

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7232 - 7235

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7232-“Everyone, that’s all for now.” Thea looked at the divine beings.

“As for the invasion, my husband hasn’t finalized his decision yet.

“I hope all of you will monitor your disciples. You need to make sure they don’t cause any conflicts or misunderstandings that can lead to serious fights.”

Thea was about to walk away when Yiulia called aloud, “Are you really going to let him take such a huge risk?”

The others looked in Thea’s direction as well upon hearing Yiulia’s question.

Thea glanced over her shoulder and beamed warmly at Yiulia.

“He’s my husband. His decision is mine too. Even if it’s against all sense and reason, I will stick by his side and face everything with him.”

While Thea strode off toward the room James was in, the others had looks of bewilderment on their faces.

Something like attacking the Taiyi Daonus Realm was unimaginable to these people. It was because Taiyi’s disciples were incredibly powerful and almost unbeatable.

Yet, if they disobeyed James’ instructions, these divine beings would be seen as traitors. James even declared that he would kill those traitors himself.

After a moment’s consideration, Lord Goyo cast a glance at Emperor Stavros and Emperor Cosimeon. He gave a little cough and walked away.

Taichu and Yiulia exchanged a glance and hurried off as well.

All of them had different plans and ideas.

Nevertheless, preparations were carried out by following James’ orders. Soon enough, nearly half of the Forty-Ninth Heaven’s superior cultivators had arrived outside the Taiyi Daonus Realm’s borders.

These men set up bases and designed various battle formations placed along the borders, seemingly ready to invade the Taiyi Daonus Realm at any moment.

On the contrary, it was quiet and peaceful within the Taiyi Daonus Realm. Not even a single soul came out to check what their enemies were up to.

Back at the Goyoan Temple, Thea stood with her hands on her waist as she glared at James.

With his eyes closed, James sat on a purplish-gold cushion for what felt like ages.

“Morgott, pick him up and throw him out of this place!”

“Or you can poke him a few times with your spear.” Thea said menacingly,

Don’t worry. I promise I won’t hit you and I won’t let him hit you.”

Morgott smiled wryly. “Uh... Thea, I know you’re frustrated. You don’t have to beat around the bush. You can hit me as much as you want.”

Thea pushed him aside. “Ha... He’s no use. Yianni, you do it! You’re his teacher.”

Yianni shook his head. “He’s been like this for several entrapochs. He would have snapped out of it early on if external stimuli could reach him.”

Thea sighed and put her arm around Harper’s shoulders. “You try it! I give you permission to kiss and hug him for now.”

“You think I haven’t tried that?” Harper rolled her eyes. I even danced naked in front of him, but he didn’t even flinch!”

Thea tightened her fists. “Lesia, you go!”

Lesia responded, “Um... I don’t think that’s necessary. Something’s happening.”

Thea and the others swiftly looked in James’ direction.

There was a low, metallic hum as six beautiful swords of different colors emerged from James’ body. They circled his body slowly.

At the same time, James exuded an air of holiness as he was enclosed in a mass of Anonymous Gas.

Thea mumbled, “It’s the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword’s Lower Six Swords...”

Just then, three more swords shining with a purplish-gold light emerged from James’ body. They joined the other six swords and spun faster around James.

“Those... Those are the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword’s Upper Three Swords!”

Harper put her hand over her mouth. "Don't they belong to Lord Goyo? Why does James have them?"

'The sword energy coming from them is no joke.' Morgott felt a chill run through his body. He hurriedly took a few steps backward.

Yianni recalled something and warned the others. "Everyone, I think we need to evacuate now. This thing can kill almost anyone that falls within its hit range."

Upon hearing his words, everyone transformed into balls of light and shot out of the building.

A few seconds later, the spinning swords emanated an overwhelming amount of colorful lights.

The combination of vicious sword energy and blinding lights coming from those nine swords destroyed the building around James, Lord Goyo's dojo, and the entire Goyoan Temple, one after the other.

The sword energies and colorful lights showed no sign of stopping as they continued to expand and travel toward the edges of the Goyo Daonus Realm.

At the same time, tremors ran through the Forty-Ninth Heaven and even Zymurgy. Almost all beings felt gripped by a terrible feeling of fear.

Whether it was at the Tai Chi World, the Wohrdaemon Tower, or the Great Historial Land, it was as if they were experiencing an apocalypse there.

Violent tremors shook these realms.

At the Great Historial Land, Stephen and Leuko stared at the sky with widened eyes.

