

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6481-Zeux sneered disdainfully, "While you may preside over realms below the Thirty-Third Heaven, you have no authority over the Yin's Void, Tint a Exotic Space, and the otherworld battlefield. I intend to visit acquaintances in the Yin's Void. Are you trying to stop me?"

Tai Chi responded firmly, "You can do whatever you want, but he must stay."

Zeux said authoritatively, "I'm afraid you don't have the right to order him around. He is the Chosen One."

Tai Chi insisted, "Even so, he can't violate the Law of Paths and force his way through the Zymurgy. Otherwise, the laws will mean nothing, won't they?" "Don't force me to expose you." Zeux's face darkened.

Stunned, Tai Chi fell silent.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: bhqtech.com to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

After a long sigh, Zeux said slowly, "When you stole the Wuinfinite Peal, infiltrated the Thirty-Third Heaven, and attained Tai Chi Power and your current status by fraud, should you not have been torn into pieces and have your soul scattered to the winds?"

"You breached the Law of Paths before him but went unpunished. The Chosen One was provoked and misled by your machinations. He fell into your trap in a fit of anger."

Tai Chi herself choked, but the Tai Chi Gas obstructing Zeux and James churned rapidly as she grew exceedingly enraged.

"Step aside. Don't force me to turn hostile." Zeux waved his hand, his fly whisk striking the Tai Chi Gas with a beam of golden light. In an instant, a narrow passage opened up, allowing them to descend rapidly.

"Damn it!" Tai Chi's furious roar echoed, yet it proved futile.

Meanwhile, Lucille struggled to free Hador from the grip of Tai Chi's powers despite her efforts.

Just when she ran out of ideas, a golden light descended from the void and appeared beside her. Then, a white-haired elderly man dressed in a robe appeared, exuding an air of immortality.

Lucille instinctively wielded her weapon in vigilance.

However, the next moment, Zeux waved his hand, unleashing a vast golden light colliding with the Tai Chi power restraining Hador. With a resounding clang, the barrier shattered.

Immediately following, Hador, who had been trapped within, coughed up a significant amount of blood and collapsed into the void.

Lucille rushed to support him, calling out concernedly, "Sir Hador."

Hador's face turned pale, and he shook his head, blood oozing from the corner of his mouth. He said hurriedly, "I, I'm fine. Hurry up. Tai Chi fooled James. We must stop him immediately. Ugh."

Unable to contain his excitement upon seeing Zeux standing before him, Hador quickly grasped Lucille's hand and rose to his feet despite the pain coursing through him.

After seeing Zeux's face, his initial anxiety was relieved. With a grateful expression, he addressed him, "Sir Zeux."

Zeux nodded affirmingly and said with satisfaction, "You've done well. It seems Yianni wasn't wrong about you."

Overwhelmed by the compliment, Hador knelt before Zeux and bowed deeply. "I have brought disgrace upon our ancestors and allowed the Ying World to fall into such dire straits. It's a grave sin deserving of punishment." Zeux raised his hand, enveloping Hador in a gentle golden light to support him to his feet. With a flick of his fingers, two bursts of energy surged through Hador's body, fully restoring his health and vitality.

Feeling the rejuvenating effects of the energy flowing through him, Hador bowed once more and expressed earnestly, "Thank you, Sir Zeux."

Zeux's expression softened as he sighed. Empathetically, he said, "We left you to deal with Tai Chi's vengeance and suppression until now. It must've been hard for you. Yianni would've been proud."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6482-Hador sighed lightly and hurriedly said, "Senior Zeux, the Chosen One..."

Before he finished speaking, he noticed Zeux gesturing into the void, prompting both Hador and Lucille to look over. Upon seeing the remarkable sight, the two had surprised expressions.

James sat in a lotus position, enveloped in a dense golden light and numerous intricate runes.

Observing this, Hador finally felt a sense of relief. He said appreciatively, "Thankfully, you intervened in time. Otherwise, the Chosen One would have succumbed to Tai Chi's scheme."

