. Then, he set up a time formation around the two of them. The Devouring Demon sat in a lotus position while James stood behind him.

"When the Ignis enters your body, it may singe your flesh a little. I'll control its power to ensure you're not completely incinerated. Meanwhile, you'll need to safeguard your own soul during this process. The Ignis might damage it slightly, but it'll be fine as long as you can protect it well."

James explained the procedure.

"I'm ready." The Devouring Demon took a deep breath. He was fully prepared for what was to come.

James walked in front of him, raised his hand, and a white flame emerged from his palm. He slowly sent the flames toward the Devouring Demon.

The Devouring Demon felt scorching heat as the white flames approached him. The flames entered his body through his pores. Unable to withstand the inferno, a large portion of his flesh was badly burned.

However, the Devouring Demon gritted his teeth through the pain. The flames flowed through the Devouring Demon's body and began burning away the other souls within him.

Throughout this time, excruciating pain wracked the Devouring Demon's body.

His face contorted, and droplets of blood trickled down his forehead. His body was also covered from head to toe in severe burns and injuries. However, James controlled the flame, ensuring it did not incinerate the Devouring Demon's physical body.

"Argh!!!"

"Damn it!"

"No..."

Agonized screams filled the Devouring Demon's mind. The extra souls in the Devouring Demon wailed in agony as they met their ends.

While performing the soul purification, he planted a special sigil in the Devouring Demon's soul. The sigil could only be etched into one's soul through given permission and could not be done forcefully.

Once it was embedded, the sigil was irremovable no matter how strong the Devouring Demon was. If he were to try to remove the sigil, it would explode, and immediately burn away his soul.

James used Ignis to slowly purify the Devouring Demon's soul. The other consciousnesses in his body were purged, making the Devouring Demon's soul pure.

As the other souls were burned away, the Devouring Demon's mind became clearer, and he recalled some memories from his past life.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4262-Since James had to restrain the Ignis' power, it took a very long time to completely purify the Devouring Demon's soul.

After the lengthy process, the Devouring Demon's soul was finally cleansed. He was no longer ailed by intrusive thoughts in his mind and finally gained independence. At the same time, he also managed to refine the other souls, allowing him to retain his Soul Power.

He was only slightly fatigued and would eventually recover after cultivating for some time.

The flames completely burned away his flesh and blood, leaving only his bones left.

James' Ignis melded his bones that were patched together into a complete skeleton and he became even stronger. His bones were whole and free of impurities.

The Devouring Demon used his mind to will his body to regenerate his blood and flesh. He was now no longer a middle-aged man but had become young and dashing.

The Devouring Demon addressed James respectfully, "Master."

James said, "Your soul has been completely transformed. Even Youri won't be able to tell that you're the same person. He'll most likely think that you died here. If you were to appear before him again, he wouldn't be able to discern your aura."

The Devouring Demon's soul was now whole. His original physical body was pieced together using various corpses, but it was now complete through the help of James' Ignis.

'The Devouring Demon is dead. From now onward, you'll be known as the Death Demon.'

James casually gave him a new name. While James was purifying the Devouring Demon's soul, he had glimpsed at his memories.

Before his death, the Devouring Demon was a powerhouse at the Terra Acme Rank and was called the Master Necromancer. He was a strong cultivator that existed before the Space Race Era. Before the Space Race conquered the Greater Realms, he had already been killed by other powerhouses.

The sorcery he mastered was capable of creating death spirits.

“As you wish, Master.” The Death Demon did not dare to disobey James since his life was in James’ hand.

The Death Demon spread his arms wide open as if he was embracing the world. He breathed in the fresh air and felt rejuvenated. Then, he murmured, “It feels so good to be free.”

James reached out to him and said, “Hand it over.”

The Devouring Demon understood quickly and realized James’ intention. beam and turned it into a sword.

He offered it to James and said respectfully, ‘The Devouring Demon perished in the Sky Islands. Naturally, this sword belongs to the one who defeated him.’”

