

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6916-Upon hearing that, James was stunned. He didn't expect the situation to affect all the worlds.

At that thought, he asked, "So, the Five Path Emperors of the Forty-Ninth Heaven are waiting for his return too?"

"We don't know what their thoughts are. We rarely met them." Yarden shook his head. "The Five Path Emperors wanted to control all the worlds after Waitara's disappearance. If they were waiting for Waitara's return at first, they might not want him to return anymore after getting a taste of power."

When James heard that, he fell into deep thought.

"We have said everything that should be said." Frona looked at James. "You can decide on what to do. Whether or not you want the Supreme Path is your decision."

"Why is it me?" James suddenly asked.

Yarden and Frona exchanged glances before laughing.

"Please answer my question directly." James looked at the two.

"We arranged it intentionally." With a smile, Yarden said, "But we have determined that you aren't Waitara's body that had escaped."

Frona added, "More importantly, you're talented and virtuous. You have experienced many adventures. You have reached this point as a human. You're unique."

"No, I'm not unique." James shook his head. "There's someone with greater achievements."

With a slight smile, Yarden said, "Do you mean Morgott? We considered him before, but he can't handle such an important task. He can't fight against Waitara who will return."

Upon hearing that, James stared at the two. "So, am I your puppet or your master?"

Decisively, Frona said, "Master, of course. We are the Nothingness Gods. We can only create everything. We can't interfere with everything. We can't interfere with the natural changes. However, we hope that we can create everything under a master."

"The master we choose is benevolent!" Yarden stared at James. "If you really don't want to be the Supreme Path, you still have to be it. You must resolve the Leere Tribulation."

"As for whether you still want it in the future or you want to do other things, we will follow you willingly." After hearing that, James took a deep breath. "Does that mean there aren't many restrictions for me to be the Supreme Path? I don't need to get rid of my emotions, desires and consciousness?"

Yarden and Frona exchanged glances again. They smiled and nodded.

"You should have said it earlier." Then, James stood up. "But I still need to go through the three tribulations Ms. Silver mentioned?"

"Those are your own tribulations." In a low voice, Frona said, "It has already been determined for you to be the Supreme Path. You have just learned it in advance. It can't be avoided."

This situation made people upset.

James was in a dilemma. After hearing so much from Yarden and Frona, he would rather know nothing about all this. Maybe he would be more motivated and have the urge to improve.

Now that he had known everything and had a clear aim, he suddenly didn't know what to do.

"Your Zen can't stay here for too long. It will cause harm to your Primordial Spirit." Suddenly, Yarden urged, "James, we will meet again in the future, but it depends on whether or not you succeed."

"Are you chasing me away?" James glanced at Yarden and Frona. "By the way, does your promise still count?"

Yarden and Frona were taken aback before they smiled and nodded.

"If so, I want-" James began.

Before James finished speaking, Frona interrupted him. "We have given Silver what you want. You can just take it from her. As for what happens next, it depends on you."

"James." Yarden sighed. "I hope you can succeed, but the task is important and there's still a long way to go."

James glanced at Yarden before looking at Frona. "I have another question. I want to know if you're my second body, Lesia." "I am, but at the same time, I'm not." Frona gave an ambiguous answer. "I might be one of your tribulations!"

James pursed his lips and bowed at the two. 'Thank you for your honesty. I have one last question. Can I find Waitara's human form and solve the problem once and for all?'

Upon hearing that, Frona and Yarden looked at each other. They fell silent.

"What do you mean by this?" Confused, James asked, "Can't you tell me?"

With a smile, Yarden said, "Frona and I have been searching for him for many years, but we couldn't even find a trace. If you can find him, we'll be grateful."

"It's too difficult." Frona shook her head before saying softly, "If there's a chance, you guys might meet. But in the end, you guys will have to fight each other."

James wanted to say something else, but Frona and Yarden waved their hands at the same time. Like a leaf, he flew away with a gush of strong wind.

He shuddered. At once, he opened his eyes. He realized that he was still in Silver's divine light. He was surrounded by many rays of light. "H-Have I returned?"

