Chapter 7152

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7152-Dorvus was stunned. He hurriedly bowed at James.

“Commander, you know best about the situation of the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors. In terms of combat power and strength, it’s indeed not comparable to the powerhouses from the Wyrmscale Source N “Don’t make excuses!” Marius said coldly, “Since you respect the Wyrmscale Saint, you should obey his orders, otherwise, it will mean you have ulterior motives.”

When Dorvus heard that, his face flushed with anger. Although he was reluctant, the current situation didn’t allow him to play any tricks.

Otherwise, he would lose his life.

After thinking clearly about it, he lifted the ax on his shoulder that Marius placed and shouted, “I will do as you say. The Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors isn’t worse than your powerhouses.” Then, he took out a token and waved it. “Marauder Army, listen up. We will launch an attack from the front, center and back.”

After that, the one hundred thousand warriors immediately formed a pattern and rushed toward the barrier in front of them at an orderly pace.

Upon seeing that, James smiled.

On the other hand, Marius snorted. “Dorvus* tricks are a child’s play. He’s shameless.”

Then, he looked at James. “Master, will the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors be wasted by him or sacrificed in vain in his hands?”

With a smile, James said, “No. To Dorvus, Xanthakos is sacred. He recognizes the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors as Xanthakos’ bodyguards. He won’t waste even one of them.”

Upon hearing that, Marius took a deep breath. In terms of wisdom, all living beings were nothing in front of James. Now, he had another strength.

In this situation, whether it was Xanthakos or Goyo, they were overestimating their capabilities and seeking death.

The war had begun on James’ side. It was in full swing. Everything was going smoothly.

In the Qadeer Temple on the Forty-Ninth Heaven, Xanthakos received reports from all sides. His disciples and God-Kings had attacked in several directions.

They won and lost equally. They had conquered five of the nine Daonus Realms.

At this moment, Xanthakos walked back and forth in the temple with his hands behind his back. He felt uneasy.

On the other side, Quentyn and Quintus exchanged glances. They knew the situation well.

Right then, a figure flew in from the outside and knelt before Xanthakos. "Our army on the east route has invaded the Taichu Daonus Realm but was attacked by the army of Emperor Cosimeon and Emperor Zdravko. We fell into a tight siege. I'm here to request immediate reinforcements."

Then, Xanthakos who was already upset grabbed the man's collar and lifted him. "What a bunch of thrash. All the armies are making rapid progress. Only the army on the east route is making slow progress. How useless is the army that they are trapped in a tight siege?"

After that, he pushed out his palm. With a loud bang, the person who reported the news turned into ashes.

Upon seeing the terrifying scene, Quentyn and Quintus trembled. They were so frightened that they couldn't even take a breath.

At this moment, a sickly elder in a red robe walked into the temple. When he saw the bloody scene, he couldn't help but frown.

"Quillan Holiness, do you have bad news too?" Xanthakos asked coldly.

Quillan who had white hair frowned. He hurriedly knelt on the ground. "We have broken through the middle and west routes. We have sieged Goyo Daonus Realm."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7153-With a snort, Xanthakos said, "Do they need to report the siege? It was originally a siege anyway.

"But I don't care whether they are on the middle or west route. What I care about now is the Wyrmscale Source. I want to know if James and the others have started a war against the Goyo Daonus Realm."

Suddenly, Quillan raised his head. He wanted to say something but couldn't say it.

“What about you?” Xanthakos turned to glare at Quintus and Quentyn. “Is there any news about James? It’s related to our overall situation.”

Quintus quickly returned to his senses. “Emperor Qadeer, I will look into it now.”

Then, he ran away.

When Quentyn saw that, he cursed in his heart. He was left behind.

“Mr. Quentyn.” Xanthakos approached Quentyn. “Since we met James, we rarely had a chat.”

Quentyn sighed. “Xanthakos, if you start a huge battle in the Forty-Ninth Heaven, do you know how many lives will be destroyed?”

Xanthakos was stunned. Then, he burst into laughter. Quentyn frowned.

“Lives will be destroyed?” Xanthakos, who had finished laughing, asked coldly, “If we don’t do this, there might not even be living beings by then. So, how are we destroying their lives?”