James picked up the sword.

When the Death Demon handed over the sword, he removed Gale’s imprint on the sword. It had now returned to its natural size. As James took the sword, he carved his aura into it.

“I’ll create a space for you to treat your injuries and recover. I’ll summon you once I need your help.”

James proceeds to create a special space in one of the Devouring Demon’s acupoints. Then, he casually waved his hand. A powerful force emerged and enveloped the Death Demon, and the eleven death spirits, teleporting them into space.

Then, James began inspecting the sword. As he urged it, the colorful sword dimmed and turned into an ordinary-looking sword.

Although it looked almost like every other sword, it possessed amazing power.

‘This sword is a masterpiece.’”

James smiled faintly as he admired the sword. He had greatly benefitted from coming to the Ancient wealm.

Not only did he recruit a powerhouse, but he also obtained an extraordinary weapon.

The Death Demon used to be a powerhouse that reached the Terra Acme Rank's early stage. However, he was no longer as strong since his current form was a soul.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4263-Now that the Death Demon's soul had been restored and made whole, he could return to being a powerful Terra Acmean once he recuperated and recovered his strength.

Moreover, he was a powerhouse that accumulated a lot of experience and knowledge in his past life. Thus, it was rather easy for him to cross into the following ranks. He could potentially enter the Terra Acme Rank's middle stage as he recuperated.

James looked at the sword and murmured, "I'll call this the Death-Celestial Sword."

He casually named the sword and put it away.

Then, his brows furrowed. The outside powerhouses would definitely hear about the Death Demon and James wanted to keep the fact that he recruited him a secret.

He thought briefly and then came up with a plan. He began to stage a fake scene.

Boom!

The time formation around him exploded.

As the formation shattered, the Death Demon lunged at and the Death Demon's body slowly dispersed into the air.

The series of events were illusions James had created using the various Paths of heaven and earth. He intended for it to be seen by Deshawn and the others.

Deshawn and the others knew that James was trying to persuade Death Demon, and saw that they had come to an agreement. However, they were unable to see what happened inside the formation. They were only informed once the explosion occurred.

“Huh? What happened?”

“Wasn’t Wyot supposed to be purifying his soul? Why are they fighting again?”

Many creatures were baffled by what they saw.

James quickly headed toward the group of creatures.

Yente rushed over to him and questioned him. “What happened? Are you alright? Why did you guys end up fighting again?”

James teasingly replied, “Is that worry I hear in your voice? Have you finally fallen for me?”

His remarks turned her cheeks red as she hurriedly denied.” O-Of course not! You promised to protect my family. That’s why I...”

“Alright, alright. I get it.” James stopped her.

He turned to the other creatures. Everyone was watching him closely, awaiting his explanation.

James smiled and said, “That monster was too vile. I felt couldn’t possibly keep a loose cannon by my side. As I purified his soul, I took advantage of his vulnerable state and destroyed him. By the time he realized, it was already too late. I quickly retreated, and he destroyed my formation. His soul was completely obliterated as soon as he broke my formation.”

James’ words described the scene they saw. Thus, everyone believed James’ explanation.

Even Deshawn could not find anything amiss. Since Deshawn had not mastered the various Paths of heaven and earth, he could not discern that the scene was an illusion created by James.

Leilani stepped forward and asked, "Were you injured?"

"Kinda."

James replied and began to let out horrible coughs. Blood gushed out of his mouth. In the previous battle, he was struck by the Light of Acme and was severely injured. He had been suppressing the injuries since then. Now that things were resolved, he had reached his limit. As soon as he stopped curbing his injuries, they immediately worsened.

A powerful force surged out from his body and devastated him. His Blood Energy churned, and blood spewed out of his mouth.

James immediately sat in a lotus position and began cultivating to heal his injuries.

The other creatures watched from the side.

