

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6526-James remained composed at his question, but Princess Lumia and Wayra raised their heads, unable to conceal their shock.

If the man before them were from the Dark World, then they would be in trouble. They had to abide by the Law of Tai, which mandated their opposition to all Dark Beings.

Since Tai Chi's decree was issued, they have slaughtered thousands of Dark Beings and it had already sparked an unending animosity.

After a long silence, James lifted his head and sighed, "I've meticulously calculated it. It's been over twenty entrapochs since we last met in the Zephyria World."

After the revelation, Wayra, Princess Lumia, and Matias immediately looked surprised. The powerful man's words had stirred up long-forgotten memories of the past.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

The trio frantically sifted through their memories, trying to remember the events and people from the Zephyria World. Eventually, they seemed to have ended up recalling one particular individual and their eyes simultaneously widened in shock.

At that moment, James dispersed his disguise and revealed his actual appearance.

The sight of James' handsome visage struck the trio like a bolt of lightning.

Their expressions shifted suddenly, their eyes brimming with disbelief.

Wayra recomposed and pointed at James, asking, "You...you're Forty-nine?"

Baffled, Princess Lumia stared at James and her jaw dropped.

Matias, on the other hand, clenched his fists and stumbled backward.

Neither of them was expecting their adversary from the Zephyria World, who had ultimately seized Franciscus' inheritance, to have grown so powerful.

From their intel, they found out that Forty-nine was James, the infamous figure from the Dark World, the main target of Tai Chi's decree.

Tai Chi had promised mysterious rewards for whoever could vanquish James, including exceptional weapons and tools. Even the opportunity to reach the Daeclon Rank and to be promoted into a position by Tai Chi's side would not be far-fetched. Besides not only was the one who succeeded awarded, but one's entire sect would also reap the benefits.

The allure of fame, strength, power, and status beckoned tantalizingly. With these rewards within reach, dominating the Genesis World and establishing their sect as the strongest was no longer a dream.

It was a temptation that captivated the hearts of all the powerhouses in the Genesis Worlds. However, when confronted with the reality of facing James, the three found themselves staring into an abyss of seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

Would it even be possible to end James? With just the wave of a hand, he teleported into a completely different location and they did not even have the chance to resist.

If they were to take action against him now, they may not only fail to achieve their objectives but would risk losing their souls. James observed their expressions and said with a smile, "Aren't you excited to reunite with an old friend?"

Horried, Wayra, Matias, and Princess Lumia retreated tens of thousands of meters, with their weapons ready.

"What's the matter? Must we resort to hostility immediately upon our reunion? Shouldn't we reminisce about the old times first?" James chuckled, bemused by their reaction.

The three exchange nervous glances without saying a word, presumably telepathically discussing their next move.

Soon, Princess Lumia shouted, “You’re a notorious demon from the Dark World! Tai Chi has issued a decree to kill you, but you’re still brave enough to show yourself here?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6527-James clasped his hands behind his back, lifted his head, and let out a hearty laugh, “The Tai Chi’s decree is nothing to me.”

He squinted, then said, “It seems like you three are itching for a fight to catch up on our old times together. Well then, I’d be happy to oblige. Come at me at once.”

The trio exchanged glances, then unleashed their powerful auras and launched simultaneous attacks on James from different directions.

Their forces clashed, marking the beginning of an intense battle.

The three powerhouses at the Quasi Daeclon Rank, fought with their intense Qrohm and Historial Power, unleashing all of their Supernatural Powers.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Meanwhile, James was merely fighting for amusement and to gauge the strength of his old acquaintances. Hence, he feigned an equal match with them, withholding most of his strength.

The Marciais Power and Genesis clashed in the void, causing a devastating aftermath. Countless mountains crumbled, the grounds split and the sky quaked.

“Heavenly Destruction!”

