

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6996-Trona!" Xanthakos called out in a shaky voice, "Do you sincerely not have any impure intentions?!"

"You, one of the Nine Caeloros Gods, were willing to come all the way to the Haleth Realm? You even approached James Caden as a bell spirit and willingly became his second body.

"What are your real motives? Wasn't it because you wanted to control him and make him your slave?"

A small frown creased James' forehead.

Meanwhile, Lesia heaved a deep breath. 'You won't be able to damage the trust between me and my master by saying that.

"We are connected mentally and spiritually. Moreover, we are even willing to die for the other person."

"Hahaha! You're willing to die for the other person?!" Xanthakos laughed hysterically. "Did you hear that, James Caden? She couldn't, and she wouldn't dare give you a straightforward answer!

"Let me tell you why! She herself wasn't sure whether you were the Waitara Path's reincarnated Soremsia or not!

"On the surface, she's following you everywhere and helping you with everything.

"However, once she confirms that you are the Waitara Path's Soremsia that has been reincarnated, she will kill you immediately. It's what she's here to do as a Caeloros God."

James seemed unfazed. However, he was having mixed feelings as he listened to Xanthakos' words.

For a long time, James had been curious about her.

Lesia appeared to know almost anything, and she was also very intelligent. It was rare for anyone to come across a spirit like her.

At one point, James learned of Lesia's real name from Morgott.

There were multiple instances where he wanted to ask Lesia about her origin and background. Yet, he held back each time since he wanted to respect her privacy.

They shared a close and special relationship where they could pretty much understand each other without having to voice their thoughts verbally.

Therefore, James was flabbergasted when he met Lesia's actual self at the Void World and found out she was one of the nine Caeloros Gods.

Lesia had always tried her best to help him. Her end goal was to help James, who had the title of the Chosen One, obtain the position of the Supreme Path.

According to her and Emperor Yarden, that was the only way for them to overcome the Leere Tribulation and exterminate the Waitara Path's Soremsia upon his return.

In a way, James was their pawn. He was a top-ranked pawn since he was being manipulated by the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness.

Of course, the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness claimed that they were just trying to pick their next leader.

James loathed being used, no matter who it was trying to control him. However, he had no idea how long it had been since he became a pawn for these men.

Lesia soon sensed the shift in James' mood. She quickly turned to look at him.

"Master, you..."

"Enough." James lifted his head and inhaled deeply. "It's impossible for me to tell which of you is telling the truth and which is not.

"I'm not interested in catching the liar either. Anyhow, I intend to put an end to all of this!"

James glanced at Xanthakos and Lesia.

"Whether you're Emperor Jabari, Mr. Franciscus, or Xanthakos... Whether you are Lesia or Frona, one of the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness..."

"I won't meddle or get involved in your feuds and issues. There are three things that I wish to clarify here.

"Firstly, any beings, gods, and demons included, can try to use me. However, I will never allow myself to fall under someone else's full control.

"I was never one to give in to things like fate.

“Secondly, I have no interest in being the Chosen One or the Supreme Path.

Hence, I won’t try to fight for those positions.

“No one can force me into things. Similarly, no one will be able to stop me from doing the things I’m set on doing. I will do things my way, even if it’ll cost my life.

‘Thirdly, I will get revenge for me and my wife. Whether it’s Tai Chi or some emperor or Path Emperor, I will eliminate anyone who stands in my way.’”

James swung his arm and hurled the Jozo Sword forward the next instant.

In a flash, the sword pierced through Xanthakos’ Ultimate Golden Body. The Path Emperor coughed up a mouthful of blood right away. His eyes bulged with shock.

At the same time, Lesia teleported and merged with James, boosting his powers exponentially.

“Well, this is fine too.” Xanthakos chuckled menacingly as he looked down at his new wound.

“I tried to explain things to you, James. Unfortunately, you are just too ignorant and stubborn.

“Since you insist on fighting, I’ll show you the true powers of the first living being who’s trained by following the Supreme Path’s teachings.”

As Xanthakos extended his arms, the Gate of Mystery behind him grew larger by thousands of folds. The Bohnwer Light coming from the gate shone with greater intensity as well.

“Watch out, Master! He wants to pull US all into the Gate of Mystery. That way, he’ll be able to get rid of US for good,” said Lesia.

Upon hearing Lesia’s warning, James immediately fused with the Jozo Sword again.

Before the Bohnwer Light reached him, he shot toward the direction where Thea and Morgott were.

In the sword form, James swiftly reached the pair and carried them along as he headed in the opposite direction of the Gate of Mystery.

