

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7221-At the entrance of the main hall, James slowly walked in with Lesia, Yianni, Harper, and Morgott.

Unlike the others, both Morgott and Lesia wore black bamboo hats. One was Frona Soremsia, the leader of the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness. The other was the terrifying Morgott, who had once slaughtered countless gods.

Lesia hid her true face to avoid Lord Goyo, and Morgott concealed his to prevent causing a major uproar before the battle even began. Though neither of them was happy about this, they complied because James had personally arranged it.

Despite their efforts at discretion, their entrance still caused a significant stir in the hall. The path kings and war saints, who had been clamoring for a fight moments before, glared at them with predatory eyes, as if they wanted to tear James and his companions apart.

The atmosphere was filled with the overbearing superiority and arrogance of the Alcide beings. Sensing this, James smiled calmly and led his followers straight down the red carpet toward the jade platform. However, they had barely taken a few steps when they suddenly felt a powerful Qrohm from both sides, growing stronger by the moment.

James, with his formidable strength, remained unaffected due to his protective Anonymous Gas and the Three Treasures Integration. However, Yianni, Harper, Lesia, and Morgott felt the malicious pressure and slowed their pace. They responded by extending their own Qrohm, colliding forcefully with the opposing forces.

Instantly, the once-quiet Goyoan Temple filled with the creaking and groaning sounds of objects, pillars, and the roof, shaking violently under the expanding auras. Even the entire temple trembled intensely.

Standing on the jade platform, Lord Goyo observed everything coldly. He hoped to dampen James' arrogance and gain more standing and dignity for the Alcide beings. He could not openly confront James, so he let his path kings and war saints take action.

Gradually, the path kings and war saints realized their Qrohms could not embarrass or defeat James and his group. The red-bearded path king was the first to summon a pagoda, which launched a Vital Energy attack.

In an instant, thousands of pagodas appeared before James and his companions, transforming into thousands of powerhouses wielding various weapons, rushing at them like a tidal wave.

As Morgott prepared to counterattack, James halted him with a wave of his hand. The Anonymous Gas shot from his hand, forming a massive transparent shield that enveloped Yianni, Harper, Morgott, and Lesia.

The attackers crashed into the shield, absorbed and repelled with such force that they let out pained howls.

Seeing this, the red-bearded path king was stunned and shouted, "Let's attack together!"

He flipped his palms and sent the Waltraud Palm toward James' shield.

Simultaneously, the other path kings and war saints unleashed their Supernatural Powers, launching a ferocious assault on the shield.

As the suppression turned into an all-out assault, Yavrin, standing behind Lord Goyo, rushed forward. "Teacher, this..."

"Leave it!" Lord Goyo narrowed his eyes into slits and smiled coldly. "If James can't pass this test, how can he command the respect of our mighty Alcide beings?"

Yavrin gasped. The combined power of several path kings and war saints was more dangerous than the simultaneous attacks of three Path Emperors. Even beings like Emperor Qadeer and Lord Goyo would struggle to withstand it. He wondered if James and his followers could overcome this.

While Yavrin hesitated, the path kings and war saints under the jade platform attacking James formed a swirling black-and-white Gas Formation in the void.

They launched a more intense and terrifying assault on the shield.

The Goyoan Temple shook violently, filled with flying Vital Energy, Sword Energy, fist shadows, palm prints, magic treasures and weapons. The path kings and war saints seemed determined to fight to the death.

Despite the chaos, James and his companions inside the gas shield remained calm and unscathed as they approached the jade platform. The combined might of the path kings and war saints, with all their Supernatural Powers, could not harm them or even break the shield. This was not a display of strength but an act of humiliation and disgrace for the attackers.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7222-Seeing this, Yavrin could not hold back any longer and shouted sternly, "Path kings and war saints, this is the teacher's dojo, not your battlefield. Please stop immediately!"

