

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6401-James fell silent. Biefren willingly offered up his core, and nobody forced him.

Therefore, revenge was not an option.

Yukha was the most despicable of them. It was clear she had been secretly instigating, but nothing could be done against her.

Yrian looked at James and said, "The road of cultivation is full of thorns.

Not only does one need a strong will, but one must also be decisive enough to make hard decisions..."

James interrupted him, saying, "More like decisiveness to do whatever it takes for your interest. I just met Biefren, but he gave me his life. I'm afraid nobody would believe that he did this willingly."

Syrian sighed softly, "Yukha is a wise guy. He sacrificed his life, knowing it would kill two birds with one stone."

James looked at Yrian and said, "I just want to confirm one thing. If I didn't want his core, would he still have died?"

Yrian nodded, saying, "Yukha and the Grand Patriarch would disagree. After all, you're the Ying World's hope."

After a brief pause, Syrian sighed and said, "Biefren's cleverness lies in knowing when and how to achieve the greatest benefits. He does the best for his friends and family in the most decent and dignified way.

"Undoubtedly, his death has planted a seed in your heart, and it would be sufficient to change the destiny of spirit beasts.

"You're not qualified to comment on Biefren's actions. At the very least, he was very frank with me about his motives. Based on that alone, I think he is way better than you."

Yrian was dumbfounded by the remark, and a hint of shame flashed across his face.

James said calmly, "I'm not a saint either and won't show mercy toward my enemies. Nobody can stop me if I've set my mind on something, nor can I be persuaded to act if I've decided not to. However, I despise it when people try to deceive or manipulate me."

Yrian smiled helplessly and asked, "Is that why you attacked Yukha just now?"

James said coldly, "She should be grateful that she's a woman." Yrian sighed and nodded, agreeing with James. He could understand Yukha's intentions but disagreed with her approach. After all, he was clear about James' character. As the Ying World's Grand Chancellor, he could only mediate and avoid an internal conflict.

After careful consideration, Yrian said, "Your Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes have already fully developed. Regardless, Yukha will be the examiner of your third trial. You can't..."

James interrupted, saying, "We can fight. However, I have a condition. She can't use thirty percent of her strength like you did with me. Instead, I want her to fight with her full strength."

Yrian was stunned by James' words and looked embarrassed, like a child at a loss after a lie was exposed.

James looked at Yrian and said, "Don't worry about me losing. If I fail the first time, I'll try a second, third, fourth, or as many times as needed to defeat her."

Yrian smiled bitterly and said, "Are you really determined to fight her till the end?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6402-James said calmly, "I just want her to understand that I won't stay silent and play along with her scheme"

Yrian smiled bitterly, sat opposite James, and said, "Things are different now.

You've cultivated the Terrastride Step, Dawnblaze Form, and Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes. You also have an Ultimate Golden Body, Nirvana Golden Bones, Chaos Essence, and the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. Yukha might not be a match for you even if she did use her full strength to fight."

James shook his head and said, “You don’t need to flatter me. This aside, I’m more interested in what kind of grudge you have with the Spirit Beast Clan?”

Yrian had an awkward expression, evidently taken aback by the questions. After a brief pause, he explained everything.

The general story was about how the Ying World had communicated and tried to negotiate with the other races when they chose to withdraw from the Tai Chi World. Ultimately, except for the Spirit Beast Clan, no other races were willing to follow them.

The Ying World had a covenant with the Spirit Beast Clan never to harm each other. Both parties would share benefits and endure hardships together.

However, they discovered the resources were scarce in the Yin’s void, and it proved hard for the majority of beings to improve their cultivation. Hence, training up an exceptional powerhouse sounded like a far-fetched dream.

The first few years were peaceful. However, the Ying World’s powerhouses could not resist the temptation of using the spirit beasts as cultivation resources.

Ultimately, they betrayed their agreement and began to massacre the spirit beasts to extract their cores to improve their cultivation ranks.

The spirit beasts were livid, and a war broke out between the Ying World’s powerhouses, which lasted for a long time. It only ended after the Yin Ancestral God took the initiative to negotiate terms with Biefren.

In the end, the two parties reached out to Tai Chi and demanded abundant training sources. Otherwise, they threatened to return to the Tai Chi World.

Tai Chi was wary of the Ying World’s powerhouses and the Spirit Beast Clan, so she agreed to provide them with cultivation resources. However, her condition was that the two parties’ powerhouses would never step into the Tai Chi World again, and those who breached the agreement would be killed.