Some creatures quietly walked over to Deshawn. One of them said telepathically, "Wytot got rid of that monster and is severely injured right now. This is the perfect chance to get rid of him. Let's attack him while he's treating his wounds. If we kill him, this competition and the Chaos Sacred Lotus will be ours."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4264

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4264-The Chaos Sacred Lotus was a tempting prize. It would allow one to quickly enter the Acme Rank. Only by entering the Acme Rank can one be called an absolute powerhouse.

Now that Wytot had resolved the crisis, many creatures were hopeful of acquiring the Chaos Sacred Lotus.

Qimat had sent a representative to this competition as well. The participant was at the peak of the Permanence Acme Rank, and was dead set on killing Wytot.

However, he was unaware that Yuri had his own plans.

Before he could strike Wyot down, Yuri's subordinate had already acted. Unfortunately, Yuri's plan fell through.

The powerhouse that Qimat had snuck into the competition was called Walvis Yackel. Walvis hung around the other participants, hesitating to use the opportunity to kill James.

Wyot displayed great strength in the previous battle. This made Walvis unsure of his ability to take out Wyot. If his sneak attack failed, he would be killed. Instead of rushing to his death, he concluded that surviving was better for now.

After Deshawn received the telepathic message from his teammate, he quickly replied, "Don't even think about it."

Wyot is insanely powerful. We're unlikely to snuff him out quietly despite his current state. If we enrage him, we are all going to die. He also has a number of people guarding him now, so our chances are slim to none."

Deshawn did not want to take any risks. Everyone would die if they angered Wyot. Since even Deshawn refused to act, the others also controlled themselves. Everyone glanced at each other silently.

Time passed slowly.

Soon, James was able to temporarily close his wounds. He stood up, glanced around him, and said, "I thought some of you guys would try to kill me as I recovered."

Deshawn stepped forward and smiled brightly. "You must be joking, Wyot. How could we possibly try to kill you after you saved us earlier?"

He spoke enthusiastically as if the two of them were good friends. James smiled faintly in response.

They made a wise choice to leave him alone. Although James was injured, he could easily kill anyone that tried to touch him.

"Is it possible for you to break the formation, Wyot?" asked Yente.

James replied, "Of course, but it'll take some time."

The formation around the Sky Islands was much simpler than the one set up on Planet Desolation. James could easily open it up, but refused to. Instead, he wanted to put on a spectacle.

He strode toward the formation. Standing at the formation's border, he pretended to study it.

After a long time, he finally began to rupture the formation. It did not take long for him to open a gap.

Many creatures frantically rushed through the gap to leave the Sky Islands.

Meanwhile, many powerhouses were still waiting on Mount Chaos. All of them watched the Ancient Realm closely.

Unfortunately, they were unable to see anything beyond the formation. They wanted to head into the Ancient Realm to assess the situation, but the competition's rules forbid it. Thus, they could only wait anxiously.

Only Youri remained very calm and watched merrily.

At that moment, the formation suddenly opened, and many creatures rushed out.

"They're out!"

"They broke through the formation!"

"How is that possible? The formation blocked out our Divine Sense. Even I couldn't see what was happening inside.

They're only Quasi Acmeans, so how did they manage to break it?"

Many of the powerhouses were surprised to see the participants leaving the formation.

Youri took a few steps forward in disbelief.

"This is impossible," he exclaimed.

Since everyone was in disbelief that the participants had broken through the formation, no one noticed anything strange about his words.

Soon, all the surviving participants left the formation and gathered outside the Sky Islands.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4265-“Forget the competition. I forfeit. 1 “Wyot is way too powerful. Let’s not debate which team can bring him down.
Even if everyone united against him, we’d still lose.”

“Yeah, I’m out of here.”

After surviving their predicament, many creatures gave up on the competition.

While Wyot was healing his wounds, they were too afraid to strike. Everyone knew they had missed the best opportunity to eliminate Wyot and win the competition.

