

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6681-“Exactly!” The sloppy, chubby old man smirked devilishly. “We’ve encountered our fair share of beautiful ladies, but we haven’t toyed with a true goddess yet.”

“Oh, what a delightful prospect being intimate with the Yin governor.” The monkey-cheeked man laughed. “Eldest brother, second brother, won’t you give us a chance?”

The sloppy old man grinned mischievously and said, “Why not reward us with the Yin governor? I’ll take her on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Who knows, we might just achieve the Daeclon Rank after sleeping with her.”

Listening to the lewd words of the two sleazy living beings, a middle-aged living being with red hair and a sturdy build revealed a sinister expression.

Meanwhile, another male living being in a white robe spoke up, “I must say, Sheamus and Simeon, you two are truly despicable. Even if the Yin governor is stunning, she’s pregnant. How could you even think of being intimate with her?”

The monkey-cheeked man laughed. “That’s simple. We’ll eat her baby.”

The chubby old man nodded vigorously. “Exactly! I haven’t tasted an infant in ages. That’s a true delicacy.”

Suddenly, the red-haired man spoke up, “Outrageous!” His voice immediately silenced Sheamus and Simeon.

“We’re now living beings with Ousia,” he said coldly. “Acts of such depravity should be avoided in the future.”

Hearing this, Sheamus and Simeon immediately shrunk back.

The refined man smiled at the red-haired man. “Eldest brother, Sheamus and Simeon have their ways. Since they have their eyes on the Yin governor, let’s just reward them. As for the baby in her womb, I agree with you. We’ll help her terminate it. From then on, she’ll live with them.”

Sheamus and Simeon's eyes lit up when they heard this, and they both looked at the red-haired man.

"Please don't do that, eldest brother!" Javier hurriedly protested. "One can be killed but not humiliated. After all, the Yin governor is a heroine. She has treated us kindly before. Please spare her life if she's willing to step back."

"Javier, are we brothers?" The sloppy old man, Simeon, shouted, "Why are you siding with the enemy?"

The monkey-cheeked man, Sheamus, also shouted angrily, "Exactly, Javier! Destroying what brings joy to others is akin to snuffing out lives."

Javier ignored them. Then, he approached the red-haired man and whispered a few words. After listening, the red-haired man raised his head, showing a meaningful expression.

"A few scoundrels like you dare to insult me?" Suddenly, the beautiful pregnant woman in the distance stood up. "If I weren't pregnant, you'd be nothing but ants."

The red-haired man frowned. "Yin governor, who is your husband?"

"Someone you can't afford to provoke." The pregnant woman proudly raised her head and wiped the blood from the corner of her mouth fiercely.

At this statement, the red-haired man clenched his fists slowly. "You're severely injured, yet you remain so arrogant?"

"Save your breath," the pregnant woman said coldly, "I won't allow you to humiliate me, even if I decide to self-destruct today. However, I must remind you, my man will never let you go if I take any drastic action. He will have deep seated hatred with Zymurgy, and even the Great Historial Land. At that time, it won't be just a catastrophe. It'll be the destruction of Path itself. All of you will perish alongside me."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6682-After a while, Sheamus and Simeon emerged. They laughed mockingly at the same time.

“Little beauty, you sure know how to scare people, but we weren’t raised on fear,” said Sheamus.”

Simeon chimed in, saying, “Yeah, we were entrusted with guarding the Great Historial Land. Even the supreme beings of Zymurgy don’t intimidate us. Do you think we’d fear your husband?”

The refined man glanced at the red-haired man. “Eldest brother, don’t let her intimidate you. We’re under the jurisdiction of the Great Historial Land. Even Zymurgy holds no power over US.”

The red-haired man snorted in response to the provocations of the other living beings. “Don’t threaten US, Yin governor. We’re gods in this realm.”

Seeing that she could not intimidate this group of insane living beings, the exquisitely beautiful pregnant woman understood trouble was brewing. Without hesitation, she took the initiative and unleashed a terrifying purplish-black force, manifesting countless palm prints that swept toward them.

Then, she seized the opportunity to swiftly slip away. However, what she never expected was that she was struck from behind by a purple light sword just as she darted away. She crashed down to the ground with a loud thud.

“Are you trying to run? We’ve been onto you for a while.” Yesenia appeared in front of the woman, her foot pressing down on the woman’s arm, while a dazzling longsword pointed at her throat. Faced with this scene, a hint of helplessness flashed across the woman’s face. Then, she slowly closed her eyes.

“Yin governor, aren’t you being condescending?” Yesenia sneered. “You believed yourself to be unrivaled, boasting of being the most beautiful woman in all realms? Look at you now, where’s your beauty?” As she spoke, Yesenia stomped on the woman’s arm with force, causing it to break with a sickening crack. The woman did not utter a sound even with the excruciating pain.

