

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6872 - 6875

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6872-Suddenly, Thea pinched his earlobe and pulled hard.

“Ack!” James yelped.

“What were you looking at?” Thea asked in a low voice, “Should I strip myself so that you could compare US?”

“No! No!” James hurriedly waved his hands.

“You can punish her as much as you want since she’s your captive now. So, why don’t we discuss urgent matters first?” “Are there matters that are more urgent than you ogling Yehria and fantasizing about sex with her?” Thea raised her brows.

James knew he had to explain himself. He closed his eyes. “Honey, you can’t say that.

“I am a healthy, normal man. Wouldn’t it be abnormal if I didn’t look at beautiful women at all?”

Thea was rendered speechless by his response.

James grinned. “However, looking at beautiful women doesn’t mean that I will make a move on them.

“I am loyal to my wife. My heart is forever yours.”

Thea chuckled as she watched how James’ face suddenly became animated.

She lifted her hand and transferred Yehria to her storage space. Then, she let go of James’ ear.

James rubbed his earlobe and looked at Thea with teary eyes.

“Honey, can you perhaps try not to pull on the same ear every time? You can pinch my other ear sometimes.”

“Did I ruin your plans?” Thea snickered. “You can’t do a lot of things because I’m around, right?”

James flinched. He straightened himself and called aloud, “It’s been a long time since the last time you pinched my ear, Honey! I enjoy how it feels so much. It makes me want to make babies with you again! Let’s make a dozen of them!”

Thea laughed and punched him lightly on the shoulder. "Enough with the jokes.

So, what was it that you wanted to discuss with me?"

James relaxed his shoulders a little and asked, "Do you want her dead?"

Thea paused briefly. She knew very well who James was referring to even though he did not mention her name.

However, they had to make another difficult but necessary decision before they could remove the person permanently.

Thea could see the grim look on James' face. She dropped her gaze and turned around. 'You found her already?"

'Yes." James nodded. "If you want, we can..."

"Can you really bring yourself to do it?" Thea turned to face James again.

James' eyes widened. He was at a loss for words as they stared into each other's eyes.

"I know that you want to make me happy. You want to make sure I know that I am the one you care about the most."

Thea straightened James' robe and sighed. "I feel the same too. I want you to be happy.

"So, what's the point of making a decision that will only please me but make you unhappy?"

Thea shared her thoughts and dilemmas unreservedly.

Truthfully, she had not quite made up her mind regarding the matter.

She, the Dark Heavenly Path, was one with the Light Heavenly Path. They shared the same thoughts and feelings since they were essentially one person.

However, the two of them somehow developed their own consciousness. Each of them developed different feelings for James too.

If the two of them were to fuse, they could not say for sure whose feelings would be retained and whose would be lost.

"I will do as you say." James fixed his gaze on Thea. 'That's why I brought her here."

"I wouldn't have said what I just said if I already had an answer." Thea smiled bitterly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6873-James heaved a deep breath and looked up to the sky.

He knew Thea better than anyone else in the world. Her biggest concern was not about something measly like him not wanting to do this.

Instead, she was probably afraid of losing her current self after fusing with the Light Heavenly Path to become the Yin governor.

Whether it was her or the Light Heavenly Path, they were both forced to go through reincarnation.

Their emotions and desires were removed. They experienced various things while eventually becoming the Heavenly Paths again.

No one could tell what would happen if they were to fuse two people with different hearts and minds to make one again.

Moreover, the Yin governor was born an Alcide being.

According to Emperor Yarden's theories, the returned Yin governor would lose all her past consciousness.

In that case, James might lose Thea for good once she became the Yin governor.

It was the outcome both James and Thea feared the most.

Thea sighed. "It's a little too early for US to decide on this matter. We have to take care of bigger threats first anyway.

"Most importantly, I haven't had enough fun torturing that wench."

She directed her gaze at James. "Do we stop here and return to base to prepare for our next battle?"

James smiled. "It was Wesley's idea. He was really adamant about it."

"We can put our trust in Wesley," Thea responded, "Now that we have that wench, we have control over all realms and the heavens in and below the Thirty-Third Heaven.

"We should start on some necessary arrangements."

James' smile broadened. "I'm counting on you for that part. I'm completely clueless."

Thea looked absolutely dumbfounded. “Only living beings who possess the Innate Energy can use the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl. I only possess the Hynam.”

James paused awkwardly. “Uh... Well, we can...”

“Well, I don’t want to have more kids.” Thea interrupted, “However, I do miss our children.”

James nodded vigorously. “Jacopo, Xainte, Noel, and Winnie weren’t taken here.

‘They probably received some sort of opportunity or fortune. You don’t have to worry too much about them.

“As for the twins, they are still wondering about inside the Great Historial Land.

You can head there first if you miss them. I’ll head over later.”

Thea beamed and gave James a peck on his cheek. Then, she transformed into a ball of purplish-red light and teleported off.

James grinned as he put his palm against his cheek. As expected, he only wanted acts of care and affection from his wife.