Meanwhile, the Bohnwer Light had engulfed the sacred lotus formed through the Three Treasures Integration left behind by James’ group.

'Thea! Morgott! Get out of here as fast as you can! Don't worry about what happens here, and don't ask me any questions now.

"Head back to the Great Historial Land, stay in there until I come back for you guys!"

After giving them instructions, James immediately tossed Thea and Morgott toward a safe, faraway area.

Then, he turned around and shot toward the approaching Bohnwer Lights.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6997-Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Boom!

As James' sword form spun in the air, he unleashed a tremendous amount of sword energy and formed a huge sphere around him.

In an instant, the Bohnwer Lights moving into the range of James' attack were obliterated.

"You've mastered Zemra's skills, and you can wield the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword skillfully. I've truly underestimated you previously. However, you're being a little naive if you think you can save them by doing this." As soon as Xanthakos said that, the severed Bohnwer Lights seemed to come to life as they grew and extended almost instantaneously.

This time, the strands of Bohnwer Lights did not try to aim for James' sword energy.

Instead, they spread out and moved around the sword energy, shooting toward Thea and Morgott at lightning speed.

On the other hand, Thea and Morgott were alarmed as they could see the Bohnwer Lights moving toward them even from the edge of the Fortieth Heaven.

Instead of backing away, Thea stepped forward and conjured a Natal Lotus.

The lotus generated countless gigantic palm-shaped forms with lotus patterns on them in the air. Those huge palms stood between Thea and the wave of Bohnwer Light, acting as protective barriers.

However, those barriers were slowly getting destroyed one after the other as they could not withstand the Bohnwer Light's immense force.

Meanwhile, Morgott was trying to drill a hole through the Fortieth Heaven's border by blasting the Tyrant Spear's powers nonstop to make an escape route.

“Hurry up, Morgott!” Thea urged him. She observed that the Bohnwer Lights were getting closer to them.

“The combined powers of the Gate of Mystery and the Wuinfinite Formation are growing stronger.

“James and I won’t be able to hold on much longer. You are our only hope now.”

Morgott was gripped by a sense of panic as he received Thea’s voice transmission.

Unfortunately, he only managed to drill halfway through the border at the moment. The strength and durability of the border had gone beyond Morgott’s expectations.

“Darn it! The three of US would have been able to beat Xanthakos up if he only had the Gate of Mystery. Yet, they’ve also activated the Wuinfinite Formation today.

“They really had it all thought out!”

As he grumbled to himself, Morgott swiftly focused on his task again.

At that very moment, the Bohnwer Lights crushed the last few protective barriers put up by Thea and shot toward her.

Morgott caught sight of what was happening. He immediately teleported and re-emerged before Thea.

With the Tyrant Spear, Morgott released its powers and blocked the Bohnwer Lights.

At the same time, Morgott and Thea noticed that the wave of Bohnwer Light pushing at them had strangely reduced in its force and speed.

As they looked into the distance, the pair could see James maintaining a seated position above a gigantic, slowly rotating lotus.

The three types of blooms circled James whilst seemingly absorbing the Bohnwer Lights around James.

Both Morgott and Thea stared at the sight before them with rounded eyes.

“He could absorb the lights of the Gate of Mystery through the Three Treasures Integration?!” Morgott exclaimed.

“He’s risking his own life to buy US time.”

Thea closed her eyes. “Morgott, use any means you have and get out of here. I must stay and face this with him.”

Thea took a few steps forward in James' direction.

"Yin governor!" Morgott moved and blocked her path. "I'm not a coward who runs away, leaving his friends behind!"

"You did everything you could." Thea gazed at him.

"Unfortunately, our enemy is too strong and is determined to eliminate US for good. You, on the other hand, have a chance to get away alive."

Thea steeled herself and walked toward the barrier holding the Bohnwer Lights back.

Morgott called aloud at that moment, "Thea!1

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6998-Thea halted and glanced over her shoulder. To her surprise, Morgott got down on his knees.

She gasped, "Why are you..."

"You and James saved my life. I sincerely see James as my friend as well."

Morgott continued, "In a dangerous situation like this, I should be the one to step up and battle, not you.

"James is sacrificing himself not to buy time for me to leave. Instead, he is doing it for you, for all beings, and the Great Historial Land.

"If you stayed behind, James would not be able to focus on having a full-on battle with Xanthakos. We'd lose and let all our efforts go to waste.

"James is the leader of all living beings. He has many good friends and comrades. He also has the responsibility of protecting the living beings.

"Therefore, we can't let Xanthakos and his men get their way. There needs to be a force that'll keep those men wary and on their toes."

