

The Almighty Dragon General #Chapter 6231 - Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6231

Chapter 6231

“Soon, more from the Dark World will pass through the passage to enter the Forladtt Land.” Suddenly,

James turned around and kicked Hetsema, who was looking in a specific direction, in the ass.

Hetsema fell to the ground with a loud bang.

James said angrily, “What are you looking over there for? That’s the Ancient Genesis World.

I haven’t conquered it yet.

Hetsema groaned and quickly got up from the ground.

He gave James a thumbs up and complimented, “You're amazing, Dad! How about handing the Sanctum Genesis World to me? I’ll guard the passage.” James’ other children immediately frowned at his remark.

Maxine said coldly, “What’re you thinking? Do you not have any idea what your cultivation rank is right now? How are you qualified to be the lord of a Genesis World?” Winnie sighed and said, “That's right.

Didn’t you hear what Dad said? There are countless Great and Micro Genesis Worlds.

Even the lord of a Micro Genesis World has to be at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank.” Hetsema approached James and said, “I'll work hard in that direction.

How about you grant the Xyndaros Genesis World first? I'll use the cultivation resources there to improve my cultivation rank quickly. novelbin

With my talent, I'd be able to reach the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank in a short period.

When that happens, the Jademora Empire will have yet another powerhouse.

Isn't that beneficial..." Jacopo interrupted, saying calmly, "We haven't even proved our worth to stay yet, Hetsema.

Have you forgotten the conditions Dad had for us? We'll have to rely on ourselves to improve."

Hetsema turned his head and looked at Jacopo with resentment.

James could see right through Hetsema's thoughts.

Hetsema was a rebellious son driven by interest.

He would please those stronger than him only for benefits.

He did not care about anyone else but himself.

He simply could not be disciplined, nor could James just kill him.

Noel looked at James and asked, "Please tell us more about the Genesis Worlds first, Dad." Seeing the tense atmosphere, Noel quickly intervened and changed the subject.

James looked at him with a smile, then began explaining the layout of the Genesis Worlds.

He also briefed them about the significant forces.

His children listened in astonishment.

Hetsema, on the other hand, secretly remembered the names of these major forces and vouched to join one of them.

Hetsema set his eyes on the most potent force of the Ancient Genesis World, the Timaeus Sect.

At that moment, an imposing figure approached them through the void.

Under the powerful aura, Maxine and James' children were intimidated by his presence.

Their faces were pale, and they were petrified on the spot.

James raised his hand and covered them with the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

The imposing figure gradually became clear.

It was a dashing middle-aged man with white hair.

Chapter 6232

The man stared at James and said smilingly, "You're James, right?" Stunned, James asked, "How might you be, sir?" The white-haired middle-aged man nodded and answered, "I'm Skynet's Celestial Sage." James hurriedly bowed and said, "It's an honor to meet you, sir." The Celestial Sage said smilingly, "There's no need for such formalities.

I'm here to hand you an invitation on Yegor's behalf." After speaking, James raised his hand, and a gleaming invitation flew toward him.

The Celestial Sage said smilingly, "Yegor wanted to send it to you personally but is busy with some important business.

Hence, I came as his representative to deliver the invitation.

I hope you're not offended." James took the invitation with both hands and said smilingly, " With our relationship, do we really still need this?" The Celestial Sage sighed, "You must not be aware yet.

Initially, Yegor did not plan for the wedding to have caused such a commotion.

After Herodias Thrude left seclusion, she insisted on making the arrangements herself.

The news spread rapidly, and that's how we got to this situation." James frowned and asked,

"Herodias? Is she a relative of Yegor?" The Celestial Sage replied calmly, "She's Yegor's wife, mother of Truett.

Herodias is a very strong but domineering woman.

Now that she's out of seclusion, our peaceful days have come to an end." James gasped and asked,

"Even Yegor is afraid of her?" The Celestial Sage explained, "Tirta used to have three disciples, namely Yehria, Yegor and Herodias.

Moreover, she's Tirta's daughter." James' eyes widened in shock.