After reaching an agreement, the Yin’s void received abundant cultivation resources. However, the Ying World and Spirit Beast Clan’s powerhouses above a Six-Star Combat Power lost their rights to ever return to the Tai Chi World.

To fairly allocate resources, the two parties divided their people into two. Those above the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank were to enter the Jaert Region. Meanwhile, those below the rank stayed in the Ying's void, which later became the Dark World.

Miraculously, an exceptional powerhouse named Franciscus was born in the Dark World. With his bizarre Historial Curse Magic, he managed to cultivate the Marciais Combat Form to its third stage and became the youngest in the Ying's Void to reach the Seven-Star Combat Power's lower grade. After that, he left the Yin's Void and established a considerable force. Then, he shattered the Tai Chi World, and what was left became the Genesis Worlds.

However, Tai Chi plotted against Franciscus. She knew Biefren and Zenithal Roc were his close friends, so she took advantage of this and orchestrated his demise.

Franciscus was the hope of the people in the Ying World. However, the Spirit Beast Clan's involvement shattered their hope. As a result, the Ying World's powerhouses had a grudge against the spirit Beast Clan.

Unfortunately, their agreement made it impossible for them to take action against the spirit beasts.

After listening to Franciscus' explanation, James had a clearer picture of the situation. He asked, "So Biefren willingly gave me his core to help me complete my Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes because of his guilt toward Franciscus?"

Yrian replied, "It's not just guilt. Biefren knew the Ying World's hope would be crushed if he did not help you. If that were to happen, we'd never forgive and spare his clan. The past and new grudges would cause a revolt against his clan and, ultimately, their extinction." James gasped after learning of everything. He finally understood why Biefren had refused to take back his core at the last moment even though the Forladtt Land clearly caught his attention.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6403-Yrian looked at James, who had fallen silent. Then, he took a deep breath and said, "You have to learn to make sacrifices, otherwise, it would be detrimental to your cultivation path." James frowned and asked, "Sacrifices? What do you mean specifically?"

Taken aback, Yrian parted his lips to answer but swallowed his words.

James glared at Yrian and asked coldly, "Are you asking me to forget my promise to fulfill Biefren's dying wish and forsake the Spirit Beast Clan so you can use them as cultivation resources? Is that what you mean by sacrifices?"

Yrian raised his head and took a deep breath. He knew James regarded the Ying World's powerhouses as despicable people after Biefren had died. At that moment, they were in a tough spot.

He felt the misunderstanding was too much for him to resolve, and explaining would only be counterproductive. Hence, he decided to let the Grand Patriarch handle it.

At that moment, Zenithal returned with Xyrll.

Zenithal suddenly shouted, "Kneel."

After being confused briefly, Xyrll reluctantly obeyed her order.

"What's this for?" James was puzzled.

Xyrll said solemnly, "Please consider my husband's sacrifice and accept my rebellious son, My Lord." "You want me to accept him as a disciple?" James frowned." Zenithal bowed and said, "No, that's too much for me to ask. It would already be a great blessing and honor for him to be a pet under you, My Lord. Please take him in." James looked at her in shock.

Yrian, who was watching from the side, laughed, "Sounds good! It'll be a good enough reward for Biefren's sacrifice."

James shook his head and said, "He can become my disciple. I don't want a pet."

Zenithal was hesitant to respond to him.

Xyrll raised his head and looked at James in disbelief. Both he and his mother never expected James to be so generous.

James looked at him and asked, "Would you like to be my disciple?"

Xyrll was stunned by his question but quickly responded by silently kowtowing three times toward James.

James supported him to his feet. Then, he looked at Zenithal and asked, "Are you willing to follow me?"

Zenithal immediately nodded and answered, "Of course, My Lord."

James said nothing more and quickly teleported them into the Zertec Pearl.

Yrian reminded James, saying, "Xyrl has developed hatred toward you.

Accepting him as a disciple might not be a good idea."

James squinted at him and asked, "Then you think I should kill him and end Biefren's lineage?"

Yrian frowned, silenced by James' remark.

James took a deep breath and asked slowly, "Must I fight Yukha to pass the third trial?"

Yrian sighed, "Not necessarily. It depends on whether she will bring you to see the Grand Patriarch."

James asked meaningfully, "Can't you take me there instead?"

Yrian shook his head with a helpless smile and said, "It's against the rules."

James thought to himself, 'Bullshit. Using rules as an excuse? To be blunt, you're just scared to offend Yukha. I probably already offended her after suddenly attacking her. Even if she doesn't make it too hard for me, I'd have to suffer a few injuries.' James was clear about his strength. He was basically at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Eighth Tribulation. On top of that, he had learned three exceptional Supernatural Powers. He would be almost unmatched in the Genesis Worlds if he left now.