The participants began to leave the Ancient Realm one after the other.

Meanwhile, the powerhouses waiting on Mount Chaos were stunned.

“What’s going on? The competition isn’t over yet. Why are they leaving?”

The participants opened spatial passages and returned to Mount Chaos. Soon, they arrived there. James had also followed the group.

Youri was fuming. He was unsure what had happened, but he could not detect the Devouring Demon’s aura. He seemed to lose his cool at that moment.

Based on what he saw, he was sure the Devouring Demon had died. However, he was in disbelief. The Devouring Demon was a Terra Acmean. Moreover, he had the Light of Acme as his weapon and could command the twelve death spirits.

It was hard to believe someone like that was eliminated.

As soon as the participants left the Ancient Realm, Dolph stepped forward and asked, “What happened?”

Everyone exchanged glances and hesitated. They were not sure if they should tell the truth.

James stepped forward and said, "We're among the powerhouses of the Greater Realms. Go ahead and tell them what happened. There's no need to be afraid. He's only at the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage and hasn't acquired the Blithe Omniscience yet. He's not invincible."

From these words, Youri immediately knew his plot had been exposed. However, he remained silent and composed.

Dolph looked at James and said, "Tell me what happened, Wyot."

James stepped in front of everyone and looked at the many powerhouses present.

"That won't be necessary."

Youri suddenly stepped forward. The powerhouses turned to Youri puzzledly.

James looked at Youri and said calmly, "I'll let you explain yourself, then."

"This was all my plan."

Youri did not deny anything and said truthfully, "I set up the formation around the Ancient Realm. I wanted to secretly get rid of Wyot and the other participants."

The powerhouses stiffened, and immediately became wary of Youri.

Dolph looked at Youri and asked calmly, "As the Great Elder of the Doom Race, why would you want to kill Wyot and the other participants? What do you stand to gain from it?"

"Obviously I wanted to obtain the Blithe Omniscience. I aim to conquer the Greater Realms and bring about a prosperous era!"

Not fearing anyone present, Youri revealed the truth to them. He was at the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage and was physically invincible. No one was capable of eliminating him.

Dolph asked solemnly, "Were you the one that took the Cloud Race's token?"

Youri replied, "That wasn't me. When that happened, I was out looking for some special materials. After finding them, I cultivated in seclusion to reach the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage."

After speaking, he eyed the powerhouses present. Everyone that met his gaze backed away.

Youri smiled lightly and said, "I wanted to kill these participants so the other races would turn against the Doom Race. Unfortunately, my plan failed. Since it's come to this, I've no choice but to take them by force. Hand me your tokens, and I'll spare your lives."

Youri turned to Wyot and asked, "Also, I'm curious as to how the Devouring Demon died. He's a Terra Acmean, so how did any of you kill him?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4266

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4266-Youri did not plan for the current development. He had no intentions of distancing himself from the Doom Race.

However, he had no other options after killing the Doom Race's Grand Patriarch.

He wanted to move in secret but now his plans were exposed. Thus, he had no choice but to reveal his true plan. Still, he wondered how the Devouring Demon died.

James replied, "I killed him."

Youri pointed at James and said, "That's impossible. You're saying you did it alone? You might have a Thousand Paths Holy Body, but you're just a Quasi Acmean. The Devouring Demon is a Terra Acmean. He also wields a powerful weapon and has twelve death spirits. Yet, you're claiming to have killed him?"

James did not bother elaborating further. The current situation played out exactly as James had hoped for.

During the commotion, Qimat remained standing beside Youri.

Qimat noticed Walvis and quickly called out to him, asking, "What happened, Walvis?"

When he heard his name, Walvis felt a shiver run down his spine. After briefly hesitating, he walked over to Qimat and Youri and said, "Wyot did indeed kill the Devouring Demon. Although he's a Quasi Acmean, he's impressively strong."

Walvis recounted the events that happened inside the formation.

