

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7091-James laughed. He looked at the formation that was formed by many Marauder Warriors outside the Nothingness Formation. "Can you tell who's Lesia, my teacher and Morgott now?"

Hankin and Harper shook their heads, looking in the direction of James' gaze.

"That's right." James said, "We aim to make Xanthakos and Lord Goyo suffer losses. Then, we'll take the benefits. We must take action at the right time."

"The situation in the Gate of Mystery is different from the outside world. If we take action early, we will be killed by Xanthakos and Lord Goyo. We will lose. If we take action late, once the Path Designation Bead falls into the hands of Xanthakos or Lord Goyo, we will become passive."

"At this time, we must have a few reliable people to leave the Gate of Mystery and blend in with Xanthakos' sect. We need the right time to affect their process.

In this way, we can gain more benefits by doing less." Upon hearing that, Harper said, "I agree with you, but I don't think you should believe Quintus and Quentyn. They aren't reliable and can't be trusted." "Besides, you want to return the Twelve God-Kings, Eighteen Emperors and the Marauder Army of One-Hundred Thousand Warriors under Xanthakos. Are you an idiot?" James rolled his eyes at Harper. "If we didn't have them as pawns and didn't return these living beings under Xanthakos, how can we send three people out of the Gate of Mystery quietly?"

Harper was stunned.

With his hands behind his back, James slowly turned around. "I don't care whether or not Quintus and Quentyn are reliable. As long as they can bring our people out of the Gate of Mystery and blend it, they will be useful.

"Don't forget that we want to control the Forty-Ninth Heaven and stop Waitara's Soremsia from returning. We aren't going to kill hidden emperors like Quintus and Quentyn.

"Although they are tigers, Lord Goyo has hungry wolves. Even if they survive, I can deal with them and punish them countless times."

Looking at James, Harper took a sharp breath.

She suddenly realized that although she had spent a lot of time with James in the past with a different identity, she didn't actually know him.

Even though James was loyal and loved the Yin governor a lot, he wouldn't lose to any elders when it came to schemes and wisdom, including Xanthakos and Goyo.

However, he was terrifying. He made people feel fear. As he had such schemes and wisdom, even if he sold someone off, the latter might have no idea and count the money he earned from selling him off.

At this time, James suddenly took out the Marauder Token used to command the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors. He rubbed the token and another similar token appeared in his hand.

Upon seeing that, Hankin and Harper were shocked. "The Marauder Token can be turned into two pieces?"

"No. One is the main one, and the other is secondary." James smiled and said, 'The secondary one has all the authority of the main one. It can command the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors to do anything.'

Then, he raised the main token in his left hand. "As for the main token, it only has one ability. It can withdraw the secondary token at any time."

Upon hearing that, Hankin couldn't help but take a sharp breath.

Harper looked at James as if she was staring at a ghost. "What are you? You're terrifying!"

James smiled mysteriously. He walked out of the Nothingness Formation. He waved the secondary token. The formation formed by countless Marauder Warriors of the Twelve God-Kings and Eighteen Emperors that initially trapped Dorvus suddenly flew around in the Gate of Mystery.

Upon seeing that, Harper and Hankin were in disbelief. In the next second, James nodded at the countless Marauder Warriors. After making sure that Yianni, Morgott and Lesia were among them, he shot up to the sky.

At this moment, in the Bnorlith Formation, Quintus and Quentyn were waiting anxiously because they believed James' words.

"Why aren't they here yet?" Quintus was anxious.

On the other hand, Quentyn sat in a ball of flame. His eyes were slightly closed.

He looked calm.

“Mr. Quentyn, why aren’t you anxious?” Quintus looked at Quentyn.

“What for?” Without raising his head, Quentyn asked, ‘To ask for merit from Xanthakos?’” Quintus was taken aback. Then, he smiled awkwardly and said, “Nonsense.

We are on the same rank as Xanthakos. Why do I need to ask him for merit?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7092-I think the Divine Emperor is playing tricks on US. The Twelve God-Kings, Eighteen Emperors and Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors are almost half of Xanthakos’ faction’s power. Can he really return them?”

Quentyn smiled. “Quintus, when you faced the Divine Emperor just now, your attitude was different.”

Upon hearing that, Quintus said angrily, “I still can’t figure out what the Divine Emperor wants to do. He said he was doing everything for all the living beings, but is he really...”