Quentyn was at a loss for words. Xanthakos was always like this. No matter what Quentyn asked him, he would speak plausibly and tell him a fact that he couldn’t refute.

“You and James seem to sympathize with each other.” Xanthakos sneered.

“But Mr. Quentyn, you need to understand that we are sworn brothers.

Whatever James can’t give you, I can.”

“Do you think I want fame, glory and wealth?” Quentyn’s face darkened.

“I know you’re proud.” Putting his hands behind his back, Xanthakos said with a smile, “You never seek fame or fortune because you want to fight for fairness for all living beings. I can help you achieve this.”

Quentyn raised his head and took a deep breath. Was he supposed to fight for all living beings alone?

Xanthakos was worse than James. If James hadn’t given Quentyn a special task, the latter wouldn’t have endured Xanthakos until now.

At this time, Quintus’ voice came from outside the temple. “Emperor Qadeer, good news! James and the others broke through one of the barriers of the Goyo Daonus Realm. They killed Zaila who is the Tikos Path King, one of the nine path kings under Lord Goyo.”

Upon hearing that, Xanthakos turned around. He was elated.

“We can finally carry out our plan.” Quintus rushed to Xanthakos and laughed.

“We can start now.” Xanthakos said excitedly, “Gather everyone in hiding. Our plan will be implemented now.”

Then, he left the temple in a hurry along with Quentyn and Quillan.

At this moment, Quentyn was still frowning.

What plan made Xanthakos so excited? Quentyn wanted to know. It was a part of the task given to him by James.

After pondering for a while, he decided to follow Xanthakos.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7154-On James' end, as the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors led by Dorvus launched an attack, the first line of defense at the southern part of the Goyo Daonus Realm was completely breached.

Then, they separated into several groups with eighty thousand powerhouses from the Wyrmscale Source. They were overwhelming. After breaking through more than a dozen lines of defense, they finally arrived at Terythor Universe which was the largest universe in the south part of the Goyo Daonus Realm.

The Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors was indeed a powerful weapon. The army was so terrifying that Dorvus could be regarded as one of Xanthakos' powerful generals.

However, Dorvus was ruthless. Wherever he went, there would be flesh and blood everywhere. Whether they were men, women, children or surrendered warriors, he would kill them all without mercy.

As for the cultivation resources, he would plunder them as much as he could.

Everything that couldn't be taken away would be destroyed. Every plant would be razed to the ground.

They killed everyone in front, but the eighty thousand powerhouses from the Wyrmscale Source could only serve as guards to protect the left and right sides.

If James hadn't ordered the attack to stop, Dorvus would have invaded Terythor Universe immediately and killed everyone.

At this moment, at the border of Terythor Universe, James was sitting on a sacred lotus with three flowers around him, showing prestige.

In the void ahead, the seven Spiritual Saints led by Seraphine were furious.

They were all talking about the ruthlessness of Dorvus and the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors.

Along the way, they had seen too many horrific scenes. Even powerhouses like them who were used to seeing massacres were horrified.

“Wyrmscale Saint, as the commander, you should control them.” Seraphine knelt on one knee and said, “If we continue to kill them based on Dorvus’ way, all the universes and realms we concur will be in ruins. What’s the point?”

Upon seeing her kneeling on the ground, several Spiritual Saints knelt on the ground too and begged Dorvus to be severely punished.

As he watched their actions, Marius frowned. “What are you doing? Are you threatening Master?”

At that, all the Spiritual Saints led by Seraphine quickly lowered their heads.

Then, Marius turned to James. “Master, although they’re disturbing you, their words aren’t unreasonable. Dorvus is too cruel. He killed all the way here, including the captives who surrendered. If he continues, he will ruin your reputation and make you bear the curses for him.”

“More importantly, once you lose the heart of all divine beings, it will be hard for you to be the ruler of all realms and be respected by the divine beings.”

Upon hearing that, the Spiritual Saints raised their heads with anticipation.

James smiled. When he was about to speak, an angry curse sounded from the void in front of him. “How dare a group of shameless living beings from the Wyrmscale Source slander others behind their backs? How despicable.”

