

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6831-Suddenly, Zemra erupted with a dazzling display of lights across the dark void instantly illuminating the surroundings.

Chuba said resignedly, "The Qreiyll Sword God truly loves a good fight. Give it your all, James. It's quite a great chance for you to have encountered, the same goes for US."

After speaking, he transformed into a streak of light and ascended into the sky.

The two old men positioned themselves, one to the left and the other to the right.

James reached for the two wine jugs on the table and instantly gulped them.

Now, more than ever, he needed to test his skills against powerful opponents to gauge the full extent of his abilities after successfully integrating the Three Treasures.

Zemra encouraged, "Let's see what you've got, James."

James leaped into the void, distinct from the vibrant display of the elders. Unlike his opponent's dazzling display of light, he stood still, like a motionless mountain. He seemed undisturbed, serene, and seemingly detached from the situation.

Zemra extended his arms, and the air around him suddenly burst out with dazzling Sword Lights, darting straight at James.

Chuma flipped his hand, and countless palms materialized on both sides of James, darting toward him.

The two old men unleashed their Supernatural Powers, leaving no apparent escape.

However, James showed no signs of evading, neither did he flinch. He hovered in the void, extended his arm, and clenched his hands into a palm. At that moment, the myriad of attacks were halted in their tracks.

A transparent force emerged from James' body, capturing the Sword Lights and palm attacks, reshaping them into two lotuses. Immediately afterward, he darted over and stood over them.

Chuba and Zemra intensified their attacks, closing in on him from two different directions.

Despite the onslaught, James remained composed. He raised his hand, blocked Chuba's palm attack, and then caught Zemra's Sword Light.

"If you like it so much, have it," Zemra roared, then his Sword Light exploded.

He leaped into the sky and unleashed a series of attacks. Although he no longer had a sword, his attacks were exquisite and flawless.

James was very calm in the face of their fast attacks.

At that moment, Chuba burst out with brilliant lights. He immediately broke free and launched hundreds of thousands of rapid palm attacks at James.

James fought one against two, slowly retreating with the lotuses around him. He remained as graceful and elegant as ever, allowing the two old men to attack as they pleased.

Amid the dim expanse of the Gate of Wonders, a spectacular chaos unfolded. A whirlwind of light rays swept across the void, painting the darkness with vibrant hues. Sword Energies cut through the air, while palm prints flickered, each impact reverberating loudly. The entire sky shifted in color, morphing under the immense force of the battle. Countless forms of Innate Energy and mysterious powers danced wildly, clashing and intertwining.

Boom!

Boom!

With two thunderous crashes, James clashed with the two old men once again.

Chuba and Zemra were simultaneously knocked away. Meanwhile, James merely took a couple of steps backward. He remained steady above the two lotuses.

Zemra roared, "Why are you only defending and not attacking? Are you underestimating US?"

Chuba also shouted, "We're going all out because we respect you. We hope you return the respect."

James flicked his wrist and calmly summoned a transparent long sword. He responded, "Since you two think so highly of me, I'll stop holding back."

After speaking, James charged forward with his sword. Shortly after, explosions rocked the Gate of Wonders, causing tremors to spread. The Innate Energy and mysterious powers around the area swiftly collapsed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6832-Confronted with James' attacks, Zemra and Chub found themselves powerless to defend against it. Out of desperation, they transformed into colorful light rays and dodged in different directions.

Moments later, explosions erupted in the space they had just left, violently shaking the Gate of Wonders. Lightning flashed, thunder roared, and the surrounding energies churned.

Witnessing the terrifying spectacle, Chuba and Zemra exchanged a glance.

is this the strength you obtain after integrating the Three Treasures?

That's insane."

"Impossible. His cultivation rank is much lower than ours. Even though he integrated the Three Treasures, we may still win."

After speaking, Zemra stretched out his hand and instantly summoned twelve clones, lining up with his main body.

Chuba laughed, "Let US show you the strength of powerhouses that have killed countless beings at the Soma Daeclon Rank!" After speaking, he also summoned eleven clones that aligned with Zemra's clones.

The clones attacked simultaneously. Their attacks caused flickers of light to spread across the sky, seemingly leaving James no chance to fight back.

Despite the circumstances, James did not retreat. Surprisingly, he charged straight at the Sword Lights and palm attacks, stomping on them, he quickly approached the clones.

As he passed, the Sword Lights and palm attacks would explode.

Chuba and Zemra were incredibly startled.

James made his way to the clones but was instantly surrounded. Faced with their relentless attacks, he calmly counterattacked.

His movements were light and precise, drawing countless afterimages in the sky.