“Hahaha!” Yesenia burst into wild laughter. “You probably never thought that I would crush you underfoot one day, did you? Brother, I’ll avenge you. Today, I’ll torture this hateful woman alive, make her regret laying hands on you.”

With that, she thrust her sword towards the woman’s shoulder. However, the woman’s other hand viciously grabbed the sword’s blade, blood spurting from her hand.

“You dare to resist?” Yesenia roared furiously as if possessed. “Then die!” As she spoke, her other hand descended on the sword hilt, and immediately both hands erupted with a powerful purple light. In that instant, the woman revealed a sinister smile. The next moment, her broken arm suddenly moved and grabbed Yesenia’s ankle from behind, lifting her forcefully.

“You dare...” Yesenia’s words were cut short as the woman soared into the air, releasing her grip on the sword. With both hands grabbing Yesenia’s feet, she lifted her above her head.

“You mere ants dare to humiliate me?” With a stern roar, the woman pulled with all her might. Accompanied by a crack, Yesenia was torn apart from her feet by a powerful force.

“Die!” With another roar, the woman soared again, her hands emanating terrifying purplish-black energy, like two sharp swords, slashing the shredded body of Yesenia into pieces in the void. In an instant, countless fragments of Yesenia’s flesh and blood filled the sky, a terrifying sight to behold. This scene happened so quickly that even the red-haired man and the others had not reacted yet, and Yesenia was completely slain.

As they watched the sky fill with blood and flesh, Javier was the first to come to his senses. He yelled angrily, “Yesenia!”

With his shout, the red-haired man and the others finally snapped out of it. They rushed towards the woman in the void. However, they found nothing as the woman had exhausted her strength and collapsed to the ground after dismembering Yesenia.

“Damn it!” The red-haired man roared in anger. He swiftly landed with several living beings and surrounded the woman from all sides.

The woman lay calmly on the ground, revealing a charming yet eerie smile as her beautiful eyes gazed at the sky filled with blood and flesh. “Killing one is enough to repay, but I killed three in one go. Eight brothers were in the Path Pavilion, and now three of them are gone.

“Darling, I’ll leave the rest to you. I believe you can handle the remaining five.

After all, you’re a man. You should be stronger than me.

"It's just a pity, I couldn't keep our baby. I wanted to rely on my own strength to ascend to the Great Historial Land, so that our baby would be born with transcendent potential..."

"Never mind. I'll let you take care of the rest. For me, for our baby, you should ascend to the Daeclon Rank, destroy Tai Chi, overturn Zymurgy, rule the Great Historial Land, and achieve greatness. Hahaha!"

Listening to the woman's maniacal laughter, the living beings surrounding her were astonished. They never thought that someone as esteemed as the Yin governor would be paving the way for someone else. They wondered just how terrifying the person she was paving the way for could be.

"Kill her to avenge Yesenia and the seventh and eighth brothers," the refined man commanded.

"We can't kill her!" Javier shouted again. "Eldest brother, we must consider this matter carefully-" "To hell with considering!" the red-haired man erupted in rage.

"I don't care who her man is. She dared to kill my brothers. She'll pay with her life today..." He suddenly raised his palm, which contained a majestic Crepe Myrtle Energy.

In that instant, the entire realm trembled. Accompanied by howling winds, the void cracked. "Whoever dares to kill my wife and child, I'll wipe out their eighteen generations of ancestors!" With a roar, a tri-colored force of gray, black, and white came crashing down from the void.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6683-The red-haired man and the others instinctively looked up. They saw a magnificent bell shimmering with holy light in the void descending until it hung directly above their heads, then slowly stopped rotating. The colorful light emanating from it immediately enveloped them completely.

Under the terrifying colorful light, even they, as strong as the Ninth Xaeclon Rank, had their faces drastically changed. They hurriedly shielded their eyes with their hands.

"W-what is that?" "I-it looks like a giant bell?" "This power is terrifying. I feel like my strength is being suppressed.” “It can’t be. There couldn’t possibly be such a terrifying power in this world.” “Hurry, grab the Yin governor! Don’t let her escape with her tricks.” With the cries and clamor of Xian and the others, they attacked the woman surrounded in the circle. What shocked them even more was that the woman was enveloped in the colorful light of the bell. A transparent ovalshaped aura formed around her periphery, causing the force of their attacks to rebound immediately.

Amid the booming explosions, Xian and the others, who were hit by the backlash, were simultaneously sent flying back thousands of meters. They were panicked and confused after stabilizing themselves.

“H-how is this possible?” The refined man was shocked and his eyes widened.

“A bell blocked our combined attack?” “Let’s not worry about the bell for now,” the leading red-haired man snapped. “Everyone, let’s use all our strength to kill the Yin governor first.”

With that, he led the charge with a majestic golden-purple power, swiftly attacking the woman. The other powerhouses in different positions immediately launched attacks on the woman at the same time. Just as they converged and launched their attacks, a figure surrounded by colorful light descended from the void at the moment they landed. The figure carried terrifying power and crashed down like lightning.