Zeux remained silent, fanning the whisk in his hand.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: bhqtech.com to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

In an instant, a golden light descended from the sky and illuminated the Ying World. The destruction was instantly reversed, and vitality was restored. Destroyed buildings, mountains, flowers, plants, and trees rose anew, reborn in their former glory.

The most remarkable miracle was that the souls of all beings who had perished in the preceding battle within the Ying World coalesced under the golden light and were resurrected.

Hador and Lucille were shocked, but their faces quickly lit up joyfully.

Zeux glanced at the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell below and exclaimed in surprise.

Suddenly, Hador inquired, "Is James-" "Let's find a place to chat." Zeux waved his sleeve, and his powers wrapped around Hador and James. Then, they disappeared from the spot.

Lucille was left behind, completely dumbfounded.

At that moment, Lesia, who was sitting on the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, said, "He won't take you along. He's an ancient man and has seen almost everything that is to be seen."

Lucille sighed softly and approached the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. Hearing the Yang governor's screams coming from inside the bell, she frowned and asked, "Can't I just kill him?"

Lesia answered, "Why should we kill him? He'll be really useful."

Lucille sighed, then reached out to touch the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell.

She vaguely remembered the bell being used to test the cultivation and talents of disciples in the Timaeus Sect. It had grown to such great extents after James had acquired it.

Lesia suddenly asked, "Are you Franciscus' daughter?"

Lucille raised her head and inquired, "Do you know my father?"

Lesia nodded, replying, "We've met before. Unfortunately, he was too naive."

Lucille parted her lips but could not find the right words.

Lesia made an inviting gesture to Lucille and said, "Come on up. Although the Yin Tai Chi is only a clone, the Tai Chi Power leaking from him will benefit you."

Lucille was stunned by Lesia's unexpected generosity toward her. After a moment, she climbed onto the Yuraecein Genesis Bell.

Immediately afterward, Tai Chi Power emerged from the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, instantly overwhelming her.

She sat down in a lotus position and closed her beautiful eyes.

Lesia sighed with regret, it's a pity you're trapped by love. Perhaps it's your fate."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6483-In the Ying World, within the mysterious forbidden land that had been restored.

Hador extended an inviting gesture to Zeux as he landed on the ground, then summoned a jar of Chaos Absinthe and offered it to him.

“You understand me the best,” Zeux pointed at Hador and praised him.

Then, he accepted the Chaos Absinthe with a grin, tilted his head back, and took a hearty sip.

Hador sighed softly, then took out another jar of Chaos Absinthe and approached James, who was wrapped in golden light.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: bhqtech.com to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Zeux suddenly intervened, saying, “He is cultivating Tranquil Art and can’t drink it for now”

Hador nodded understandingly in response. He turned away, but a force suddenly swept away the Chaos Absinthe in his hand.

Turning back, he saw James holding the jar of Chaos Absinthe and pouring it into his mouth.

Hador immediately exclaimed with joy, “Oh! You’re awake!” “That was fast,” Zeux remarked, waving his hand to disperse the golden light around James.

James gently landed on the ground and walked over to Zeux with the Chaos Absinthe still in his hand.

Under Hador’s nervous gaze, James bowed and said calmly, ‘Thank you for saving my life, Sir.’

Zeux examined James and said, “Indeed. You should be grateful. However, the Inner Demon in your heart hasn’t been resolved.”

James immediately fell silent.

He was aware his Inner Demon was revolved around his wife. Tai Chi played an insidious trick by deliberately crushing his wife’s other half before him. He was enraged, and it triggered his Inner Demon. The anger had consumed him, and he nearly suffered dire consequences.

James was convinced that if Zeux had not intervened, Tai Chi's scheme would have worked, and he would have rushed to his demise without even having a chance to fight.

Zeux sighed. "Love is the toughest bond to sever. But you're human, and love is an inevitable challenge." He looked at James and said solemnly, "Regardless, you must remember that the Light and Dark Heavenly Path are both integral parts of the Yang governor. No matter how much they are at odds, they can't be without each other."