When they heard everything, the powerhouses from various races were shocked. Everyone turned to James in disbelief.

Youri had a solution to his dilemma. The Devouring Demon was a powerful subordinate, and it was a pity to lose him. However, he was unbothered by his death.

Youri looked at the other powerhouses and said coldly, "These affairs involve the Doom Race concern. Get out of Mount Chaos if you want to live."

Youri had already planned to grab the tokens and was he had the strength to execute his plans.

However, he had yet to obtain the Blithe Omniscience. This would make fighting against the rest of the powerhouses from the Greater Realms and different races extremely hazardous.

His goal was to gain control over the Doom Race first, then steal everyone's tokens one by one.

"Since this doesn't involve me, I'll just take my leave."

An Acmean immediately announced his departure and left with his disciple.

The others quickly followed suit.

Meanwhile, the Soul Race's powerhouse was panicking. He stepped forward and shouted, "Don't leave! We can't just let this slide! If we turn a blind eye, and let Youri take over the Doom Race, he's going to take us out one by one!"

Youri burst into laughter and said, "I don't have any grievances with you guys, so there's no reason for me to kill you. I only need your tokens. Well all live in harmony long as the Ten Great Races hand over the tokens. They have been in charge for far too long. Moreover..."

'The Chaos Heavenly Path favors the Human Race, and they've been accumulating luck rapidly. If we don't do something, humanity will rise again. The Greater Realms needs a great leader like me. I'll lead the Greater Realm and subjugate the humans once more!"

Youri gave his plans a heroic spin, as if everything he did was for the good of the Greater Realms and suppression of humans.

“Who do you think you are to oppose the Ten Great Races, Youri?”

“You’ve reached the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage, but you don’t have the strength to fight us.”

The Ten Great Race’s Patriarchs mocked him. Since Youri aimed to take their tokens, they planned to defend it fiercely. It was time for them to unite against their common enemy.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4267-The Ten Great Races were afraid they would fall like dominoes if Youri were to lead the Doom Race.

Other races quickly made their stand to not interfere. Since it was a battle between the Ten Great Races, they did not want to get involved. They chose either to remain silent or leave Mount Chaos.

The majority of them chose to leave the area. As more creatures left, everyone else followed suit and stayed away from the battle. Soon, only members of the Ten Great Races remained.

From the very start, Dolph had remained silent and watched everything from the sidelines. He looked at the powerhouses from the other nine races, stepped forward, and said, ‘You should all leave. Since this involves our race, we should take care of it ourselves.’

The Soul Race’s Patriarch said, “Are you kidding, Dolph? If the Doom Race fails to restrain him, do you expect us to let him attack us next?”

Dolph looked at him conceitedly and said, “If we can’t even resolve a problem like this, how worthy are we of being called the Greater Realm’s strongest race? Don’t worry. Things will work out. Once we’ve resolved this internal conflict, I’ll personally visit every one to make amends.”

Dolph was a mysterious and discreet patriarch.

Everyone in the Greater Realm knew he presided over the Doom Race. However, no one had seen his strength before because he became the Doom Race's Patriarch after the battle in the Primordial Realm.

The only known fact about him was his status as a Terra Acmean. Everything else about him was a mystery.

Although Dolph stepped forward to settle the commotion, the others still doubted him.

The other nine Patriarchs discussed amongst themselves. After a brief exchange, they withdraw for now, but they had already secretly formed an alliance.

If the Doom Race could not clear up their strife and Youri led the effort to seize their tokens, they vowed to protect each other. They agreed to support each other and fend off the Doom Race no matter who he targeted first.

"Alright, then. We'll leave you to it."

"I hope you deal with this appropriately, Dolph."

They bid farewell and hastily departed.

Soon, only creatures from the Doom Race were left on Mount Chaos.

Youri's brows furrowed. He was wary by nature, and seeing how calm Dolph was unnerved him.

'Does Dolph have some trick up his sleeve?,' thought Youri.