However, if he encountered a powerhouse like Yukha, he would have a hard time, and his chances of escaping unscathed would be slim. Hence, before his cultivation rank matched his Supernatural Power's strength, it was still not the right time to return to the Genesis World.

Yrian saw through James' thoughts and said smilingly, "It's just a misunderstanding and can be resolved. Why don't we go back first?"

James looked at Yrian, and then immediately afterward, they disappeared from the spot.

After they arrived in the Ying World's void, James released his Zen and instantly saw the tragedy happening in its First Heaven.

The countless powerhouses from the Dark World that had invaded from outside were surrounded and massacred by some weak spirit beasts, resulting in heavy casualties.

The strongest cultivator amongst the Dark Beings was only at the Yuraeceon Xaelm Rank. Even though the spirit beasts surrounding them were considered weak in the Ying World, their strength was equivalent to powerhouses at the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank. The Dark Beings were simply no match against them.

As soon as they entered the Ying World, they were like prey being hunted down.

James' Zen swept through the fierce battlefield and caught a glimpse of a few familiar faces.

Xzavion, Yemima, Wyot, and others were besieged by more than a dozen low level spirit beasts. They were already severely injured and exhausted. It would only be a matter of time before they perished to be reincarnated if help did not arrive in time.

Seeing them in danger, James quickly took out the Zertec Pearl. After emitting a bright glow, the low-level spirit beasts were absorbed into it.

Yrian said anxiously, 'These spirit beasts are our pets. They're not members of the Spirit Beast Clan-'

James looked at Yrian and said, "I'm not trying to save them. I'm saving my friends."

Yrian's lips twitched as James approached the Ying World's colorful gate, hesitating to speak.

In normal circumstances, what James did would be considered offensive to the Ying World. If it were anyone else, they would have been killed instantly.

However, James was the Chosen One. He was the Ying World's hope, and he was untouchable.

Yrian sighed softly and looked at the dozens of powerhouses approaching them.

He waved dismissively and said, "Send these survivors to the Talent Hall for examinations. Then, give them each a glass of wine to cultivate."

The powerhouses looked at each other confusedly but obeyed Yrian's order.

"What's going on with the Grand Chancellor?" "Who knows? How will we be selected if others are being examined as well?" "Nothing like this has ever happened before in the Ying World." "Alright, that's enough. Since Yrian ordered it, our job is to get it done." "They got lucky. Anyway, let's make arrangements."

The group of powerhouses instantly got to work.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6404-James entered the Ying World's colorful gate and instantly heard an impatient voice. "I don't like you. I want to be with my friends. Moreover, I haven't completed the task my master has assigned to me. I can't stay here for too long."

James looked over and saw a familiar figure approaching from a distance.

"Stephen?" James was overjoyed.

The figure in the distance was stunned after hearing James' voice. After spotting James, he shouted happily, "Master!"

Before Stephen could say another word, he was dragged away by a black force.

James' joy instantly dissipated and was replaced by confusion.

A delicate voice came from behind Stephen, saying, "I don't care. You've caught my interest, and I want you as my partner. I'll beat up anyone who dares to get in the way."

Shortly after, a beautiful young lady appeared behind Stephen.

Stephen growled, "Stop holding me back! I already told you it's impossible between us! I already found my master! I won't stay in this place!"

The young lady sneered, "What's so great about your master? Even if the Grand Patriarch shows up, I'll still have you."

Stephen retorted, "Y-you're being unreasonable!"

The young lady grabbed Stephen's arm and said, "You're mine. We're destined to be together. I won't let you escape."

Stephen was helplessly restrained by the young lady. Left with no other choice, he shouted, "Save me, Master!"

The young lady glanced toward James, upon seeing him, she said surprisedly, 'The Chosen One?'

James hovered in the void and watched in amusement. Stephen was being pursued by a beautiful woman and a persistent one at that.

After inspecting for a while, James noticed her outstanding appearance and figure. Moreover, her cultivation rank was quite impressive. Also, she had a noble status and was more than worthy of being Stephen's partner.

The young lady turned to Stephen and asked, "Is your master the Chosen One?"

"We're a perfect match!"

Stephen shouted powerlessly, "I don't want to be a live-in son-in-law or a slave partner!"

The young lady gently tapped Stephen's head and retorted, "I never said you'll be a slave partner. I asked you to stay in the Ying World and be my cultivation partner. Are you deaf?"

Stephen was on the verge of tears.