Thea was momentarily stunned after listening to Morgott's heartfelt words. She never thought the newly recombined Morgott would decide this.

"We are running out of time, so I *11 share a secret that can help you escape here," Morgott hurriedly said, "Hokuwn exists anywhere and everywhere. Since you are the owner now, you can always make an opening in space and enter Hokuwn.

"You'll be able to escape the Wuinfinite Formation and travel back to the Great Historial Land.

“Then, you must watch over and defend the only place carrying James’ legacy.

That way, we’d still have a second chance to exact our revenge.” Thea raised her brows, in that case, we should leave together!”

“It won’t work.” Morgott said firmly, “Both James and I need to block the lights from the Gate of Mystery for you to have enough time to escape.

“Summon the spatial gate to Hokuwn and leave right away. Hurry!”

After saying that, Morgott let out a low growl and channeled the Tyrant Spear’s powers to shove the wall of Bohnwer Light backward.

With a pained expression, Thea shut her eyes and heaved a deep breath.

She could tell that Morgott did not reveal the method initially since someone was bound to be sacrificed if they resorted to this option.

To repay James, Morgott was even willing to sacrifice himself to help Thea. That was why Thea must not hesitate or waste any more time since her indecisiveness might cause them to lose everything.

Besides, Morgott had achieved immortality. With the Three Treasures Integration, James was also immortal now.

Even if the two of them were sucked into the Gate of Mystery, they would only be imprisoned inside that space. In the future, Thea would play the key role of freeing them from the gate.

After a few moment’s consideration, Thea swiftly summoned a spatial gate to Hokuwn.

She cast a glance at Morgott, who was trying his best to stop the Bohnwer Light’s advance.

She said, “Tell James that you two are not allowed to die. As long as I’m alive, I will do everything in my power to rescue you guys.” Then, Thea stepped through the spatial gate. With a flash of the Worfreis Light, both Thea and the gate vanished from the spot instantly.

As soon as she was gone, Morgott coughed up some blood. Then, he channeled more power into the spear and charged forward, moving past the Gate of Mystery’s lights.

Soon enough, he arrived next to James, who was still performing the Three Treasures Integration.

Curiously, James’ eyes flew open just then.

“James, Thea got out safely! Now, we can go all out and fight him!” Morgott raised the Tyrant Spear and laughed happily.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 6999-James was touched by Morgott’s actions since he knew what it meant for Morgott to help Thea escape.

The news of Thea getting to safety gave James a great sense of relief as well.

“Xanthakos!” Morgott bellowed, “I’m back! The last time we met was millions of entrapochs ago, right? Prepare to die!”

Xanthakos was still in a seated position with the Gate of Mystery found just a few steps behind him.

The man opened his eyes and grinned maliciously.

“Emperor Kaelisar, what makes you think you can succeed this time?”

“We have me and James on our side.” Morgott jutted his chin out. “Sadly, you’re on your own.”

Xanthakos dissolved into laughter upon hearing those remarks.

“Your powers combined amount to almost nothing... Huh?” Before he could finish, Xanthakos spotted James spreading his arms out.

In the blink of an eye, countless balls of sword light were cast outward.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

There were sounds of objects cutting through the air as those balls of sword light flew toward the emperors and supreme beings found at the periphery of the Fortieth Heaven.

In a matter of seconds, those people were attacked. The balls of sword light pierced through those men’s Golden Bodies, killing some of them instantly.

For a moment, people were screaming in pain, and blood splattered everywhere.

“Normally, it is faster to defeat a troop if we just subdue their leader first.”

James began, “Let’s do the opposite today, Morgott. We have nothing to lose anyway. We will make them pay a hefty price for trapping US here with the Gate of Mystery and the Wuinfinite Formation.”

Morgott understood James’ plan instantly. He threw the Tyrant Spear into the air.

In an instant, the spear split and formed thousands of shadow spears.

The shadow spears went after the supreme beings, exterminating their targets one after another.

“Hahaha! I’m always impressed by your quick wit, James. You’re right. Since they are trapping US here, we should pay back by killing all of his subordinates and disciples!”

Then, Morgott shot up and headed for the fleeing supreme beings and emperors as well.

Even Xanthakos could no longer keep his composure as he took in the horrendous sight around him. “Damn it! That stubborn demon!” Xanthakos moved. His eyes set on Morgott.

At that moment, James demonstrated the Terrastride Step and the Dawnblaze Form. He took a few steps forward and blocked Xanthakos’ path.

With the Jozo Sword in his hand, James radiated the Sohnwer Light all over.

“Your opponent is right here.”

Xanthakos yelled furiously, "James, you and I were friends! Do you seriously want to take that demon's side and become my enemy?"

