

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6986-Seeing the sudden turn of events, Zachariah and Hattie stumbled in fright. They nearly fell out of the void. James calmly lifted his hand and tossed Emperor Stavros, bound by the Jozo Sword, to Thea's feet.

Then, he slowly spoke, "Alright, you can come out now."

A flash of purple-red light appeared on James' body, revealing the soul consciousness of Morgott.

"Y-You all!" Emperor Stavros glared at James and Morgott's soul consciousness with a mix of grief and anger. "You rebellious devils, you will die like a dog!"

"James, he's cursing US." Morgott's soul consciousness grabbed Emperor Stavros. "Let me cut out his tongue first."

"How dare you? You insane devil, you..." Emperor Stavros was sent flying with a punch by James before he could finish his words.

"After all, he's one of the Five Path Emperors. Killing him would be a waste,"

James said. Then, he turned to Thea. "Darling, I'll leave him to you.

Please absorb his cultivation base, so I can feel more at ease."

Hearing this, Thea looked at James as if he were a monster. On the other hand, Morgott's soul consciousness wore an envious expression. He wanted to speak but stopped himself.

"No! Don't! You can't!" Emperor Stavros screamed in heart-wrenching agony. "I can pledge allegiance to you. We can become allies."

James rolled his eyes. "I've already experienced enough of your lies in the Dark World. Who needs you as an ally?"

"No, it's not like that." Emperor Stavros shook his head desperately. "I'm not exactly Xayvion. I am one of the Five Path Emperors. I know many secrets about the Forty-Ninth Heaven..."

Before he could finish, James activated the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes, enveloping him in the void. A thorough soul search and the exploration of his Five Energies instantly revealed all his thoughts and information.

Having reached the Daeclon Mahayana Rank, James no longer needed secrets from his opponents. His mastery of the Chaos Yin-Yang Eyes was so advanced that he could discern everything by penetrating his opponent's soul and Five Energies.

James opened his eyes and suddenly reached out, causing a massive blood hole to appear in Emperor Stavros' Ultimate Golden Body. As James' phantom hand delved in, he forcefully grasped a radiant pearl.

"The Gate of Wuia Control Pearl," Thea exclaimed.

Morgott's soul consciousness moved just as James was about to take the pearl.

With lightning speed, he lunged forward and swallowed the pearl. Instantly, a dazzling purple-red demonic light erupted from him, so powerful that Hattie and Zachariah were immediately blown away.

Although Thea and James were strong enough to withstand the terrifying force, they had to raise their hands to block the impact.

"Hahaha!" Morgott's soul consciousness laughed wildly in the void. "The Gate of Wuia is finally mine. With it, I can restore my full strength, even without merging with my other half."

With a roar, he shot up into the sky, heading straight for the top of the Wuinfinite Formation.

Boom!

With a deafening explosion, Morgott's soul consciousness shattered a descending purple-gold 'Path' character upon impact. Then, he was caught in a frenzy of countless spinning and slashing purple-gold characters.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6987-Morgott's soul consciousness remained unshaken, each kick and punch he delivered sending one golden-purple character after another flying away from the siege.

"James, I'll take back my spear now."

Morgott in the void reached down and with a swift grasp, the spear in James' hand immediately slipped from his control, flying straight towards Morgott.

Watching Morgott battling countless golden-purple 'Path' characters at the apex, James and Thea immediately gathered together. They were shocked.

"I didn't expect him to seize the opportunity again."

In contrast to Thea's frustration, James appeared much calmer. He grinned as he watched Morgott fiercely kick away one character after another.

"Perhaps, we should lend him a hand."

At James' words, Thea looked at him with surprise. "You want to give the other half back to him?"

"Do we still have any use for it?" James shrugged. "This guy has even taken the Gate of Wuia. The next step he'll face is the tribulation of the Forty- Ninth Heaven."

"You're planning to use him as a pawn." Thea took a deep breath. "Don't forget, we don't hold the handle of this knife."

"We don't need to." James shook his head. "Perhaps his reappearance will also be a strategic move for US."

Thea fell silent.

James turned to her, took her hand, and said with emphasis, "I just fought against Emperor Stavros. He's the weakest among the Five Path Emperors, but he's extremely difficult to deal with.

"If he had seized the opportunity to use the Gate of Wuia from the beginning, without being entangled by Lesia, Hemera, and Fennec, I might not have been able to defeat him now, or even could have been injured by him."