Matias rose into the air, extending his hands to summon tens of thousands of giant swords, hurtling them toward James at rapid speeds. With a deafening rumble, James was engulfed by the sea of swords.

Immediately afterward, Princess Lumia cracked her whip, unleashing three spectral shadows toward the giant swords.

Simultaneously, Wayra's sword swept forward, unleashing a barrage of Golden Sword Energy aimed directly at James.

Three potent and terrifying Supernatural Powers converged on James' location, enveloping him entirely. The ensuing detonation engulfed the surroundings in a deafening silence.

As the lingering light faded from the void, James was seen bloodied and disheveled, dropping to one knee in defeat. He supported his body with one hand to prevent collapsing to the ground.

James was battered and injured. After spitting out another mouthful of blood, he raised his head. "You three really pack quite a punch. I'm impressed you've improved so much."

Princess Lumia, Matias, and Wayra swiftly closed in on James from three different directions. Their weapons were readily aimed straight at him as if a single move could spell his demise.

"Demon," Princess Lumia's voice cut through the tense air like ice, "Tai Chi's decree wants you dead. You shouldn't have come to the Genesis Worlds."

James let out a bitter laugh, a mocking laugh, "Ha! You three have also become faithful hounds of Tai Chi? Who would've thought the esteemed Bellerian Dynasty, Tempestara, and Jercente Sect have fallen so low and become pawns in someone else?"

His words struck some nerves, causing the three to frown and lower their heads in shame.

"Since you still remember our past bond, you should also have recollection of owing me for saving your lives in the Zephyria World, right?" James wheezed before spitting out another mouthful of blood. "If you wish to repay kindness with enmity, then end me now and seek your rewards from Tai Chi. Glory and wealth await you."

At James's words, Wayra, Matias, and Princess Lumia were all taken aback and none of them could strike the final blow against him.

They remembered the crucial moment in the Zephyria World when James had intervened to slay Igneous, saving them from certain doom. Without his act of bravery, they would not have achieved their current success, cultivation, or status. They owed James their lives by that measure.

However, they were bound by the Law of Tai Chi. While they could disregard their own lives hanging in the balance, the fate of their sect's lineage and countless lives rested on their obedience to Tai Chi. The consequences of disobeying Tai Chi were unfathomable.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6528-After a prolonged silence, Matias drew in a deep breath and said, "Leave, Forty-nine. Pretend our paths never crossed today. Return to the Dark World and never return."

James arched an eyebrow and asked, "You're letting me go?"

Matias parted his lips, but his words were caught in his throat.

Wayra stared at Matias and hurriedly said, "Are you out of your mind? Tai Chi's decree mandates that failure to eliminate him if we see him will bring disaster upon our entire sect!"

Matias slowly shut his eyes, saying, "Then shall we pay his saving grace with enmity? I simply can't bring myself to do such a thing."

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Wayra stood in stunned silence for a moment before bursting out in frustration. "Why are we so unlucky?"

Princess Lumia said, "We're in charge of watching the Xyndaros Genesis World. As long as we keep our silence, nobody will know, ain't that correct?" Wayrna glared at Princess Lumia and snapped, "You're being naive.

Countless eyes witnessed US being teleported away. If we fail to explain to Yaquis and Nando, we'll get in trouble."

Princess Lumia retorted, "Then are we going to be ungrateful? Even if you're able to do it, I could never stoop so low."

Wayra's glare sharpened as he shot back at her remark, "What are you implying? Are you questioning my character? Do you really think I would do such a thing?"

Matias snorted, "Tempestara has always been one to put interest above all else. With Tai Chi's rewards so close within reach, you must be so eager to kill Forty-nine."

Wayra gestured vehemently as he bellowed, "Nonsense! Tai Chi doesn't even acknowledge any other sect apart from the Timaeus Sect and Yaquis Sect. Even if we eliminate Forty-nine, we won't be able to gain Tai Chi's favor. We'd be just benefiting the others. Do you two take me for a fool?"