Upon hearing that, Marius and the Spiritual Saints frowned. In the next second, a beam of light entered and transformed into Dorvus. He appeared in front of James.

“Commander, you’re smart. You won’t believe their monstrous words, right?”

“Dorvus.” Marius’ face darkened. “Am I among those you said who spoke monstrous words?”

Dorvus glanced at Marius and snorted coldly. “Divine Marius, you’re an elder.

How can I insult you? However, as an elder, aren't you too partial and unfair?"

Marius was speechless.

Dorvus snorted. "We're fighting bloody battles at the front, but you're afraid of death. You only stay at the back, clean up the battlefield, and take over the territory. However, you claim we're cruel and bloodthirsty. Is killing a sin?"

After hearing that, Marius was enraged.

Right then, Seraphine got up and shouted, "Dorvus Holiness, please speak with some conscience. If we didn't protect your left and right flanks, would you be invincible?"

"That's right," Kronos yelled angrily, "There are a total of eighteen barriers at the southern part of the Goyo Daonus Realm. Tens of millions of powerhouses have gathered there. Four of the nine path kings under Lord Goyo and two of the seven war saints are here. Did your Marauder Army kill any of them?"

Marlowe snorted. "Although we aren't at the front, we have shouldered more than half of the attacks. Who's afraid of death?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7155-Facing the spiritual Saints' attack, Dorvus laughed in anger. "Now that we won the battle, you're trying to grab the credit. If you want to discuss it, let's calculate it properly.<sup>1</sup>' Then, he looked at Marius. "You have need severely injured the Tikos Path King, but I was the one who killed him. Then, you reprimanded me."

Marius frowned.

Dorvus snorted. He turned to James and saluted him. "As for the remaining three path kings and two war saints at the southern part of the Goyo Daonus World, they were all taken by a few powerhouses under Sir James. So, it was able to be eradicated. Aren't you guys being too shameless to take the credit?" As soon as Dorvus said that, he aroused the anger of the Spiritual Saints from the Wyrmscale Source. They refuted and rebuked him.

"Wyrmscale Saint is the ruler of the Wyrmscale Source. He is our highest belief.

How is it wrong?"

"That's right. We're all loyal to Wyrmscale Saint. How can you compare US?"

“Dorvus Holiness, you’re older than US. However, it’s best not to say such words to sow discord. We don’t agree with this.”

“You’re bloodthirsty and cruel. You want to make Wyrmscale Saint have a bad reputation. You’re shameless and despicable.

“Dorvus, please stop talking. We are all disciples of Wyrmscale Saint. You can’t provoke US.”

“Get lost. Without you, we can still win the Goyo Daonus Realm.”

Seeing that everyone was enraged, Dorvus didn’t show fear. Rather, he became more excited. He began to make sarcastic remarks, making the Spiritual Saints from the Wyrmscale Source even angrier. They surrounded him and almost started a fight.

At this moment, James was still sitting on the lotus. He watched the scene without saying a word.

Noticing that something was off with James’ expression, Marius suddenly waved his hand and shouted, “Alright. Be quiet.”

Then, the group of divine beings who were arguing raised their heads.

When they saw James’ expression, they suddenly realized something. They took a few steps backward and lowered their heads with a guilty conscience.

“It’s so noisy.” James said, “I’ve heard enough.”

Upon hearing that, Dorvus and the divine beings from the Wyrmscale Source were so frightened that they didn’t dare to breathe.

“What a bunch of idiots.” Harper who was standing next to James said with a smile, “It seems that they’re going to rebel.”

Then, she looked at James. “They don’t respect you as the commander. It has been a long time since you showed your power. I think they have forgotten who’s the master here.”

“Let me kill two of them.” Hankin who was disguised as Morgott came forward.

At that, Dorvus and the divine beings from the Wyrmscale Source who had their heads lowered became even more frightened.

Their strength was incomparable to the strength of these mysterious powerhouses, let alone James’. During the fight between them and the path kings as well as war saints, they could tell that they were powerful.

Upon understanding the situation, Marius hurriedly knelt on the ground. “

Master, I’m sorry. We’ll wait for your decision.”