Thea slowly closed her eyes. "The Five Path Emperors are the top powers in the Greater Realms. We've just entered the Daeclon Mahayana Rank and just achieved the Three Treasures Integration. There's a huge gap in strength, that's for sure, but..."

"There's no ifs." James interrupted Thea. "At this moment, we need an ally to stir up trouble. This way, we can free up our hands to move into the Forty -Ninth Heaven together."

With these words, Thea gasped in cold air. This was the plan James had been brewing. It seems he had never trusted leaving her in the Wuinfinite Formation.

After pondering for a while, she asked, "Can Morgott break the Wuinfinite Formation?"

"No." James shook his head. "However, he can hold back Emperor Qadeer and the others. We should lend him a hand."

Thea hesitated for a while before nodding indifferently.

The next moment, James waved his hand and summoned another Demonic Spirit.

“What’s going on, James? Why is the earth shaking? Um...” The Demonic Spirit froze in shock as it looked at its other half in the void.

“Go!” James smiled at him. “Let’s see whether it’s you assimilating him or he assimilating you.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6988-Upon hearing these words, the Demonic Spirit widened his eyes in astonishment.

“Go on!” James kicked his buttock.

Staggering, the Demonic spirit immediately turned around. He was reluctant to leave. “James, do you really want me to do this?”

“Cut the crap!” James replied impatiently. “Isn’t this what you’ve been longing for?”

The Demonic Spirit took a deep breath. “James, this might be the last time we meet. Are you really willing to let go of your brother who’s always been valiant and righteous?”

James was stunned at these words.

Once the Demonic Spirit merged with the soul consciousness, he would become the true Morgott. At that time, their brotherhood might completely disappear.

“Let’s hug.” The Demonic Spirit opened his arms to James.

With a faint smile, James embraced him. This was their final farewell.

“James, I admire you from the bottom of my heart. I respect and salute you. So, whether I’m a spirit or the main self, it won’t change the fact that we’re brothers in life and death. Brothers are eternal, we advance and retreat together!” After saying this into James’ ear, the Demonic spirit immediately turned into a purplish-red light, rushing towards the soul consciousness in the void.

James and Thea looked up, witnessing the purplish-red light formed by the Demonic spirit completely enveloping the battling soul consciousness. The next moment, the soul consciousness erupted into violent curses.

“Who the hell sent you here? Go away! I don’t need your assimilation. I already control the Gate of Wuia. Who told you to come and pick up the leftovers?”

“Emperor Kaelisar, you’re a shameless bastard. I’ve never seen anyone as shameless as you, I don’t want... Ah!”

With a heart-wrenching scream, the purplish-red light in the void suddenly expanded and shook off all the golden-purple ‘Path’ characters.

A brand-new supreme Demonic Body replaced the soul consciousness and the Demonic Spirit, revealing a mysterious and powerful, terrifying power emanating with vast evil. He had crimson hair, swaying without wind, dressed in a black and red python robe, with a blood-red flowing cloak draped behind him. He held a demonic spear that radiated daunting demonic energy. Thick purplish-red demonic clouds rolled above his head, and sixteen rapidly rotating skulls beneath his feet. It was like the arrival of a grim reaper, causing the world to change color.

James and Thea were stunned as they watched this scene. It was their first time witnessing Morgott's main self, let alone a living one.

They had not expected that he would remain so imposing and aweinspiring, still capable of sending shivers down one's spine after being sealed for countless ages.

"In the vast Hokuwn, the Demonic Body is born from the power of thought. All emptiness is but an illusion, and the path to extinction begins with the slaughter of gods.

"Three hundred and three epochs pass, all heavens rot away. The Five Path Emperors are insatiable, and all the gods deserve to be slain."

After reciting these sentences, the resurrected Morgott's main self raised his demonic spear with both hands. His entire body immediately erupted with boundless Hynam power, shattering all the golden-purple 'Path' characters gathering around him.

Amidst the thunderous roar, the entire Fortieth Heaven and the Wuinfinite Formation trembled violently. In the void, James and Thea could only steady themselves by holding hands amidst the rapid fluctuations in space.

Before long, Morgott shouted with a majestic ethereal voice, "James, Yin governor, let's break out of the Wuinfinite Formation together and kill the Path Emperors!"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6989-Upon hearing this, James and Thea exchanged a glance. Then, they simultaneously leaped into the air, appearing next to Morgott's main self.