"Don't you see all those who refuse to obey your command as demons?"

James replied flatly, "The Emperor Jabari and Mr. Franciscus that I got to know was nothing like you.

"To me, they are either missing or no longer in this world. You are not them."

'You ungrateful young man!' Xanthakos said through gritted teeth, "I'll show you what happens to those who betray me!"

Xanthakos transformed his arm into a sword and rushed toward James. At the same time, he released numerous clones, which circled James and charged at him.

On the other hand, James conjured his forty-nine Primordial Spirits and sent them toward Xanthakos' clones.

Meanwhile, he went up to the real Xanthakos and started battling him.

James had various battle experiences. Moreover, he received help from Fennec, Hemera, and Lesia's second body.

All of that helped James keep up with Xanthakos, whether it was in terms of speed, power, or agility.

As for Xanthakos, he was adept at using his body to create and combine different attacks effectively. Each of his attacks was also imbued with lethal amounts of Wuia Power.

When the two superior cultivators clashed, the force generated from the collisions of their powers sent violent tremors across the Wuinfinite Formation.

The isolated Fortieth Heaven was even shattered to pieces due to the tremors.

Meanwhile, a gate appeared in a quiet, deserted area. After exiting the Wuinfinite Formation, Thea stepped out of the gate and arrived at that place.

"Huh?" Her eyes widened. "Where am I?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7000-“I’ve been waiting here for quite some time.” A monotonous voice came from her right just then.

Thea swiftly turned around and saw a person in the distance. To her surprise, a gorgeous and curvaceous lady was staring at her with an intense gaze.

“Lyla?” Thea’s brows arched.

“You got it wrong. I’m not Lyla.” The lady responded expressionlessly, “I am Yiulia Zdravko, one of the Five Path Emperors from the Forty-Ninth Heaven.”

Thea subconsciously dropped her jaw.

‘Lyla and Emperor Zdravko... The two of them look so alike. It’s as if they are the same person. Is this just a coincidence?’ Thea wondered.

“Yin governor...” Yiulia called out frigidly, “Oh, no. You are still incomplete. I should call you Thea instead.

“For old time’s sake, I’ll help pass on the message to him. So, do you have any last words for him?”

Thea narrowed her eyes. ‘You’re Emperor Zdravko, and you’re also Lyla...’

“Don’t mention that name again!” Yiulia raised her voice. “I’m Yiulia.”

Without any warning, she charged toward Thea.

Countless palm-shaped forms materialized in the air. As those palms shone brightly with the Sohnwer Light, they came down onto Thea the next instant.

Despite that, Thea calmly extended her arms and conjured numerous rotating sacred lotuses to defend herself against Yiulia’s attack.

A battle broke out as soon as Yiulia reached where Thea was.

Regretfully, Thea had just mastered the Three Treasures Integration. She still lacked experience in using the skill.

Thea also had relied mostly on Taishi’s powers to achieve the Daeclon Mahayana Rank.

It would have been easy for her to defeat another Daeclon Mahayana Rank cultivator. However, her current opponent was the Emperor Zdravko, who owned the Gate of Creation.

At some point, Yiulia conjured the Gate of Creation. She managed to have Thea sucked into the gate and reduced her cultivation.

Boom!

Yiulia generated a blast that sent Thea flying thousands of light-years away.

Then, she teleported and caught up with Thea. Simultaneously, Yiulia lifted her hand and formed a light sword with the Sohnwer Light.

By the time Thea steadied herself, Yiulia was holding the light sword with its tip positioned just a few centimeters away from Thea’s throat.

There was an uncomfortable silence around them for a moment.

Thea looked at the light sword and smiled wryly. ‘You win.’

“Why didn’t you go all out?” Yiulia asked furiously, “You’ve accomplished the Daeclon Mahayana Rank and the Three Treasures Integration.

“Even though you’ve been sent into the Gate of Creation, you still have what it takes to fight back.”

Thea beamed. 'You lost when it came to love. As for battle performance, you won instead. That makes US even.'

Yiulia pushed the tip of the sword forward slightly and said bitinglly, "I do not dwell in matters such as love. I have no such emotions in me."

"Instead of Emperor Zdravko, I prefer calling you Lyla." Thea replied frankly, "I don't think you'll kill me. Otherwise, you'll lose again."

Yiulia seethed. "What makes you say that?"

"It's because you have that prideful and unwavering side to you." Thea went on to explain, "If you kill me now, he will always remember me and resent you forever. You'll lose him for good. The fact that you did would probably haunt you even in your death."

Those words left Yiulia shocked and flabbergasted. She stood there with a blank look on her face.