Once he knelt on the ground, the Spiritual Saints quickly knelt on the ground too. They shouted simultaneously, “Wyrmscale Saint, we were wrong. We’ll wait for your decision.”

When Dorvus saw that, his face twitched. He didn’t know if he should kneel and accept the punishment or continue the stalemate.

“Hey!” Harper pointed at Dorvus who was hesitant. “Do you still not know your mistake? Do you have a death wish?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7157-At that, Marius and Harper exchanged glances.

James had already said what needed to be said. They understood everything, but they were still shocked. Xanthakos didn’t hesitate to start a war in the Forty-Ninth Heaven just to hold Goyo and James back. He wanted to buy time for his plan.

Once he seized Wuia Temple and Path Designation Bead, Goyo and James would no longer be his opponent. However, were Wuia Temple and the Path Designation Bead so easy to seize?

After pondering for a while, Harper pursed her lips and looked at James. “Can we summon Frona, Morgott and the others now?”

“Now?” James frowned.

“The Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors suffered considerable losses during the battle this time,” Harper said, “If we summon them now, Dorvus won’t notice anything.” James took a deep breath and said, “There’s no need for that. You, Febby and Hankin are enough.”

“That’s not what I’m talking about.” Harper approached James. “Do you really want to satisfy Xanthakos and let him seize Wuia Temple and Path Designation Bead?” Satisfy? If James wasn’t doing it to satisfy Xanthakos, why would he spend so much effort playing along with Dorvus? He should have killed Dorvus and Xanthakos long ago.

It didn’t matter whether it was the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors or the powerhouses from the Wyrmscale Source. They were all controlled by him now. He was the real ruler.

However, he couldn't figure out Xanthakos' plan. If the act went wrong and Xanthakos noticed something, Xanthakos wouldn't continue with his plan, let alone seize the Path Designation Bead. He wouldn't even find Wuia Temple.

What James needed to do now was to wait patiently. He needed to lure Xanthakos out and wait for everything to be ready before striking.

"Look. You aren't talking again." Harper glared at James resentfully. "Hurry up and tell me your plan. I can improve it." James chuckled, "I'll give you a task then. We'll discuss it after you complete it."

Upon hearing that, Harper frowned. "Do you want me to give birth to a baby? I can do it now."

"Get lost." James said, annoyed, "I want you to sneak into the Terythor Universe and meet the commander of the Goyo Sect."

When Harper heard that, she rolled her eyes. "Do you want to persuade him to surrender?"

"No." James shook his head. "I want to meet Lord Goyo. I need the commander to pass on a message." Then, James reached out his hand, and a dazzling jade pendant appeared in his hand. He handed it to Harper and said, "If the commander doesn't believe you, give this to him. If he's stubborn, kill him and we'll launch an attack."

Harper took the jade pendant and looked at it. Then, she asked, "What if I can't defeat him?"

Upon hearing that, James chuckled. "If you can't defeat him, he must be the core subordinate under Lord Goyo. If he is, he won't reject US and your beautiful appearance."

Harper's eyes glinted. "Have you finally admitted that I'm beautiful?" James was at a loss for words. She stared at him. "Why are you so confident?"

"It's because Lord Goyo needs US the most right now," James said slowly, "

More importantly, Lord Goyo can't afford to offend US now."

Harper seemed to have understood something. She gave James a thumbs up.

Then, she kissed him and winked at him before turning to leave.

Upon seeing that, Marius who was listening to their conversation was confused.

"You don't need to ponder about this." James got up. "With your intelligence, it's too difficult for you. Come with me."

Then, the Anonymous Gas engulfed Marius and disappeared.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7156-Dorvus was taken aback. It was only then that he knelt on the ground with a thud. "Commander, I was framed. You saw it just now. They've been slandering US. We're-

"Have you calmed down?" James interrupted Dorvus. "How about I let you be in charge of the attack on the Terythor Universe? Then, you can break in and kill as many living beings as you want to calm down."

At that, Dorvus' expression changed. "Commander, do you think that I shouldn't kill them too? Even though they are enemies? Have you forgotten how the Alcide beings treated US and how arrogant they used to be? They controlled our fate and everything else. Do you think that..."

