

The Almighty Dragon General

Chapter 7182

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7182-James said lightly, "I'm just a lowly mortal. Since you two noble Alcide beings have spoken, I can't possibly refuse, right?"

As soon as these words came out, Xalvador and Yavrin instantly fell to their knees. If James were to call himself lowly, then nobody would dare to call themselves noble.

Seeing the two so afraid, James stopped teasing them. After all, there were more important things to deal with. He loosened his grip on Fausto. With a loud thud, Fausto fell to the ground, causing a deep pit. He immediately spat out a mouthful of blood.

The Anonymous Gas trapping Pierrette also dispersed but also shattered the purple Sword Lights.

As the shockwaves spread, she kept coughing up blood and was swept away.

Witnessing the horrifying scene, Xalvador and Yavrin, who were kneeling on the ground, were so terrified that they did not even dare to breathe.

James waved his hand and said, "Alright. I've let them go. You can deal with them. I'll just wait for the results."

After saying this, James turned around and walked slowly into the valley.

Xalvador and Yavrin looked at each other and bowed gratefully.

Afterward, Yavrin stood up first and shouted angrily, "Get over here!"

Pierrette, who was blown away, and Fausto, who fell to the ground, turned into two beams of light and appeared in front of Yavrin.

Yavrin summoned his powers and pressed them to their knees on the ground.

"You two idiots. You should spend your effort trying to accomplish something instead of causing trouble."

Fausto suddenly raised his head and asked angrily, "How can he, a lowly being, have such terrifying strength?"

Bang! Yavrin kicked Fausto to the ground again. “You’re such a fool. That guy relied on his strength to achieve his success. Do you think he relied on cultivation resources like you?”

“Even our master admires and respects him. Yet, you were trying to act arrogantly and show off your identity as an Alcide Being? You’re looking for trouble.”

Xalvadoe sighed and said, “You two... He’s the Mortal Emperor, the Lord of the Great Historial Land. When he integrated his Three Treasures, captured Yehria, killed numerous supreme beings, fought against emperors, and battled Xanthakos in the Gate of Mystery, you two were still in seclusion. By the time he led the Wyrmscale Source’s Army and the Marauder Army to invade the southern end of the Goyo Daonus Realm, you had just emerged from seclusion.”

“Being Lord Goyo’s disciples doesn’t give you the power to look down on the Greater Realms. He is an existence beyond your reach, one that can influence the entire Forty-Ninth Heaven.”

Xalvador pointed at Fausto and the kneeling Pierrette, reprimanding, “We are Alcide beings, always thinking that we are high above and look down on the creatures of the world, but now, the fate of US Alcide beings is not in our own hands, but in the hands of the Mortal Emperor, who you regard as lowly.”

Faced with Xalvador’s angry rebuke, Fausto and Pierrette seemed to realize something, and then thought about the fear suppressed by James’s terrifying aura just now, and finally slowly closed their eyes.

Yavrin shouted coldly, “That’s enough. There’s no point in talking nonsense.

Now, our sect is in danger and he is the only one who can turn the tables and wipe out Xanthakos.

“Now that you’ve offended him, our lives and the entire sect might not be able to survive this disaster.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7183-Yavrin took a deep breath and said, “I have no idea what punishment will suffice. You two should seek forgiveness before Master and the Chosen One.

Perhaps he will spare you two out of respect for Lord Goyo.”

After speaking, he cast a glance at Xalvador and turned to walk into the valley.

Fausto and Pierrette, who had been so arrogant earlier, fell to the ground. Their faces were filled with horror and anxiousness.

Inside the valley, James stood before a mass of black and white gas.

Though he had not intended to stop, he was halted by four women dressed in white robes and veils.

Seeing their fierce, enemy-like demeanor, James felt both amused and irritated.

‘Damn it. I was invited here, but keep getting blocked. It’s as if I’m here to seek an attendance with the emperor. It’s so annoying. They really think I’m weak because I don’t show off my strength.’ The four masked women were ready to engage in battle, their lightsabers gleaming menacingly.

Just then, two beams of purple-gold light shot out from behind James, transforming into Xalvador and Yavrin.

Seeing the tense situation, Yavrin awkwardly pulled James aside.

“I apologize, Emperor Caden. Lord Goyo is injured and is still in seclusion...”

James asked angrily, “Then why invite me here? Was I invited to meet him or worship me?”

