The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6936-James slowly raised his hand at that moment. "Mr. Wiktor, I am grateful for your advice, and I understand your concerns.

"I know it's just an excuse when you say you're worried that I'll fall for the trap.

"What you and the others are really concerned about is that I may go down the wrong path, turn away from the teachings of the Path, and rebel against the governance of your master's group.

"The fact that me and the unorthodox sects' and factions' members may turn into demons is rather alarming as well." Wiktor's eyes bulged with shock.

He knew James would surely arrive at these conclusions with all the knowledge and experience the latter had. Yet, he never imagined James would just say it out loud.

"I would have become a demon already if your concerns were valid."

James continued, "As for those guys from the unorthodox sects and factions, they have such horrendous appearances and strange beauty standards.

"I like beautiful things, so I can't stand them.

"Hence, I'd like to ask for your help to pass on my message to the divine beings who support me. We may have the same goals, but we are each free to do things in our own way.

"Most importantly, we need to hold on to our beliefs. We can be flexible and creative in our methods, and still practice the ways of Path in them.

"There are no rules stating that the Path is a set of strict, fixed rules. Each living being has their own interpretation of Path, and to act on it is to follow one's heart.

"It's fine even if those divine beings decide to believe the rumors and stop supporting me.

"What matters is I have never let those who trust me down."

When James had finished, Wiktor put his hands on his back and gazed at the sky. He just had a dawning realization. Wiktor finally had a rough understanding of James' character.

James was not someone who could be bound by the responsibilities of the positions of the Chosen One and the Supreme Path.

What he truly desired was to live a happy, unconstrained, and carefree life. That was what the Path meant to him.

Wiktor figured James' Path might eventually become the Path that all beings would find the most difficult to understand but still yearned for.

On the other hand, James conjured four soul energy balls near Wiktor.

'You are taking a huge risk by making a trip here to meet me secretly. I am extremely grateful for that.

'Thus, I can't let you leave empty-handed. The two Chosen Ones and two emperors are contained in those soul energy balls. You should take them with you.

"Take the half Xyloria Taichu Pearl with you too. I will acquire the entire pearl from Sir Taichu himself when I meet him later on."

Wiktor had a dazed look on his face as he stared at the four energy balls. He never thought that James would do something like this. His kindness and generosity made Wiktor seem petty.

He felt extremely embarrassed.

"It's time for you to go." James lifted his hands to stretch his muscles a little.

'The longer you stay, the higher the risk of them catching you here."

Wiktor snapped out of his reverie and bowed deeply to James. Then, he put away the four soul energy balls and the halved Xyloria Taichu Pearl.

Without a pause, Wiktor shot up into the sky.

James was about to leave the place as well. Suddenly, he heard Wiktor's voice ringing through the space. "James, I finally understand now why Wesley is willing to risk everything he has for you.

"I've gained a lot from our meeting. Even if everyone else don't believe you, me and Wesley will always trust you!"

At that very moment, an armor glowing with the Wama Divine Light descended from the sky.

'This is the Xolotle Armor. Not only can it protect you from Daeclon Mahayana Rank cultivators' attacks, but it can also conceal the owner's aura when they are wearing it.

'The armor's appearance can also change according to your needs.

"We still have a long way to go before achieving our goals. I look forward to seeing you again."

James looked up and spotted Wiktor transforming into a ball of Wama Divine Light and flew away.

'The Xolotle Armor! It is considered the second-best item of all treasures!' Lesia chuckled. "It's much more powerful than the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell. We just received something amazing, Master."

James' eyes twinkled as he gazed at the armor. He had yet to find a way to fix the Yuraeceon Genesis Bell, which was shattered back in the Kronosia Realm.

The armor came in handy as James could use a temporary replacement.

Lesia continued, "What's more amazing is that you've earned Wiktor's recognition, Master.

'The genuine respect he has for you is much more valuable than any treasure in the world.'

James tilted his head. "He might have been courteous just now."

"No." Lesia shook her head. "The Xolotle Armor was one of Taichu Sect's most prized possessions.

"Wiktor, Taichu's favorite disciple, has kept the armor with him ever since he entered the Taichu Sect." James gasped reflexively upon hearing Lesia's words.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6937-On the other hand, a beam of Wama Divine Light shone on a spot inside the Great Historial Land's Forbidden Bloodshade, filling the space with colorful lights.