“Quintus!” Quentyn opened his eyes. “The Divine Emperor is testing US. If we can’t pass this level, he won’t accept US, let alone believe US.”

Quintus opened his mouth. When he was about to speak, he saw a ray of Sword Light heading toward him. It transformed into James. He quickly went up to the latter and pleased him.

Nonetheless, Quentyn didn’t move. He was still sitting in the flame.

James refused to listen to Quintus’ praises. With a smile, he said, ” Everything has been arranged. I’m afraid that your formation will have to open a passage.

They can’t withstand the hidden emperor’s flame.”

Upon hearing that, Quintus hurriedly said, “Don’t worry. My space is big enough to accommodate hundreds of millions of warriors...”

“I asked you to open a passage,” James interrupted Quintus.

Quintus’ face twitched. Awkwardly, he turned around and raised his hands.

Instantly, nine howling ice dragons formed a passage leading to the end of the formation in the sky filled with flames. It was magical.

Then, Quintus looked at Quentyn. "Mr. Quentyn, you need to stop the flames in the surrounding areas. Otherwise..."

Before he could finish his words, Quentyn extended his arms. The flames that had been raging in the formation suddenly stopped.

After that, James waved the secondary Marauder Token. A large formation formed by the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors engulfed Dorvus. The Twelve God-Kings and Eighteen Emperors suddenly rushed out of the Gate of Mystery.

Upon seeing that, Quintus was shocked. Even Quentyn's eyes widened in disbelief.

"To command the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors, you need this." James raised the secondary Marauder Token in his hand and said, "But I don't want this token to fall into Xanthakos' hands."

"I understand." Quintus reached out to take the token. "Don't worry. It's our power. It belongs to you. I won't give it to anyone else."

With a smile, James asked, 'This is Xanthakos' token. If he wants it, what will you do?' Quintus was taken aback. Then, he answered, "I'll tell him that the token belongs to a new owner now."

"You can't trick Xanthakos." James shook his head.

"I'll say that me controlling it is the same as him controlling it." Quintus said again, "Anyway, he trusts US the most..."

James shook his head and interrupted him again.

"We don't have the token." At this time, Quentyn said, "The Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors was released by US after we opened the passage."

Upon hearing that, James laughed. Then, he threw the token toward Quentyn.

"Alright. Go ahead."

Quentyn caught the token and was stunned. After that, he waved it and headed to the edge of the formation, leading the large formation of the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors with Dorvus.

At this moment, Quintus felt resentful but didn't show it. He bowed at James before turning around to leave.

Looking at them, James put his hands behind his back. He had a strange smile on his face.

Harper came up to him and asked, "Why did you give it Quentyn instead of Quintus?"

"Quentyn is more reliable." Then, James waved his hand. With Harper, he returned to the Gate of Mystery.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7093-In Qadeer Temple of the Forty-Nine Heavens in Zymurgy, Xanthakos sat on a zafu in mid-air. He was surrounded by Bohnwer Light. He looked holy.

In front of him was Thea sitting on a blooming sacred lotus. The lotuses behind were dazzling. They were eye-catching and holy.

It was the first time in Qadeer that two powerhouses confronted each other without other people around.

A while later, Xanthakos said, "Yin governor, it's time for you to give me an answer!"

Thea slowly opened her eyes. "If I don't give you an answer, will I become a prisoner instead?"

Xanthakos sighed. "My conditions are reasonable. I've given you unprecedented preferential treatment and patience. This is enough to show my sincerity."

Thea smiled and said, "The Human Race which my husband is from has a famous saying. The man is the master outside while the woman is the master in the house. If the husband and wife think alike, everything can be accomplished."

Xanthakos chuckled and said, "But the Human Race has another saying. The husband and wife are birds from the same forest. When disaster strikes, they can fly away separately."

"You can give it a try." With a carefree smile, Thea said, "I guarantee you that the result will be beyond your expectations."

Seeing Thea's attitude, Xanthakos clenched his fists.

Thea was too evil, smart, and cunning. She couldn't receive any news about James in the Gate of Mystery, so she gave Xanthakos an ambiguous answer. It seemed that as long as someone was supported by James, she would support that person on behalf of the Wyrmscale Source.

Her coping strategy was so clever that Xanthakos had a hard time making a choice.