As he took action, the clones were knocked away one after another.

Chuba and Zemra were briefly overwhelmed by the sight and unable to react.

However, moments later, they immediately realized their grave situation. With every injured clone, they suffered a backlash and had to quickly retract their clones.

"I'm sorry!" James roared, then struck the final clone.

After finishing off the clones, he leaped into the sky.

Chuba and Zemra coughed up blood from the repeated backlash sustained from their injuries clones. However, they did not stop to recover and immediately transformed into light rays, shooting at James.

Boom! Boom!

Terrifying explosions ensued as the light rays clashed with James. The Gate of Wonders trembled, and cracks formed throughout the space.

Zemra waved his band, and a divine light swept the area, forming a huge Sword Formation around James. He swiftly unleashed several more Sword Energies, forcing James to retreat.

At the same time, Chuba created a Jacinth Blossom Formation outside the Sword Formation. Then, he joined Zemra in a coordinated attack on James.

Faced with their relentless onslaught, James took defense and only attacked when the opportunity arose.

Their attacks caused a chaotic spectacle throughout the Gate of Wonders, with various Supernatural Powers cast throughout the sky.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6833-It was an intense showdown between the three. They were evenly matched, making it hard to decide on an outcome.

Zemra shouted, "If you don't attack, we might kill you."

Unlike Zemra, Chuba spoke using his actions. He transformed into a colorful light, immediately multiplied into a storm, and headed straight for James.

James, besieged by their attacks, suddenly spread out his arms. Then, a giant lotus instantly engulfed the two formations.

Booming explosions followed, causing the surroundings to shake. A destructive force emerged, and the cracks in the Gate of Wonders began to spread.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Under another series of continuous earth-shattering explosions, countless multicolored light rays and Sword Lights shot out from the colossal lotus.

Tremors continued to permeate the Gate of Wonders, causing destruction everywhere.

The lotus suddenly bloomed, and the three could be seen within it. Strangely, they seemed to have been frozen in place. James' palm was on Zemra's forehead, and his other palm was on Chuba's chest.

Soon after, the ground shook, and thunder roared. The Innate Energy and mysterious powers around them rampaged wildly, knocking Zemra and Chuba away.

Zemra and Chuba stabilized themselves with all their strength and spat out blood. Their hair was messy, and their bodies were battered, presenting a dire sight.

Meanwhile, James looked at his own hands in awe. Although he could not spot any energy, he felt filled with an overwhelming fighting spirit.

After spitting out the mouth in his blood, Chuba chuckled, "That was great! So this is the true strength of someone who has integrated the Three Treasures!

Even though your cultivation rank is nothing impressive and you can't fully utilize your full potential, you'll still be able to dominate the Greater Realms."

Zemra laughed. 'To have battled an opponent that has integrated the Three Treasures in this lifetime, I now have no regrets. You're indeed an unparalleled powerhouse of this era. Congratulations, James.'" James turned to the two and saw them suddenly cough up more blood. Seeing they were about to fall from the sky, he quickly summoned a transparent force to pull them to the giant lotus where he was.

Worried, he asked, "Are you two alright?"

Chuba laughed, sat in a lotus position, and replied, "It's just some blood, no big deal! You're so strong! From now on, you'll be able to make those hypocrites tremble in fear!"

Zemra also sat down, looked at James, and said, "Indeed. It's finally time the young surpassed US. However, you still haven't fully mastered your powers. You need more practice."

Chuba looked at Zemra and said, "It's time we give it to him. At least we can repay Frona's favor before we're gone."

Zemra nodded and said, "Yeah. After this, we'd have repaid all our debts!"

James looked at them in confusion. 'Favor? Debts? Are these two old men really about to die?' He said hurriedly, "Let me teach you the chant to integrate the Three Treasures.

While there's time, you should try it once more..."

Zemra interrupted him and said smilingly, "It's no use anymore. You, young man, possess very extraordinary strength. Yet, you're humble and show no arrogance. It's really rare."

Chuba rolled his eyes at Zemra and said, "Yeah, unlike someone."

After speaking, Chuba flipped his palm, and a colorful light spread out.

At the same time, Zemra unleashed countless Sword Lights into the surroundings.

James watched in surprise.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6834-The next moment, the multicolored light rays and tens of thousands of divine swords had spread out in the Gate of Wonders. Amidst the rampant Innate Energies and mysterious powers, they pulled back hundreds of light orbs.

"Here you go, James," Chuba shouted, sending the light orbs into James' body.

After briefly being stunned, James was enveloped by numerous colored light orbs. Then, starting from his feet, his naked body was gradually transformed into his golden body.

