

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6426-Meanwhile, Lucille, who was in the Zvecha Temple, opened her eyes.

After staying in seclusion for an entrapoch, she had completely transformed and was reborn.

“Not bad. You have a Six-Star Combat Power now.”

At that moment, a gentle, elderly voice came from the entrance.

Lucille immediately descended to the ground in shock. Hador smiled and walked over with his hands behind his back.

She asked, “Who are you?”

Hador twirled his white beard and said smilingly, ‘You should be calling me your Great Grandfather.’”

Lucille hurriedly knelt and said, it’s an honor to meet you.”

Hador smiled and supported her up, saying, “That’s enough. You look very much like your mother.”

Lucille lowered her head awkwardly.

Hador said, ‘Your heart is troubled.’”

She shook her head and said, “I’m not. My only goal is to avenge my parents.”

Hador asked, ‘Then what about James?’”

Lucille’s heart pounded after hearing his name. After she had escaped from Xachary’s control, James was the first person she thought of seeking shelter from.

She searched all of the Genesis Worlds but could not find him. Tai Chi had issued a death order, and he became the biggest public enemy. He either escaped to the Forladtt Land or the Dark Genesis World.

Since she could not enter the Forladtt Land, her only choice was to visit the Dark World to try her luck. Unexpectedly, she bumped into Quattro and learned about James' whereabouts.

She chased after his footsteps but was almost killed when she entered the Jaert Region. If it had not been for Clayton, she would not have survived until now.

James was someone she could rely on. After hearing Hador mention his name, she knew he was trying to hint at something.

Lucille looked at him and asked, "is he under you now?"

Hador said smilingly, "How would I dare have him serve under me? He's the Chosen One, the hope of the Ying World."

Lucille asked, "Where is he right now? Can I see him?"

Hador said lightly, "Perhaps it is only at a time like this he will need you the most, and you'll have a place in his heart."

Lucille looked at him confusedly and asked, "I don't understand."

Hador stared at her and asked, "Do you like him?"

Lucille lowered her head and replied, "We met by chance and fought together in a life-and-death battle in the Timaeus Sect. Our relationship isn't love, though. We're just like-minded friends."

Hador frowned and said, "But he needs you to sleep with him, and it's most likely you won't be given a status. Even so, will you help him?"

Lucille looked at him in complete disbelief.

Hador said calmly, "I'm sorry for being abrupt, but I had no other choice. If you're unwilling, then I won't force you. I'll look for someone else." Lucille asked eagerly, "What kind of trouble did he get into? Why do you need me to...to do that with him?"

Hador explained how James had consumed the Supreme Thousand and its consequences and benefits. Naturally, he also mentioned Dark Thea. However, in his opinion, she was not enough to help James absorb and refine the force.

If James failed to overcome this obstacle, it would be hard for him to cultivate the Xeme Supreme Sutra and reach the peak of the Marciais Combat Form.

Hador did not hide anything from Lucille and was very frank.

Lucille fell silent and pouted after hearing everything.

For powerhouses at their level, they had gone through reincarnation multiple times. Hence, chastity and innocence were not that important to them. Even so, Lucille was a woman and still felt embarrassed about physical intimacy. It was difficult for her to decide, and she was in a dilemma.

Moreover, Lucille was not sure if she liked James.

Hador sighed, 'Time is running out. If you continue to hesitate, I'll pretend I never asked. I'll look for someone else. I can't just watch him die.'

Seeing Hador turn around, Lucille shouted, "Wait."

Hador turned around and asked, "Are you willing to do it?"

Lucille nodded gently with a flushed face.

Hador reminded her, "Remember, I was the one who took you there by force. You were utterly clueless.

"As for whatever happens next, it'll be up to fate."

After speaking, Hador raised his hand, and a power wrapped around Lucille. The next moment, they disappeared from the Zvecha Temple.