He asked, "So Yegor married into their family?" The Celestial Sage coughed and said, "I guess that's the similarity between you two." James smiled in astonishment, surprised there was someone who could restrain Yegor.

The Celestial Sage said leisurely, "I'm just reminding you to be careful.

Although Herodias is a very domineering person, she is by no means an unreasonable person.

She just hates it when people violate the rules she had set.” The Celestial Sage’s words indirectly explained the importance of the invitations.

James immediately understood the situation.

He clasped his hands and thanked the Celestial Sage.

Then, he asked, “Will my passage connecting the Dark World to the Forladdt Land be affected?” The Celestial Sage sighed, “I’m not sure.

However, Herodias cherishes her son a lot.” After answering, the Celestial Sage bid farewell and left.

James watched him leave with a meaningful expression.

Although the Celestial Sage refrained from giving a direct answer, he hinted that Truett was crucial for novelbin keeping the passage.

After the Celestial Sage was out of sight, James waved his hand.

Maxine and his children immediately reappeared.

““Who was that, Dad? He was so strong!” “He must be one of the peerless powerhouses.” “Could he be at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Trublation’s peak?” “That was terrifying.

I couldn’t resist his Qrohm.

We still have a long way to go.” James smiled faintly and said, “Do you want him as your teacher?” His children exchanged excited glances, then nodded at James.

Chapter 6233

James said with a smile, "Then, I need everyone on their best behavior.

I'm bringing you guys to the wedding for experience, and I want you to find good teachers and encounter some good opportunities.

However, finding the right teacher is the beginning of your problems.

Ultimately, it's up to them to decide whether to accept you as disciples." Jacopo, Noel, Xainte and Winnie looked at each other, silently remembering James' advice.

Hetsema, on the other hand, stood aside and snorted.

He was prideful and had already decided to join one of the major forces James had mentioned to them.

In his opinion, the Celestial Sage was indeed powerful.

However, without the power of his sect, he could stir up a storm.

Maxine suddenly reminded them, "Another powerful Qrohms is approaching." James frowned and spread his hands to shield the group behind him.

A few moments later, he recognized the terrifying aura hundreds of light-years away.

The force was so powerful that even he was struggling to withstand it.

"Long time no see, James." Before the person got close, his voice arrived first.

James turned around and saw a burly figure with white hair gradually zooming toward them.

After confirming the incoming person's identity, his heart pounded anxiously.

He had seen a familiar face in the Forladtt Land's fourth level and the Timaeus Sect's wing building.

Xachary had kept his identity as the Timaeus Sect's Leader a secret and claimed to be an elder in public.

James thought, 'Is this guy here to seek revenge? Theoretically, he wouldn't know that his past life's body is in the Forladtt Land, so it's impossible he knows I was the only one who sucked his energy and caused his drop in cultivation rank, right?' Even though he was no longer at the Daeclon Rank, he was stronger than Lyla and Yancy.

He might even be on par with the Yang governor, who was severely injured.

James became worried.

He would go all out and take on Xachary if he were alone.

However, his children were traveling with him.

He refused to put their lives in danger.

For now, he decided to gamble that Xachary came with no ill intention.
novelbin

Worse came to worst, and he would use his trump card—the tombkeeper.

James looked at Xachary and said smilingly, "Hey! Long time no see!"
Xachary appeared in front of James with a flash and smiled back at him.

He replied, "You were only at the peak of the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank's Seventh Tribulation the last time I saw you.

Now, you're already at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation.

"I knew I was right about you." James stared at Xachary, who was unwilling to reveal his identity and continued pretending to be the Timaeus Sect's Elder.

"You want to play dumb? Sure, I'll play along with you." James smiled calmly and said, "How do you have the time to wander outside the Timaeus Sect?" Xachary sighed softly, "The Timaeus Sect is full of chaos.

It's too much drama for me.

I came out for some fresh air.

"Unexpectedly, I bumped into you." "Bullshit.

You tracked me through the Forladtt Map, which you had infused your aura into," thought James.