Yavrin’s face turned pale with fear and said, “No, no! Of course not, Emperor Caden. Please don’t misunderstand. Lord Goyo is just...”

A faint voice suddenly came from the black and white gas. “I would never show such disrespect! I’m greatly honored that the Chosen One, Emperor Caden, has come to visit me.

Hearing the voice, Yavrin and Xalvador immediately knelt. The four masked females quickly followed suit.

James had already grasped the situation. He smiled at the black and white gas, then said, “You seem to be more focused on formalities than genuine hospitality.”

The black and white gas fluttered, and then a loud laugh followed.

“You’re misunderstanding me, James. I’m not trying to be disrespectful, It’s truly inconvenient for me to greet you in person. Please forgive me. If I could move, I would personally come to visit you. I wouldn’t have troubled you to come.”

James asked casually, “So we’re just gonna chat here?”

After a brief silence, Goyo's voice came from the black-and-white gas."

Everyone's dismissed. I wish to speak with you alone."

Xalvador and Yavrin quickly stood, bowed to James, and then left.

However, the four women guarding the black-and-white gas remained in place.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7184-James and the four women stared at each other as if it was a competition.

Suddenly, James smiled. The next moment, a loud rumbling sound broke out around the women.

Then, the four masked women trembled, vomited blood, and fell to the ground.

They turned into red, blue, purple, and gold gas, then rose into the void.

Goyo immediately sensed things were going in a bad direction, and hurriedly shouted, "Qiora, Hundar, Taowen, Zephyra! Hold it!"

The four gases ascended into the void and the bone-chilling roars of ferocious beasts resounded.

The red gas gathered into a colossal fiery beast resembling a tiger, yet adorned with enormous wings.

Simultaneously, the blue gas materialized into a massive, hairy sphere devoid of eyes, nose, hands, or feet, emitting an eerie, unsettling hiss.

Meanwhile, the purple gas transformed into a monstrous entity bearing both a human face and a beastly visage, adorned with long hair, tiger-like claws, a swine's mouth, and tough ox horns.

Lastly, the golden gas took the form of a gigantic creature with a dragon's head, emerald hair, a bird-like body, and sharp horns. Its vast wings outstretched to obscure the sky and sun, evoking profound terror.

They roared and chirped, and launched a fierce attack on James simultaneously. At that moment, the sound waves, flames, meteorites, and rapidly rotating planets, were like a doomsday catastrophe, shaking the surroundings.

James did not move at all. At the moment when the first round of attack waves fell, an Anonymous Gas immediately formed into a barrier and blocked all attacks.

Then, he pointed two fingers at the void, and a purple-gold lightsaber flew out of his hand.

“Please show mercy, James!” Goyo shouted anxiously.

However, the purple-gold lightsaber shot by James penetrated the huge bodies of the four beasts in succession with lightning speed, causing them to explode in mid-air one by one. Blood and flesh erupted in a macabre dance, swirling and scattering through the air like grim confetti.

James stood there as if nothing had happened, letting the bloody rainy shower.

Goyo in the black-and-white air mass sighed helplessly. “You’re too cruel and more devious than Xanthakos, James. You’re even more of a demon!”

Faced with his outburst, James walked to a big stone on the side. He sat down, took out a jar of Chaos Absinthe, and opened the lid.

Goyo’s anger caused the black-and-white gas to flutter violently.

With so much experience, it was hard for him to be angered. However, James’ behavior was a humiliation and disrespect to him.

Unfortunately, he was in a desperate situation and could not protect himself.

Hence, fighting was not an option.

With a humming sound, the black and white gas ball suddenly dissipated, and a sedan chair wrapped in a white gauze curtain appeared in front of James.

Boom!

With a sharp sound, a vast purple-gold light spread from the sedan chair, and the white curtain was destroyed.

A handsome man wearing a silver-white robe, gentle and elegant, with long hair draped over his shoulders, sitting inside the sedan chair was revealed. Judging from his pale face, it seemed as if he was exhausted and had difficulty even standing up.

As he watched this scene, James narrowed his eyes slightly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7185-James thought, 'This is Goyo, the legendary leader of the Five Path Emperors, the strongest being of the Greater Realms. How did he end up like this?

Goyo said coldly, "You're strong and ruthless, James. You want to see me humiliated, right? I'm already a crippled man. Go ahead, mock me as you wish."