After pondering for a while, Xanthakos suppressed his anger and said, "But no matter what, you must return my son to me. The war will happen soon. I don't want to have any concerns."

"Your son isn't your concern. Instead, you're concerned about the Gate of Mystery." Thea smiled and said, "The agreement between you and my husband of three epochs has come to an end. Do you dare to enter the Gate of Mystery?"

Xanthakos knew that Thea was mocking him at the end. Furiously, he said through gritted teeth, "Yin governor, aren't you being too much?"

"Alright." Thea chuckled and waved her hands. "Since you treated me as a guest for such a long time, I'll stop making things difficult for you."

"In the dispute between you and Lord Goyo, I can express my stand on behalf of the Wyrmscale Source. I won't intervene for the time being. If you want the Wyrmscale Source to join the battle with you and deal with Lord Goyo, my husband will take action in person."

Upon hearing that, Xanthakos widened his eyes.

What a cunning woman! How did she think of this?

However, it was an acceptable result. After all, as long as the Wyrmscale Source wasn't on Goyo's side, Xanthakos' faction would have a fifty percent chance of winning.

As for how Xanthakos and Goyo were going to compete, it would depend on their strength.

Upon thinking of that, Xanthakos glanced at Thea. "You have to sign a soul contract with me. You aren't allowed to leave Qadeer Temple before James arrives."

"No." Thea said strongly, "I can only guarantee that the Wyrmscale Source won't intervene in the war."

Xanthakos was at a loss for words.

"Xanthakos, I have compromised so much. You should know the weight of this."

Thea said, "If you make me anxious, you know what will happen."

"Of course, you can detain me. But I can't guarantee if the Divine Marius and Wyrmscale Source will join forces with Lord Goyo to attack first."

It was a threat. Xanthakos was enraged, but he couldn't vent his anger.

He was the hero of the generation. He knew very well who was in charge now and what goal he wanted to achieve. If he really destroyed the big picture because of his anger, he couldn't bear the consequences.

A while later, his eyes widened. A soul contract appeared before Thea. The Primordial Spirit glanced at the contents of the soul contract. Thea happily signed it.

In the next second, Xanthakos snorted and left.

At this time, Yiulia's voice sounded in Thea's mind. "Why did you compromise?"

Do you really want to help the evil?"

"Xanthakos is smart," Thea said deliberately, "Without the help of the Wyrmscale Source, the war between him and Lord Goyo is inevitable. The final war in the Forty-Ninth Heaven will happen as scheduled.

"My husband's attitude is still unclear. If I express my stand, my husband's plan might be ruined."

Upon hearing that, Yiulia took a deep breath. "You can take this opportunity to ask Xanthakos to let you go to the Gate of Mystery."

"Are you stupid?" Thea said, "The reason why we are still able to countervail Xanthakos is because one of us is inside the Gate of Mystery while the other is outside. We are supporting each other. If my husband really wanted me to do something, he would have Youcef to pass the message to me long ago. Why would he wait until now?" When Yiulia heard that, she fell silent. She suddenly realized that there was a huge difference between liking someone and understanding someone.

Understanding someone and having a tacit understanding was completely different as well.

There was no doubt that the Yin governor and James were truly a match made in heaven.

A while later, she suddenly asked, "What's our next plan?"

"Since I'm here, I have to participate in the Wuia Integration Gathering." With a light smile, Thea said, "Let's listen to what they have to say first.

Then, I'll return to the Wyrmscale Source. I'll watch the fight from the mountain and get a spot for my husband in the Forty-Ninth Heaven."

Yiulia said, "You're smart. I'm not as good as you."

Thea said, "Of course, there's a difference between the mistress and the wife.

Otherwise, it would be chaotic."

Yiulia was anxious. "Yin governor, stop ridiculing others..."

"I'm talking about the mistress. Why are you so anxious?" Thea pouted. "I've heard of picking up treasures, but I've never heard of picking up reprimands."

Yiulia was speechless.

Suddenly, Thea said, "Xanthakos must have gone to host the gathering now.

They invited me but didn't notify me. Even so, I want to go." Then, she turned into a ray of light and went out of the temple.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7094-In the Daoist Temple of the Forty-Ninth Heaven, the amethyst-gold light flashed with divinity and Dao Energy.

