The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4935-After the news spread, many powerhouses headed to Mount Stoyan.

Mount Stoyan had previously been destroyed, but it was now restored.

At the top of Mount Stoyan, there was a wooden house.

James sat in front of the house.

Henrik said, "Many living beings showed up nearby, but none came here. They probably don't have clues."

"James."

At this time, a voice sounded.

James turned to the direction of the sound.

He saw Byron walking over. In a flash, Byron appeared before James.

Looking at Byron, James asked, "Do you have any clues?"

Byron nodded before saying with a smile, "I was lucky. I killed a foe and obtained an incomplete inscription."

"I see." James lightly nodded and said, "Let's wait for other powerhouses with clues to show up."

Byron halted in his tracks.

As time passed, more living beings gathered in the area. Nonetheless, they did not have clues about the Herstellen Art.

In the blink of an eye, three months passed.

Three months later, a living being showed up at the top of Mount Stoyan.

It was a man around the age of forty. He appeared rough. His bare upper body was covered in black hair, making him look like a gorilla.

Upon seeing the man, Byron frowned.

The man was a wicked powerhouse.

In the past, he killed so many people that several ancient Orthodox feared him.

When the rough-looking man appeared, he shouted, "I have several incomplete inscriptions."

James glanced at the man. Under the man's muscular body, James sensed an explosive power. He sensed that the man was at the peak of the Chaos Omnia Rank.

The man's cultivation rank was frightening.

"You are?" James probed, "What's your name?"

The muscular man smiled and said, "I don't remember my name, but other living beings call me Fletcher Turner."

Fletcher seemed harmless when he smiled.

He looked like an honest farmer.

"Alright."

James nodded and gestured for Fletcher to sit down.

With a smile, Fletcher sat down.

Then, the three continued waiting for other living beings with incomplete inscriptions to appear.

Several days passed.

A few days later, there came a sound of laughter. Then, countless petals fell from the sky above Mount Stoyan. The petals gathered and formed a beautiful fairy.

The lady wore a thin, white dress. Her dress was slightly see-through, revealing her figure.

The lady exuded a strong aura.

James sensed that she was in the Chaos Omnia Rank.

He could not help but take a deep breath.

The hidden sects were terrifying. The living beings that appeared were all in the Chaos Omnia Rank.

If powerhouses with such cultivation ranks appeared in Endlos earlier, they could have destroyed the Endlos' Ten Districts.

Byron glanced at the lady and said in a soft voice, "James, she's the Sect Leader of the Flower Sect, an ancient Orthodox. Although she's beautiful, she's ruthless. Her wrath can impose great suffering upon countless living beings."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4936-James had previously obtained several incomplete inscriptions.

The inscriptions were clues about the Herstellen Art.

From the inscriptions, James learned that there were eight incomplete inscriptions.

Hence, if he could gather the eight inscriptions, he would find out the whereabouts of the Herstellen Art.

However, he only had three.

Byron, Fletcher, and the Sect Leader of the Flower Sect each had one.

They had six in total, still short of two.

The Chaos Arena opened several epochs ago. James believed that all eight clues had been found. Now, he only needed to wait patiently for the powerhouses with the clues to appear.

More living beings gathered in the surroundings.

The living beings came from hidden sects. There were several true powerhouses.

James and the others waited patiently.

In the blink of an eye, three years passed.

Three years later, another powerhouse showed up.

In the distant void, a golden ladder appeared. The ladder continued expanding. Then, a man dressed in a golden robe descended the ladder. Soon, he appeared at the top of Mount Stoyan.

His body descended from the sky and landed on the ground steadily.

Byron whispered from James' side, "He's a powerhouse from Burning Valley and a Grand Patriarch there."

"I see."

James nodded. He sensed the powerhouse's cultivation rank and learned that the latter was at the peak of the Chaos Transcendence Rank. He was one step away from the Chaos Omnia Rank.

In comparison to Fletcher and the Sect Leader of the Flower Sect, he was slightly weaker.

"Shane, I didn't expect you to have an incomplete inscription of the Herstellen Art. If I had known, I would have snatched it from you." Fletcher smiled.

When Shane Fahn heard that, his facial muscles trembled. Reluctantly, he smiled and said, "You're funny."

"We still need three more." The Sect Leader of the Flower Sect, Becca Hathaway, glanced at the living beings present.

James stood forward and said, "I have three inscriptions. We only lack one. I don't know who has the last one."

When the living beings present learned that James had three inscriptions, they stared at him.

James sensed unfriendly gazes, especially from Fletcher. Although he was smiling, there was a glint of murderous intent in his eyes. It seemed that he planned to snatch the incomplete inscriptions from James.