He put on a fake smile and said, "How could you leave your post without permission? Will you not be punished if the sect leader finds out?" Xachary said helplessly, "Sect leader? The Timaeus Sect is in turmoil right now.

"Do we still even have a sect leader?" James pretended to be clueless and asked, "What do you mean?" Xachary looked at James and said, "It's a miracle you came out of the Forladtt Land alive.

"Why didn't you come back to the Forladtt Land?"

Chapter 6234

After being stunned, James immediately shook his head and said, "I won't ever go back.

Otherwise, the sect leader might try to accuse me of being the Dark World's demon and try to get rid of me again." Xachary asked surprisedly, "Who said you're the Dark World's demon and that the sect leader is trying to assassinate you?" James snorted, "Countless powerhouses from the Timaeus Sect had been trying to assassinate me.

I barely survived. novelbin

I would have already died if it weren't for my cleverness and wit.

Who else could make such an order except the sect leader and the Great Protector?" Xachary's lips twitched, and he said hurriedly, "The Great Protector? Yeah, it's him.

It must be Gladwin who schemed to kill you.

If it was the sect leader who wanted to kill you, why would he wait until you enter the Forladdt Land?

He'd have killed you in the Timaeus Sect.

He wouldn't have asked me to visit you after you caused such huge trouble." 'Yeah, yeah.

Keep up the act,' James sneered disdainfully in his heart.

James suppressed his real feelings and said calmly, "That's true.

After Truett's wedding, I'll ask Yegor to accompany me back to the Timaeus Sect to learn more about the situation.” Xachary could understand the underlying meaning of James’ words.

He was hinting that Xachary was supporting him just as he expected.

He stared at James and said, “You’re so busy attending another person’s wedding.

What about yourself? Do you not have someone you’re interested in?” James frowned and said, “What do you mean?” Xachary said smilingly, “Have you forgotten about your lover here because you’ve been away for so long? You’re so heartless.” James stared at Xachary and said, “I don’t like beating around the bush.

What do you want from me?” Xachary chuckled and said, “I’m just passing by.

I was thinking of going to Yegor to ask for an invitation so that I could join in on the fun.

However, I never thought I couldn’t even enter Skynet’s territory.

They’re so strict even though we’re friends.” James was surprised Xachary had come to ask for an invitation.

Suddenly, Xachary changed the topic, asking, “Don’t be impatient.

You want to see your lover, right?” Confused, James asked, “What are you doing?” “Alright, alright.

You can show yourself.” After speaking, Xachary raised his hand, and a holy light suddenly emerged.

The next moment, an extremely beautiful woman appeared in sight.

James’ eyes immediately lit up after seeing her.

Xainte and the other children hidden within the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell exclaimed in shock.

“Mom! It’s Mom!” “We finally get to see mom again!” “Mom, it’s me! It’s Noel!” “I-It’s really Mom! She’s finally back.” “Thea? Is it really her?” Unfortunately, their voices remained within the bell and could not be heard outside.

They wanted to rush out but could not find a way out.

“Thea.” James approached, but Thea raised her hand and stopped him.

Thea shook her head frantically and said, “Don’t come here.

It’s dangerous.

I’m more than satisfied to be able to see you again.”

Chapter 6235

James immediately looked at Xachary and said, “You’re using her to threaten me?” Xachary said smilingly, “No, it’s not a threat.

I just want to make a deal with you.

If we reach an agreement, you can have her.” James asked, “What do you want?” Xachary said slowly,

“You need to help our sect leader with three things.

First, you must return to the Timaeus Sect.

Secondly, convince Skynet and the Iusus Sect to join the Righteous Alliance to destroy the new alliance.

Thirdly, you must kill Gladwin.

“As long as you do these three things, the sect leader promised to let you marry the saintess.

He'll also give you the Timaeus Sect's Great Protector position.

He wants to achieve three things in one deal.

How ambitious.

If things go as he wishes, he can still secure his position as the Timaeus Sect's Leader and stabilize his power over the Genesis World.

At the same time, he would still have contro] over me and Thea.

In addition, he would have Lyla, Rubella, Xatia and Adair serving him.