Tens of thousands of divine beings were sitting on the zafus. They were all representatives and rulers of various forces from the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

Currently, only three gods could gather so many powerhouses. They were Taiyi, Goyo and Xanthakos.

The Daoist Temple was the training ground of Goyo.

At this moment, Goyo was sitting in a carriage wrapped in a white curtain. He was standing above all divine beings with pride.

On the left were Taichu and the nine path kings under him. On the right were the seven war saints of Goyo.

Continuing along the left and right sides were the Holiness, Emperors and Sovereigns. They were all transcendent powerhouses.

They revealed their true selves one by one. The Ultimate Golden Bodies were behind them. The entire hall was bright. However, in the temple where tens of thousands of transcendent powerhouses were gathered, the atmosphere was silent. It was so quiet that you could hear a pin drop.

Not long after, outside the temple, a beam of light entered and transformed into an old man with white hair in a white robe. He knelt on the ground. "The Wuia Integration Gathering of Qadeer Temple has officially begun.

“The attendees are the five Jadron Holiness, thirty-six Sea Emperors, eight Kalydor Sovereigns and seventy-two Golden Gods who hold eight million warriors in the Soma Daeclon Rank.

“At the same time, the supreme beings who came to attend the gathering include the Emperors of the Four Seasons.”

Then, there was an uproar in the originally quiet temple. They knew very well that the attendees announced by the elder with white hair accounted for almost seventy percent of the forces above the Forty Heaven.

Especially the seventy-two Golden Gods who have eight million warriors in the Soma Daeclon Rank. They had almost twice as many warriors as Goyo.

Compared to the uproar and gossip of the gods, Goyo sat in the carriage with a white curtain. He looked calm and relaxed.

At this time, Taichu suddenly said, “Where are the two hidden emperors?”

Upon hearing that, the elder with white hair who reported the news raised his head. “I haven’t seen Quentyn and Quintus.”

“What about the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors?” a beautiful woman sitting to the side asked.

“I haven’t seen them.” The elder with white hair shook his head again. “Not only them, but I didn’t see the Twelve God-Kings and Eighteen Emperors under Xanthakos.”

Upon hearing that, Taichu and the woman who asked the question looked at Goyo.

“Lord Goyo, there’s something fishy here.” Taichu said worriedly, “If half of the elites under Xanthakos didn’t show up, there might be bloodshed at the Wuia Integration Gathering.”

“There will be terrible bloodshed.” The woman reminded, “Should we stop it from happening?”

At this moment, Goyo waved his hand and interrupted Taichu and the woman.

Then, he looked at the elder with white hair. “I don’t care about other forces. I just want to know about James.”

James?

At the mention of James, everyone at the scene was in an uproar again.

Some of them wondered who James was, while some of them recounted James' past in an embellished manner. Most of them mainly slandered him, thinking that James had colluded with Morgott and was a scum among the Chosen Ones.

Upon hearing the noises, Goyo cleared his throat and silenced the scene.

Then, the elder with white hair hurriedly bowed. "I haven't come across any news about the Chosen One, but there is news related to him."

"What is it?" Goyo seemed interested.

"It's the Yin governor." The elder with white hair quickly said, "I don't know when she became the master of the Wyrmscale Source in the Forty-Ninth Heaven, but she was granted full authority to attend the Wuia Integration Gathering."

Upon hearing that, Taichu became anxious. He got up and shouted, "Have you looked into it? Although the Yin governor is James' wife, she's an Alcide being.

She has grudges against Xanthakos and his illegitimate daughter. How could-"

"Taichu," Goyo interrupted Taichu. "Let Teagan finish speaking."

Taichu opened his mouth but couldn't bring himself to speak.

At this time, the elder with white hair, Teagan Davison, continued, "Even though the Yin governor represents the Wyrmscale Source and Divine Marius, she seems to have some subtle relationship with Xanthakos.

Based on my deduction, it should be related to the Chosen One imprisoned in the Gate of Mystery."

The woman looked at Goyo. "Lord Goyo, James and the Yin governor are deeply in love. She must have participated in the Wuia Integration Gathering to save James. Maybe she will use the Wyrmscale Source as a bargaining chip..."

"Idiot." At this time, Stavros who had been silent suddenly spoke up.

As soon as he said that, everyone focused their attention on him.