Nonetheless, that was only a thought.

After all, James was not a simple person.

Even though James was only at the Quasi Chaos Rank, his ability was terrifying.

Becca glanced at James. With a smile on her delicate face, she turned around and walked over to James. Flaunting her charm, she said, "Hey, the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra left behind by Emperor Raiah is a treasure. The sacred scrolls are even more mysterious. Since ancient times, many powerhouses read the sacred scrolls, but none comprehended them."

As she spoke, she inched closer to James.

She exuded a floral scent.

It was easy for her to enchant someone.

James moved away and avoided Becca.

"Are you shy?" Becca laughed. Then, she got back to her point. She said, "We're going to look for the Herstellen Art soon. Before searching for the Herstellen Art, shouldn't you share the secrets of the sacred scrolls?"

Fletcher was also greedy for information.

The other living beings looked at James.

On the other hand, James said, "Even if I share them with you, you can't comprehend them. The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and sacred scrolls are similar to the Karma Path. They can only be comprehended by oneself. They can't be spread by words."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4937-"Is that so?" Becca did not believe James.

"A hundred percent." James was certain.

Seeing that James was so sure, Becca did not say anything else, and Fletcher was no longer greedy for information.

However, Becca and Fletcher were only holding back for the time being.

The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra was on par with the Herstellen Art.

Becca and Fletcher planned to obtain the Herstellen Art first before asking James for the method of cultivating the sacred scrolls.

A bunch of people were chatting.

At the same time, they were waiting for the last living being with an incomplete inscription.

They waited for several decades.

A few decades later, the last living being with an incomplete inscription appeared.

The surprising part was that the living being was someone James was familiar with.

‘You?’ James looked at Xezal.

Xezal appeared on Mount Stoyan. She was dressed in a white dress and looked stunning. Glancing at James, she asked, “What’s wrong? Am I not welcome? If so, I’m leaving.”

“Stop right there.”

Fletcher went to block Xezal’s way and said, ‘You can leave if you want, but leave the inscription behind.’

Xezal looked at Fletcher and smiled. “The inscription is with me. Are you going to take it away from me forcefully? I know you’re strong, but before you kill me, I will destroy the inscription.”

Becca stood forward and said with a smile, “He’s just joking with you. Since everyone’s here, let’s take out the inscriptions and put them together. Let’s see where the Herstellen Art is.”

Shane looked ahead and frowned. ‘There are so many living beings nearby. I don’t think it’s suitable to gather the runes here.’

Upon hearing that, Fletcher waved his hand. Then, a formation emerged and engulfed the area.

At this moment, the Chaos Sword appeared in James' hand. His body flashed, and he appeared next to Xezal. He placed the sword on her neck. In a cold voice, he said, "Where's Yardos?"

Xezal was taken aback.

She was confused. How did James know Yardos was with her?

After a while, she came back to her senses. With a smile, she said, "As expected of you. I can't hide anything from you. Since you know Yardos is with me, I'll stop hiding. If you help me obtain the Herstellen Art, nothing will happen to Yardos. If you don't, he will die without a burial place."

Once James heard that, his aura reached the extreme. He was full of murderous intent.

On the other hand, Xezal was not afraid. Casually, she said, "If you want to attack me, go ahead. If you kill me, no one will know where Yardos is."

Henrik was worried that James would kill Xezal in one slash.

Timely, he said, "James, calm down. Killing her is easy, but finding Yardos will be difficult."

James took a deep breath. He withdrew his murderous intent. Coldly, he said, "What do I need to do for you to let him go?"

"I told you. You need to help me obtain the Herstellen Art," said Xezal.

"Haha."

Becca laughed. "Are we invisible to you? Do you think the Herstellen Art is something you can obtain as you wish?"

Xezal glanced at Becca and smiled. She did not say anything.

Xezal would not show up unless she was fully prepared.

She did not care about Becca, Fletcher, and Shane.

She only had one aim, and that was the Herstellen Art.

Once she obtained the Herstellen Art and revived her father, the Endlos' Ten Districts would be the Doom Race's Endlos' Ten Districts.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4938-Xezal glanced at the living beings present and said, "Let's not discuss this. Take out all the inscriptions. Let's put them together and form a complete inscription."

Everyone agreed with Xezal.

Everything said now could not be trusted.

They decided to devise plans after completing the inscription.

At this moment, Henrik was talking telepathically to James.

"We can't trust these living beings. We have to come up with a plan in advance."

James answered, "What should we do then?"

"We'll snatch it."

"Snatch?"