James examined him for a while, then took a swig of the Chaos Absinthe. Then, he said, "I'm losing my patience. I'm a man of my word."

Goyo said anxiously, "I've already shown myself. What more do you want?"

James took another swig of Chaos Absinthe and said, "I only have two mouthfuls of wine."

Goyo roared, "Don't go overboard, James! Even though I'm crippled now, I'm still the leader of the Goyo Sect and the Alcide Beings..."

Swoosh!

James flicked his wrist, and a purple-gold Sword Light shot out, piercing Goyo's body.

Goyo was unable to grasp the situation for a few seconds. The next moment, his face filled with disbelief.

James was full of impatience. 'Too much nonsense. It'd allow it if you were the real deal. But how dare an imposter say so much before me? You must have a death wish.

As soon as he finished speaking, Goyo exploded and sent blood flying everywhere.

Suddenly, the surroundings fell silent.

Without even sparing a glimpse, James took another mouthful of Chaos Absinthe.

"Last chance."

After James spoke, a deadly aura spread throughout the valley. Sand and rocks flew, grey clouds covered the sky, and Xanthakos' remaining disciples felt an unprecedented fear.

Holding a wine jar, James stood up slowly, took the last sip of Chaos Absinthe, and smashed the jar.

Then, he spread his hands, and a purple-gold Sword Light shot into the sky, multiplying into thousands, hovering above the entire area.

“Please stop, Emperor Caden!” Xalvador’s voice suddenly came from the void.

Simultaneously, Yavrin hurriedly shouted from the other side, “Please calm down, Emperor Caden!”

Ignoring their pleas, James flipped his hand, and the sky above the valley was immediately filled with lightning and thunder. Dense Sword Lights buzzed deafeningly and began to fall one after another.

At that moment, a black and white light shot out from the valley, manifesting into a huge black and white lotus that blocked all the attacks.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Endless explosions sounded, and the Sword Lights shattered in the blasts.

Seeing this, James’ handsome face showed excitement.

Then, a powerful and majestic voice echoed from the void. “The true essence of cultivation is beyond verbal descriptions and conceptualization. The nameless is the beginning of the heaven and earth. The named is the mother of all things.

“Observing without desire allows one to perceive the subtle, underlying reality of cultivation. Observing with desire focuses on the tangible, manifested aspects of reality. Both perspectives are valid and offer different insights into the nature of existence. This is how the Gate of Perception came to be.”

As the words were spoken, the black and white lotus that had blocked James’ countless Sword Lights. Then, it transformed into numerous Tai Chi diagrams, quickly surrounding James with fierce momentum.

Simultaneously, a dazzling gate opened behind James, growing larger until it completely devoured him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7186-Xalvador and Yavrin, who were observing from the void, were visibly shocked by what they saw.

The numerous Tai Chi diagrams were also rapidly consumed by the expanding light gate, accompanied by a resonant hum.

This light gate grew infinitely, eventually engulfing the entire valley and the surroundings.

James stood within the light gate, his posture relaxed yet alert, one hand casually tucked behind his back. His eyes narrowed as he watched the Tai Chi diagram revolving around him.

Without warning, the diagrams began to change rapidly. Shimmering golden letters materialized, coalescing into the script of the Book of Daoism.

James scoffed, "Even bringing out their Daoism textbook? Quite the spectacle."

In the next instant, the first word of The Book of Daoism shot out, carrying a sacred and vast mysterious power, rushing toward James at lightning speed.

James stepped aside to avoid the impact, but his right arm was grazed by its force, causing him to bleed. He frowned at the sight. "Interesting."

Shortly after, more golden letters from the Book of Daoism attacked James from all directions.

James stood still but surrounded himself with a rotating formation of Sword Lights to block off the golden words.

Surprisingly, his Sword Lights sustained damage under the relentless attacks. It appeared his opponents were evenly matched against him.

Suddenly, a burly figure appeared from his left. The man had his hands behind his back as he calmly stopped before James.

James smiled faintly, stepped forward, and exited the rotating formation, passing through the dense scriptures unharmed.

James said nothing, accelerating towards the mysterious figure.

The mysterious figure did not retreat. He bravely clashed with James, and a close combat ensued.

In an instant, the two powerhouses flickered throughout the sky, their Supernatural Powers colliding with terrifying speed. They clashed fist to fist, palm to palm, leg to leg.

The black and white energy mixed with purple and gold light, almost obscuring the view.