Shortly after, a black shadow appeared and took Yrian's form. He looked at the empty hall, and his heart suddenly tensed. "Sir Hador was here. Could it be he is trying to use Franciscus' daughter..."

At that moment, Clayton walked over with a wine gourd and asked, "What's wrong?"

Stunned, Yrian turned around and asked, "Have you seen Sir Hador?" "I didn't see a green bull. What's wrong? I heard you mention Lucille just now. Where is she?" Clayton frowned.

Yrian rubbed his nose embarrassedly and said with a bitter smile, "Perhaps Sir Hador has created an opportunity for her."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6427-Meanwhile, the mysterious forbidden area was filled with pink light.

Thea's jagged breaths and voice resounded, casting a very erotic atmosphere in the area.

James was like a beast, refining the power from the Supreme Thousand by satisfying his primitive needs. His Pure Yang Body intertwined with Thea's Pure Yin Body.

The powerful forces of yin and yang formed a rotating black-and-white umbrella-like barrier in the void, which sucked in powers from surrounding planets and caused a cyclone.

Lucille, who had been sent to the area, was completely stunned.

Before she could react, she was enveloped by a purple-pink light and dragged into the rotating barrier.

James, whose eyes were bloodshot, pulled her over.

"Lucille?" When he saw her face, his ferocious expression was replaced by shock.

"Is it really you, Forty-nine?" Lucille was surprised.

"Go! Leave!" James shouted and pushed her out with his black-and-white force.

Immediately afterward, he looked at Dark Thea beside him. Seeing her flushed cheeks, he was mesmerized.

However, it was evident that she could no longer withstand it and needed some time to balance her body's yin and yang.

James gradually regained his sanity. Then, he began to adjust his Chaos Essence and righteous aura. Soon enough, the discomfort in his body was gone.

When he was about to recuperate with Thea, he saw Lucille return.

Lucille shouted, "I can help you, Forty-nine. I-"

James glared at her with bloodshot eyes and shouted, "I asked you to leave, Lucille! I already have a wife and don't need you to make any sacrifices. It's not worth it!"

Lucille glanced at Dark Thea and said, "Can she still help you? I heard if you don't get help in time, you'll die!"

James sighed at her words. Even if he were to die, he refused to betray Thea. At the same time, he did not want to hurt Lucille as well.

Since long ago, Thea was the only woman who held his heart. He could not even accept her counterpart, the Light Thea, let alone Lucille.

He and Lucille met by chance. Even though they had fought Zared together, love did not exist between them.

James refused to repeat the mistake he had with Yemima. However, he understood Lucille's good intentions. If he were to be too harsh, he would hurt her feelings.

After thinking about it, James raised his head and said smilingly, "Please leave for now, Lucille. I've already balanced my Chaos Essence, and my condition has improved. I only need to stay in seclusion for a bit more and I'll recover." Lucille understood the meaning behind his words and slowly closed her eyes.

At that moment, James cast the Dawnblaze Form and appeared before Dark Thea. Gray, black, and white lights erupted from his body and instantly wrapped around her.

The two sat opposite each other and slowly rotated in the powers.

James sacrificed some of his Chaos Essence to connect them so their yin and yang could merge and complement each other.

Seeing them, Lucille sighed and smiled bitterly. Since James did not need help, she did not need to insist.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6428-Tears rolled down Lucille's cheeks after she saw the truth. She swung her sleeves and left sorrowfully.

At that moment, Dark Thea opened her eyes and looked at James sitting before her.

James immediately said, "Don't speak. I'll deal with you after getting through this." Thea stayed silent. She knew he would refuse another woman. However, she was willing to allow it since his safety was the priority.

At that moment, James connected his palms with Thea's delicate palms.

Immediately afterward, countless black-and-white powers connected through their bodies.

Dark Thea exclaimed, "Again? You're too much!"

James' black-and-white powers wrapped around her. Then, a mysterious pink light surrounded the area once again.

Meanwhile, Hador looked at Lucille, who had returned with tears and sighed.