A beam of sword light had penetrated through the Great Historial L and and traveled down to the Forladtt Land.

The light bore through the Wohrdaemon Tower and reached the Tai Chi World.

There, the sword light started multiplying and formed thousands of beams of light. These light beams traveled in all directions.

The planets, stars, and universes that were hit by the beams of sword light exploded instantly.

Simultaneously, the different realms and spaces were parted by the sword light and fused again.

Eventually, this beam of sword light that came down from Zymurgy formed a long, direct passage to the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7233-The divine beings and living beings who could see what was happening were all shocked.

Some of the quick-witted ones spotted a golden opportunity and flew toward the passage.

Yet, these men were sucked away. They could only scream helplessly before disappearing from others' sight.

Stephen and Leuko could see what was happening from the Great Historial Land too.

As one of them was about to say something, two beams of purple light shot past the two of them and entered the passage formed from the sword light.

"Oh, no! The Hongrome Children are trying to sneak off!" Stephen exclaimed.

"Zuriyin! Lyall! Get back here!" Leuko shouted.

She rushed toward the passage and transformed into a mass of black and white gases. Then, Leuko went after the children.

"Leuko!"

An immense amount of Hongrome Light radiated from his body when Stephen was about to chase after them. The light trapped him on the spot.

"What... What's going on?"

At that moment, Stephen could see numerous beings shoot up the passage.

Their terrified screams rang briefly as they passed through the Great Historial Land.

"Good lord..." Stephen gasped. "How terrifying! This sword light could actually pierce through the Spiritual Providence.

"It seems another great challenge has come upon US again." Stephen threw his head back and yelled desperately, "Master! Where are you?"

"Why aren't you back yet?"

Meanwhile, several forms appeared in the distance and teleported toward Stephen.

When they got near enough, Stephen could see that they were Zeux, Beatrice, Zenda, Lord Yarrowvale, and Lord Xephyr.

These men were top cultivators who received the spiritual Providence from James and carried the responsibility of protecting the different realms.

The group of them were following along the mysterious passage of light to investigate it.

To their surprise, they found Stephen curiously stuck to a spot, unable to move.

“Hongrome Child, what’s happened to you?” Zeux asked.

“I’m not sure, but I can’t move all of a sudden,” Stephen replied anxiously, “You need to hurry and destroy the passage!”

“It’s devouring the living beings nonstop. If this goes on, it’ll wipe out all living beings. I won’t be able to face my master if that happens.”

Zeux turned his eyes to the others. All five of them reached the same understanding with a simple glance.

They lifted their hands and performed their best signature skills, blasting their powers at the passage of light almost simultaneously.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Soon enough, they realized their attacks caused zero damage to the gigantic passage of light. Furthermore, the passage seemed to be absorbing their powers.

Just then, several beams of Bohnwer Light landed somewhere nearby.

Herodias, Yegor, the Celestial Sages, Rebella, Adair, Xatia, Truett, and Xitlaly stepped out of the lights.

“Stop.” Herodias called out to Zeux’s group, “Don’t you find the aura coming from the passage oddly familiar?”

Zeux and the others stopped attacking the passage as soon as they heard Herodias’ words.

Yegor furrowed his brows. “Are you saying that he’s back?”

“It does feel like his aura!” Rebella’s voice shook slightly. “Perhaps it is time for him to return.”

“Stop it, you guys.” Truett rolled his eyes. “If it really was James, why would he devour so many living beings? He’s the Divine Emperor, you know.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7234-At that very moment, a tremendous amount of Waltraud Power rushed down the passage of light. It shattered the passage almost instantly and flowed into the Great Historial Land and all other realms.

In a flash, immense amounts of Waltraud Power filled up all these spaces.

The frightened living beings were pleasantly surprised by the sudden change of events. Most of them quickly assumed a seated position.

These people noticed their cultivation improved as they were surrounded by the Waltraud Power. Even their souls were gradually elevated to the next levels.

The same thing happened in the Great Historial Land.

Almost everyone had closed their eyes and sat with their legs crossed. They seemed elated as they could detect the enhancement in their powers and cultivation.

There was one person who was an exception. It was Stephen.

Stephen did not experience any enhancements since he was enveloped in his Hongrome Aura and was not in contact with the Waltraud Power.

“What... What is going on?” Stephen stuttered, “Master, is it you? Why can’t I move?”

“This isn’t your master’s doing. Come with me.”

