

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6804

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6804-Zeux on the ground turned his head towards the void.

“What’s wrong?” Beatrice looked at him.

Taking a deep breath, Zeux glanced at the other three supreme beings who had already left before calmly stating, “He’s matured and learned to endure hardships.”

Upon hearing this, Beatrice looked towards the void where James had been just moments ago, a hint of admiration flashing in her eyes.

“Both of our cultivation bases are the highest here,” Zeux said leisurely with his hands behind his back.

“You’ve noticed too.”

Beatrice sighed lightly, “It would have been easier if he didn’t intervene. If he does, then we’re really in trouble.”

“I’m Yianni’s brother, and you’re Harper’s confidante.” Zeux fixed his gaze on Beatrice. “We should lend him a hand. I believe in him.”

Beatrice shrugged and smiled. “He ran off with my disciple. I’ll have to settle the score with him.”

“You needn’t worry about that.” Zeux smiled faintly. “He’s not one to be swayed by beauty. He might even bring greater opportunities to your disciple.”

Beatrice chuckled. “I truly hope he’s swayed by beauty.”

With that, she entered Tai Chi Grand Temple.

Zeux was taken aback. “What’s gotten into you? If your disciple is in trouble, my disciple isn’t faring any better.”

Then, he followed suit and entered the temple.

At this moment, under the guidance of Adina, James had not spoken a word all along the way until he suddenly stopped in front of an immensely colossal black and-white gas.

“This is it.” Adina turned to James. “This is Kronosia Realm.”

“Kronosia Realm.” James stared intently at the black and white gas. “Adina, have you been inside?”

Adina hesitated for a moment before shaking her head hastily. “Of course not.”

James narrowed his eyes into slits. “Then how can you be sure that Light Heavenly Path and Abelard are trapped inside?”

Adina appeared somewhat flustered. “Master, you’ve forgotten. It was Clayton who instructed me to inform you.”

As she spoke, she spread out her hand, revealing a dazzling energy ball. “This is also something Clayton instructed me to give you. He said that you can open the entrance to Kronosia Realm as long as you place this into the adjacent slot.”

Taking the energy ball handed by Adina, James examined it carefully in his hand. This energy ball was distinct in black and white. It was rich in Yin-Yang Aura, brimming with boundless power.

“Master, this is the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl,” Lesia transmitted. “It was left behind after the fall of the previous Tai Chi. You must keep it safe and not let anyone take it away.”

James smiled at Adina. “Clayton instructed you to hand over such a divine object to me. Did you really hand it over?”

“I’m your slave forever.” Adina hurriedly lowered her head. “Master, time is of the essence. Please enter Kronosia Realm quickly.”

Upon hearing her urging, James smiled faintly, then retracted the energy ball and reached out towards the black and white gas.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6805-Boom! A sudden loud sound echoed. The illusory giant hand that James had reached out with was immediately rebounded by a mysterious force, causing him to stagger back dozens of steps with a series of thuds.

“This power is formidable.” James steadied himself and transmitted his voice to Lesia. “I’ve never encountered anything like this since I embarked on the path of cultivation. It must be the power of the previous Tai Chi, right?”

“Yes!” Lesia replied, “Master, it’s best not to reveal the Terrastride Step that disregards formations and restrictions. That’s the bottom line.”

James squinted and fell silent.

Right then, Adina hurriedly rushed over. “Master, are you alright?”

James shook his head.

Adina sighed helplessly. “Clayton said we must embed that pearl into the groove to open the entrance of Kronosia Realm, but you don’t trust me.” She then lowered her head with some anger. “Since you don’t trust me, I won’t go in either. I’ll be outside to keep watch for you.”

Then, she turned to leave.

Watching her graceful figure, a strange smile tugged at the corner of James’ mouth. “Oh, don’t be mad.

I just wanted to test this power.”

Just as Adina had taken a few steps away, she immediately turned back.

“Master, if you’re really that worried, I can go in first to test its reality after opening the entrance—”

Before she could finish her sentence, James interrupted her with the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl he had taken out.

“This...” Adina was stunned.

“You go open the door,” James chuckled. “Does that count as trust?”

After a moment of hesitation, Adina solemnly took the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl and dashed to the black and white gas. As she placed the pearl into one of the grooves, the gas suddenly erupted with dazzling black and white light. In the next moment, two portals, one black and one white, swung open, and countless vast Chaos Essences surged out from within.

Seizing the opportunity, Adina shouted, "Master, rush in hurriedly! Time is limited!"

Hearing this, James frowned.

"Let her go first!" Lesia reminded him.

James did not say a word but transformed into a decachrome light and rushed directly into the portals. In the blink of an eye, James appeared in another world.

This world was murky and chaotic. However, the countless Chaos Essences surging from all directions made him tremble. In the next moment, lightning and thunder suddenly flashed across the murky sky, countless black and white lightning bolts descending rapidly, enveloping James in an instant.

"The Thunderbolt Tribulation?" James looked at the swirling lightning and thunder entwining around him, his brow furrowing involuntarily. The next moment, this lightning suddenly corroded his Ultimate Golden Body, causing cracks and blood to gush wherever it touched.

With a cry of pain, James erupted with dazzling decachrome lights, immediately shattering the lightning bolts. In the void, as lightning flashed and thunder roared, even more ferocious lightning descended from the sky.

This time, James did not passively endure the strikes. With a lift of his hand, he summoned the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, which transformed into a huge umbrella of purple and gold, surrounded by six rings of purple and gold light. It rapidly spun to block all the lightning bolts descending from the sky.

As countless lightning bolts washed over it, the umbrella formed by the bell erupted with a dazzling purple and gold light. The original six rings of purple and gold light suddenly expanded to seven, eight, and all the way to the ninth ring before abruptly stopping.

"The Yuraeceon Genesis Bell has evolved again?" James asked in shock.

As her words fell, the umbrella formed by the rapidly spinning Yuraeceon Genesis Bell in the void suddenly began to expand outward, absorbing and devouring countless Chaos Yin-Yang Tribulations and Chaos Essences from all directions. Once again, it erupted with a dazzling ten-ring purple light.