Unfortunately, no one listened. The path kings and war saints grew more furious and felt increasingly humiliated with each attack. Enraged, they unleashed their most powerful Supernatural Signature Skills.

"Wansuri Bell!"

"Tenrizuigin Bowl!"

"Zyrenth Breaker!"

"Wraithbane Sword!"

"Cosmosurge Blade!"

As the terrifying strikes from various magic treasures, light swords, soundwaves, and blade lights simultaneously hit James' Anonymous Shield, protecting his followers from different directions, an explosion erupted from the collision of the shockwaves and the shield.

Realizing the danger, Lord Goyo quickly flipped his palms and enveloped the entire Goyoan Temple with an extreme purple-golden gas light.

In the next moment, the powerful shockwaves spread, shattering everything in the temple, including pillars, objects, and treasures.

Yavrin and Pierrette hastily summoned light shields for protection. The intense shockwaves hit Lord Goyo's purple-golden gas barrier, causing continuous explosions.

After a while, the scene quieted down. Contrary to expectations, there was no rubble, and even the temple's roof remained intact. As the dust settled, the path kings and war saints in the void looked down at James and his group, discovering that the gas shield still stood intact. They were all struck as if their souls had been shattered.

"H-How is this possible?" the red-bearded path king shouted angrily. "Our combined full-force attack should be unbearable even for Emperor Qadeer. This must be an illusion!"

The other path kings and war saints were also furious. They were clearly dissatisfied with the result.

"You've shown your hand," James said calmly. "Now it's our turn."

Lord Goyo immediately flashed in front of James and bowed deeply." James, my subordinates were eager to spar with a powerhouse like you.

Please forgive them." James stared at him, smiling without speaking. Behind him, Harper stepped forward. "Lord Goyo, we have always respected your prestige and virtue. It seems you're no different from Emperor Qadeer."

"Exactly," Yianni scoffed. "That wasn't sparring. They were clearly fighting to the death."

"If it's a fight they want, we'll give it to them!" Morgott suddenly tore off his black bamboo hat and shouted. "I've been waiting long enough."

With Morgott revealed, not only did the path kings and war saints in the void look terrified, but even Lord Goyo appeared shocked. Yavrin and Pierrette, standing on the jade platform, turned pale as if facing a great enemy.

"Lord Goyo, did you hear what my brothers said?" James said and smiled at Lord Goyo. "Your subordinates like to spar, and so do mine. If it's a back-and-forth, let them have their fun."

Lord Goyo's face twitched. Just as he was about to speak, James shouted, "Harper, Yianni, discuss with Morgott. Whether you fight one-on-one or take them all together, it's up to you!"

The gods were stunned.

Harper, Yianni, and Morgott immediately took to the void. Their Murderous Energy spread and enveloped the entire Goyoan Temple.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7223-“James, this...” Lord Goyo began to speak, but then saw that a great battle had erupted in the void.

Harper, Yianni, and Morgott each engaged with a few path kings and war saints, launching a fierce battle. In an instant, the earth shook from the force of their Sword Energy and Vital Energy.

Caught off guard, the path kings and war saints were quickly defeated by the sudden, fierce attack. Injured, they scattered out of the main hall, seeking larger areas to continue the fight. Yianni, Harper, and Morgott followed closely, stirring up a powerful gust of wind.

Seeing this, Lord Goyo and Yavrin were utterly anxious. They knew well that Harper, Yianni, and Morgott were once peerless living beings who had wreaked havoc across Zymurgy. Back then, countless supreme beings and gods had fallen to their hands, and it had taken the combined strength of the Five Path Emperors to suppress them.

With their return and having been personally guided and purified by James, their strength was likely many times greater than before. Although the path kings and war saints were battle-hardened and held high positions among the powerhouses in the Forty-Ninth Heaven, facing these three chaos- bringers at once left them with little hope of victory.

Especially concerning was Morgott’s appearance. His mere name could make all divine beings tremble, and his cruelty and savagery were well- known. This was not a sparring match. It was a demonstration of power meant to humiliate and crush the last vestiges of dignity of the Alcide beings.