"Ms. Taishi?" Thea's eyes flew open.

Thea had been inside the Forbidden Bloodshade in a seated position. She seemed pleasantly surprised.

"I hope I'm not intruding," a voice echoed through the air.

Thea quickly got up and bowed slightly. "Greetings to Ms. Silver!"

"You're the master of this place, whereas I'm here to seek protection." Silver chuckled. "You don't have to be so formal around me anymore."

Thea was slightly flustered as she straightened up and looked upward.

Just as she was about to speak, a shiny energy ball shot out of the Wama Divine Light's source and swiftly entered Thea's body.

A tremendous amount of energy filled her body the next instant. Thea hurriedly sat down and focused on channeling the energy to enhance her cultivation.

Gradually, the purplish-red light radiating from her body was replaced by colorful lights. The lights seemed to lift Thea slowly up in the air.

"All are searching for Hokuwn that came from Zen. One can easily enter the Demonic Path or find Path within the Path."

As Taishi recited those phrases, numerous beams of divine light came from different directions and focused on Thea.

In a matter of seconds, Thea was encapsulated in a gigantic sphere of light. A short while later, Thea's agonized cry came from inside the light orb.

At the same time, entrancing energy giving off dark, malicious auras escaped from the light orb and swept across the Forbidden Bloodshade. Violent tremors shook the entire space.

Even Stephen and Leuko, who guarded the Great Historial Land, arrived outside the Forbidden Bloodshade to inspect after picking up on the tremors.

They could see bright colorful lights holding in all of Thea's dark, malicious energy and hear her screams.

It was an alarming sight.

"Seems like Ms. Silver is in there," Leuko said.

"Ms. Silver can help remove the Yrjia Aura in Madam Thea." Stephen unconsciously held his breath. "By the way, how did Ms. Silver enter here without us noticing?"

Leuko remained silent with a pensive look on her face.

Just then, two balls of light shot past Stephen and Leuko. They were the Hongrome Children.

They entered the Forbidden Bloodshade, which was illuminated by the colorful lights released by Taishi, and wandered around freely.

“Ack...” Stephen’s brows twitched. “Zuriyin! Lyall! Come back here!”

“Let them be.” Leuko caught Stephen’s arm. “Ms. Silver won’t harm them.”

Thea’s shouting and moaning lasted for several epochs. She finally stopped screaming the second the final trace of Yrjia Aura was removed from her body.

“Open!”

At Taishi’s command, the surrounding colorful lights moved and gathered around Thea, where the lights were swiftly absorbed into her body.

Eventually, it was peaceful again in the Forbidden Bloodshade as the lights dimmed.

Thea was levitating mid-air in a seated position, slowly rotating and glowing with the Wama Divine Light.

She had lost the bewitching, malevolent aura from earlier. Instead, there was now a pure and holy atmosphere to Thea that made her shine even more.

Plop!

With a dull thump, a lady in a white robe dropped to the ground. The lady had not a single ounce of strength left in her body.

Thea opened her eyes at that moment. She landed on the ground and hurried over to help the lady up. “Ms. Silver, why... Why did you do this?”

As Taishi lifted her head, an immense amount of Innate Energy could be seen in the place where a person’s face was found.

She clutched Thea’s hand tightly and said, “Don’t be disheartened by this, Yin governor. You should be happy. I’m happy about this.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6938-Thea responded, “I...”

“I haven’t had the chance to pass on my knowledge to someone until now.”

Taishi explained, “You’ve finally done it now. Moreover, you are the very last Alcide being who’s still alive. I am truly honored.”

Thea gripped her hand. “Still, your...”

“Don’t worry about me.” Taishi shook her head. “I possess the earliest form of Innate Energy. It is enough for my stay in the Great Historial Land.

“It’s different for you, though. You need to go out and join the battle. You bear the responsibility of saving all beings and helping your husband’s mission.

“Cultivation and powers were simply what I needed to keep improving myself.

With James becoming the lord of all worlds soon, I will have no use forthose things.”

Taishi gently wiped off the tears streaming down Thea’s cheeks.