James was taken aback.

The living beings were all powerhouses. There were two powerhouses in the Chaos Omnia Rank. How could James and Henrik take the inscription forcefully?

Henrik said, "Once the inscription is formed, you will take it by force. After taking it, you will use the Blithe Omniscience and run away. As for the powerhouses here, I will block them."

"Can you block them?"

"I can try."

The two discussed secretly.

Meanwhile, the other powerhouses were also coming up with plans.

At this time, James took out the three incomplete inscriptions and said, "Take them out."

Upon seeing that, the other living beings also took out their inscriptions.

In a flash, the eight inscriptions gathered.

The eight inscriptions slowly floated to the crowd. Then, under the gazes of the powerhouses, the inscriptions gathered and formed a complete and dazzling inscription.

When the inscription formed, Fletcher tried to grab it first. He wanted to run away after obtaining it.

However, the other powerhouses had taken precautions.

When Fletcher made a move, Becca sealed the area. Fletcher, who was strong, failed to grab the inscription.

Fletcher was sealed on the spot.

Then, Becca took action and used an illusionary palm to grab the inscription.

Before Becca reached the inscription, Shane crushed her illusionary palm.

Then, Fletcher broke free from the seal.

The scene happened in a flash. Before James knew what was happening, the powerhouses were already fighting.

At this time, Henrik exuded a powerful aura. Countless inscriptions emerged from his body. These inscriptions dispersed into heaven and earth. Then, a superformation appeared.

"The Grand Purge Formation?"

When the Grand Purge Formation appeared, the powerhouses were shocked. All of them stumbled backward.

On the other hand, James grabbed the opportunity to use the Blithe Omniscience to head to the complete inscription. He grabbed the inscription and put it away.

“James, you should leave first,” shouted Henrik.

Without any hesitation, James activated the Blithe Omniscience and disappeared.

When Xezal saw this, she remained calm.

She did not go after James.

She seemed to have expected all of this.

Standing in the void, Henrik exuded strange runes. When the Grand Purge Formation appeared, even the powerhouses in the Chaos Omnia Rank dared not act recklessly.

The powerhouses did not attack Henrik, so the latter stayed still.

“Who are you? How can you master the Grand Purge Formation?” Fletcher questioned.

Facing the Grand Purge Formation and being engulfed in it, Fletcher, who was at the peak of the Chaos Omnia Rank, dared not act rashly. If Henrik used the Grand Purge Formation to suppress Fletcher, Fletcher might die here. Even if he managed to run away and survive, he would suffer great losses.

Becca’s expression was heavy.

She was a living being from Emperor Raiah’s era. Hence, she knew how strong the Grand Purge Formation was.

It was not an incomplete Grand Purge Formation but a complete one.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4939-Standing in the void, Henrik smiled and said, “Everyone, please stay here. Do not try to break the formation and escape. If anyone tries breaking the formation, I will initiate the Grand Purge Formation immediately. It’ll be bad if you get hurt.”

Henrik spoke casually.

His purpose was to trap the living beings.

He was waiting for James to find the Herstellen Art.

He wanted to buy some time for James.

There was a formation that isolated the area from the outside. No matter what happened in the area, the living beings in the outside world would not know a thing.

Being engulfed in the Grand Purge Formation, the powerhouses fell silent. They dared not act rashly.

Meanwhile, Henrik's gaze landed on Xezal.

'Teresa, where's Yardos?' Henrik questioned in a cold voice.

"Haha." Xezal laughed.

At this moment, the Grand Purge Formation circulated. With countless inscriptions gathered, Teresa felt a rising pressure. Under the terrifying pressure, her body began to crack, and blood covered her body.

"Don't make me force you," said Henrik.

Swoosh!

At this time, Sword Energy shot out of Teresa's body.

The Sword Energy headed to the central region of the Grand Purge Formation.

Boom!

Instantly, the area exploded.

Henrik's Grand Purge Formation was immediately damaged. Since Henrik was the one controlling the Grand Purge Formation, he suffered a backlash from the damage dealt to the Grand Purge Formation.

Following the appearance of the Sword Energy, traces of black aura emerged from her body.

These traces of black aura gathered and formed a middle-aged man.

The middle-aged man was in black armor. Loosening his muscles, he smiled and said casually, "As expected of the Grand Purge Formation. If Zeno was the one who initiated it, I might fear it. Unfortunately..."

Henrik stood in the void with blood at the edges of his mouth.

He stared at the middle-aged man in black armor. He sensed an evil power from the latter's body.

The powerhouses trapped in the Grand Purge Formation were stunned. They looked at the middle-aged man in armor. They also sensed an evil power from the man's body.