As Lord Goyo and Yavrin pleaded anxiously, James seated himself in Lord Goyo’s main seat. He took out a jar of Chaos Absinthe and drank leisurely, indifferent to their pleas. This left Lord Goyo and Yavrin feeling desperate and burning with anxiety.

They knew well that these path kings and war saints were the last of Lord Goyo’s faction. If they were killed now, the blow to the faction would be devastating and unbearable. Lord Goyo regretted his earlier actions, realizing that since they had chosen to endure humiliation, there was no need to provoke and court further humiliation.

James was also relentless and unforgiving. He seemed intent on wiping them out completely, leaving no room for rebuttal.

After a long time, a black-and-white light flashed outside the hall, and Taichu appeared in a beautiful figure.

She glanced at the battle raging in the void, then quickly walked inside.” Lord Goyo, your path kings and war saints are quite brave, aren’t they?

They’ve been beaten to this state and still refuse to surrender?”

Upon hearing this, Lord Goyo’s heart sank, and he looked at James.” James, that’s enough. It’s fine to teach them a lesson, but there’s no need to take their lives, is there?”

James ignored him. He straightened up and looked at Taichu. “Ms. Taichu, are things on your end done?”

Taichu took a deep breath and smiled. “More or less. Only the stubborn Emperor Stille under Emperor Qadeer has perished.

“As for his two Holinesses, three Emperors, and fifteen Gods, they have surrendered. They are leading the Divine Army of Fifty Billion Warriors, kneeling outside the hall”

James’ Zen flashed, and he saw a large crowd of divine beings kneeling in the void outside Goyoan Temple. They were the Eastern Route divine army under Emperor Qadeer.

James laughed heartily and stood up. “Ms. Taichu, please take the seat.”

Taichu gave Lord Goyo a curious look before ascending the jade platform and sitting on James’ right.

At that moment, two more beams of light flashed outside the main hall as Emperor Stavros and Emperor Cosimeon arrived together.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 72240”Lord Goyo, what’s going on with your path kings and war saints?” Emperor Cosimeon spoke first. “They’ve been beaten so badly, why are they still holding on?”

“There’s a saying, ‘A strong general has no weak soldiers.’” Emperor Stavros said with a hint of schadenfreude, “Perhaps Lord Goyo has his reasons.”

Hearing this, Lord Goyo became even more anxious and looked at James again. “James, that’s enough.”

At these words, the gathered gods all paused in surprise.

Lesia, standing behind James, spoke slowly, “Hampton Samir, if you had said this earlier, perhaps this sparring wouldn’t have happened.”

Hearing the name Hampton Samir, Lord Goyo trembled and looked at Lesia in shock. “You...”

Lesia raised her head fearlessly. “Isn’t it so?”

“Who exactly are you?” Lord Goyo narrowed his eyes into slits. “Few know my true name in the Greater Realms.”

“You hold yourself too high. Who dares call you by your name?” Lesia said arrogantly. “In front of our master, you’d better not put on airs.”

Lord Goyo was deeply shocked and then turned his gaze to James.” James, I was momentarily confused. Please spare them. After all, they are outstanding members of the Alcide beings. If they really die at the hands of your brothers, it would be disastrous for all the Alcide beings...”

“What?” James glanced at him sideways. “Are you threatening to fight to the death again?” “No.” Lord Goyo shook his head hastily. “I mean, since everyone has chosen you as the leader, you shouldn’t favor the living beings over the Alcide beings, otherwise, it would damage your authority as the Chosen One.”

James chuckled and slowly raised his head. “Authority? Let me ask everyone here, before we entered the Greater Realms, what did the title of ‘ Chosen One’ mean to you?”

This question left Lord Goyo speechless. Taichu, Emperor Stavros, and Emperor Cosimeon exchanged glances. They were intelligent gods and understood the double meaning behind James’ words.

