

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6486-After listening to Zeux's explanation, only the so-called Thirty-Three Heavens made him see things in a new light.

The Thirty-Three Heavens were divided into the Twenty-Four Desire Heavens, the Four Jawhaert Heavens, the Four Holy Heavens, and the Tai Chi Grand Temple.

Within the Twenty-Four Desire Heavens were Nine Lower Heavens, Nine Middle Heavens, and Six upper Heavens.

Those who have cultivated to the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation could enter the Nine Lower Heavens.

Those whose cultivation reached the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation were permitted into the Nine Middle Heavens.

The Six Upper Heavens were opened to only those who had reached the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Consummation.

Meanwhile, the Four Jawhaert Heavens only took in cultivators at the First Xaeclon Rank. It was managed by Tai Chi's Three Talents and Four Symbols.

The Yin and Yang governors controlled the Four Holy Heavens, and only powerhouses at the Fifth Xaeclon Rank and above were allowed to enter.

Meanwhile, the Tai Chi Grand Table only accepted those who had reached the Daeclon Rank, and it was also where Tai Chi resided.

These Thirty-Three Heavens were originally very clearly divided and hierarchical. Each heaven had different amounts of cultivation resources, and the cultivation abilities of the creatures nourished were naturally different.

However, Tai Chi was scared another powerhouse below her would reach the Daeclon rank and would threaten her position. For her selfish interest, she sealed the Thirty-Third Heaven, which had the most abundant resources, not allowing anyone else to enter.

As a result, all the creatures in the Tai Chi world, even if their cultivation had reached the peak of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation, could not ascend the heavens and cultivate further. The maximum living beings could reach was the Consummation of the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation. Ultimately, they came up with a so-called Quasi Daeclon Rank to deceive themselves.

After listening to Zeux's account, James asked surprisedly, "Tai Chi is openly defying the Law of Paths, so why isn't any action being taken against her?"

Zeux replied, "The Law of Tai Chi governs everything under the Thirty-Three Heavens. As long as Yehria doesn't leave the Thirty-Third Heaven, the Law of Paths won't intervene.

"Ridiculous," James responded. He turned to Hador and asked, "Don't you find it absurd?"

Hador sighed softly, "It's how it is. You were provoked by Tai Chi, fell into her trap, and forcibly entered the Zymurgy. If Zeux hadn't intervened in time, Tai Chi would have surely killed you. Even the Law of Paths would have had no choice but to acquiesce."

James' fists tightened as he listened. 'If that's the case, what's the point of having laws? In the Tai Chi World, Yehria could do as she pleased,' he thought.

After contemplating for a moment, he turned to Zeux abruptly and asked, "Are you saying it's insufficient for me to have mastered the Marciais Combat Form? Must I also return to the Genesis World and cultivate Historial Power?" Zeux nodded solemnly and said, "Yes. However, we need to consider the animosity between you and Tai Chi. She cannot harm you if you remain within the Yin's Void. Once you leave and return to the Genesis Worlds, you'll face numerous dangers and could be killed at any given moment.

James said coldly, "Her main self can't leave the Thirty-Third Heaven. She can only send her clones—"

Zeux interrupted him, saying, "She can still empower them with her terrifying Tai Chi Power. Her clones become stronger with each battle. While fighting her clones, you'll also be targeted by the Genesis World's other living beings. What will you do?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6487-"Can her clones keep regenerating?" James frowned.

Zeux nodded and answered, "Theoretically, yes. However, their strength will be reduced after each death.

James gasped, realizing why Tai Chi was known as a formidable existence.

It was only possible to eliminate her with extensive planning.

Hador clasped his hands toward Zeux and inquired, "Since you already know the root cause, you must have a way to resolve it, right?"

Zeux paused briefly. Then, a chuckle escaped his mouth. He pointed at Hador, saying, "You're the Ying World's Grand Patriarch and serve as the commander here. I've withdrawn from intervening with worldly matters a long time ago. If I were to instruct you, I'd be going against the nature of the Supreme Path."

Hador said humbly, "You've been close friends with our founder and can't just leave US be."

Suddenly, he bowed deeply and requested, "I beseech your guidance, Sir Zeux. Please enlighten US on how to solve our problem." Zeux sighed softly, "Even if I were to tell you, we'd need someone to listen."

Observing their pretentious act, James rolled his eyes and said, "Alright. Cut it out. You're making me tired. Get straight to the point. I'll be returning to the Genesis World anyway."

Hador and Zeux shared a knowing look and chuckled simultaneously.

Then, Xeuz extended his hand and revealed a radiant bead. Then, he said, "Consume this. It'll conceal your identity when you leave the Yin's Void. Tai Chi's subordinates won't be able to recognize you. In fact, Tai Chi herself might be unable to identify you."

James stared at the orb in his hand and asked surprisedly, "This thing can hide my aura and change my appearance?"

Zeux said smilingly, "Of course! This is the Hongrome Hidden Bead. It is evolved by the innate Wuia Essence. It is similar to your Yuraeceon Genesis Bell."

James's eyes widened as he accepted the pearl, examining it closely.

The bead, no larger than an adult's thumb, emitted an aura of boundless mystique.

After contemplating, James suddenly inquired, "If I were to ingest this bead, could I secretly return to the Genesis World with an appearance and assume a new identity to start over?"

Zeux was taken aback by the question.

Hador said while smiling, "You're bold and resolute. However, sometimes one must learn to adapt..." James interrupted, "I'm not a vain person who cares about appearances or pride. What concerns me is the practicality of this approach. Once I stir up a storm or kill someone with a significant status, wouldn't I still expose myself?"

Hador glanced at Zeux once more, and concern etched on his face. "This does present as an issue..."

Zeux looked at James and smiled, "I haven't personally tried it before, but you can try it. Considering you've absorbed Hongrome and Chaos Essence, there shouldn't be an issue."

Hador turned to James, awaiting his response.

James slowly raised the bead to his mouth and swallowed it.

As the bead's outer layer dissolved, a mysterious force erupted and began flowing through James' meridians, colliding with his Marciais Power.

James shrieked, "You tricked me?"