"I miscalculated. It's my fault you were humiliated."

Lucille took a deep breath and said, "We're from two different worlds."

Ultimately, both parties have to be willing."

After speaking, Lucille wiped away her tears. Then, she smiled and said, "I also don't think it was a humiliation. I merely learned about my position."

"I'd like to follow you and learn my father's Supernatural Powers. After I take my revenge, my cultivation journey will end, and I'd like to recover from the heartbreak."

Hador frowned and said, "You..."

Lucille said slowly, "I'm just telling the truth. Love is too bitter, and justice is too hard to prevail. I can deal with neither. I-"

Before she could finish speaking, James rose from the forbidden land. He hovered in the sky with a Tai Chi diagram below his feet and countless powers surrounding his body. "Let's fight, Sir Hador!"

Startled, Hador quickly shielded Lucille.

The next moment, James rushed over and attacked.

The surroundings immediately dimmed. His terrifying power shattered Hador's barrier and headed straight for his body.

Seeing James rushing through the sky, Hador's expression changed. He quickly grabbed Lucille and dodged the attack. "He became so strong in just a short while?" Just when he finished speaking, James cast the Terrastride step and approached again.

Hador pushed Lucille away and summoned his Marciais Power to engage in a close-quarter battle with James.

The two exchanged countless moves in the blink of an eye. Their images flashed across the sky, and their powerful forces clashed, then spread in all directions.

Terrifying shock waves permeated and destroyed countless universes and planets.

Their sudden battle was intense and caused the Yin's Void to tremble.

Everyone within it watched in shock.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6429-Simultaneously, at the outskirts of the Ying World, a striking young being clad in fiery red athletic attire, with hair the color of flame, was atop a towering mountain. He gradually opened his eyes as the ground trembled and the mountains quaked.

It was none other than the Yang governor, who had returned in full glory.

James and Dark Thea, with Clayton's assistance, obliterated the Genesis Worlds. Consequently, countless worlds spiraled into complete chaos.

Naturally, the Law of Tai Chi had also collapsed, and the Yang governor could manifest his true form.

The Yang governor gazed at the violently trembling Dark World, his brows almost twisted into a knot.

In a sudden and thunderous dragon roar, an Azure Dragon burst forth from the sky, transforming into a middle-aged being clad in a blue robe. Then, he appeared beside the Yang governor.

The Yang governor narrowed his eyes and inquired, "I sense activity in the Yin's Void. Could it be that those troublemakers are finally preparing to return?"

Lonnie said solemnly, "Based on my calculations, it doesn't appear to be imminent. Could it be they're scheming something?"

The Yang governor snorted, "They don't have the guts to come out."

Lonnie looked at the Yang governor and sighed, "Tai Chi entrusted US with the mission to conquer the Forladdt Land and eliminate the Chosen One's foundation. But with our prolonged stay here, I fear..."

The Yang governor glanced at him and reprimanded, "And you're supposed to be the leader of the Four Symbols? How are you so easily startled? It's unnecessary for US to personally take care of the weaklings in the Forladdt Land. Just leave it to those that had just reached the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation and also Quasi Daeclon Rank."

Lonnie was taken aback and immediately stopped talking.

The Yang governor gritted his teeth and said, "Now I'll just have to wait for that bastard, James. Only by killing him and capturing the Yin governor can I erase the shame they've inflicted upon me."

Lonnie lowered his head and remained unresponsive.

The Yang governor ordered domineeringly, "Go and inquire about it. Also, what's the progress of White Tiger and Vermilion Bird's attacks on Skynet."

Lonnie raised his head and mumbled, "My Lord, that..."

The Yang governor glared at him and questioned, "Are you disobeying my orders?"

Lonnie hurriedly knelt in fear and said, "N-no! I simply-"

Before he could finish speaking, a tiger's roar echoed from the right side of the void.

A white tiger enveloped in Historial Power charged forth, swiftly transforming into a young man adorned in a white robe. Then, he promptly knelt before the Yang governor.