Standing up slowly, Stavros said, "Lord Goyo, I've always advocated taking the initiative to attack Qadeer Temple and force Xanthakos to hand over the Gate of Mystery. Why didn't you listen?

"Could it be that you don't know how important James is to US? Are you still regarding James as a lowly living being?"

Then, he turned around and looked at everyone present. “Everyone, I have to remind you that James is one of the five Chosen Ones that we have jointly decided on in Wuia Palace. He is the only Chosen One among the living beings.

“He was detained by Xanthakos, so we should give a response, otherwise, the authority of Wuia Palace and the laws we have set don’t exist.

“Now, if the Yin governor is forced to exchange the Wyrmscale Source with Xanthakos, we will bear serious consequences. Everything might even be destroyed.”

After that, everyone present began to discuss.

Taichu looked at Stavros. “Emperor Stavros, I’ve been asking you questions, but you haven’t answered them.”

“I don’t need to answer.” Stavros said, “But I have reminded you that James is the only ruler who determines the fate of the Path Emperors, path kings, Holiness and Emperors. If he is forced into the Demonic Path, we and the entire Supreme Path will be destroyed.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7095-Stavros’ words made everyone present laugh.

“Emperor Stavros, have you become dumb because you’ve been beaten up by James? Why would we be afraid of him who is a mere living being?”

“That’s right. Emperor Stavros, it’s not that we don’t want to respect you, but as a Path Emperor, you should stand on our side instead of defending an outsider.”

“Who’s James? If he was really that powerful, he wouldn’t have been imprisoned in the Gate of Mystery by Xanthakos.”

“Emperor Stavros survived the disaster in the Wuinfinite Formation and was saved by Lord Goyo. He’s being cherished so much that he’s no longer courageous.”

After Stavros listened to everyone’s mocking, his face turned pale. He was trembling with anger.

In the next second, he flipped the table in front of him. Countless spiritual fruits on the table fell onto the ground.

Instantly, everyone present was stunned. They got up one after another.

At this moment, a beautiful chambermaid in a white robe closest to Goyo suddenly waved her hands. The Bohnwer Light suddenly shot out, engulfing all the spiritual fruits scattered on the ground.

On the other side of Goyo, another beautiful chambermaid in a red robe got up.

She scolded, "Emperor Stavros, are you crazy? These are all top-notch divine objects in the Daoist Temple. If they fall into the hands of all words, do you know how big of a tribulation it will cost and how many powerhouses will be born from the lowly living beings?"

The woman who spoke previously said sullenly, "Even one divine object shouldn't fall into their hands, let alone so many. The living beings are evil.

They're shameless and greedy. They aren't worthy of the divine objects!" Upon hearing that, the furious Stavros laughed.

Then, he pointed at the chambermain in a red robe and the woman. "One of you is Lord Goyo's personal manager, while the other is the leader of the nine path kings. Even you two treat the living beings as ants. It isn't surprising that the living beings are resisting US one batch after another."

The woman was at a loss for words.

With a shaky voice, Stavros said, "Previously, the first batch of living beings who entered Zymurgy went against the law. Then, Morgott caused chaos in Zymurgy.

After that, Harper, Yianni, Chuba and Zemra caused a commotion in the Forty Ninth Heaven.

"The rebellion of the living beings gets more violent and bloody each time. They also despise us more. Isn't it enough to attract your attention and make you reflect on yourselves?

"We regard the living beings as ants, but the Haleth Realm can't exist without them. We enjoy their offerings and worship, but we guard against, discriminate against and even bully them without any mercy and blessing."

Then, Stavros raised his head and sighed. "If I were a living being, I must be one of those who rebel against US."

Right away, the entire place was in an uproar.

At this time, the woman pointed at Stavros. "How dare you say such words as one of the Five Path Emperors? It seems that you want to break free from the Supreme Path and enter the Demonic Path..."

“So?” Coldly, Stavros stared at her. “Maria, I know you’ve been eyeing the position of the Path Emperor, but you couldn’t make a move. Now, you’re forcing me to step down from the position. Do you think you can take over if there’s a vacancy?”

Maria was enraged.

With a loud sound, an amethyst-gold scroll appeared in Stavros’ hands. He raised his head and looked at Goyo who had been silent. “Lord Goyo, you’re the leader of the Five Path Emperors. Although you rarely show yourself, make the decisions on everything. I was entrusted by someone to give you this resignation letter.”
