

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6406-Sensing the tense atmosphere, Yrian quickly stepped between them and said, "Calm down. It's just a misunderstanding. After all..." "There's no misunderstanding," James glared at Yukha and said, "Biefren's death isn't the problem. It's her acting smart and trying to manipulate the situation."

Yukha fell silent at James' accusations.

Yrian stood aside helplessly. He looked at Yuka, then turned to James.

However, he refrained from speaking again.

James looked at Yukha and said, "Let's do this. I'll get past the third level, no matter what. I don't want you to go easy on me. Even if I am severely injured or end up dying, at least I know where my strength stands."

Seeing that the battle was unavoidable, Yrian sighed. He looked at Yukha meaningfully as if to signal her to go easy. He did not want James to be injured.

Otherwise, nobody would be able to bear the responsibility.

Afterward, he stepped aside.

Taotie glared at James hatefully, then soared into the sky with the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell in his mouth, leaving space for the two to fight.

Yukha looked at James and chuckled, "Seeing that you've eliminated a potential threat for US, I'll give you one more chance. Let him go, and I'll let you pass the third stage. Then, I'll bring you to the Grand Patriarch and the person you'd like to see the most. Or else, we'll just have to battle this out."

James squinted and sneered, "So you're finally dropping the act?"

Yukha said solemnly, "I've never put on an act. You're truly impressive. Not only did you help me resolve a personal grudge, but you've also eliminated a potential threat to US. I'm grateful."

James shrugged, saying, "I'm not happy with how you used me, so I must take revenge."

Yukha smiled elegantly and said, "It's your own choice. I won't be like the Grand Councilor and show you mercy because you're the Chosen One. If I go all out, you'll probably die."

James said coldly, "Not only are you self-righteous, but also arrogant. If you don't do your best, I'll kill you."

Yuka stared at James, waved her delicate hand, and a dazzling blue sword appeared in her hand.

At first glance, James could tell the sword contained majestic power, enough to cause mass destruction.

Yrian shouted hurriedly, "Yukha! It's not a battle to death! Why are you using the Honlarne Sword?! That's a Supreme spirit Tool!"

Yukha glared at James and said, "He has an Ultimate Golden Body. If I don't use this sword, I won't be able to break his defenses. I won't hold back since I'm supposed to fight with my full strength. The Chosen One must go through some hardships as well. Perhaps he might need to reincarnate again to be more useful to the Ying World." "You..." Before Yrian could finish speaking, Yukha glided her fingers along the sword's blade. Immediately afterward, a terrifying Blue Sword Light darted at James.

James immediately jumped into the air and cast the Terrastride Step. He stepped in the direction of the sword and swung his fist.

Boom!

A loud rumble swept the area.

Yukha, on the other hand, had mysteriously disappeared.

James withdrew his hand, raised his head, and saw another orange Sword Light slowly duplicate while charging in his direction.

He hurriedly cast the Dawnblaze Form and suddenly disappeared from the spot.

The orange Sword Lights showered down from the sky and caused explosions in the void, razing countless mountains and palaces to the ground.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6407-Immediately afterward, James cast the Third Marciais Combat Form and Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes. Then, he appeared before Yukha in a flash and bare-handedly fought the Honlarne Sword. The rapid confrontation caused an explosion, and a harsh clank permeated the void.

Two figures flashed across the void, and their Sword Energies intertwined. Their potent forces caused the universes to rotate. As a result, a few planets collided and collapsed.

It was a showdown between powerhouses with Eight-Star Combat Power. Such an intense battle was unprecedented in the Ying World, and all the living beings could not help but stop whatever they were doing and stare into the sky in shock.

At that moment, a slightly translucent black force permeated and quickly covered the entire Ying World. It rapidly absorbed the spreading shock waves from the battle, then transformed into a mysterious formation to protect the Ying World's inhabitants.

James used the Dawnblaze Form as his foundation. With the addition of the Terrastride Step and the Ultimate Golden Body's explosive power, he chased after Yukha and attacked relentlessly.

His main goal was to test the power of the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes. While attacking, he used it to lock onto Yukha's combat moves and her thoughts.

Unfortunately, his proficiency in the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes was not mature yet.

Hence, Yukha easily dodged his attacks and even injured him with the Honlarne Sword, leaving James' Ultimate Golden Body covered with injuries.

Gradually, James learned how to use the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes and began making efficient attacks. He started to predict her possible moves and could react accordingly. Finally, he was gaining the upper hand in the battle.

Yukha, on the other hand, became increasingly anxious and fell into a disadvantage. She found herself without a chance to cast Supernatural Powers and could only rely on her sword to fight. She was forced to keep retreating and was on defense.

Yrian could sense the battle was getting too intense and hurriedly shouted, "Okay, that's enough! The battle should end now!"

Unfortunately, his words were drowned.