"Do you think that you only killed the Alcide beings?" Marius turned to glare at Dorvus. "Do you think there aren't living beings among them?"

Dorvus gritted his teeth. "Even if there were some of them, they couldn't be avoided as this is a war."

"Were there only a few of them?" Marius glanced at James and snorted. "You killed trillions of so-called enemies along the way. The Alcide beings among them were only a billion."

"The rest were all living beings. They were living beings enslaved by the Alcide beings. They were already living a miserable life. They never knew if they could survive another day under the Alcide beings. They had been oppressed for a long time. They couldn't escape such a miserable life."

"Now, we attacked the Goyo Daonus Realm because we wanted to rescue them. However, you killed them all. You're vicious and cruel. You're insane."

Dorvus was upset. He opened his mouth but couldn't say anything.

"Since you were supposed to kill the enemies, why were you so unfair?" Marius questioned. "You took all the beautiful women who were our enemies into your space. On the other hand, you killed the men and women with ordinary appearances. You're shameless. Did you think Master wouldn't notice it?"

Dorvus was speechless.

“You just want to take these beautiful women as your own and become your Dual Cultivation slaves!” Marius roared angrily. “You’re also doing it to please Emperor Qadeer, your master, as he’s known to be a womanizer and a shameless man.

“The Dead Energy he cultivates relies entirely on absorbing the Yin energy from the women as a cultivation resource. He is heartless and insane. He shouldn’t be a Path Emperor.”

“How dare you slander Emperor Qadeer...” When Dorvus was about to attack Marius, Harper stepped in and grabbed him by the collar.

Dorvus was enraged.

With a charming smile, Harper asked, “Are you going to start a fight here? Do you really think James has a good temper?” “N-No.” Dorvus turned to James. “Commander, I’ve contributed a lot to the war. I didn’t...”

“Let him go,” said James.

Harper frowned, but she let go of Dorvus.

Enunciating each word, James said, “I don’t care who you are or who you take orders from. You’re under my command now. You must abide by my rules.

“If I see you acting without authorization by making your own decisions and going on a killing spree again, I will get rid of you and the Marauder Army of One Hundred Thousand Warriors. You will never reincarnate.”

Then, James waved his hand. A terrifying Anonymous Gas shot out. With a loud sound, Dorvus was knocked away.

Upon seeing that, Marius and the Spiritual Saints who were kneeling on the ground got up one after another. They were relieved.

“Except for Febby, all of you should leave.” James said in a voice that no one could refute, “If I hear you and Dorvus get into a fight again, I will kill you without mercy.”

Upon hearing that, the Spiritual Saints were so frightened that they hurriedly bowed in response before turning around to leave.

It was only then that Marius and Harper turned into two beams of light and returned to the lotus where James was.

“The fight was strange,” said Harper with her arms crossed.

“It was indeed.” James smiled, it’s because it’s what Dorvus wants most.”

Marius widened his eyes and asked, “Master, are you saying that Dorvus deliberately made the conflict worse?”

“He must leave US here and continue to hold off Lord Goyo.” Enunciating each word, James said, “He’s doing it to buy time for his master to seize Wuia Palace and Path Designation Bead.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7157-At that, Marius and Harper exchanged glances.

Then, the Anonymous Gas engulfed Marius and disappeared.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7158-In the Havenshine Nebula of the Terythor Universe, there was a huge Golden Body that spanned tens of thousands of star clusters and occupied almost more than half of the nebula.

In the remaining half of the nebula, the star clusters rotated around the Golden Body slowly. The light drawn out was dazzling.

Above the Golden Body was a shining planet rotating rapidly. In the center of it, a man with white hair and a young appearance was sitting with his legs crossed.

He shone brightly. It was as though the nebula and the entire Terythor Universe were illuminated by his light.

He was none other than Xerach Donnelly, the Blazing War Saint, who was the head of the seven war saints under Goyo.

At the same time, he was the commander guarding the southern part of the Goyo Daonus Realm.

Regarding the dozens of defensive barriers at the southern part being breached and all the universes except the Terythor Universe being seized, Xerach wasn't panicked at all. It was as though he had everything under control.