The young lady looked at James with bright eyes and said, "Your apprentice is a little silly, isn't he, Chosen One? Disown him and leave him to me."

James' brows furrowed. Just as he was about to speak, a thunderous roar came from behind him.

“Leuko! Where are your manners?!” Yrian shouted, then immediately appeared beside James.

Seeing Yrian, Leuko immediately lowered her head and pouted. Even so, she did not let go of Stephen’s arm.

Syrian hurriedly bowed and clasped his hands to James, saying, “I’m sorry for not rude behavior. I ask for your forgiveness.” “She’s your daughter?” James was surprised.

Yrian answered, “She’s a qilin born from Chaos Essence and is under our sect.

She’s stubborn and unruly. We’ve been struggling to discipline her. She “She’s pretty good.” James interrupted him and walked over to Stephen and Leuko smilingly.

Stephen said anxiously, “I don’t want to be a live-in son-in-law, Master! I want to follow you! I don’t want to stay here!”

Leuko reprimanded him, “Shut up! Do you not have manners? Can’t you see how close our masters are? They’ll make the decision! You shouldn’t interrupt.” Stephen was rendered speechless.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6405-James and Yrian simultaneously put their hands behind their backs and smiled at each other.

Syrian said while smiling, ‘They’ve been destined for each other. Your disciple was born from Hongrome Essence, whereas Leuko was born from Chaos Essence. They are a match made in heaven.”

James was overjoyed by his words. Both Xzavion and Zella speculated Stephen had an exceptional origin since his body contained mysterious and unfathomable power.

When they first met, James also suspected that Stephen had unlimited potential and would achieve great heights in cultivation. He never would have guessed that Stephen was born from Hongrome Essence.

James looked at Stephen and asked, "Do you not like her?" "I don't!" Stephen struggled to escape Leuko's restraints.

James asked teasingly, "Why not?"

Stephen was taken aback by the question. He glared at Leuko and said, "She's too intimidating, unreasonable, and is a bully!"

Leuko was furious by his words and said, "Hey! Do you have any conscience? I helped you into the Ying World, prevented you from being killed by the spirit beasts, and even gave you Quiertz Wine to reach the Yuraceon Daelm Rank's Fifth Tribulation. Then, I even taught you the Second Marciais Combat Form, which significantly enhanced your strength. How am I a bully?"

James and Yrian looked at each other after hearing Leuko's rants.

Meanwhile, Stephen lowered his head with an aggrieved and helpless expression.

Leuko suddenly released Stephen's arm and said, "I'm warning you! If you reject me, I'll kill you and put you inside Tujin's stomach! You'll never be able to leave!"

Stephen immediately rushed behind James in a flash and hid from Leuko. He seemed highly intimidated and fearful of her, and he did not want to stay with her for another second.

"Watch your mouth, Leuko." Yrian sighed. Then, he looked at James and said, "About this..."

James said smilingly, "We can't force it either. Even though they were destined for each other, they should take their time. You can't ask them to just get married and have their wedding night right after their first encounter, right?"

Yrian was stunned momentarily, then he recomposed and laughed. He nodded, saying, "Of course. They should take their time."

Then, Yrian pointed at Leuko and said, "Go back to the Qi I in Palace and reflect on your actions today. You shouldn't pressure him." "You..." Before Leuko could finish speaking, a light ray wrapped her and disappeared from the spot.

Afterward, James summoned a few energy balls and handed them to Stephen.

Then, he said, 'Take them and meet up with Xzavion and the others in the First Heaven. Share them with the group, then wait for me to come.'

Stunned, Stephen asked hurriedly, "Master, what are you-"

James interrupted him, saying, "Don't ask too much. You guys do what you need to. As for your marriage with Leuko, we'll talk about it in the future."

Stephen said anxiously, "Master..." "If you don't leave, I'll ask Leuko to accompany you back." James interrupted him again.

Stephen was instantly frightened out of his wits. He quickly put away the energy balls, turned around, and left.

At that moment, a gigantic figure appeared in the void. Then, it violently rushed over to James and Yrian.

James mocked, "Hehe! You sure are busy, Mr. Taotie."

Yrian, on the other hand, smiled awkwardly.

Suddenly, Yukha appeared from behind Taotie's body.

"If you let him go now, I'll bring you to the Grand Patriarch immediately. There's someone you'd be more interested in there."

James frowned and said, "I thought you would keep hiding."

Yukha stared at James and said, "I have a clear conscience, so why should I hide? If you insist that Biefren's death is my fault, then I'll take the blame for it."