However, he quickly reassured himself that there was nothing to worry about. He had already killed the former Grand Patriarch, and the current Grand Patriarch was one of his own. Moreover, he was confident in his strength.

Youri looked at Dolph and said, "Honored Patriarch, this is the last time I'll address you this way. I'm giving you a chance to live. Hand over your position as the Doom Race' Patriarch, and abolish your cultivation base. If you listen to me, I'll set aside a spiritual mountain in our territory for you to live for the rest of your life in peace."

The Doom Race's Elders had complicated expressions.

Strife within the Doom Race had been brewing for countless years. No one actually expected there would be a power struggle initiated by a Great Elder.

Dolph sighed softly and said, “Do you even know what you’re doing, Youri? Do you understand the consequences of collecting the keys and letting Soren out? Even if you obtain and cultivate the Blithe Omniscience, do you think you’ll be able to kill him?”

Youri replied, “Of course, I know what I’m doing. Soren’s been sealed in the formation for countless years. He has less than one-tenth of the strength he had in his prime. He’s very weak right now. Once I get the Blithe Omniscience, he’s as good as dead.”

Then, Youri pointed at Dolph and said disapprovingly, “The Doom Race is the strongest in the Greater Realms. Yet, as its Patriarch, you’ve contributed nothing. We should’ve conquered the other races long ago, and become the supreme ruler of the Greater Realms.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4268-Although the other nine patriarchs had left Mount Chaos, they did not go very far.

After leaving the Doom Realm, they watched the situation from the Chaos. They were curious to see how Dolph would handle the situation.

If Dolph was unsuccessful, they would all unite and attack Youri together.

“We’ll have to work together to kill Youri if Dolph can’t handle him.”

“Yeah, we must get rid of Youri. Thanks to Wyot, our disciples made it out of the Ancient Realm alive. Had they died, it would have been a great loss for each of us.”

“However, Youri is at the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage. He has a fortified body. There’s no guarantee we’ll obliterate him even if we unite, right?”

The patriarchs gathered together to discuss.

Meanwhile, the Doom Race’s members were still on Mount Chaos.

Dolph had known about Yuri's ambitions for a long time. He was also aware that Yuri had secretly cultivated the Omniscience Path. In fact, it was common knowledge in the Doom Race. However, it was never revealed to the public.

"It's easier said than done, Yuri."

Dolph sighed and said helplessly, "You're underestimating the other races in the Greater Realms. All of them have great foundations and hidden powerhouses. They haven't revealed themselves and are biding their time. I can assure you though, it's going to happen very soon."

Yuri looked at James and said, "Wyot has gained much renown during this competition. Given some time, he'll definitely become one of the greatest powerhouses in the Greater Realms. He might even enter the Caelum Acme Rank. I must kill him. He'll become the biggest obstacle to the unification of the Doom Race."

Yuri had a grim expression as he glared at James.

James could sense a strong pressure on his body that made him shrink away from the discomfort.

Swoosh!

It was none other than Dolph's servant, Xezal Dalibor. Xezal was a mysterious member of the Doom Race. She had served many generations of Doom Race Patriarchs and had lived for a very long time.

As soon as Xezal appeared, the pressure was removed from James.

He looked at the woman before him, trying to discern her cultivation rank. Despite being at the Quasi Acme Rank,

James was unable to read her. Although she was right before him, his Divine Sense detected nothing.

At the same time, she gave off a very strange aura. It was one that James had sensed while he was in the Ancient Realm. The creature that oversaw the death match had the same aura as her.

‘Could Xezal be a Caelum Acmean?’ thought James.

James quickly shook his head and cleared his thoughts. It was impossible for her to be a Caelum Acmean. If Xezal were a Caelum Acmean, the Human Race would have suffered more greatly during the battle in the Primordial Realm, and the Greater Realms would not have paid such a great price.