Shockwaves spread, causing the space within the light gate to crack and shake violently.

Boom!

With a loud bang, James and the mysterious figure separated. Grey clouds covered the void, and thousands of bells resounded.

A massive formation descended with terrifying momentum, expanding across the space.

Lightning and thunder flashed, flames rose, and strong winds swept, subjecting the mysterious figure to endless attacks.

“What a powerful formation. It may be capable of overwhelming others, but it’s ineffective against me.” The mysterious figure deflected the attacks, then kicked the “path” word in the sky.

“Grand Path Mastery!” With a roar, the mysterious figure erupted with sacred light, shattering Yuraeceon Genesis Bell hidden within the formation’s walls.

James, who was about to rush into the formation, was startled.

Nobody had ever emerged unscathed from his formation. At that moment, he realized the opponent before him was no ordinary being.

“If you have other skills left to show, you better do it now.” The mysterious figure leaped into the air and sat cross-legged in the void. A purple-gold light cushion appeared beneath him and transformed into a blooming lotus.

Tens of thousands of physical arms manifested from his body, presenting an intimidating sight.

James replied lightly, “It’s rare for me to meet such an exceptional opponent. I won’t hold back!”

He flipped his hand, forming a massive purple-gold Sword Light. Then, he merged with it and charged straight at the mysterious figure.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7187-Boom!

Another tremendous rumble echoed as James’ Sword Light clashed with the tens of thousands of physical hands, creating a deafening explosion.

The hands tried to resist the fierce impact but were shattered one after another.

When the last hand was destroyed, James’ purple-gold Sword Light darted for the mysterious man’s throat.

Clank!

A purple-gold light emerged from the mysterious man's hand and formed into a long sword, instantly deflecting James' Sword Light.

"The Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword's Supper Three Swords, have finally appeared," James remarked as he steadied himself and returned to his human form. At that moment, his handsome face displayed a battle-ready expression.

The mysterious man sighed and said, "Faced with your terrifying strength, I have no choice but to use my Supernatural Powers. You're strong enough to dominate the Greater Realms. However, you're still lacking."

"Is that so?" James retorted. The purple-gold Sword Light in his hand trembled as he cast the Terrastride step to close the distance between them.

Clank!

Another fierce clash of swords ensued, each strike unleashing terrifying Sword Energy that spread to the surroundings.

After tens of thousands of exchanges, the light gate collapsed with a bang.

In an instant, James and the mysterious strong man reappeared in the valley.

James, surrounded by lightsabers, looked domineering, while the mysterious powerhouses, were enveloped in golden characters, wielding the Wuia Demon Slayer Sword's Lipper Three Sword.

The mysterious man chuckled, 'You're amazing! I thought we could determine a winner within the Gate of Perception. I didn't expect it to be unable to withstand our powers and collapse in less than tens of thousands of rounds. It's a pity.'

James replied calmly, "It's not a pity. We can still fight here."

The mysterious man waved his hand and disagreed, "No, we can't. If we go all out, we'd not only destroy the Forty-Ninth Heaven, but the entire Zymurgy. It might even affect the Greater Realms."

James said solemnly, "But you ignited my fighting spirit. You can't just back out now."

The mysterious man sighed and said, "Let's call it a draw. It's not a loss for you, and I acknowledge your strength James suddenly laughed aloud, a sound filled with contempt and disdain. He had the arrogance and the power to back it up. 'A draw? If I had half of my other main body within the Gate of Mystery, I'd be able to kill this man.' The mysterious man frowned and said, "I have no intention of fighting to death with you, nor do I want US to be injured."

James sneered, "With this strength, you're expecting to be able to let these Alcide Beings leave with dignity? But as the Greater Realms' representative, I will not allow it."

His last words were also almost a roar, resonating so that everyone present could hear him. Xalvador and Yavrin, who were in the distant void, were startled.

The mysterious powerhouse clasped his hands behind his back and took a deep breath. "Is the hatred of the Greater Realms for the Alcide beings so deep that there is no room for reconciliation?"

James said solemnly, "In the past, yes. But not anymore after your repeated high-handed attempts to test me."

The mysterious man said hurriedly, "I never intended to disrespect you. I simply wanted to see if you would take advantage of our vulnerability to further inflict damage on our kind."

"We also want the lord of the Haleth World to be kind, who is kind, tolerant, and generous.