True authority comes from strength and decisive action. The Alcide beings had been superior for too long, with their enslavement and disdain for living beings deeply ingrained. They would not treat living beings and James with respect if their sense of superiority was not completely shattered. Therefore, the fight had to continue until they were subdued. Not just a few path kings and war saints, but even if half of the Alcide beings had to die, they had to be defeated.

This was James' way of ruling the gods. He was infinitely tolerant of loyal followers but struck with thunderous force against rebels.

"Both of you." James ignored Lord Goyo and looked at Emperor Cosimeon and Emperor Stavros. "Is everything settled?"

Emperor Stavros and Emperor Cosimeon exchanged a look and did not speak.

Instead, they both waved their hands. In the next moment, a flash of light revealed a huge box and a bloodied humanoid figure that collapsed on the ground.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7225-James was puzzled upon witnessing this scene.

On the other hand, Taichu stood up in surprise. 'You actually captured two Surpeme Emperors alive?' "It took a lot of effort," Emperor Cosimeon sighed. "Emperor Zenithal received a trace of the Nothingness Dead Energy from Emperor Qadeer and became incredibly fierce. If I hadn't personally intervened, many of my disciples and followers would have perished."

"Emperor Draco wasn't as difficult," Emperor Stavros said with a smile." When I arrived, she surrendered immediately. However, she was also tortured by Emperor Qadeer's Nothingness Dead Energy, ending up in this condition."

As he spoke, he opened a box. Inside was a trembling divine being, disheveled and appearing as if she had endured horrific torment. She had lost all her imperial majesty.

Then, Emperor Stavros turned to James. "We brought all the divine army under their command. Many perished or scattered, and there aren't many left."

“Indeed.” Emperor Cosimeon nodded with deep emotion. “Emperor Qadeer’s faction mainly consists of the living beings’ powerhouses who first entered Zymurgy. Their hatred for the Alcide beings is profound. They would rather die and be reborn than submit.”

Hearing this, James nodded slightly. He then stood up and made a gesture of invitation. “Path Emperors, please take the seats.”

Emperor Stavros and Emperor Cosimeon exchanged a glance before stepping onto the red carpet, ascending the jade platform, and sitting beside Taichu.

They had no idea what James planned next, but at least they had completed the tasks he assigned them. From the current situation, it seemed James had no intention of making them subordinates, which eased many of their concerns.

“Morgott, you want to eat the divine beings alive again? Do you have any dignity? If you ruin my man’s reputation, I’ll turn you into a demon dog,” a clear female divine being’s voice echoed from outside the main hall.

Everyone paused and then looked at James. They all knew who had returned.

Lord Goyo grasped at a lifeline and darted out of the temple.

At this moment, Taichu burst into laughter. “Emperor Caden, it seems Lord Goyo knows who to rely on.”

James rolled his eyes in exasperation, while Emperor Stavros and Emperor Cosimeon exchanged knowing looks.

With a light cough, James turned and asked, “Path Emperors, did Taiyi Daonus Realm show any signs when you acted?”

The three Path Emperors looked at each other and shook their heads simultaneously.

“It’s strange.” Emperor Stavros frowned. “Logically, Taiyi is Emperor Qadeer’s biggest supporter. Emperor Cosimeon and I even planned to send elite troops toward Taiyi Daonus Realm to prevent any unforeseen incidents. However, Taiyi remained silent even after we dealt with Emperor Qadeer’s northwest armies.”

“Taiyi stands apart from US Five Path Emperors, second only to Waitara Path.”

Emperor Cosimeon took a deep breath. “If she truly intended to intervene, we wouldn’t have succeeded so easily.”

Hearing the two Path Emperors, James narrowed his eyes into slits. In reality, with his current power and influence, the only one he feared in the Forty-Ninth Heaven besides Emperor Qadeer was the never-seen Taiyi. He wondered why Taiyi had not made a move as events progressed to this point