'Xachary sure is wiser and more cunning than Gladwin.

He also knows how to give and take.' Seeing that James was contemplating, Xachary said smilingly, “

From the moment you joined our sect, our leader and I could tell you like the saintess.

I remember you said something about winning her heart and staying together forever.

You didn't forget your vow to her, right?” James slowly closed his eyes and thought about it.

'He is biting more than he can chew.

Since he wants to play, I might as well go along with it for a while longer.
novelbin

'T'll agree for now, then expose his plan to Gladwin.

Ultimately, the two of them will fight, and the Timaeus Sect will fall apart.

When that happens, it'll be much easier to deal with them.

'As for Thea's safety, there's nothing to worry about.

Lyla claimed Xachary would abandon his own son, but not Thea.

After all, she was his trump card.' After making a decision, James suddenly opened his eyes and said,

"The sect leader really doesn't want to kill me?" Xachary said solemnly, "Gladwin is the one who wants you dead.

You've misunderstood our sect leader." James squinted and said, "Alright.

We should go step by step.

I need to finish attending the wedding first." Xachary said smilingly, "The children inside your Yuraeceon Genesis Bell are quite talented.

I can choose one of them as my disciple and train him up." After saying that, he raised his hand and shot a golden light at the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell without waiting for James to speak.

The next moment, the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell emitted a bright gray light.

Inside the bell, Hetserna immediately transformed into black smoke and left through the gap.

Then, he headed straight toward Xachary.

James shouted anxiously, "Hetsema!" At that moment, a golden light flashed toward his hand and slipped away the invitation from Skynet.

James was about to take action.

However, Xachary had already quickly grabbed Hetsema and disappeared.

James cursed, "You idiot!" The next moment, Xachary's voice resounded.

"You don't have to worry about your son.

I'll take care of him.

As for the invitation, I doubt you'll need it since you're close to Yegor and Truett.

Let me have it so I can join in on the fun."

Chapter 6236

James clenched his fists.

At that moment, he felt like he was in a difficult situation.

'How did Xachary sense the existence of the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell and that there were people inside it? Someone nearby must've contacted him.

'As soon as he attacked, Hetsema immediately escaped and rushed toward him.

However, Hetsema couldn't avoid Lesia's control and transmit a message to Xachary.

'Moreover, Lesia definitely could have blocked the attack.

Why did that happen?' James raised his hand and retracted the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

He summoned Lesia and asked, "Did you do it intentionally?" Lesia said honestly, "Yes.

An ungrateful child like him will eventually cause a huge disaster.

Even if he's your son, I must let him go." James asked coldly, "So you contacted Xachary and deliberately let him attack you?" Lesia answered, "No.

I only told him that the man was the Timaeus Sect's Leader, the ruler of the Genesis Worlds.

I just wanted to test his loyalty.

I wasn't expecting him to fail the test so miserably." James took a deep breath and asked, "Don't you think that was too much?" Lesia snorted, "I know you're reluctant to let him go, so I did it for you.

He's a ticking time bomb if you keep him around.

Not only will he harm you, but also Yegor.

I'm quite fond of him and his son, so I want to keep them safe." James fell silent.

Lesia reminded him, "There's nothing you can do for Hetsema.

You should let him go to prevent him from harming those around you.

You should let him cause trouble for our enemies instead.

After that, it won't be too late to bring him back.

For now, let him go experience hardships." "As for his life and death, you shouldn't be too worried. novelbin

Good people always die young, but the wicked always live longer." After hearing Lesia's reassurance, James felt better.

He turned around and looked at Maxine and his children.

Jacopo said disappointedly, "Dad! Hetsema ran away.

Is he in any danger?" Xainte said helplessly, "I can't believe he ran away with that old man.

No matter how much we care for him and let him do as he pleases, he still never regarded us as family.” Noe said frustratedly, “He’s quite sly.

I wonder what his future will be like?” Winnie squinted and said, “He chose his path.

Since he doesn’t want to follow us, he must walk his own journey.

I’m sure he’ll be back one day.” Maxine looked at James and said, “That old man is really strong.