"Do you understand everything now?" At this time, Silver's voice as Kalon sounded.

James raised his head and sighed. "Ms. Silver, I hate talking to you like this.

Can't you show yourself?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6917-Upon hearing that, Silver laughed.

"You're cunning. Do you think I will fall for your tricks?"

"I'm just a Grim Reaper. I'm between the tangible and intangible. What's there to see?"

Then, the light before James flashed. At once, a few dazzling energy balls appeared.

There were a few axes surrounded by black-and-white gas, an amethyst- red spear with malevolent energy, a dazzling pearl, and a violent spirit wandering around in the energy ball.

James' face twitched. He frowned. "Ms. Silver, you know what I want. Why did you give me so many all at once? What are these?"

"Are you acting dumb?" Silver teased, "Don't tell me that you didn't hear what the two were talking about after hiding in the void outside the temple for so long."

James finally understood what she meant. He didn't expect Silver to give him all this.

With Kalon's voice, Silver said, "I've given you everything. You can decide on what to do with them. At least I have completed my mission. It's time for me to seek my destiny!"

James was stunned. He raised his head. "Ms. Silver, will you be annihilated later?"

Calmly, Silver said, "I exist between tangible and intangible. Annihilation doesn't exist."

"If I invite you to the Great Historial Land..." James asked nervously, "Will you show up?"

Silver became silent.

"Since you're between tangible and intangible, you might show up," James added, "But I believe that you have a firm heart for all living beings. You will show up!"

A while of silence later, Silver sighed and said, "I'm a Primal Spirit. I was born to make living beings appear. Now that living beings are born repeatedly in the Haleth Realm, I'm no longer useful to the living beings."

"The Five Primal Evolutions are the ancestors of the worlds. All living beings respect them," James interrupted Silver. "Whether or not one is useful in the future, one's contributions are covered up. Aren't we as living beings too materialistic?"

"Without you guys, we won't exist. Living beings have emotions and know how to be grateful. I've never heard someone say their parents were no longer useful because they were old, so they abandoned them. It's unfilial among the living beings."

At that, James bowed at Silver. "Ms. Silver, not only do I want to invite you to the great Historial Land, but I might look for the other four Primal Spirits and invite them too!"

"I want to rebuild the five Holy Temples and let you guys enjoy the worship from the living beings and eternal glory."

After hearing that, Silver was silent. However, the countless rays of light around her were shaking.

It was clear that she didn't expect James to make such an invitation and such a wish before she left.

According to the Forty-Nine Daoisms, the Five Primal Evolutions evolved from nothingness to having a form.

If Waitara made Taiyi, Waitara should die. If Taiyi made Taichu, Taiyi should die.

If Taichu made Taishi, Taichu should die. If Taishi made Tirta, Taishi should die. If Tirta made Taichi, Tirta should die. If Taichi made the Yin and Yang governor, Taichi should die too.

However, because Waitara had gained consciousness, all of this had changed.

So, instead of dying, the Primal Spirits gained consciousness too!

With consciousness, they would feel longing. Then, they would have desires.

Once they had desires, they would want to intervene. Thus, the worlds became strange.

Initially, as one of the Primal Gods, Silver thought that the last important thing she did was to seal Morgott here for eternity. She didn't expect James' arrival to change everything.

He took over her mission and freed her. He gave her a new life which was a blessing.

Now, however, James was even more respectful to her. How could she not be touched when she had gained consciousness? How could she not be grateful to him?

After pondering for a while, Silver took a deep breath.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6918-‘Thank you, but you have things to solve right now!’ said Silver.

Then, the light before James flickered. A huge screen appeared.

The screen showed the scene of the Forty-Seventh Heaven. A few strange monsters were hiding in each corner.

Some had a human head with a beast body, some looked like a human but with a beast head, some had wings, some had a huge body but without facial features, some had facial features but without limbs, some were shaped weirdly, some looked a bit like a human, while some looked a bit like a beast. They looked terrifying. It was the first time James met such monsters after entering Zumurgy.

With a frown, James asked, “What are those?”