"The Wuinfinite Formation consists of nine layers in total, similar in essence to the Great Historial Land," Morgott said slowly, his hand resting on his back.

"We'll need ages to unravel it one by one. However, with the three of us together, we can make those old geezers regret their existence once we breach a gap." Listening to this, James turned to Morgott. "How do we proceed exactly?"

"I have the spear, you have the sword," Morgott replied coldly. "With the newly controlled Gate of Wuia, half of Frona's Wuia Rune, the Yin governor's Three Treasures Integration, and the Heavenly Path Power, it's more than sufficient.”

James looked at Thea.

“What about the living beings in the formation if I leave?” Thea asked suspiciously.

Morgott snorted coldly before suddenly reaching out, unleashing a terrifying purplish-red light toward the living beings and the two Path Masters within the protective lotus, forcefully pulling them out.

“Morgott, what the hell are you doing?” James saw trouble brewing and immediately reprimanded.

However, he was too late. In a flash of Morgott’s demonic light, all living beings he had drawn out from the unorthodox factions and sects were devoured alive, robbed of any chance to react.

Witnessing this horrifying scene, Thea’s face turned pale. “Morgott, you…”

‘They are unworthy of mention,” Morgott said as if nothing had happened. “

Don’t let a bunch of insignificant things delay our breaking of the formation.”

“You’re giving me face, huh?” James said angrily. “You’ve forgotten, I am the lord of living beings.”

“Calm down.” Morgott patted James’ shoulder. “At least they weren’t your brothers. Everyone will die if we can’t break the Wuinfinite Formation, and they’ve met their deserved fate.”

This left James speechless.

“Now that the worries of the Yin governor are gone.” Morgott shrugged at James. “We can finally give it our all.”

Thea fell silent.

“Listen carefully to the steps to break the formation,” Morgott said slowly. “First, I’ll open the Gate of Wuia, and we’ll probably reach the sixth layer of the Wuinfinite Formation.

‘Then, James and I will combine our efforts to break through the seventh and eighth layers, while the Yin governor uses the Three Treasures Integration to block the surrounding attacks and interference of ‘Path’ characters.

“When we reach the ninth layer, Frona will immediately unleash the Wuia Rune, breaking through the Wuinfinite Formation in one fell swoop.”

Without waiting for James and Thea to respond, he immediately flipped his hands. Suddenly, a hundred thousand colorful lights appeared before them, and the Gate of Wuia opened with a boom.

“James, Yin governor, after you!” Morgott shouted.

Though James and Thea were dissatisfied with Morgott’s actions of devouring living beings and two Path Masters, they had no time to argue with him at this critical moment. They exchanged a glance, then rushed into the gate without hesitation. Immediately after, Morgott vanished with a flash, and the gate in the void closed abruptly.

In that instant, the Wuinfinite Formation erupted with a dazzling millioncolored light, akin to an enraged beast unleashing its wrath. Its devastating power surged forth within the Fortieth Heaven, terrifying beyond measure.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6990-Meanwhile, Emperor Qadeer and Emperor Zdravko, stationed at the highest point of the Fortieth Heaven, sensed the unusual fluctuations of the Wuinfinite Formation.

Alarmed, they immediately unleashed their Supernatural Power, pouring countless vast Innate Energy into the Wuinfinite Formation to stabilize it.

“Emperor Qadeer, don’t you find this very suspicious?” Emperor Zdravko asked.

Emperor Qadeer twirled his beard and gradually squinted his eyes. ‘The sudden activation of the Wuinfinite Formation must be because Emperor Stavros and the devil are engaged in battle.’

At these words, Emperor Zdravko was startled. “If that’s the case, shouldn’t we lend our assistance?”

“How would we assist?” Emperor Qadeer sneered. “Can you withstand the tribulation power of the Wuinfinite Formation, or can I withstand the blockade of myriad ‘Path’ characters?”

Emperor Zdravko was speechless. She knew that Emperor Qadeer had a hidden agenda, letting Emperor Stavros investigate the Wuinfinite Formation, and was essentially using him to do the dirty work. However, he was too cunning and powerful. She dared not voice her anger.

“Emperor Zdravko.” Emperor Qadeer asked with waning interest, “Do you think having five Path Emperors in the Forty-Ninth Heaven is too much?”

Emperor Zdravko’s face twitched. “Are you suggesting that even my sect needs to be eradicated?”