Boom! Countless majestic black powers suddenly spread out under the thunderous roar that shook the realm, causing Xian and the others, who had just rushed up, to be quickly shaken away.

Sheamus and Simeon crashed into the mountain behind them from the impact of this terrifying force. Then, they fell to the ground with a thud, spewing out large amounts of blood while sprawled out.

“W-what terrifying strength is this?” Simeon exclaimed with horror. Then, his head drooped, and he showed no sign of life.

Sheamus also spat out blood from his mouth and trembled all over. “We can’t afford to provoke this woman. She is too ruthless... ack!”

As he spoke, his head drooped as well and he immediately lost consciousness.

On the other side, Javier and the refined man joined forces to barely withstand the spread of the terrifying black power during their retreat. However, they also spat out blood, their hair disheveled, and they suffered severe injuries.

The red-haired man was the strongest. Although he was also sent flying, he relied on the vigorous Amethyst-Gold Power to protect himself, retreating into the void and stabilizing his figure.

In shock, they looked again at the place where the woman was, only to find that there was an additional figure. A handsome young man with long flowing hair, dressed in black robes, surrounded by a shining purple-black light appeared.

The terrifying black power that had sent them flying just now came from this person.

“Who is he, and why does he have such powerful strength? He doesn’t seem like a Daeclon Rank powerhouse.” The refined man hurriedly transmitted his voice to several other powerhouses, “He seems to be at the Ninth Xaeclon Rank, just like US.” “No, the power he just displayed is very familiar,” Javier’s voice trembled as he transmitted his voice, “Yes, that’s right. It’s Yianni’s Marciais Power.”

Hearing the words “Marciais Power”, Xian and the others were instantly shocked.

Looking at James on the ground, the tightly clenched fists contained the Marciais Power. At this moment, his anger had risen to its peak.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6684-In the face of such a terrifying aura, the refined man’s cheeks convulsed. “Brat, don’t get too cocky. You might be at the Ninth Xaeclon Rank, but so are we.

Thinking you can dictate how we meet our end, you’re not qualified...”

James executed the Terrastride Step and appeared instantly in front of him before he could finish his sentence. He was so swift that they could not react in time.

Roar! A thunderous roar erupted as James' hand, infused with the Marciais Power, firmly grasped the refined man's throat, forcibly lifting him. "Even the Ninth Xaeclon Rank powerhouses can't save you, trash."

James' other hand surged with terrifying Marciais Power, swiftly transforming into a roaring tiger that pounced upon the refined man's head.

Boom! With a deafening roar, the man's head was instantly blown apart, blood spraying everywhere, a gruesome sight to behold. The horrific scene shook everyone to their core, especially the red-haired man, who though near, was now dumbfounded. His eyes filled with disbelief.

Javier was smart, he immediately distanced himself from James as soon as he regained his senses like he had anticipated everything.

On the ground, Lady Herodias could not help but inhale sharply. "T-this child just killed a Ninth Xaeclon Rank powerhouse in one move, and with such brutality.

Could he be possessed?"

"He has already fused with Yianni's Marciais Soul. Only a few below the Daeclon Rank can match him," said Yegor, hands behind his back. "And as for brutality, were their actions towards the Yin governor merciful? The Yin governor is like a sore spot for James. Anyone who touches his wife is pushing him to unleash his wrath."

Lady Herodias felt a chill down her spine. She looked down at the protected Thea. "Your husband is indeed an oddity. He usually keeps a low profile, but once he goes berserk, even gods and demons fear him."

"His potential goes far beyond that," Thea replied weakly. "I'm proud to be his wife."

"Look at you two, like a pair of star-crossed lovers." Lady Herodias sighed. "I hope you never have to part again."

In the void, James flipped his palm and tossed the headless body of the refined man to the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. “Lesia, I’ll leave him to you. Absorb everything of him until there’s nothing left.”

In the next moment, the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, enveloping the realm, immediately devoured the body of the refined man. It started to absorb his power madly. Following that, a dazzling purple Soul Energy Ball appeared in James’ bloody hand.

“Y-You...” The red-haired man panicked at the sight. “No... Leave him a chance to reincarnate... No...”

With his hysterical roar, James crushed the refined man’s Soul Energy Ball without hesitation. He never showed mercy towards enemies, especially those who dared to insult his wife.

“Second brother!” the red-haired man roared with grief and indignation. “You dare to be so cruel and scatter his soul. I won’t forgive you.” As he spoke, he erupted with a terrifying golden-purple light, his aura suddenly rising several levels in an instant.

Facing the rapidly approaching terrifying aura, James casually summoned forth a palm. Accompanied by a phoenix cry, a gigantic phoenix manifested by the Marciais Combat Form clashed head-on with the terrifying aura.