Would he...” James interrupted with a sigh and said, “Don't worry.

He won't be trouble for now.

However, Xachary will use him to threaten me.” Jacopo looked at James and asked anxiously, “Then what do we do? Our mother is also in his hands.

Now even Hetsema has been taken » James looked at his children and said, “You’ve already seen her.

However, that’s not really your mother.” Jacopo and the others were confused.

James sighed and explained the Dark and Light Heavenly Path.

Noel raised his head and asked, “So our mother split into two?” James replied, “She is also part of your mother.

Things ended up like this because she’s too strong.” Winnie shrugged and said, “Now that Dad has two wives, we have two mothers.

How should we address them in the future?” Xainte suggested, “Mom and Mother?”

Chapter 6237

Everyone was at a loss.

Meanwhile, James remained silent.

His son willingly left for another, and he had also lost their only invitation to enter Skynet.

It would be hard for them to proceed with their original plan.

After thinking about it, James suddenly said, "That's enough looking around now.

Truett's wedding is about to begin.

We'd better find a way to obtain invitations.

Otherwise, we're going to miss it." James unleashed a burst of power, and the group disappeared instantly.

Concurrently, Xachary appeared in a forbidden area of the Timaeus Sect with a golden light.

Thea sat atop a white lotus at the apex of a certain mountain.

Suddenly, she opened her eyes.

Suddenly, Xachary unleashed a ray of light at her.

In an instant, the clone merged with her main body.

Xachary glared at her and said, "You've already seen what you wanted.

It's time you fulfill your promise." Thea asked, "Since he already agreed to your conditions, why did you take his son?" Xachary smirked and answered, "Do you think I wanted to? This kid contacted me first, saying he was James' child and wanted to become my disciple.

I admire James' talent, so I took his son as my disciple.

Wouldn't that strengthen our relationship?" Thea frowned and said, "Let me see him." Stunned, Xachary said, "This has nothing to do with you, does it?" "Are you letting him go or not?" Thea raised her head and glared at Xachary.

Xachary immediately raised his hand, and Hetsema fell in front of Thea.

Hetsema was astonished upon seeing Thea. novelbin

He asked, "It's truly you? So you were reincarnated here?" Thea looked at Hetsema for a while.

Then, her white aura wrapped around him and pulled him into her white sacred lotus.

Xachary said coldly, "What are you doing? I only agreed to let you see him.

I never said you could take him." Thea replied firmly, "He's too weak and won't be useful to you."

Xachary snorted, "Don't try to bluff me.

I can sense the Soul Consuming Spell and the trace of Morgott's power in him.

As long as I can train him up, he'll become a powerhouse stronger than Lyla » Thea interrupted him, saying, "I think your top priority is to regain your position as the Timaeus Sect's Leader.

As for the other things, you shouldn't worry too much.

I'll keep him for now.

He won't be able to escape.

When the time comes that you need him, you can come back for him." Xachary looked at her and asked, "Then when will you help me get back to the Quasi Daelcon Rank?"

Thea sighed and said, "I need all the materials.

Plus, you'll also need enough time." Xachary said coldly, "I'll do whatever it takes as long as you agree to help.

If that demon comes to cause trouble, I hope you'll take action." Thea shook her head and said, "I'm not a match against her." Xachary said coldly, "Although your cultivation rank is lower than her, you've mastered the Heavenly Path's Power before her.

Your Light Heavenly Path Power might not be able to take on someone stronger than you.

However, your powers can restrain her." Thea closed her eyes and said, "She won't cause any trouble for you anytime soon.

It's already a problem for her to protect herself." Xachary was overjoyed.

He said, "Good.

As long as she doesn't cause trouble, I can return to the Quasi Daeclon Rank.

With that said, Xachary turned around and said coldly, "Gladwin, Lyla.

One day, I'll find you two and have my revenge.

I'll make sure you two are miserable."

James was left in a tough spot after his invitation was snatched. Naturally, he had to take his revenge.

Together with Maxine and his children, they disguised themselves as mysterious powerhouses and hunted down more than a dozen lords of Great Genesis Worlds, who were at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's peak.