James laughed, "Let me ask you something, Goyo. What would you do if I didn't see through the puppet impersonating you?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7188-As the question hung in the air, Goyo raised his gleaming sword slowly and laughed. "Then I'll do everything I can to kill you. If I can't, I'll destroy the Forty□Ninth Heaven and the Greater Realms, returning everything to nothingness."

"With my power and the three swords of the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword's Upper Three Swords, you shouldn't doubt me."

James narrowed his eyes and said, "You've finally revealed the arrogance of your Alcide beings!"

Goyo said solemnly, "I've no choice. If you hadn't seen through my trap, it would've proved our view on the Greater Realms' beings of being ignorant, stupid, selfish, and greedy.

"In the web of desires, there's no discernment of right or wrong, no wisdom to see details. It would just prove that the stronger you get, the greater the harm to the Greater Realms, just like Xanthakos." "In that case, I'll never give you the Waitara Path's inheritance. You would not be fit to ascend and rule the Greater Realms.

James asked smilingly, "So, everything was a test?"

Goyo replied, "Yes. Fortunately, you were sharp. Though cruel, you're decisive and domineering like a king. You can definitely eliminate Xanthakos and rule over the Greater Realms.

James glared at him. "Do you think I'd accept your explanation so easily? Who are you to test me?"

Goyo faltered, shocked by James' defiance. He thought James would be appreciative, so his lack of gratitude came as a surprise.

James said coldly, "I was planning to deal with Xanthakos first, then the Alcide beings. But since you're so impatient to die, I'll start with you guys."

Goyo was stunned, then laughed furiously.

James offered, 'Til give you two choices. You either abolish your cultivation base or fight back and die along with all of your kind."

Goyo sneered, "You're insane. Do you think we're that weak? Do you think the Greater Realms will be able to bear the wrath of the Alcide beings? If we go all out, your family and friends will also suffer."

James did not bother to refute Goyo. He waved his hand and a glowing door appeared behind Goyo, expanding rapidly to engulf them.

"You have a Path Gate of your own?" Goyo's expression changed drastically.

James replied, "It's the Gate of Anonymous. Let's see if it can withstand our battle better than your gate."

James stood before Goyo, holding his gleaming Sword Light, his blue cloak fluttering as he prepared for battle.

For the first time, the Goyo felt a twinge of fear.

Goyo sighed and said, "We underestimated you. You've grown so much stronger and have upset the balance of the Greater Realms."

James said calmly, "Make your choice. If you have any last words, it can wait till you are defeated."

Goyo asked angrily, "Does your hatred for US run so deep? Have we done nothing for the Greater Realms?"

James brandished his weapon and said slowly, "Here's a poem for you. Where goodness is the pine, and evil is the flower that blooms in springtime's prime.

Though flowers charm the eye and pine trees may seem plain, when winter's frost descends, the pines alone remain."

With that said James unleashed a terrifying purple-gold energy that transformed into a roaring dragon, rushing straight for Goyo.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7189-Faced with the menacing giant dragon, Goyo wielded the Wuia DemonSlayer Sword in his hand and slashed it into two halves.

Roar!

The two halves reformed into two dragons and confronted Goyo.

Boom! Boom!

Two intense explosions rang out as Goyo was forcefully knocked away.

As he stabilized himself, Goyo clutched his chest, spitting out a mouthful of blood. He raised his head in shock and asked, "You're not using the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword's Lower Six Swords?"

James replied calmly, "Correct. This is called the Jademora Sword."

Speaking thus, he wielded the Jademora Sword and charged straight at Goyo with an invincible demeanor.

Goyo gritted his teeth, brandishing the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword to clash head-on with James.

Clank! Clank!

Suddenly, a fierce and continuous clash of swords erupted, unleashing terrifying waves of energy that swiftly spread in all directions.

The valley enveloped by the Gate of Anonymous and the surrounding world was destroyed in just the blink of an eye. Mountains, rivers, trees, and flying debris filled the air. Sword Lights crisscrossed, winds howled, and under this catastrophe, every affected area was forcibly turned into ruins, repeatedly trampled upon.

This battle between two powerhouses threatened to destroy everything around them.

“The first sword of the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword, Eternal Wayseeker!” With a roar from Goyo, he descended upon James with a powerful attack, terrifying in its intensity.

A wave of white tigers, accompanied by countless Sword Lights, swiftly descended.