They were from Emperor Raiah's era.

Even though they were afraid of death then and did not head to the battlefield in the depths of Endlos, they were familiar with the power of the Extraterrestrial Demons.

"An Extraterrestrial Demon?" Becca's expression became heavy.

Teresa ignored Becca and instructed, "Kill them all. Leave no one behind."

Henrik sensed a dangerous aura.

He had to admit that his Grand Purge Formation could not suppress the Extraterrestrial Demon. Without any hesitation, he disappeared.

As his body disappeared, the Grand Purge Formation in the area also disappeared.

The Sealing Formation disappeared as well.

Upon sensing this, Teresa said, "Come back. Now isn't the time to be exposed."

The man in black armor turned into a trace of black aura and entered Xezal's body.

Then, Teresa shouted, "James has taken the clues about the Herstellen Art."

Her voice sounded throughout the area.

In the distance were countless living beings.

The living beings were all watching the situation from outside Mount Stoyan.

On the other hand, when Fletcher, Becca, and the others were freed, they ignored Xezal and began searching for James. They wanted to get the clues about the Herstellen Art.

They disappeared instantly and went after James' aura.

"I've tried my best. The rest is up to you." Henrik, who was escaping, could not help but spit out blood. He sat on a rock with a bitter expression.

"Why would there be an Extraterrestrial Demon in Teresa's body? He can even damage my Grand Purge Formation in one blow. He definitely isn't an average Extraterrestrial Demon."

Henrik had a heavy expression.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4940-James obtained the inscription containing information about the Herstellen Art.

Upon obtaining it, he ran away.

James was not worried about Henrik. He trusted Henrik. If Henrik said that he could stop the others, he could.

After leaving Mount Stoyan, James hid his aura.

Then, he cast a formation around himself.

Upon casting the formation, he summoned the inscription.

The inscription floated before him. It was dazzling and eye-catching.

James' Zen entered the inscription.

When his Zen entered the inscription, it entered an unknown space. In the space, a figure appeared.

The figure materialized gradually.

James saw the person clearly.

“What?”

James frowned.

He had seen this man before.

The man was the statue that appeared on Mount Bane of the Twelfth Universe.

“You are?” James was shocked.

“Since you’re here, it means you and the Herstellen Art are destined.”

The man looked at James with a smile.

“Actually, the Herstellen Art wasn’t in the Chaos Arena. The so-called Herstellen Art isn’t the signature skill of the Extraterrestrial Demon’s Supreme Leader. The real Herstellen Art is an opportunity and fortune.

“When heaven and earth are damaged and Endlos cracks, one may obtain the gifts of heaven and earth and the three beams of light following Endlos’ first opening. This is done by repairing heaven and earth as well as Endlos’ cracks. The three beams of light contain the real secret of heaven and earth.”

The man’s voice was loud.

“Since you’ve gathered the inscription, it means the day isn’t far.

“Now, you only need to wait patiently. When heaven and earth are damaged and Endlos cracks, you will get the Herstellen Art.”

James listened attentively.

Upon hearing that, he asked, “In the near future, heaven and earth will be damaged and Endlos will crack? Who are you?”

The man looked at James and answered, “They call me Emperor Raiah.”

“Huff.”

Hearing that made James take a deep breath.

He had thought of that before, but he was not sure.

“Emperor Raiah, where are you right now? What’s going on with the Extraterrestrial Demons? I’ve been to Boundless Road and Tribulation City before. There were powerhouses guarding the places.”

‘This is only a Zen I left behind. My Zen doesn’t know where my main self is. As for the Extraterrestrial Demons, they are living beings from the outside of Endlos.”

“So, why do they want to invade Endlos?” James asked.

“They want the three beams of light that appeared during the birth of Endlos, which are the Herstellen Art.”

“Where are the three beams of light?”

Emperor Raiah’s Zen responded, “When the damages of heaven and earth and cracks of Endlos are repaired, the fortune will appear.”

Emperor Raiah’s body gradually faded from James’ sight. Soon, it disappeared completely.

On the other hand, James also disappeared from the mysterious world. When he appeared again, he was in the formation he cast.

He obtained the information from the inscriptions. At the same time, the inscription that contained the information about the Herstellen Art also disappeared.

“I see.”

James was enlightened upon learning about the information.

It turned out that the Herstellen Art was not from the Extraterrestrial Demons’ Supreme Leader. Since Emperor Raiah mentioned all this, the living beings in the world believed that the Herstellen Art came from the outside of Endlos.

The real Herstellen Art was a huge fortune of Endlos. Boom!