A beam of purplish-gold light came from behind Stephen. The light transformed into a beautiful lady, who stood before Stephen.

“Ms. Taishi!” Stephen exclaimed, “Why are you...”

Taishi responded, “There’s no time to explain. A huge crisis is about to befall the Haleth Realm.

“You and I must fuse to be able to penetrate the Waltraud Light. Let’s get out of here first.”

Taishi transformed into a cloud of black and white gases. Then, the gases fused with Stephen’s Hongrome Aura.

“Bring me too!” A voice came from a distance.

A ball of murderous energy forced its way through the Waltraud Power and reached where Stephen was.

It fused with Stephen and Taishi. Then, all three of them vanished into thin air.

At that very moment, a cloud of purplish-gold Waltraud Power materialized in the spot where Stephen stood just now.

The Waltraud Power swirled quickly as it took on a human form.

Eventually, James' figure could be seen standing there.

Oddly, this James had red hair and violet-gold eyes. His body was surrounded by dense Waltraud Power. There was a vicious, sinister air about him.

His gaze drifted across the numerous cultivators who seemed to enjoy being surrounded by the Waltraud Power. Then, he smirked.

'The Hongrome Child, Taishi's aura, and the murderous energy's creator... How surprising. They managed to escape my Waltraud Light.

"It seems you put in a lot of effort in preparing them, James. I didn't expect them to have such firm faith and beliefs.

"Anyway, I'm here now. It's time we meet and have some fun."

The man cast an immense amount of Waltraud Power toward the group of cultivators before him.

"Work hard on your cultivation. All of you will be of use to me later on."

Then, the man transformed into a beam of light and shot toward Zymurgy.

After the man left, Truett, who was also one of the cultivators in a seated position, opened his eyes.

Just as he opened his mouth, five figures materialized nearby. Each of them was protected by the Spiritual Providence Light Shield.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7235-An elegant middle-aged woman from the group sighed at the sight before them.

"Winnie, Xainte, Jacopo, and Noel, are you all alright?"

Beside her, four young men and women, who had the Spiritual Providence Light Shield hovering above their heads, looked at each other briefly and shook their heads.

Those four were none other than James' children who were now full-fledged adults.

The middle-aged woman took in their surroundings.

"It didn't happen just in the Tai Chi World and other realms. Even the Wohrdaemon Tower and the Great Historial Land are filled with the Waltraud Power."

Winnie had a grim expression. "If this carried on, the Spiritual Providence that my father left behind would be completely depleted.

"All realms will no longer be bound by my father's teachings and disciplines as well."

"What is this? How is it so powerful?" A deep frown drew Jacopo's brows together.

"Could it be that Dad had wreaked havoc in Zymurgy and incurred the supreme beings' wrath?"

"I can't stand it for much longer." Xainte's face grew pale. "Can we go somewhere that's not invaded by the Waltraud Power?"

The others started looking in different directions to search for a place like that.

Truett called out to them at that moment, 'The Forbidden Bloodshade! It should be free of this Waltraud Power.' Those five people turned their heads and looked in Truett's direction.

Meanwhile, Truett shouted to the others near him, "Mom! Dad! Everyone, wake up! Let's go to the Forbidden Bloodshade."

However, there was no response from them.

"It's pointless, Truett." The middle-aged woman began, 'They are trapped by the Waltraud Power. They are immersed in their own world, and they can't hear anything from the outside world.'

Truett teleported and reappeared before the woman. He had the same Spiritual Providence Light Shield above his head.

"Madam Zenithal Roc Matron, how come you guys are unaffected by this?"

The Zenithal Roc Matron took a glance at the youngsters and said, "We should head to the Forbidden Bloodshade first. It's the place James has once conducted his training at. It might be safer there."

Their predictions were right.

The Waltraud Power was blocked outside the Forbidden Bloodshade. It might be the only safe place left across all realms.

After they had arrived at the Forbidden Bloodshade, Truett shared with the others what he had seen and heard until just now.

The Zenithal Roc Matron and James' children were shocked by what they had just learned.

Someone disguised as James and seized control of all realms by releasing the Waltraud Power.

What kind of skills and powers would that person have to be able to achieve something like this?

"Ms. Taishi, Stephen Yaman, and Mr. Clayton have managed to escape." Truett frowned. "I think we are the only ones who haven't fallen under the influence of the Waltraud Power."

He directed his gaze at the others. "How did the group of you escape the Waltraud Power?"