Then, his arms also changed into the Nether Demonic Sword and Judgment Scythe.

James exclaimed, "My Ultimate Golden Body? It's back?"

Zemra's divine swords also swept up dozens of light orbs, implanting them into James'Ultimate Golden Body.

Soon, James suddenly felt his soul storage return, including everything inside them.

"Master!"

“Master!”

The two sudden cries startled James.

He looked up and saw a stunning woman and handsome man before him.

Hemera and Fennec also seemed to have transformed after being baptized by the Chaos Storm’s Innate Energy. Now, they had reached the Yitro Daeclon Rank.

“Master, we’ve been reborn!”

Hemera was about to hug James but was stopped by Fennec.

“You bastard!” Hemera scolded.

Fennec hugged James, turned around, and said, “Master is a man. How can a woman hug him? Aren’t you afraid Thea will kill you?” Hemera furiously kicked Fennec away, then darted after him.

Watching them fight in the void, James was dumbfounded. The sudden return of everything left him feeling so surreal.

Chuba said smilingly, “Alright. We’ve returned your stuff. Our debt is now repaid.”

Zemra stretched his body lazily and said, “Debt-free at last! Now, we can finally let go.”

James hurriedly asked, “Wait! What about the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell and Lesia? Why didn’t I get them back?”

Chuba and Zemra looked at each other, equally baffled.

James said with furrowed brows, “The Yuraeceon Genesis Bell was shattered, but Lesia must’ve collected their fragments. Where is she? Why hasn’t she shown up?”

After a moment, Chuba asked, “Everything you’ve brought into the Chaos Storm has been returned. We didn’t see Lesia or the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell you speak of.”

Zemra suggested, "You should check for yourself. Do it while the Gate of Wonders remains intact and the Innate Energy is still here. If your belongings are around, you should be able to sense them."

Without hesitation, James released his Zen to search the Gate of Wonders.

However, he found nothing.

He felt relieved but also slightly puzzled

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6835-Lesia was James' second body and was supposedly inseparable. Even if the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell was destroyed, she could restore it.

Fennec and Hemera had followed him into the Chaos Storm and reached the Yitro Daeclon Rank. He wondered why she had not come with him and if she had an unspeakable reason.

Suddenly, James remembered Lesia had a mysterious background. He clasped his hands at Chuba and Zemra.

"I have a question that I hope you can answer."

Zemra said smilingly, "I'm sure it's more than just one question. Cut straight to the chase. We'll answer before we perish."

After a brief pause, James inquired about Lesia's identity.

Naturally, James had to use Lesia's real name, Frona.

Chub and Zemra looked at each other in confusion after listening to James' story.

James pressed, "What's wrong? Do you two not know much about her?"

Zemra looked at James and replied, "We're just surprised. Frona has been with you for so long, but you don't even know who she is?"

James shrugged and said awkwardly, "We're comrades that share life and death. If it's something she doesn't want to speak about, I won't pry."

Zemra replied, "Since she doesn't want you to know, we can't tell you either. We'll answer your other questions."

James was slightly let down by the answer.

Chuba picked up his disappointment and encouraged, "You'll find out soon.

If she hasn't told you, then it's not time yet. We'd be overstepping if we told you now. Although the two of us are on the brink of death, we don't want to have any regrets."

"Will you two really perish?" James frowned.

Zemra said leisurely, "It's almost time for us. It was an honor to have fought a powerhouse like you before dying. I can go without regrets.

"Anyway, let's not dwell on the issue. Ask the questions you want."

James took a deep breath and asked, "With my current strength, can I sweep Zymurgy and destroy Tai Chi?"

Zemra and Chuba fell silent.

James asked with a frown, "Can't you even answer this?" Chuba stared at James and said, "We thought you'd ask about integrating the Five Spirits first. Surprisingly, you mentioned Yehria."

James fell silent.

Zemra answered, "Yehria is different from the supreme being. She's one of the primal evolutions but possesses the consciousness of a living being. She's the master of the Greater Realms and laws. She's the very foundation of Zymurgy."

Chuba explained, "I'll be honest with you. Even if you have the strength to kill her, you can't."

James asked doubtfully, "How can she be immortal if she hasn't integrated the Three Treasures? Moreover, she isn't even the naturally chosen Tai Chi. She stole the powers..."

Chuba interrupted, “She’s still the Tai Chi, after all. Unless you want to destroy the Greater Realms, ignore the life and death of billions of living beings.”

James snorted, “Can’t I just get someone new as Tai Chi?”

Zemra replied solemnly, “You can, but you must trigger the Tai Chi Tribulation.

Only the Yin governor can do so.”