“You two were a pitiful couple who had suffered too much pain and hardship created by the Path.

“Now, your cultivation surpasses that of James’. Excluding the Five Path Emperors and the two Primal Spirits, you are pretty much matchless.

“However, you must leave right now to help your husband overcome a crisis. It’ll be over if he makes the wrong decisions.”

Thea’s heart missed a beat.

‘James was supposed to sneak into Zymurgy to look for the remainder of the Five Spirits. Did he already get caught by those guys from the Forty- Ninth Heaven?’ Thea wondered. She asked right away, “Ms. Silver...”

“It should be ‘Master’ now,” Taishi interrupted.

“Oh... Master, can you tell me more about the crisis James is facing this time?”

Thea asked.

“It’s the unorthodox sects and factions.” Taishi replied, “Judging from his past actions and behavior, James would surely try to investigate those groups.

“However, there may be dire consequences if he tries to infiltrate the unorthodox sects and factions.”

Thea’s eyes widened.

“Is it the unorthodox sects and factions or the trap set up by those from the Forty-Ninth Heaven that will be a threat to James?”

“They are both possible threats.” Taishi sighed. “Just remember this.

Anyone can enter the unorthodox sects and factions, including you, but not him.

James is a Chosen One, after all.”

Thea fell silent upon hearing that.

“I know what you’re worried about.” Taishi patted lightly on her shoulder. “

Therefore, you need to learn to forgive his past mistakes. See him and talk things out.

“His goal is to complete the Five Spirits Integration and improve his cultivation.

“He shouldn’t be trying to dig up the unorthodox sects and factions’ secrets or riling those guys up to attack Zymurgy.”

A brief moment later, Thea let go of Taishi’s hands and took a step back.

Frankly, what she was asked to do was ten times harder than having her go through another reincarnation. It was because James was very protective of her.

He would not let Thea take the slightest bit of risk.

Thea was even considering if she should just knock James out to stop him from entering the unorthodox sects and factions.

Then, she directed her gaze to Taishi again.

“Master, I have the cultivation of a Daeclon Mahayana Rank cultivator now?”

“That’s not all.” Taishi answered, “You also have the two million entrapochs’ worth of cultivation that James has asked me to transfer to you as well.

“You are no ordinary Daeclon Mahayana Rank cultivator.”

Thea nodded thoughtfully. “It should be enough to make him listen to me.”

Taishi was rendered speechless by her response.

“Master, I’ll prepare a place for you to stay.” Thea reached for Taishi’s arm.”

There are...”

“It’s alright.” Taishi waved her hand dismissively. “You should go and talk some sense into James. It’ll be too late if you don’t hurry and find him right away.”

Thea paused briefly before taking a few steps away and bowing deeply to Taishi. Then, she gazed at Zuriyin and Lyall, who were flying around in the air, for a moment.

With her fists clenched tightly, Thea teleported away and vanished from the spot.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6939-It was bustling and lively in and outside the Palace of Law at the Fortieth Heaven.

All leaders and superior cultivators from different groups and temples based in and below the Fortieth Heaven could be seen there.

However, Wesley, the Law of Paths, had left for the Forty-Ninth Heaven. The Palace of Law was supposed to be not in use.

Yet, a mysterious group seemed to have appeared and taken over the palace’s ownership.

The group claimed to have come from somewhere above the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

They declared themselves to be the true Path. They represented the Path which was stronger and more authentic than the Waitara Path.

These men even gave themselves a flashy name, the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path.

Not only did they want to rule over everyone in and below the Fortieth Heaven, but they also requested everyone to follow the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path and train using their theory and methods.

At first, the temples and factions that were targeted were opposed to this.

Unfortunately, they did not have enough manpower, especially elite cultivators, to resist. They had lost numerous Soma Daeclon Rank cultivators back when James attacked them.

A bloodbath was what it took to make those in and below the Fortieth Heaven surrender.

Moreover, some betrayed their own people and helped the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path to seize control of that region.

Today was the day the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path made their debut since they came into power.

There were three announcements in particular from them that got everyone's attention.

Firstly, the two mysterious, powerful Path Masters from the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path would attend the event and give a talk about the Paths.

Secondly, the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path would choose someone capable and appoint them to be their Path Emperor.