More than half of them were from the Righteous Alliance, which was led by the Timaeus Sect.

The rest were powerhouses from the Yaquis Sect's new alliance.

His actions intensified the conflict between the two alliances.

At the same time, he also managed to steal a few ordinary invitations.

They stood in a queue outside Skynet's headquarters, waiting to be verified and allowed into Skynet's premises. James' children were utterly stunned to see the massive crowd of people around them.

While standing in line, they looked around anxiously like children on their first day of school.

Their fear was not because of the unfamiliar environment.

Rather, it was because the weakest cultivator around them was at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Seventh Tribulation. These powerhouses could kill them in just seconds.

Naturally, they had also become the focus of attention because their low cultivation ranks stood out.

They felt shivers down their spines as everyone's doubtful gazes fell on them.

At that moment, a creature with a burly body and a snake head sneered, "Look what we have here.

These weaklings dared to queue up here even though they haven't reached the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank? Do you guys have invitations?" Everyone around him agreed with him and began to mock them.

"Who do you they think they are? Why are they queuing up here? This isn't the place for weaklings." "with such weak cultivations, I doubt they even have invitations.

It's already impressive they've heard about the event." "They have some beautiful women amongst the group. They would make good partners." "I like those three men.

They've got flawless skin and are absolutely gorgeous.

They're just my type." "Why make a fool of yourself by coming here? You guys are only at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank." "Hey! The girl in the purple clothes.

Come with me.

I'll accept you as my disciple.

I promise you'll enter the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank within an etrapoch." "Haha! These women look like humans.

Come with me, ladies.

I'll make you happy." Maxine and the others became even more nervous after becoming the target of the unfriendly ridicule. They looked at James, their biggest backbone.

James said calmly, "Stand your ground.

This is where the strong prevail, and the weak are eliminated.

We can't let them see our fear even if we're not as strong." Everyone took deep breaths after hearing James' words and completely ignored their surroundings.

However, those around them saw their behavior as weak. A few bolder creatures approached Maxine, Xainte and Winnie. Jacopo and Noel immediately stepped before them and stared warily at the creatures around them.

"What do we have here?" The snake-headed creature from earlier laughed, "You're only at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank but dare to stand in our way?" Another creature shouted, "Kill these them! They're in the way!" "How can we let him dirty his hands? I'll be enough." As soon as the third voice resounded, a creature at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation charged at Jacopo and Noel.

Jacopo and Noel braced themselves to block the attack with horrified expressions.

However, an amethyst-gold power suddenly flashed past them and became a barrier, deflecting the numerous palm attacks. With aloud rumbling sound, the palm prints knocked the attacking creature into one of the crowds.

The area exploded and caused a considerable number of casualties.

The snake-headed creature shouted, "Oh? So, there's a powerhouse backing you guys? Come on out and fight me." After speaking, he leaped into the air and summoned a blue sword.

The crowd gasped in awe after the snake-headed creature leaped into the void. "He's in the middle grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation?" "This is going to be fun.

I'm looking forward to seeing a powerhouse at the middle grade of the yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation take action." "Ts that the young master of the Aquasky Sect? They're part of the Righteous Alliance." "That's the Aquazophia Sword.

It's the Aquasky Sect's most treasured weapon.

I'm surprised to see it here." Hearing the crowd's astonished discussions, the snake-headed creature laughed wildly and said, "Who was it? Get out here.

Otherwise, [11 kill your comrades and destroy their souls. I'll make sure they won't have the chance to reincarnate." The entire area fell eerily silent.

"You're quite calm, aren't you? Alright, then watch them die!" The snake-headed creature shouted, then slashed his sword at Maxine and the others.

Numerous Blue Sword Energies emerged and darted toward the group.

At that moment, another amethyst-gold force emerged and transformed into a palm print.

In just a short moment, it shattered the countless Sword Energies.

Simultaneously, aloud growl resounded, and the snake-headed creature crashed into the ground, causing a vast pit to form. Boom! The ground and surrounding mountains shook.