Even the dojo he cultivated at didn't have any defenses. He wasn't protected by anyone.

At this moment, a beam of light came rushing toward him. It appeared before him, transforming into a stunning woman in a red robe.

It was only then that Xerach who had been meditating opened his eyes. “

Harper!”

“Hey.” Harper chuckled and said, “It has been many years, yet you still remember my name. Have you been thinking about me because you want to sleep with me?”

Xerach sighed. With a smile, he asked, “You're still the same.”

Then, four beams of light shout out. They turned into two men and two women.

They were wearing armor.

Once they appeared, they attacked Harper simultaneously.

As the four terrifying Bohnwer Lights struck, four rotating cyclones formed around Harper. They were menacing.

“I just want to be nice. Why is it so difficult? Let me deal with you then.” Then, Harper reached out and a vast Anonymous Gas spread.

With a loud sound, it shattered the rotating cyclones.

After that, the four men and women who besieged her were suddenly knocked away by the gas. They coughed up blood. Their armor was cracked too.

“How dare the four of you attack me? You have overestimated yourselves.”

Harper snorted. “Xerach, your disciples are too weak.”

The four men and women who coughed up blood because of the blow became furious upon hearing that. Each of them pulled out their weapons again and launched another attack.

In an instant, the Sword Lights and palms were powerful enough to destroy the universe. It was terrifying.

Although the attack came from all directions, it was completely blocked by Harper’s transparent shield.

Upon seeing that, Xerach closed his eyes helplessly. He didn’t even want to look at the scene.

Harper smiled and said, “Xerach, are you trying to force me to kill all your disciples?”

When Xerach heard that, he opened his eyes and shouted, “Everyone, stop!”

The four men and women who were attacking Harper’s shield exchanged glances in shock. Nonetheless, they immediately launched another attack.

Harper clicked her tongue. With a flick, a Sword Light shot out. It immediately pierced the body of one of the women. Upon seeing that, the other Emperors were frightened. They were shocked.

I told you to stop,” Xerach shouted angrily, “Do all of you want to die?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7159-This time, the three Emperors finally obeyed and left one after another.

Nevertheless, they stayed in mid-air. It was as though they would take action at any time if Harper stepped out of line.

“What a bunch of idiots!” Xerach waved his hand. Two golden lights shot out, knocking the three Emperors away.

It was only then that Harper withdrew her shield and approached Xerach with a smile. Xerach pointed behind Harper and a chair appeared. Then, he made a gesture signaling her to have a seat.

“As expected of you. You’re polite.” Harper smiled and sat down.

“We shouldn’t fight. What are you here for?” Xerach looked at Harper with a smile. “I have something to say first. If you want to persuade him to surrender, please don’t speak.”

Harper asked with a cunning smile, “Do you know that your current situation isn’t great?”

Xerach sighed and said, “Why does James not want to be the Chosen One obediently? Why must he do evil? We know each other well, so why don’t you try to persuade him?”

Harper laughed. She looked at Xerach amusedly. “I didn’t persuade you to surrender, yet you’re trying to brainwash me?”

Xerach chuckled. “What are you here for then?”

“James wants to meet Lord Goyo,” Harper blurted out, “I hope you can pass on the message.”

Upon hearing that, Xerach was stunned. Then, he laughed while stroking his beard. “I didn’t expect you, who used to cause chaos in Zymurgy, to become a messenger.”

“What?” Harper puffed up her chest. “Are you looking down on me?”

“No.” Xerach waved his hands. “I want to meet James too. Could you help me pass on the message?”

When Harper heard that, she burst into laughter. “You’re indeed the smartest man under Lord Goyo. I was negotiating terms with you, yet you beat me to it. If you’re being insincere, I’ll take my leave now. Let’s see each other on the battlefield!”

Upon seeing Harper stand up and leave, Xerach waved his hand hurriedly.

“Hey, we haven’t finished negotiating. Why are you in such a hurry?”

“What leverage do you have to negotiate terms with US?” Harper turned around and asked disdainfully, “Although you’re the head of the seven war saints and the closest confidant of Lord Goyo, you’re just a slave.