“Primal beings,” Silver said deliberately, “They’re known as the unorthodox factions and sects.”

Upon hearing that, James widened his eyes. “Unorthodox factions and sects?”

Does that mean they're the trump card of Tai Chi?"

"Don't look down on them," Silver said, 'They're powerful. Initially, they were sealed in Netherforge Space by Tai Chi, but throughout the years, they cultivated their own Path, independent from the Supreme Path."

"Now that the seal has been lifted, bloodshed will happen to the worlds."

James stared at the bunch of monsters on the screen. "Were they let out by Tai Chi?"

"How evil!" Helplessly, Silver said, "Although you took away her power of being the lord of all realms, she's still Tai Chi. She can activate the Innate Energy."

"I'm afraid that the entire Zymurgy below the Forty-Seventh Heaven has fallen into the hands of the unorthodox factions and sects."

Upon hearing that, James was stunned. "Ms. Silver, what about the living beings?"

'They don't have the time to care about the worlds for now." Silver enunciated each word and said, 'They want Zymurgy and the Supreme Path."

James fell into deep thought. It seemed like bad news, but as he thought about it, it might be good news for him and the living beings.

After all, the monsters' target was Zymurgy, which was the elders of the Forty Ninth Heaven. If they could cause chaos in Zymurgy, not only would they weaken Zymurgy's strength, but they could also help James find the materials of the Five Spirits.

As he thought of it, James had an idea. "Ms. Silver, I'll head out to meet them."

Hold on."

Then, James activated the Dawnblaze Form and disappeared from the light. He didn't even keep the things Silver gave.

Silver chuckled helplessly. "He's smart. He knows how to use the living beings' intelligence." Suddenly, she raised her voice. "Based on this point, he's a lot stronger than some people."

"Who are you talking about?" At this time, in the dazzling energy ball, the violent spirit stood up. He stretched the energy ball until it was shaped like a human.

"Am I wrong?" Silver asked.

"How can a mere living being in the Soma Daeclon Rank be compared to me?"

the spirit roared angrily, "If it were the old days, I could stab him to death with one spear."

"He's the first living being to obtain the Three Treasures Integration." Soma insisted calmly, "As for you, you're just an outlaw!"

The spirit shouted, "You're a Primal spirit. How can you be so rude? I-"

"Let's make a bet," Soma interrupted the spirit. "If he wins this battle, you will be under him in the future. You won't cause trouble."

Upon hearing that, the spirit clicked his tongue. "What if he loses?"

"I will let you go," Silver responded, "I'll let your main self reappear in the worlds."

The spirit laughed. "Alright. I accept this bet."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6919-Outside the Taishi Grand Temple, Yehria and Morgott buried themselves in the ruin, only showing their eyes. They kept staring at the entrance of Taishi Grand Temple. It was as if they wanted to see through the gate.

"Why isn't he coming out?" Irritatedly, Yehria asked, "Did he die inside?"

That bastard doesn't deserve it."

Morgott clicked his tongue. "James has gained the Three Treasures Integration.

He can't die."

Then, Yehria glared at him.

"Why must you argue with me?"

Upon hearing that, Morgott asked, "Is it that hard to accept the truth?"

"I want an attitude. Do you understand?" Furiously, Yehria shouted, "Morgott, you should stay single forever. A woman who becomes your partner will die out of anger."

Morgott said, "You aren't a woman. You're a fish."

Yehria was at a loss for words.

“He’s out,” said Morgott suddenly.

At that, Yehria, who was furious, turned to look at Taishi Grand Temple. Then, she laughed.

“He’s out! James, your doomsday has arrived!”

Morgott looked at Yehria as if he was looking at a monster. “What’s with your mood swings? Does a fish have a menstrual period too?”

With a loud sound, Yehria slapped Morgott on the head. Then, she shot up to the sky from the ruin. “James, I will take revenge today.”

“Why are you more of a show-off than me?” Morgott watched Yehria go to the Taishi Grand Temple as he slowly climbed up from the dirt.

On the other side, Yehria blocked James’ way with a flicker of black-and- white gas. James looked taken aback at Yehria who was strangely covered in dirt.

