

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7021-Lesia chuckled from within the Nothingness Formation, "Never would you have imagined being trapped in the Gate of Mystery, right, Qadeer?" Yainni sneered with laughter, "Haha, he's trapped inside a formation! Woo!"

Qadeer was furious after hearing their ridicule.

After all, he was the second strongest in the Greater Realms, only losing to Lord Goyo. However, he was being humiliated within his domain. However, no matter how much he struggled, he could not break free. Instead, the dragons wrapped around him even more tightly.

The Gate of Mystery was supposed to be his greatest pride, yet it was not working to his advantage anymore. His Nothingness Death Energy had also become ineffective.

"Release him!" James' voice echoed from the void.

The next moment, Sohnwer Swords Light darted at him with overwhelming momentum.

Qadeer shouted, "If I die, you won't be able to leave! Your friend will gradually disperse into Demonic Energy within a hundred thousand epochs and vanish into the void!"

The Sohnwer Swords suddenly halted ten meters away from Qadeer.

Seeing that his words took effect, Qadeer shouted again, "You're indeed really strong, James. However, you'll never be able to escape the Gate of Mystery.

Your powers will be useless if trapped here.

"Don't forget. Your wife, children, and friends are waiting for you. The Greater Realms' living beings have placed their hopes on you.

"Since you already know about the Leere Tribulation, you should know what it means for the Greater Realms' living beings, especially for your wife, right?"

"Your real opponent isn't me, but the Waitara Path's Soremsia.

"He is the one that orchestrated everything that had happened to your wife and also your second body. He's your real enemy, our common enemy."

After hearing Qadeer's desperate attempt to sway him, James slowly opened his eyes.

The next moment, his thoughts cleared, and he left the Three Treasure Formation to stand beside his Primordial spirit.

Qadeer was startled after seeing two James before him.

They were not clones or phantoms. Instead, they were two physical bodies.

‘How is this possible? Such things are unprecedented. Even Lord Goyo is only capable of cultivating his forty-nine Primordial Spirits to their extreme states. He can’t produce another complete physical body.’ James stared at him and ordered, “Let him go. This is your last chance.”

Qadeer’s face twitched as he shouted, “I’m trapped! How am I supposed to let him go?!!”

James did not waste any more effort. He reached out, and the formation trapping Morgott instantly moved and stopped before Qadeer.

His message was really clear. Even without Qadeer’s help, James was confident in finding a way to rescue Morgott. If he disobeyed, then James would not show any mercy.

Qadeer stared at the Oblivion Formation before him and slowly closed his eyes.

“You’re even more ruthless than me, James. You’re a real devil.”

After speaking, he opened his eyes, and two light beams shot out from his eye.

The formation stopped rotating instantly.

Morgott’s miserable screams ceased and he appeared before their eyes. He was covered in blood and bruises. His handsome face was a bloody mess, and his vibrant red hair was gone.