“On the other hand, James is not only the lord of all living beings and the Great Historical Land, but he’s also the lord of the Wyrmscale Source. He can defeat you, only leaving the winners of the Terythor Universe here.”

Facing Harper’s attacks, Xerach wasn’t enraged. Instead, he laughed and nodded.

“You’re right, but how do you expect me to believe that you can represent James?”

“I’m close to him.” Harper puffed up her chest again. “Are you doubting me?”

“It’s an important matter.” Xerach took a deep breath. “I believe you, but Lord Goyo might not believe you. After all, we are at war now. If you take advantage of my absence when I return to report and attack the Terythor Universe, then...”

“Xerach.” Harper interrupted Xerach. “Do you think James is a shameless hypocrite like you?”

Xerach played with his sleeves. “James might not do it, but it isn’t necessarily the case for other living beings. After all, they are cunning and have no bottom line.” When Harper heard that, she was a bit enraged.

“Where’s the token?” Xerach extended his hand toward Harper.

Harper was confused. “What?”

Xerach said, “James is smart. If he really wants to meet Lord Goyo, he won’t just send you without providing any tokens.”

Upon hearing that, Harper chuckled. Then, she pulled out a longsword with Murderous Energy. “I don’t like your tone of voice.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7160-Xerach wasn’t afraid at all. He still played with his sleeves with a smile.

“Harper, this is a competition between the top powerhouses. It isn’t a battle between you and me. You take James as your leader while I take Lord Goyo as my leader. They are both leaders. The overall situation should be the most important thing.”

Harper clicked her tongue. She stretched out his hand and stroked the body of the longsword. “Why are you afraid? I’m just giving you the token.”

Then, a jade pendant appeared on the tip of the sword. She gave it to Xerach.

Heaving a sigh of relief, Xerach took it. After inspecting it, he sighed. "As expected of James. He's worthy of being the lord of all living beings. He's really smart. It's ridiculous that Xanthakos claims to be the smartest when he's the most stupid and ridiculous man."

After that, Xerach put away the jade pendant and looked at Harper again.

"Do you want to wait here for the news or do you want to go back and I'll send someone to contact you?"

"Both are fine." Harper shrugged. "It's just that you don't even have someone handsome here. What can I do here?"

Xerach stroked his beard and laughed. "Although my dojo is quiet, it'll be of great help to you. You should give it a try."

Then, he disappeared, leaving only a zafu shining with Wama Light behind.

Harper glanced around. Then, she turned around and sat on the zafu. "The Alcide beings really know how to enjoy life. The Innate Energy that the living beings dreamed of was used as a zafu."

After that, Harper's body was engulfed by Innate Energy. She immediately entered the state of cultivation.

At the same time, on a planet tens of thousands of light years away, the three Emperors who had been knocked away gathered angrily.

"How is she so strong? I've never seen such a strong living being before," one of them said.

"She must have gotten her strength from Xanthakos' Gate of Mystery. Besides, she carried out Dual Cultivation with James. So, it would be twice the result with half the effort," said another."

"When I become a Holiness, I will capture her and carry out Dual Cultivation with her until she dies," the third added.

"You should continue dreaming." At this time, the voice of an elder sounded behind the three Emperors.

The three immediately turned around. They quickly greeted him. "Greetings, Supreme War Saint."

Salim Withal smiled. He waved his hand, and an amethyst-gold light engulfed the three Emperors. Instantly, their injuries were healed. The three emperors raised their heads and expressed their gratitude.

Salim, who was the Supreme War Saint, approached the three Emperors with his hands behind his back as he looked toward the south. "James' army has surrounded the Terythor Universe. Can you stop them?"

Upon hearing that, the three Emperors got up and surrounded Salim.

At this time, one of the Emperors who was muscular said, 'We currently have three hundred billion warriors. Although it seems to be a lot, it's still difficult to defend the Terythor Universe.'

"Difficult?" Salim turned around and glanced at the muscular emperor. "Lazaro, you're almost a Holiness. You should know that James only has less than two hundred thousand warriors." "Yes." Lazaro Goyo sighed. "But the two hundred thousand warriors are comparable to the Mahayana Daeclon Rank. Even though we have three hundred billion warriors, most of them are living beings with low cultivation ranks."