James nodded, then settled on a nearby rock and fell into thought.

Zeux said solemnly, "I never wanted to get involved in the affairs of the Thirty-Third Heaven. But I've been entrusted by someone and want to remain faithful to their wishes."

He glanced at James and Hador, then continued, saying, "You both underestimate Tai Chi. It's not merely a position, nor is it just that Yehria's will and strength surpass yours. It's a law, a system that has controlled the Thirty-Third Heaven for eons." "Do you think that merely killing Yehria would cause the system to crumble? If it were that simple, Yianni would have done so long ago. Things would not have come to this."

After hearing this, James furrowed his brow and asked, "I've already honed my Marcials Combat Power to the greatest extent, but why is my strength still inferior to Yianni?"

Zeux chuckled, twirling his beard. "Do you truly believe that Yianni reached the Daeclon Rank solely depending on the Maricias Combat Form?"

Taken aback, James asked, "Is there more to it?" "Absolutely," Hador affirmed, looking at James. "Have you already forgotten the prophecy on the Jadhea Tablet?"

James recited, "Gray clouds and thousands of bells chiming. Above the Genesis Power is where you find the Marciais Combat Form. The Nirvana Golden Bones, the Quasar Second Body, the Dernaturae, and the Daeclon Mahayana."

Zeux nodded, saying, "Correct. Many often view them as the fundamentals for reaching the Daeclon Rank. However, these were predictions about you, the Chosen One. Nobody else will be able to meet these prophecies."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6484-James was taken aback and asked, "For me?"

Zeux confirmed with a smile, "Yeah. Yianni wrote the first half, and the founder of Historial Power wrote the second half. It dawned on them that the escalating conflict between the Marcisais Combat Form and Historial Power was spiraling out of control. Moreover, Tai Chi manipulated them, and chaos had fallen upon the various world's living beings. They were heartbroken by the suffering and wanted to end it.

'Therefore, they devised these criteria to identify an individual capable of wielding both powers, breaking through the cultivation limitations, and thwarting Tai Chi's nefarious schemes.'

James furrowed his brows deeply and asked, "If they realized the issue, why didn't they rectify it themselves?"

Zeux sipped the Chaos Absinthe and explained, 'They couldn't be bothered. After they realized the issue, they exchanged insights and parted ways. Then, they left this disaster for you to resolve.'

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: bhqtech.com to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

James rolled his eyes and sighed in exasperation. He thought, 'That's kind of dumb. They caused the trouble, but they expect someone else to clean up the mess. These two exceptional powerhouses don't seem very responsible.' As if able to see through James' thoughts, Zeus laughed and said, "It was by luck that you were chosen. At least they didn't leave you to take care of the mess for nothing. They paved the path for you and prepared the title of Chosen One for you." 'You think I want them? If not because of my wife, I would have never stepped foot into the Genesis World. I'd just live a happy life with my family in the Dark World,' thought James.

James suddenly had a foreboding sensation, feeling like a mere pawn being manipulated by an unseen force.

Hador sighed and looked at James, saying, "During the years I spent imprisoned by Yin Tai Chi, I had ample time to ponder. I realized that simply capturing the queen first isn't going to work." "Are you suggesting we take a more gradual approach?" James raised his head, meeting Hador's gaze.

Hador nodded, saying, "Yeah. Tai Chi had control over the different worlds for a considerable time. To eliminate her, we must start by severing her branches..."

James rose to his feet and interrupted, "Nonsense! I don't care about your plans or how those before me made arrangements. I feel like I've been played for a fool, manipulated like a pawn, and even coerced into being a hitman."

Observing James' fury, Hador and Zeux exchanged glances, then sighed softly, shaking their heads in unison.

James squinted and said solemnly, "I'll reiterate. Nobody can dictate what I choose to do or compel me to act against my will."