“Good lord, I was about to suffocate! You’re done talking to each other, right? It’s my turn now!”

Morgott’s spirit’s voice rang in James’ head just then.

James paused for a bit. Then, he lifted his hand and conjured the ball of sacred radiation which carried Morgott’s spirit.

Within the sacred radiation, Morgott’s spirit was forced to curl into a ball. The space was so small that he could not even lift his head.

James chuckled. “Just answer a few of my questions first.”

“Let me out of this thing first!” Morgott struggled hard against the sacred radiation. Unfortunately, it only made the structure shrink.

Morgott’s shrill cries reverberated through the space within the formation the next instant.

James sighed wearily. He swung the Jozo Sword and broke the ball of sacred radiation.

As soon as he was released, Morgott’s spirit expanded to his normal size and landed on his feet.

James gazed at him and asked, "Was it worth it?"

"What?" Morgott scanned his body to check if he was missing a limb.

"You and I don't really know each other. Technically, we are even enemies."

James asked, "So, why did you do those things that put yourself at risk?"

Morgott lifted his head and met James' gaze. "Well, I want to become friends with you."

James smiled wryly. "Were you not worried that I might decide to discard you after using your help?"

"Have you done anything like that before?" Morgott asked.

James fell silent.

In a way, Morgott was right. James had never betrayed those who helped him no matter how simple the favor was.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6874-"You can put away the Three Treasures Formation already." Morgott adjusted his robe and sat on the floor. "Xanthakos won't come here."

James' brows arched.

He learned from Chuba and Zemrath that Morgott was the only living being who had the experience of battling Emperor Qadeer.

Naturally, Morgott would know more about Xanthakos.

James lifted his hand and undid the Three Treasures Formation. As the view switched, they could see how everything in their surroundings had been reduced to rubble.

Even the Thirty-Third Heaven's landmark, the Tai Chi Grand Temple, was completely obliterated.

"Let me have a sip of your Chaos Absinthe. I need to calm down for a bit."

Morgott stretched his palm out toward James.

James chuckled. "I was always the one who would ask others for free drinks."

“Besides, can you have the Chaos Absinthe at your current level of cultivation?”

Morgott clicked his tongue. “Consider this as a favor to me. Once we make it to the Forty-Ninth Heaven, I’ll treat you to some Wuia Wine.”

James smiled faintly and conjured two bottles of the Chaos Absinthe before him.

Morgott swiftly took one bottle and started gulping down the liquor. He did not seem to face any difficulty doing that.

James whistled. “I shouldn’t have underestimated you, huh?”

“Ha! That was delightful!” Morgott exclaimed as he lowered the bottle.

He paused briefly before saying in a low voice, “You might still fail to defeat Xanthakos even if you have mastered the Three Treasures Integration.”

James was about to sip on the liquor, but he stopped.

‘That bastard has unusual skills and extraordinary cultivation.’ There was a distant look in Morgott’s eyes as he recalled past memories. “It is almost impossible to spot and exploit his weakness. What’s more, he’s much more cunning and calculative than you...”

“How could you use me as the standard here?” James cut him off and snorted.

“I’m simply stating the facts.” Morgott cast James a glance. “In the Forty- Ninth Heaven, he could use the Wuia Aura left behind by the previous Supreme Path and the Gate of Mystery to fight.

‘Those things make him invincible in that space. If we were to take the battle elsewhere, I could easily beat him to a pulp.’

James said pensively, “So, you’re saying Xanthakos is unbeatable in the Forty□Ninth Heaven, but he won’t be outside of it?”

‘That’s right.’ Morgott gave a slight nod. “Actually, all five Path Emperors of the Forty-Ninth Heaven possess incredible powers. Each of them watches over one of the Supreme Path’s gates.”

James asked, “Aside from Xanthakos, what are the names of the other Path Emperors?”

‘The first Path Emperor is none other than the Lord of All Paths, Lord Goyo. He is a legendary figure. I haven’t met him before.’ Morgott shrugged.

“Secondly, it’s Xanthakos, who watches over the Gate of Mystery. Thirdly, we have Emperor Cosimeon, who guards the Gate of Virtue.

“Fourthly, we have Emperor Zdravko, who has authority over the Gate of Creation. Lastly, it’s Emperor Stavros, who watches over the Gate of Wuia.”

James’ eyes narrowed.

He had heard from Chuba and Zemra previously about the four gates. They also mentioned that Yianni and Harper might be imprisoned in one of the gates.

Unfortunately, Morgott probably had not heard of these names since he was active at a much earlier time.

James asked a short while later, ‘The Five Path Emperors have all perfected their cultivation, right?’

“Those men don’t give a damn about cultivation at their level of power.” Morgott took a big gulp of the Chaos Absinthe. “However, it’s not entirely impossible for you to get rid of those Path Emperors.

“For instance, you can work on mastering the Five Spirits Integration next. After having the auras of the Five Primal Evolutions, you also need the Three Treasures Integration, the Limitless Body, and the Ultimate Serenity.