James’ Jademora Sword pierced the void, unleashing numerous Sword Lights.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Another round of earth-shattering clashes ensued as their attacks clashed.

In an instant, shockwaves spread, and the valley collapsed. The expanding shockwaves violently impacted the spatial barrier of the Gate of Anonymous, creating numerous terrifying cracks.

Due to this heavy blow, James felt his blood and energy churning uncontrollably.

The anonymous gas within him ran amok, causing even his Primordial spirit to tremble. Unable to suppress his injuries, he spat out a mouthful of blood.

Goyo’s reputation as the leader of the Five Path Emperors and strongest of the Greater Realms was indeed well-deserved. After James entered the Zenthur Rank, not even Xanthakos could inflict such grave damage upon him.

On the other hand, Goyo’s condition was not faring any better. As the shockwaves spread, his long flowing hair was disheveled and his white robe was torn. Injured by their confrontation, he also spat out a few mouthfuls of blood.

Still, he faced the situation with equanimity as if prepared for a battle to his death.

“The second sword of the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword, Eternal Pathway!” Goyo soared higher into the sky, then slashed his sword at James.

The sky and earth changed color, and the entire Gate of Anonymous trembled violently. Roaring winds and dazzling purple-golden light accompanied by millions of shining stars created an overwhelming pressure.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7190-Faced with such a terrifying attack, James did not dare to be careless. He immediately initiated his Three Treasures, and countless Sword Lights surrounded him to form a dense, impenetrable barrier.

He swiftly merged with Jademora Sword, transforming into a massive purple gold lightsaber, and charged straight at the Goyo with the intent to strike him down.

“Come on!”

The Eternal Pathway descended with a deafening crash.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The explosions tore through reality and shattered divinity. Goyo's Sword Lights and the millions of stars engulfed the entire Gate of Anonymous. Even James, who had transformed into a lightsaber, was caught up in the chaos.

Suddenly, under the onslaught of millions of stars, the Gate of Anonymous erupted in a brilliant black light, trembling violently as if on the brink of collapse.

At the northeastern corner of the Gate of Anonymous, a graceful figure seated cross-legged on a blossoming lotus burst forth with a myriad of colorful lights, intercepting the ferocious shockwaves.

Opening his eyes, two beams of black and white shot forth, and from his gaze bloomed hundreds of millions of black lotuses, humming as they spun, swallowing the relentless shockwaves.

In the next instant, these black lotuses rapidly transformed into white lotuses, spinning majestically across the void.

“Haha!” Goyo, amidst the void of the Gate of Anonymous, suddenly erupted in laughter.

“You're the first to face the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword, Eternal Pathway. I originally intended to use it against Xanthakos. It's a great honor for you to perish under my divine Supernatural Power.”

Goyo gripped his sword and took a deep breath. “However, it is regrettable that a powerhouse like you had to die. In intellect and strength, you stand at the pinnacle. Unfortunately, your arrogance caused your downfall.”

Just as his voice echoed, James's voice echoed from the void, is that so? You're too confident, Goyo.” Goyo's jubilation immediately vanished. He gripped his sword tightly as he scanned his surroundings vigilantly. However, he found no traces of James.

He shouted with a grim expression, “I know you've integrated the Three Treasures, and are immortal. However, your physical body has already been destroyed. What threat can you pose against me?”

James mocked, “I thought the leader of the Alcide being would possess more wisdom. It seems even you cannot escape the curse of arrogance.”

Goyo snorted coldly, "Words are futile. Come forth and resume our battle if you can."

James mocked, "You're not done yet, right? Is it time to summon the third sword, the Endless Exploration?" "You..." Goyo was taken aback. Before he could react, a dazzling purple- gold lightsaber flashed behind him, piercing his sword-wielding wrist with a swift swoosh, drawing blood.

"Argh!" Goyo withdrew his hand swiftly, but the lightsaber had vanished without a trace.

Goyo seethed with fury. "I respect you as a foe, but to stoop to such underhanded tactics?"

James burst into laughter. "Underhanded? For a powerhouse like you, how are you so ignorant?"

A flash of purple and gold light heralded James' presence.

With a swift motion, he delivered a powerful slap that sent Goyo hurtling away.

Before Goyo could recover his balance, James vanished once more.

Moments later, James appeared to Goyo's left and swung his fist, delivering a powerful blow. Two dragons emerged, sending Goyo flying into the distance.