Xezal’s appearance stunned Youri. He could sense her strength. As the Doom Race’s Great Elder, he knew the patriarch had a personal servant.

Elder Youri said coldly, “You’ve finally shown yourself, Xezal.”

He knew about her but had never seen her before. Xezal was enigmatic and only listened to the patriarch’s orders.

Without his permission, she would not show herself.

After showing up, Xezal immediately broke the deadlock.

Several elders move toward Dolph and some toward Youri. The Doom Race had divided into two factions.

Everyone in the Doom Race knew a battle was inevitable today. The outcome of it would determine who would hold power and become the ultimate ruler of the Doom Race.

The elders began to take sides one after another, choosing between Youri and Dolph.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4269

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4269-A few elders from other factions did not choose between the two.

Youri glanced at them and ruthlessly stated, “Those who don’t side with me will be killed once I take control of the Doom Race.”

Hearing this, the elders who wanted to stay out of the fight pursed their lips. They began to evaluate each side’s chances of victory, contemplating who to follow. Making a wrong decision would lead to their deaths.

Dolph, on the other hand, remained silent. He did not pressure anyone or try to influence them.

‘The Great Elder is at the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage. He’s basically invincible at this point.’

The undecided elders began to discuss in secret. After a short discussion, they chose to side with Yuri.

Youri’s side had an advantage in numbers.

At that moment, a loud voice came from a distant spiritual mountain.

“What the hell’s going on here?!”

A multicolored light shone from the spiritual mountain, and an old man could be seen sitting on it.

“Congratulations on leaving seclusion, Grand Patriarch.”

Everyone immediately greeted him respectfully. Even Yuri and Dolph behaved courteously toward him.

The old man sat among the multicolored lights.

The man was the Doom Race’s Grand Patriarch, Hirah. However, it was not the real Hirah but Youri’s subordinate, Lada in disguise. Lada was Youri’s servant. Ever since Hirah was injured in the battle in the Primordial Realm, she had cared for him.

She understood everything about Hirah, especially his aura. Now that she was impersonating him, no one could see through her disguise, not even Dolph.

Hirah’s body flickered and he appeared on Mount Chaos instantly.

He stood between the two factions.

“Grand Patriarch.”

Youri clasped his hands, and said, "Everything I did wasn't to create conflict within the clan. I'm doing it for our own good, and to ensure the Doom Race's prosperity for generations to come."

Hirah looked at him and stroked his white beard. Then, he said, "I'm not faulting you for your actions, Youri. I can tell you're thinking of our race's prosperity."

Then, Hirah turned to Dolph and asked, "When I passed on my position to you, what did I tell you?"

Dolph replied, "I must guide the Doom Race to rise above the others and become the greatest race in the Greater Realms. Also, that the Doom Race should conquer the Greater Realm, and have everyone submit to us."

Hirah asked, "Did you fulfill your duty?"

"No." Dolph lowered his head.

Hirah sighed and said, "We're from the same race, so there's no need for petty battles. Dolph, you're a good patriarch. With your leadership, the Doom Race has revived and prospered. However, you're nothing close to an outstanding patriarch. You have no ambitions and are no longer suitable to lead the Doom Race."

Dolph replied, "I understand and agree that I should step down. My son, Wyot, has accomplished many things recently. He single handedly killed a Terra Acmean in the Ancient Realm. Even though his cultivation rank is still lacking, he has great potential and is worthy of succeeding me as the Doom Race's new patriarch."

James also could not recognize that this Hirah was a fake.

Seeing Youri behave so respectfully toward the Grand Patriarch, James thought everything was going according to plan.

He immediately stepped forward and said, "I'll definitely make the Doom Race superior to the rest and we'll subjugate the other races."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4270

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4270-James never expected Youri to treat Hirah with so much respect.

However, the Grand Patriarch had already given James the Chaos Sacred Art. Thus, James assumed that Hirah had already acknowledged him as the next head of the Doom Race.