‘Then, you can easily decide the fate of those five Path Emperors.’

“Hold on. The auras of the Five Primal Evolutions?” James furrowed his brows.

“Aren’t the Five Spirits referring to the heart, liver, spleen, lungs, and kidneys?”

“Who told you that?” Morgott frowned as well. “The Five Spirits refer to the auras of the Five Primal Evolutions, which are Taiyi, Taichu, Taishi, Tirta, and Taichi.

‘The Five Primal Evolutions were formed from Wuia. You need to combine their auras to help you form the Limitless Body.’

James was momentarily stunned.

Lesia’s voice rang in his head at that moment. “Master, I’m sorry. I made a mistake.

“Morgott’s right, though. He mastered the Three Treasures and Five Spirits in the past. He just didn’t proceed with the integration steps.”

James produced the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl and held it out in Morgott’s direction.

Does this count as one spirit?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6875-For a while, Morgott stared silently at the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl with rounded eyes.

Suddenly, he leaped to his feet and shouted excitedly, "Shit! Did you dig up Xyloria Tai Chi's grave?"

"She's not buried in a grave, though. There is the Kronosia Realm..." James rolled his eyes. "I took it from Yehria."

"She's one sneaky lady." Morgott's eyes widened even more. "I searched everywhere after killing the Xyloria Tai Chi but couldn't find the pearl. I thought I must have somehow destroyed it. Who knew it was hidden so well?" James responded, "You don't have to elaborate on your past wrongdoings. So, is this considered one of the Five Spirits?"

"Of course!" Morgott nodded vigorously. "The Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl is a manifestation of Xyloria Tai Chi's spirit."

"It can be used to control all living beings. What's more, it is a top-grade item of the Tai Chi Aura required for the Five Spirits Integration."

"You're in luck, James. You got such a great item for the Tai Chi Aura."

"You'll need to acquire top-quality items for the rest of the four auras too."

James clicked his tongue. "The problem is I don't even know how to use this." "Oh, don't worry about that." Morgott lightly waved his hand. "I'll teach you the way once you've collected the pearls of the other four Xyloria gods."

"Besides, don't you despise the current Tai Chi a lot? With the pearl, you can take away her position as Tai Chi and rule over all realms..."

"Can I kill her?" James interrupted.

Morgott looked away. "Uh... Of course, you can. I killed one before, and it was the Xyloria Tai Chi. You won't be able to surpass me in that regard."

James fixed him with a piercing gaze. "What I'm really asking is if I can kill her without causing any harm to other living beings?" "Well..." Morgott grinned sheepishly.

James could tell a lot from Morgott's vague response.

Morgott had most likely caused the deaths of numerous living beings when he killed the Xyloria Tai Chi back then. He possessed that level of power after all.

"I have another question." James put away the Xyloria Tai Chi Pearl and conjured the Jozo Sword.

The sword shone with bright, colorful lights. Morgott's spirit darted away almost immediately upon sensing a threatening pressure.

"Stay away from me!" Morgott pointed to James and said shakily, "We... We may be friends, but I don't want to be killed by that thing! It'd be the most horrible end ever!"

James was rendered speechless by Morgott's reaction.

"Are you really going to discard me?" Morgott stamped his feet. "We are friends, aren't we? I even stepped into a trap to help save your wife... Huh?"

Morgott's ranting came to a halt as James placed the Jozo Sword back into the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword.

"I'm just trying to look for some answers." James said flatly, "This sword can be used to kill Daeclon Mahayana Rank cultivators. Do you think you'll still be talking now if I seriously want you dead?"

After listening to James' words, Morgott calmed down a little and moved back to his original spot.

"Didn't they keep that horrible sword in the Wuia Holy Temple at the Forty- Ninth Heaven? How come you have it?"

"Cyril delivered it to me a while ago." James asked, "Why are you so afraid of it?" As old memories came back to him, Morgott broke down in tears and started sharing about his traumatic past.

After making it to Zymurgy, Morgott killed the Xyloria Tai Chi, the Xyloria Law of Paths, countless supreme beings, and the Xyloria gods.

Eventually, he arrived at the Forty-Ninth Heaven but sustained critical injuries inflicted by Emperor Qadeer.

Still, those injuries did not cause much harm to Morgott, who possessed the Max Level Demonic Body. Instead, they only weakened his powers temporarily.

Therefore, what happened afterward went beyond Morgott's calculations.

The Xyloria Tirta and Taishi used the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword left by the previous Supreme Path and cut Morgott up.

Then, they used their own bodies to seal Morgott's body parts to prevent his resurrection.

In other words, it was not Emperor Qadeer or the Xyloria Tirta and Taishi that defeated Morgott, who was in his prime.

Instead, it was the sword that contributed to Morgott's downfall.

James learned a shocking secret from Morgott's sharing.

Back then, the Xyloria Tirta and Taishi did not even unsheathe the Jozo Sword. They managed to overpower Morgott just by using the scabbard.