Shortly afterward, a spectral soul and a blue sword emerged from the pit.

The spectators immediately backed away in fear.

Jacopo and Noel, who were protected by the amethyst golden barrier, turned around to James.

At that moment, James flicked his fingers, and a wave of amethyst- gold power sped forward, then brought the sword toward Jacopo.

After a momentary shock, Jacopo hurriedly grabbed the sword and said happily, "Thank you, Dad." The area fell silent, but a huge commotion instantly broke out just shortly after.

"They had a peerless powerhouse with them.

In just one move, he killed an opponent in the middle grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation." "The mysterious person who protected them must be at the upper grade of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, right?" "I think he's even stronger.

Even without showing himself, he managed to kill such a strong opponent in just the blink of an eye.

Someone can only achieve that strength at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation." "There's a powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation amongst us.

Everyone better be careful." "No wonder these weaklings are queuing up here.

They must really have invitations on them, and aren't here to mess around." "If they really have invitations, we must snatch it from them regardless of whether they have someone powerful protecting them." "We're outside Skynet's headquarters.

Although we're not allowed to cause trouble, they only mentioned forbidding anyone from entering without verification. They never said we can't snatch invitations from others." "Everyone, be prepared.

We'll have some fun." Seeing the surrounding creatures wield their weapons, Maxine and the others prepared themselves for a battle.

There was a massive disparity in strength, and they might be defeated in one move. Despite that, their courage to fight was not hindered. After all, they were James' children.

When faced with battles of life and death, they never backed down.

Chapter 6240

Suddenly, a group of creatures at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation charged at them from the northwest direction. Immediately afterward, many of the surrounding creatures also besieged them.

At that moment, James, standing amongst the crowd, stretched out his arms and leaped into the sky with an amethyst-gold force.

His force quickly spread out in every direction.

At the same time, his Qroh, the Galeat Wind and Multicolored Flames permeated the area.

The attacking creatures were instantly knocked away.

The Galeat Wind and Multicolored Flames instantly injured those below the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. Many of them fell from the sky, crashing heavily into the ground.

Even powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank were forced to activate their Genesis Divine Light to resist.

After a while, the howling wind and colorful flames finally stopped.

Everyone stared at James with horrified expressions.

James said coldly, "Today is the grand event being held by Skynet.

A good friend of mine is getting married today.

| really don't want anything unpleasant happening on such a joyous day, and | especially don't want any blood spilled. "If you guys stop right now, I'll pretend nothing had happened.

You guys just enjoy watching while we celebrate the couple's union.

"I won't hold back if anyone wants to continue challenging my bottom line.

However, | must warn you it won't end well." James' voice echoed like rumbling thunder.

Everyone was startled by his domineering aura and no longer dared to challenge him.

Just from the force he unleashed, they could sense he was a compelling existence.

Moreover, they confirmed the mysterious powerhouse who had killed the snake-headed creature was him.

"Being at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation is nothing special." Suddenly, a powerful aura shot up from the east side.

James turned his head and saw a middle-aged man hovering in the sky. Judging from his aura, it was a powerhouse at the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. After his appearance, more than a dozen men and women of the same rank as him rose into the sky.

They wielded weapons and emitted murderous auras.

James was instantly surrounded.

Jacopo and the others immediately became nervous at the sight.

They were not expecting a fight to break out so suddenly, even though they never provoked anyone. James said smilingly, "You're in Skynet's territory.

Are you not afraid of Yegor's wrath?" The middle-aged man laughed, "We're outside Skynet. Usually, grand events would always leave opportunities for others to compete for admission.

That's exactly what this is for." James raised his eyebrow and asked, "Are there such rules?" A powerful female cultivator shouted, "Hand over your invitations, and I'll spare your lives." "Cultivating is not easy.

I can see you're at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation peak. Surprisingly, you possess a very exceptional Supernatural Power.

Even so, you should be sensible to know when to back down." "It's impossible for you to protect them." "Why bother talking with them? In the Genesis Worlds, the strong dominate.

We have to kill them since they don't want to hand over their invitations."