“No.” Emperor Qadeer chuckled and shook his head. “I’m just saying, in the current turbulent times of the Greater Realms, the Forty-Ninth Heaven should not have too many voices with such circumstances. Unity of command is the way to go.”

‘What a unified command! You’re just itching for the other four Path Emperors to submit to your Qadeer Sect. If that happens, even if you ascend to the position of Supreme Path, you’ll be tantamount to the Path itself, truly able to unify Greater Realms.’ Emperor Qadeer sighed lightly as he saw Emperor Zdravko’s continued silence.

“Emperor Cosimeon and Emperor Stavros are both the closest disciples of the Waitara Path. Their devotion to the path far surpasses yours and mine.

“Look at the two of us, we are merely outer disciples among the twelve disciples of the path. Even with our formidable talents and high cultivation base, there’s no guarantee we’ll gain the favor of the Waitara Path.”

At this point, Emperor Zdravko understood everything. Whether it was Emperor Cosimeon or herself, they were both thorns in Emperor Qadeer’s side. In a sense, they were more threatening than James and the Yin governor trapped in the Wuinfinite Formation.

This also explained Emperor Qadeer’s ambition, which was not just about unifying the Forty-Ninth Heaven or completely controlling the Greater Realms.

He wanted to prevent the living beings of the Waitara Path from returning, to eternally occupy the position of Supreme Path, to perpetually rule over the entire Greater Realms. His ambition was to become the Supreme Path that was not a Supreme Path, to become the true uncrowned king.

After pondering for a while, Emperor Zdravko smirked. “Emperor Qadeer, do you know what you’re saying?”

“Of course,” Emperor Qadeer sneered. “The question is whether you want to continue playing dumb.”

“I do not doubt your strength and ambition,” Emperor Zdravko said leisurely.

“However, Lord Goyo ranks first among the Five Path Emperors. Are you confident?”

Emperor Qadeer’s eyes narrowed into slits.

Just then, on the edge of the void where they stood, over a dozen Emperors disappeared into the void with miserable screams.

Emperor Zdravko abruptly turned her head, her face instantly paling.

“W-What’s going on?”

“He’s finally emerged.” Emperor Qadeer was not surprised. Instead, he twirled his beard and said calmly.

“W-Who are you talking about?” Emperor Zdravko looked at Emperor Qadeer in shock.

Before she could finish her words, another dozen Emperors on the other side who were protecting the Wuinfinite Formation screamed and then vanished suddenly.

“Who exactly?” Emperor Zdravko stood up anxiously. “Emperor Qadeer, we’ve lost over twenty Emperors all at once. What’s going on?”

“Calm down, Emperor Zdravko,” Emperor Qadeer chuckled. “Next, we’ll meet an old friend.”

“What do you mean?” Emperor Zdravko asked fiercely. ‘Who are you talking about?’

“He’s talking about Morgott, James, and the Yin governor.” Just then, an ethereal voice echoed through the void.

Immediately after, a thick grayish gas coalesced in the higher void.

Emperor Zdravko was extremely shocked at the sight of the gas.

‘Taichu, what are you here for?’

“I’m here to watch the show.” The grayish gas rolled slowly, then spoke, “

Emperor Qadeer, your arrangement is seamless. However, how will you make them all listen to you? Do you really think you can control them?”

Hearing this, Emperor Zdravko immediately looked at Emperor Qadeer.

Twirling his beard, Emperor Qadeer stood up with a hearty laugh. ‘Taichu, as the Five Primal Evolutions, you’ve never meddled in the affairs of Zymurgy. Yet, here you are visit ing. I’m afraid you have the authority to surpass the bounds of your jurisdiction, don’t you?” “I allow you to manipulate the positions of the Supreme Path and the selection of Chosen One in secret,” Taichu said word by word. “However, I haven’t allowed you to collude with Morgott.”

“Am I the one colluding with Morgott?” Emperor Qadeer spread his hands. ” It’s your recognized Chosen One and the Yin governor.”

Taichu let out a scoffing laugh. "I know you have Taiyi behind you, but your audacity is just a joke before Lord Goyo returns."

Emperor Qadeer snorted coldly, his hands behind his back. "Let's wait and see whether they listen to you or me."

Just as he finished speaking, a loud rumble came from the Wuinfinite Formation under the void.

The next moment, four illusory figures soared into the sky from the formation, emanating a formidable aura.

'They're here.' Emperor Qadeer's eyes gleamed as he laughed heartily. "It's been a while, my friends."