Zeux regarded James with a serene smile and asked, "So, isn't what you desire the most to vanquish Tai Chi?" James fell silent.

Zeux remarked empathetically, "Nobody wishes to exploit another. In the path of cultivation, we're all propelled by the destiny of the Supreme Path regardless of status. If being utilized by others enhances your strength, it may not necessarily be a bad thing. However, if you wish to liberate yourself from such feelings, it would necessitate comprehending the Supreme Path and shaping the laws yourself."

James took a deep breath upon hearing Zeux's profound words.

Zeux's words consisted of wisdom and resonated deeply with James. 'Indeed. Nobody wishes to be manipulated. However, those devoid of value would be cast aside, and those who are useful will be propelled forward,' thought James.

After reflecting, he asked, "What about my wife?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6485-As James voiced concern, Hador averted his gaze, visibly burdened with guilt.

Zeux signed and answered, 'The Yin governor's spirit is as lofty as the heavens and is naturally resistant to the dictates of fate.' James asked coldly, "Fate? What exactly does fate entail?"

Zeux smiled gently and explained, "Fate is a predetermined course set by the Law of Paths. What one should do and can do is already fixed.

James squinted and asked, "Isn't the Supreme Path about harmonious alignment with nature? Why, then, are laws needed to govern over US?" "Aligning with nature is also a step-by-step process.

Zeux explained smilingly, "Aligning with nature is also a step-by-step process. It's impossible for all living beings to achieve it from the outset. From the birth of heaven and earth, we have undergone tremendous transformations. The five major stages are the Taiyi Taichu, Taishi, Taisu, and Taichi. From nothingness, a myriad of things formed. These stages are known as the Five Primal Evolutions. This era is known as the Hongrome Chaos Era.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: bhqtech.com to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

"After Tai Chi formed, yin and yang emerged. Following that, clarity and turbidity separated. As a result, heaven and earth came into existence.

Then, the five elements were born, leading to the gradual proliferation of all beings and many lives. The essence of cultivators is compassion, frugality, and selflessness.

"But the ultimate manifestation of the Great Dao is in living beings, and as they evolve, they inevitably develop emotions and desires. The emergence of desire naturally brings forth greed, anger, ignorance, pride, suspicion, leading to conflicts, violence, oppression, and deceit."

Zeux's gaze shifted to James, who was listening intently, if we allow nature to take its course, then wouldn't it be complicit in evil to let living beings continue indulging in these harmful desires?

“In a world without laws, goodness cannot prevail over evil, nor will the weak have a chance to survive against the strong.”

James frowned and asked, “So laws exist to restrain them?” Zeus said smilingly, “Restraints are only temporary. The desires of living beings are innate. How can forced restraints resolve them? Guiding living beings to channel their desires towards benevolent ends is crucial.”

James said thoughtfully, “Cultivation. All desires can be fulfilled through diligent cultivation, leading one to greater heights and perhaps reaching the Daeclon Rank.

Zeux agreed with a smile, “Correct. The path of cultivation has the power to fulfill any desire of sentient beings and draw formidable individuals from diverse backgrounds to embark on it. This process not only bestows blessings upon beings from all walks of life but also creates a space where each can thrive independently, forming an endless cycle.

“Yet, for this to be realized, every walk of life in different worlds must be categorized. The discrepancy in grades hinges on allocating cultivation resources, ensuring that those pursuing the cultivation path are endowed with ample motivation.

“Simultaneously, it is a deterrent against stronger cultivators venturing into lower-level worlds to exploit the weak.”

Enlightened, James suddenly nodded. He finally understood the importance of law through the wisdom of the experienced.

Nevertheless, he still harbored curiosity about how the allocation of cultivation resources was determined. Thus, he voiced his question.

Zeux remained patient, providing a comprehensive explanation based on the information he possessed.

The concept of distributing training resources revolved around the partitioning of major worlds and dimensional spaces. After experiencing so much, James had learned a lot and it was much easier for him to understand.