James cast the Dawnblaze Form, and countless of his afterimages flashed throughout the sky. He swung his fists tens of thousands of times in the blink of an eye. His attacks were so fierce and relentless. Yukha frantically tried to defend herself but was struck numerous times and ended up covered in bruises.

Yukha prepared to defend against a straight-on attack, but James swiftly used the Terrastride Step and appeared behind her. He reached out to her, but she quickly rushed forward. Even so, he managed to grab onto her robe.

As Yukha moved forward, her robe was pulled off from her body, and she was completely exposed. She frantically covered herself and tried to hide.

James looked at her in shock.

"Fuck you!" Yukha cursed angrily and summoned her Marciais Combat Power around her body.

James snorted and took another step forward. The next moment, he turned into countless afterimages and charged at her.

Yukha wanted to dodge, but James' Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes predicted her move.

He took advantage of her movement and quickly appeared in front of her. Then, he quickly thrust his hand at her.

Thud!

Yukha spat out a mouthful of blood. Not only was she embarrassed after losing her blue robe, she had suffered a heavy injury.

James, however, gave her no chance to breathe. His afterimages flashed across the sky once again. This time, he no longer used physical attacks.

Instead, he summoned some black Sword Energy and Amethyst-Gold Power.

Unable to dodge the attacks, Yukha was injured repeatedly, and her body was covered in blood.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6408-Yukha felt humiliated and was furious. She completely disregarded her condition and summoned a terrifying blue light from her body, instantly knocking James away. Taking advantage of the opportunity, she quickly covered her body with a blue light, which formed into a new robe. "You're so shameless, James!"

James snorted disapprovingly, "You're just a bird. Who would be interested in your body? My wife is much better than you."

Yukha was infuriated. She gripped the Honlarne Sword and unleashed a few Sword Lights. Then, she shouted, "Die!"

An overwhelming amount of nine-colored lightsabers sped toward James with a powerful momentum.

At that moment, Honlarne Sword transformed into a nine-colored sword. It emitted a dazzling light, which gave off a powerful aura.

Faced with the nine-colored lightsabers, James cast the Terrastride Step and took seven steps, instantly preventing them from moving forward.

"The Terrastride Step can be used like that?" Yukha stared at him in shock.

Yrian, who was watching the battle, was equally as shocked. Everyone else in the Ying World was also stunned by the scene.

Yukha was one of the three powerhouses with an Eight-Star Combat Power in the Ying World. More importantly, she was the most unpredictable. Even Yrian and Taotie may not be a match against her.

In the battle, she wielded the Honlarne Sword, the only Supreme Spirit Tool in the Ying World, for the first time. Yet, she was clearly in a disadvantageous position. Everyone wanted to know how strong the Chosen One was.

However, what happened next was even more shocking to them. After James stopped the lightsabers, he suddenly stretched out his hands, and a majestic black-and-white light enveloped them to form a vast Sword Formation containing evil power and Marciais Power. Then, it charged toward Yukha.

“He’s using familiar powers.” Startled, Yrian shouted, “Hide, Yukha! He is attacking with Chaos Essence and evil power!!!”

As soon as he finished his sentence, the multi-colored Sword Lights had already swept toward Yukha, and she disappeared.

Yrian shouted in despair, “No!!!”

At that moment, James moved again.

He activated the Dawnblaze Form and charged into the wave of lightsabers, and an even brighter black- and-white light erupted.

Everyone was stunned by the sight, thinking one of the strongest in the Ying World had died at the Chosen One’s hands.

At that moment, Yrian was petrified in shock. Everyone watching the battle was flabbergasted. Meanwhile, Taotie’s bloodshot eyes widened in disbelief.

Clayton, who was standing outside the Zvecha Temple, brought his wine gourd to his lips. Seeing the sight in the distance, his jaw dropped open, and his wine guard fell to the ground.

Meanwhile, the thousands of Dark Beings outside the Examination Hall in the Ying World’s First Heaven watched silently, entirely baffled by the sight.

Xzavion, Yemima, Wyot, and the others raised their heads into the sky in horror.

Stephen, who had just arrived, was also taken aback.

However, the Yin Ancestral God, Hador, slowly opened his eyes. Then, he smiled and said, “Good, very good. There is hope for the Ying World.”

Dark Thea asked hurriedly, “Yukha was killed?”

Hador slowly raised his head and said with a smile, "When confronted with death, one will find the will to fight for survival. It's time the knot in her heart is undone."

Dark Thea sneered, uninterested in the sentiment.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6409-Just tell me if she's dead or not. What's with the vague answer?' thought Dark Thea.

The nine-colored lightsabers in the sky exploded on the battlefield, and powerful shock waves permeated the area. The formation protecting the Ying World emitted a black light and deflected the force to the surrounding universes.

Boom! Bang! Boom!

A series of explosions erupted, and trillions of galaxies were destroyed simultaneously.