Moreover, the Grand Patriarch himself was the one that stepped forward and appointed Wyot as the Doom Race's next patriarch when he was still very weak.

Jame sighed in relief. He infiltrated the Doom Race to become a high-ranking member and sow discord among the Greater Realms. He wanted to secretly incite a huge war between the various races and buy time for Thea's plans.

Once the Greater Realms were in chaos, Thea could eliminate the Watchers hidden in the Dark World and create a new world. Afterward, it would mark the rise of the Human Race.

However, Hirah shook his head and said, "I've always expected great things from you, Wyot, and have been grooming you to be the next successor. I know your ambitions, but you're not fit to lead the Doom Race on its conquest over the Greater Realms right now."

James was slightly taken aback by Hirah's words. Dolph was also startled, unable to understand why the Grand Patriarch would say such things.

Hirah looked at Youri and said, "Youri has already reached the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage, and has the strength necessary to lead the Doom Race as its new patriarch. Once he has the Blithe Omniscience, he'll be undefeatable. With him at the helm, the Doom Race will definitely become the rulers of the Greater Realms."

Dolph immediately stepped forward and said, "Grand Patriarch! Our Chaos Sacred Art is just as good as the Omniscience Path. We survived the Sky Burial Age with it. Are we going to throw away our roots and cultivate the Human Race's Supernatural Power? Do we have to stoop to using the Human Race's Supernatural Power to conquer the Greater Realms?"

Dolph was strongly against the decision.

"You insolent fool!"

Hirah shouted, "Are you questioning my judgement, Dolph? It doesn't matter whether it's the Blithe Omniscience or the Chaos Sacred Art, they're both left behind by ancient oracles. They belong to everyone and don't exclusively belong to anyone. You've been the Doom Race's Patriarch for so long, yet you haven't understood this?"

"But..."

Dolph still wanted to argue his point.

However, Hirah shouted, "I won't hear another word! As long as I'm still alive, I have the final say on the Doom Race's affairs. This matter is settled."

James quickly recomposed himself after the sudden decision.

He immediately stepped forward, and said, "Congratulations on becoming our new patriarch!"

Then, he walked over to Yuri, kneeled on one knee, and said, "It's an honor to have you as our patriarch!"

Many creatures of the Doom Race were shocked by James' actions.

Even Yuri did not expect this. He thought to himself, 'Talk about a smart kid. He knows how to act accordingly.'

Since Wyot was the first to acknowledge him as the new patriarch, it made it hard for Yuri to kill Wyot before the other Doods. However, Wyot would become a huge threat in the future if he did not dispose of him.

James got up, walked over to Dolph, and said, "Father, we should do as the Grand Patriarch says. From today onward, Yuri will be the Doom Race's Patriarch, and we'll defer to his wishes."

"Huff." Dolph sighed.

Since things had come to this point, there was nothing much Dolph could say to change it.

James said, "Sir Yuri since you want the tokens and Blithe Omniscience, I volunteer to lead the powerhouses of the Doom Race to collect them for you. If the other races refuse us, we'll wipe them out."

To James, it did not matter who the Doom Race's Patriarch was. His ultimate goal was to throw the Greater Realms into disarray.

Since Yuri had great ambitions, James decided to help him and create conflict between the other races. It would be much easier than becoming the Doom Race's Patriarch himself.

James was rather pleased with how things had turned out. After all, he infiltrated the Doom Race intending to cause trouble in the Greater Realms.

Yuri stroked his beard and looked at James pensively. At that moment, he felt a little reluctant to get rid of Wyot. To gain Yuri's trust, James quickly took out the Chaos Sacred Art and offered it to Yuri with both his hands.

"Sir Yuri, this is the Chaos Sacred Art that the Grand Patriarch gave me. Now that you're the patriarch, it's only natural you should have it."

Yuri did not reach out to accept it because he knew it was impossible for him to cultivate the Chaos Sacred Art.