As they argued amongst themselves, James wore a smirk.

Wayra interrupted angrily, "Enough! As long as you two have the guts to bear the consequences, I have nothing to be afraid of either!"

Immediately afterward, Wayra turned to James and urged, "Leave immediately, Forty-nine! We've repaid our debt." James steadied himself and slowly rose to his feet. Then, he reminded, "Are you sure? If you kill me, not only will you elevate your status, but you'll also gain greater strength. Don't you three want to enter the Daeclon Rank?"

Princess Lumia snapped at him, "Are you insane? Do you really want to be reduced to ashes?" "Who wouldn't want to reach the Daeclon Rank? However, I'd rather walk a path of righteousness. If I become ungrateful, then so what if I enter the Daeclon Rank? What sets me apart from a wretched person?" Matias gritted his teeth, and his resolve was evident.

"Leave! The longer you stay here, the greater the danger we face. Remember, from this moment on, we owe you nothing." Wayra also clenched his teeth.

Upon hearing the unwavering determination in their voices, James' expression softened. He took a few steps, stumbling his way. He cast another glance at them and said, "I'm really leaving now. You three have missed out on a great opportunity."

James treated upon the void. After a few steps, he came to an abrupt stop and asked, "Have you truly considered the consequences?"

Wayra, Princess Lumia, and Matias were stunned.

“Leave, or else we might change our minds!” Matias thundered, his tone resolute.

James cast one final glance at them, nodded then gradually faded into the void.

Matias and Princess Lumia finally released a long-held breath, collapsing into the void with a heavy thud.

“Were you two injured?” Wayra inquired urgently.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6529-“Nonsense. Who’s injured? “We just missed out on a chance to reach the Daeclon Rank.

We’re just trying to come to terms with it,” Princess Lumia retorted, her eyes flashing with irritation.

“Sigh! Why did the Dark World’s Demon have to be Forty-nine? Why couldn’t it have been Yaquis or Nando instead?” Matias shook his head frustratedly.

Hearing their exchange, Wayra settled to the ground and snorted contemptuously, “Weren’t you two the ones so set on letting him go? Are you regretting it already?”

Matias rolled his eyes, and replied, “I simply can’t bring myself to be someone with ingratitude. My Grand Patriarch warned me that if I did something like that, even if I were to reach the Daeclon Rank, I would never reach the Daeclon Mahayana Rank.”

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Wayra scoffed, “That’s absurd. Then, how did someone so wicked like Yaquis surpass us in cultivation?” ‘You’re so clueless. Before the Daeclon Rank, one has to rely on talent and luck. However, after entering the Daeclon Rank, one’s past deeds will play a great part and one will have to confront past misdeeds. Even a peerless powerhouse won’t be able to overcome a deed like ingratitude. No matter how many times they undergo reincarnation, reaching the Daeclon Rank’s Daeclon Mahayana Rank.”

Wayra snorted, "I get it. You two didn't really want to let him go, but are just afraid of hindering your path to reaching the Daeclon Mahayana Rank."

Matias and Princess Lumia exchanged a glance, choosing not to argue with Wayra.

Suddenly, Wayra urged, "Alright, time to get up. Our troops are still awaiting our return. We have to quickly erase their memories, otherwise, our sects will be wiped out if what happened just now is discovered."

With his prompting, Princess Lumia and Matias rose to their feet.

They attempted to leave but crashed into an invisible barrier and rebounded backward.

Princess Lumia had a bewildered expression as she gasped, "Where the hell did Forty-nine teleport US to? Why is there a barrier here?" "Let me try again." Wayra extended his hand and summoned his Genesis.

Then, he charged toward the barrier.

With a resounding thud, he was knocked away once more.

"Are you alright?" Matias supported Wayra, confusion etched on his face.

"Fuck off. I'm fine." Wayra spat out a mouthful of blood, then promptly sat in a lotus position to heal his wounds.