“Something bad has happened, My Lord.” “Where’s Vermilion Bird?” The Yang governor’s face darkened.

The young man raised his head and replied anxiously, “She was trapped inside the Tirta Grand Formation. I’m afraid the odds are against her.”

The Yang governor’s rage surged. He immediately grabbed the young man’s collar and roared, “You incompetent fool! The strongest in Skynet right now are the Celestial and Earthly Sage. You two are at the Second Xaeclon Rank but can’t handle them?”

The young man hastily shook his head and said, “L-Let me explain! Yegor and Herodias had showed up!”

The Yang governor lifted the young man from the ground, believing it was a blatant lie.

Lonnie quickly clasped his hands and interjected, saying, “Yegor and Herodias wield Tirta Power, My Lord. They’re unbeatable entities within the Tirta’s exotic space.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6430-The Yang governor roared, “Do you believe his bullshit? The Law of Paths has already imprisoned Yegor and Herodias. How could they...”

Lonnie frantically explained, “They’re imprisoned in Tirta’s exotic space.”

The Yang governor, who was furious, suddenly froze. Nobody had informed him of this development.

After a brief silence, he tossed the young man aside and abruptly stood up.

“It seems I must confront them personally. Herodias and Yegor also contributed to my great humiliation.”

With that said, he turned to Lonnie and ordered, “Guard this place. When James leaves the Yin’s Void, report to me immediately.”

After leaving these words, he vanished.

Lonnie stood up with sweat pouring down his face. His expression reflected the terror of a narrow escape from a disaster.

Meanwhile, the entire Ying World was plunged into chaos. James and Hador were still locked in a fierce battle. Surrounding mountains, trees, buildings, and universes bore the brunt of their destructive clash.

Fortunately, Yrian relocated all the Ying World's living beings to a safe space, sparing them from total devastation.

Despite the destruction, James and Hador continued their relentless duel.

They were evenly matched and refused to yield an inch.

James relied on his Pure Yang Body and the Ultimate Golden Body as the foundation while using the Dawnblaze Form and the Terrastride step as his supporting skills. His Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes were locked onto Hador, allowing him to effectively predict, intercept, and launch counterattacks.

On the other hand, Hador fought purely with the strength of his Third Xaeclon Rank. Even without using any Supernatural Powers, he handled the battle easily.

Boom!

Another deafening roar echoed as James and Hador fought. Their palms met with tremendous force, sending them both hurtling backward.

However, while Hador retreated hundreds of light-years and steadied himself, James was propelled back thousands of light-years and even coughed up some blood.

Hador shook off the impact, then burst into laughter, "Haha! Amazing! That was amazing!"

James regained his composure and used the Dawnblaze Form to reappear before Hador. Then, he asked, "Let's go again." "No more fighting. That's enough for me. With your Ultimate Golden Body, Pure Yang Body, and Chaos Essence, you do not need to learn the Xeme Supreme Sutra." Hador waved dismissively, chuckling at James.

‘Tou pure and profound Marciais Power has already surpassed mine, James. I have nothing more to teach you.’

James examined his Ultimate Golden Body. There were gray, black, and white powers gently swirling on his skin’s surface, exuding an enigmatic aura and imbuing him with great strength.

After the battle, James felt he had gained greater control over the three powers, which were now more potent than his Marcials Power.

Moreover, a trace of his Historial Power, which had supposedly vanished, had resurfaced. In essence, he possessed Marcials Power, Historial Power, as well as Yin-Yang Power harmonized by the fusion of Chaos Essence.

James lifted his head happily and asked, “Does this mean I’ve passed the fourth trial?” Hador nodded and said smilingly, ‘The Xeme Supreme Sutra teaches how to harmonize powers. However, you’ve already mastered using Chaos Essence and can now control these three major forces. Hence, you no longer need to learn the sutra.’

James asked excitedly, “So what’s my cultivation rank now?”