Unfortunately, the formation could not resist all the force and eventually collapsed. As a result, the remaining aftermath of the explosions spread into the Ying World.

Countless powerhouses, including Yrian and Taotie, quickly cast their Supernatural Powers to protect themselves and the other living beings in the different areas of the Ying World.

After the aftermath dissipated, everyone was shocked at the sight of the void.

Yukha, who always looked graceful and beautiful, was disheveled and in a complete mess. Her new blue robe was soaked in blood, and her body was covered in injuries. Even worse, the Honlarne Sword that belonged to her was pressed against her neck, threatening to kill her at any given moment.

James held onto the Honlarne Sword. He was also covered in blood but was clearly the one in control of the situation.

Although Yukha survived, she lost the fight. It was an embarrassing and miserable defeat.

James, on the other hand, won. However, it was not a glorious and easy victory either. At that moment, his Ultimate Golden Body was also full of injuries.

The battle had finally come to an end.

Yukha looked at James and said tremblingly, "You win. Kill me, and spare me the last trace of dignity."

James looked at her but did not move.

Yukha growled, "What are you waiting for? If you kill me, you'll finally get revenge for Biefren!"

James took a deep breath. Then, he blinked his eyes, and a colorful light ray shot out to imprison Yukha.

After realizing she was immobilized, Yukha shouted, "What are you doing?!! If you're a man, just kill me!"

James slowly withdrew the Honlarne Sword and said, "Your sword isn't bad. It broke through my Ultimate Golden Body's defenses. It's mine now."

Yukha roared, "Don't even think about it! The Honlarne Sword only recognizes its master! You can't forcefully take it."

James looked at her with a smile and said, "That's easy to handle. I'll make you mine too."

After speaking, James activated his Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes and summoned Yukha's Soul Energy Ball.

Realizing what James was about to do, Yukha shouted frantically, "No! Y-You can't do this, Chosen One! Don't do it! Bastard! I won't submit to you even if I have to die!"

James raised the Honlarne Sword, gently cut his finger, and inserted it into Yukha's Soul Energy Ball. His blood poured into the energy ball, causing Yukha to scream in agony.

The blood gradually filled the energy ball and turned it red.

Yrian rushed over, but James slashed in his direction and knocked him away.

Taotie, who had been in the void, charged at James.

James slashed the sword again. His attack left a gash on Taotie's massive body and sent him flying into the distance.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6410-Yrian shouted desperately, "You can't make her a pet, Chosen One! She's the Ying World's Great Protector, one of the three powerhouses with an Eight-Star Combat Power. You..."

Yrian could not bring himself to finish his sentence. James' blood had already filled Yukha's Soul Energy Ball. A red light bloomed from it, and then it quickly submerged into Yukha's mind again.

The next moment, Yukha's body twitched, and then a bizarre red light emerged from her body and broke through James' confinement. She transformed into a huge bird, let out a piercing shriek, and furiously circled in the sky.

James licked the blood off his fingertips, then smiled satisfiedly.

"Are you still unwilling to submit? Then, should I find you a male bird?"

After circling the sky a few times, Yukha growled, "Bastard! How dare you humiliate me like this, James?! How dare you."

James sneered, "Rant all you want. It doesn't change the fact that you're my pet now. We've already signed a soul contract, and you follow my orders now. I can make you walk around naked for the rest of your life. Would you like that?"

Yukha was furious, but also terrified by his threat. After flying in the sky for a while, she transformed into a miniature version and landed on James' shoulder. However, to express her anger, she pecked his neck as revenge and caused him to bleed.

"Naughty." James grabbed her and teleported her into his soul space.

Meanwhile, everyone else in the Ying World was flabbergasted.

To them, it was like doomsday. One of their strongest powerhouses had become the Chosen One's pet. It was simply too much to accept.

Everyone looked at James in awe, as if he were a war god or a true legend of their world.

At that moment, James appeared in front of Yrian.

Seeing that Yrian was injured by his previous attack, James said apologetically, "Mr. Yrian, I'm sorry."

Yrian waved his hand and said, "It's fine. You should stay away from me. I'm scared you'll turn me into a pet as well."

James shrugged after seeing Yrian distance himself, and said innocently, "Am I that evil? I just wanted to ask you for a jug of Chaos Absinthe to heal my wounds."

"You're really bold." At that moment, a jeering laughter came from the void.

James frowned after hearing the voice.

Meanwhile, Yrian's expression changed drastically and he quickly knelt to the ground. He was so terrified that he did not even dare to take another breath.

Taotie, who was fuming with anger, also became silent. He lowered his head and looked particularly docile.

Yukha, who was inside James' soul space, began flapping her wings frantically. Eventually, she managed to break out and quickly flew toward the person who had appeared.

James looked over and saw a white-haired man riding a green bull, slowly approaching on a colorful cloud.