The Path Emperor would hold the highest position in the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path, coming just second to the two Path Masters, and leading their members.

Thirdly, they would set up arenas for different ranks and let members fight to secure open positions in the Ultimate Cosimeonar Path.

The participants would have to eliminate all opponents to be appointed to their desired positions.

Those from in and below the Fortieth Heaven were still indignant about being defeated. Nonetheless, they were intrigued by the privilege that came with the mentioned conditions.

After all, they were not sure if the Law of Paths would ever be able to return to the Fortieth Heaven.

They most definitely could not just leave the position of the leader for their region empty.

The Ultimate Cosimeonar Path also did not specify that participants must use their Path during the matches. That gave them a lot of freedom in their battle tactics.

It was the perfect opportunity for everyone to become someone important and influential.

At one corner outside the palace, a lady dressed in all black with only her doe like eyes revealed was looking left and right frequently.

A young, handsome man sat next to her. Since he did not try to hide his good looks and fit body, the man attracted the attention of countless female cultivators.

Some ladies were even bold enough to walk up to the man and flirted with him.

Sadly, they only made a fool of themselves as the man paid no mind to them.

The strange-looking lady and the handsome man were none other than Lesia and James, who had put on a disguise.

Lesia had assumed Yehria's appearance according to their plan. However, she hated how Yehria looked needlessly seductive.

In the end, she decided to cover herself as much as possible.

On the other hand, James had modified his appearance to look like Morgott. In addition, he also made Morgott enter his body.

At the moment, James was no longer the famous person who had achieved the Three Treasures Integration and wreaked havoc in Zymurgy.

Instead, he was Morgott himself.

James had also put on the Xolotle Armor given by Wiktor and completely concealed his aura. Even the Five Path Emperors would not be able to recognize him easily.

"Master, can you cover your face already?" Lesia transmitted her voice to James. "I'm getting worn out chasing these ladies away. How am I going to fight later if I end up using all of my energy now?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6940-James chuckled inwardly. "It's not my fault all these ladies are coming to me. It's Morgott's fault."

Morgott snapped at him, "How can you push the blame on me? If you were to reveal your true appearance, all the ladies here would pounce on you!"

"You've always been a lady's man, and you are responsible for this mess!"

James clicked his tongue. "Why you..."

"That's enough." Lesia cut them off. "You are both charming, attractive, and handsome, okay? We know that. So, none of US need to hear you two boasting about it."

James replied, "I'm charming, whereas he's just alright."

"Damn it! I'm not doing this anymore! I'm outta here!" Morgott fumed, "We are friends, but you can't..."

"Alright, that's enough. Another one is here." James stopped Morgott's grumbling.

As he finished, a gorgeous lady in a white robe walked over and stopped before James nervously.

The lady's cheeks flushed pink. "Mister, is it alright if I sit beside you?"

Before James could reject the lady, Morgott quickly answered, "Of course, but I'd like it more if you sat on my lap."

Morgott took control of James' body at that moment. He pulled the lady closer and let her sit on James' lap.

Both James' and Lesia's eyes bulged with shock. Even the lady, who had approached James, flinched as she plopped down on James' lap.

Around them, the other ladies had jealous and bewildered looks on their faces upon witnessing what happened. Those who tried to get James' attention earlier pointed in his direction and gossiped among themselves.

"Morgott, you pervert! Are you trying to get revenge on me?" James sent a voice transmission in an angry voice.

"Yeap. This is my revenge." Morgott responded honestly, "If you make me angry again, I'll strip this lady and have my way with her right here. Your reputation will be tarnished forever!"

Under Morgott's control, James unwillingly lifted his hand and brushed his finger against the lady's chin.

His action drew gasps and screams from the nearby ladies.

Beside him, Lesia rolled her eyes at the sight before her.

James clicked his tongue and transmitted his voice to Morgott. "Well, it's your face that I'm using right now. You can do whatever you want, and it won't hurt my reputation." "Is that so?" Morgott chuckled mischievously. "I sense a familiar aura among the crowd, though."

"What do you mean?" James grew a little nervous.

"Your wife is the owner of Hokuwn now." Morgott snickered. "Even though she tried her best to hide her aura, someone from Hokuwn like me could still sense her."

James' brows lifted.