Princess Lumia and Matias were taken aback after seeing Wayra severely injured from slamming into the barrier.

"What's happening? Forty-nine is only at the Fifth Quasi Daeclon Rank. How could he trap US here?" Princess Lumia was anxious.

"Are we doomed to be imprisoned here forever?" Matias also expressed his concern.

Suddenly, a disembodied, commanding voice echoed from the void, "You three are noble and righteous people who can't be ensnared by temptation, so why are you trapped?"

Princess Lumia and Matias turned towards the source simultaneously, their expressions filled with astonishment.

“Isn’t that Forty-nine’s voice?” Princess Lumia exclaimed, her hand covering her mouth in shock.

“But didn’t he already leave? Why can we still hear him?” Matias’ eyes widened.

Wayra, who was healing his wounds, said with furrowed brows, “He played us.”

“He played US?” Princess Lumia and Matias repeated in disbelief.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6530-In the void ahead, James who had supposedly left with grave injuries, returned in his Ultimate Golden Form. He was surrounded by mysterious powers in shades of grey, black and white, illuminating the area.

Countless grey clouds drifted around, accompanied by the lingering chime of bells, flashes of lightning, rolls of thunder, blazing flames, and howling winds, casting an imposing and overwhelming aura.

Princess Lumia, Matias, and Wayra suddenly felt an overpowering pressure wash over them, instantly shattering their Genesis Divine Light.

While still shocked, they were forced to their knees by the force and were completely unable to resist.

At that moment, they knew what true terror and despair in the face of a formidable opponent felt like. Whatever thoughts of fighting back or even self-destruction were shattered in his presence.

Their Genesis and Historial Powers were swiftly sealed, leaving them helpless and trapped within the space.

Within seconds, their cheeks flushed under the oppressive pressure, their bodies contorting in agony.

Just as they teetered on the brink of death the overwhelming force suddenly vanished and the space returned to serenity.

The trio felt utterly drained, and collapsed to the ground one after another, gasping for air as sweat trickled down their faces.

“The magnitude of that Qrohm is terrifying,” Wayra muttered, his expression filled with despair.

Princess Lumia spoke, her voice trembling with horror, “At the very least, he’s at the Xaeclon Rank, isn’t he?” “This is pathetic, absurd, infuriating, and tragic. You’re really unpredictable, Forty-nine,” Matias muttered in defeat with his head lowered.

At that moment, the harsh truth dawned upon the trio.

They had believed that their combined efforts had triumphed over James, the formidable demon. They felt it was a great achievement in their cultivation journey. Letting James go was merely a gesture to avoid the repercussions and calamity of ingratitude.

However, it became apparent that they had not defeated James at all.

Instead, he had duped them with a facade of vulnerability and fooled them, only to reveal his true power when it suited him.

This revelation shattered their confidence and dealt a devastating blow to their spirits.

After a prolonged silence, Wayra shouted, “You could have ended US easily, so why subject US to this humiliation, Forty-nine?”

Princess Lumia came to her senses and snarled, “I regarded you as a hero, but now...” “Then what would you have me do instead?” a domineering voice interjected abruptly, cutting off Princess Lumia’s words.

The trio turned around, completely baffled to see James already standing behind them.

James frowned upon seeing their wary expressions. He clasped his hands behind his back and said, “We’re acquainted and even fought side by side before. Should I have killed you three instantly, leaving you utterly clueless about how you met your demise?”

Upon hearing James’ words, a silent exchange of gazes passed between the trio.

Then, Wayra abruptly stood up and said, “Even so, you shouldn’t have toyed with us.”

Princess Lumia chimed in, expressing her anger, “Exactly. Even though we’re ants in front of you right now, there’s no need to mock US.” “That’s enough,” Matias interrupted, breaking the tension as he stood. “He was testing US to see if we would stay true to our morals even in the face of substantial gains.”