“Are you surprised?” Suddenly, Yehria laughed. “Do you feel dizzy? You’ve never thought I would be waiting here for you, right?”

James looked at Yehria who was making a commotion. He asked, “How many public bathrooms have you gone to? Why are you in such a state?”

While speaking, he pinched his nose disgustedly and took two steps back.

Yehria looked at herself. Then, she shook her body. With a flash of black- and white light, she looked like a goddess again.

She snorted before glaring at James. “Don’t you dare think of playing tricks.

Today’s your doomsday.”

James chuckled. “Your mouth seems to be stinkier than the fishy smell on your body.”

At once, Yehria lifted her arm to smell herself. Then, she shouted angrily, “I’m not stinky. I smell nice. Anyway, you...”

“Anyway, I want to eat fish today.” James interrupted her and asked, “Where’s Morgott who was lured by you? Is he afraid to show himself? Or did you dump him after sleeping with him?”

“How dare you!” Furiously, Yehria shouted, “Morgott, kill him.”

There was no response.

“Morgott!” Yehria turned around and shouted, “Morgott, come out.”

There was still no response.

Enraged, Yehria shouted, “Bastard! He’s only in the Soma Daeclon Rank. Why are you afraid of him? You’re Morgott. What happened to your glory?”

She still didn’t get a response.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6920-James crossed his arms before his chest. With a smile, he looked at Yehria.

“Are you done? If you are, surrender yourself and let my wife remove your fish scale.”

Seeing that James was about to make a move, Yehria took a few steps backward with vigilance. Then, she snorted.

“James, do you really think you’re invincible now that you have the Three Treasures Integration? You still have a long way to go.”

Then, she waved her hand and shouted, “Quince, attack him!”

Nothing happened.

James thought Yehria was a joke. A bit annoyed, he said, “Are you done with your performance? It’s my turn now.”

After that, James reached out his hand. A terrifying clear Innate Energy turned into an illusionary hand. It headed straight to Yehria.

Right then, fear could be seen in Yehria’s wide eyes. She shrieked, “Quince, you’re a bastard-“

A loud explosion interrupted Yehria’s roar.

In the next second, the illusionary palm James shot out was slashed into halves by a black sword.

James stumbled backward from the blow. In shock, he stabilized himself.

When he looked over, he saw a huge and muscular orc standing before Yehria.

The orc had a human body but a beast's head. The wings behind him flapped slowly. A ray of eerie black light surrounded him. He was holding a sword. He looked like a small mountain.

Yehria laughed again. "James, I've told you that you're doomsday is here. Don't think that you're amazing because you have the Three Treasures Integration.

You're nothing before Quince."

James ignored Yehria. He stared at the orc, feeling pressured. It didn't matter that the orc's body was huge. His terrifying aura mattered the most. James had never met someone with such a potent aura before.

The orc cut off James' Innate Energy. It could be seen that he was powerful.

"You are the Chosen One, have Three Treasures Integration, and are in the Soma Daeclon Rank. You're a rare existence," Quince, who was an orc, spoke in a husky voice without moving his mouth.

Yehria stepped forward. She pointed at James and shouted, "Quince, don't waste your time on him. Kill him."

Quince kept quiet. He waved the sword in his hand and hit Yehria. The latter was instantly blown away.

Upon seeing that, James frowned.

As the ground shook, Quince sat down on the ground. "James, are you a human?"

James smiled. "Yeah!"

"How did you achieve the Three Treasures Integration?" Quince asked.

James smiled but kept silent.

Enunciating each word, Quince said, 'Tell me and I'll spare your life. Perhaps I can recommend you to meet our emperor."

James asked, "You have an emperor, too?"

"We're the true orthodox." Quince was enraged. "Because of Waitara's scheme, we were sealed for millions of entrapochs."

James shook his head. "I'm not interested in this. I want to know what's your cultivation rank."

Suddenly, Quince chuckled and said, “You don’t think you can defeat me. Aren’t you the first to achieve the Three Treasures Integration?”
