

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6891-Yehria sat cross-legged with her beautiful eyes shut. A faint Tai Chi Light enveloped her body. However, she no longer had the grace and oppressive air when she was Tai Chi.

Just then, a gust of wind swirled at the cave's entrance. Then, a flash of divine light flickered, and a handsome man in a black robe appeared, gradually walking toward Yehria.

He looked at Yehria in silence, then sat down opposite her.

Yehria asked coldly, "How dare you show your face before me? Are you here to kill me or to satisfy your guilty conscience?"

The man replied arrogantly, "This is my brother's territory. I can freely go where I please."

Yehria suddenly opened her eyes, filled with hatred.

"Brother? You're overestimating yourself. You're a mere remnant soul and are nothing but a pawn."

Morgott said with a smile, "That's still better than you, a prisoner with no value."

No matter how beautiful you are, you're just a fish to James."

Yehria suddenly roared, "Shut up! If I hadn't gone to the Forty-Sixth Heaven to release you, you wouldn't be where you are today."

"You always say Zymueg/s supreme beings are self-righteous. You claim to be the most loyal being in the world. So what happened? You broke your promise and are ungrateful to those who helped you. You're so shameless."

Faced with Yehria's furious accusations, Morgott lowered his head in silence.

Yehria shouted, "Have you forgotten what we discussed? We'll overthrow Zymurgy and abolish the Supreme Path. We'll control our destiny and reign over the Greater Realm's living beings."

"You can dominate and do as you wish. I will eliminate the Tai Chi Tribulation and kill that old man with my own hands as revenge."

"Why did you betray our agreement and join an ant and become a mere slave?"

“Do you realize that even though James holds a grudge against Zymurgy, he also has a grudge against me? After all, he is still the Chosen One and will likely be the Supreme Path’s future successor.

“When that time comes, will you be granted the Hokuwn, or will you be content with being assigned as a Path Emperor?

“The Morgott I know is a formidable warrior-unruly, aloof, respected by strength, and bows to no one, not a slave who prattles about friendship and brotherhood.” Morgott did not respond to her.

Seeing that Morgott was at a loss for words, Yehria said, “If you still have a shred of gratitude and ambition in your heart, you should let me go. I can offer you even more on top of our previous agreement.”

Morgott asked, “What can you offer?”

Yehria gritted her teeth. “If you help me escape, I’ll sign a soul contract with you.

I’ll agree to become your cultivation partner after you help me kill the Yin governor and James, overthrow Zymurgy, and kill that old man.”

Morgott stared at Yehria as if she were insane.

Yehria stated, “Although I’m in a pitiful state right now, I’ll quickly regain my strength after returning to Zymurgy. Even though James has integrated the Three Treasures, it’s nothing special.”

Morgott suddenly raised his head and burst into an eerie laughter.

Yehria stared at the Morgott and said, “What do you say? The terms I’m offering are far better than being James’ brother and essentially his slave, right?”

After Morgott finished laughing and said, “How do you know I’m after your beauty?”
