

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7301 - 7306

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7301-After Taiyi, Yasmina, Lesia, and Frona entered the Gate of Anonymous, they were immediately struck by the rapidly spreading shockwaves within the space.

“Protect the Caeloros Supreme!” Taiyi commanded, spreading her hands to cast a black-and-white barrier.

Yasmina also quickly raised her hand to create a shield to block the shockwaves.

Beyond the space in the Gate of Anonymous, red clouds gathered in the sky, and crimson lights and energy flashed intensely.

Within the clouds, two figures were locked in a fierce battle, exchanging punches and kicks. They fought from the void to the ground and back again with terrifying speed, each confrontation causing significant damage to the surroundings.

The Waitara Path’s soul spirit and James clashed with their palms, causing a loud rumble. The impact instantly knocked them both away.

“Hmm.” After briefly contemplating, the Waitara Path’s soul spirit sped toward Taiyi and Yasmina.

Boom!

After shattering Taiyi and Yasmina’s defenses, he reached out to Lesia and the tower.

“Uh-oh! He’s going after the Caeloros Supreme!” Yasmina instantly reacted and summoned 81 clones to shield Lesia and the tower.

However, they stood no chance against the Waitara Path’s soul spirit’s massive hand and were destroyed by his massive hand.

Yasmina suffered a backlash and coughed up blood.

“Impudent!” Taiyi cursed, then destroyed the massive hand with a quick flash.

“Traitor! You deserve to die!” The Waitara Path’s soul spirit roared in fury, unleashing numerous giant hands.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Taiyi used her body to block the tens of thousands of punches from the Waitara Path’s soul spirit, causing her golden body to be exposed.

“Haha! your golden body is finally , exposed Now, die!” The Waitara Path’s wu I spirit laughed maniacally and launched another giant fist wrapped in terrifying energy Taiyi.

“I’ve done my best, Caeloros Supreme!” Taiyi shouted as a black-and-white light emerged from her body.

Before the giant fist could land, a , red-gold Sword Light cut through the void and severed it. The next second, blood splattered throughout the void.

“Ah!!!” The Waitara Path’s soul spirit screamed in pain as he was blasted tens of thousands of light-years away.

The red-gold sword turned around and pierced through Waitara Path’s soul spirit.

The Waita Path’s soul spirit trembled and twisted violently as energy leaked from his body. The Gate of Anonymous’s space is instantly filled with his agonized screams.

Taiyi, who had been bracing for death, was stunned.

The heavily injured Yasmina suddenly burst into laughter, “You’re delusional and have overestimated yourself.” The Waitara Path’s soul spirit roared, “How is it possible for me to be hurt by the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword? This can’t be real!” Lesia weakly countered, “The Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword isn’t yours. It was formed from the Nothingness Daoism.” Then, she suggested, “Kill him, Master! He’ll only become a bigger problem if we keep him alive.” At these words, the red-gold Sword Light quickly transformed into James, appearing behind the Waitara Path’s soul spirit.

Taipa urgently shouted, “Kill him, James!” Taiyi took a deep breath and suggested otherwise, “If you kill him, he’ll be even stronger after being reincarnated.” Lesia quickly added, “We can’t worry about that now. Let’s focus on protecting the Haleth Realm for now!”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7302-Despite Lesia’s persistence, James remained indifferent. He suddenly flashed before Taiyi and Yasmina, staring at them with bloodshot eyes.

Taiyi and Yasmina watched him warily, as if faced with a formidable opponent.

“I’ve already defeated him. It’s your turn now,” James said slowly, each word dripping with menace.

Taiyi and Yasmina’s faces paled at his words.

Lesia, who was behind them, struggled to her feet and cried out, “Don’t you recognize me, Master! I'm Lesia, your second body!" James paused at her words. The bloodlust and hostility in his eyes faded significantly.

Lesia shouted with all her strength, "Gray clouds and the chimes often thousand bells. Above the Genesis Power is where you find the Marcials Combat Form.

After gaining Nirvana Golden Bonesm, a Quasar Second Body, the Dernaturae, one will reach the Daeclon Mahayana." Her words stirred up James, and he was in visible pain.

Seeing James clutching his head, Taiyi hurriedly sent a telepathic message. "It won't work. His mind has been corrupted. The Yin governor is the only person who can stop him. We need to summon her. otherwise, the Caeloros Supreme will be in danger!" Just as Yasmina was about to take action, a green smoke emerged from the tower that Lesia was holding onto and swiftly surrounded James.

Before James could react, he was whisked into the tower.

"You two! Go hold off the Waitara Path's soul spirit. If he escapes, you'll pay with your lives," Frona's authoritative voice came from within the tower.

Taiyi and Yasmina exchanged glances, then launched a siege on the twitching Waitara Path's soul spirit.

Thea, Yiulia, and Hankin, who were at the edge of the Gate of Anonymous, slowly rose to their feet. Upon seeing the sight unfolding in the void, their eyes widened in shock.

Yiulia exclaimed, "How did Taiyi and Yasmina get in?" Hankin said with relief, "The Caeloros Supreme is with them. Of course, they'd be able to enter any space." Lesia gradually descended before them, holding the tower in her hands.

"Lesia!" Thea exclaimed, then rushed over to support her.

Lesia quickly handed the tower to Thea and said, "Quickly head in! Don't let my master hurt her." Shocked, Thea asked, "She really came?"

Lesia nodded firmly.

"Your injuries..." Lesia urged anxiously, "Go! Don't worry about me!" Without further hesitation, Thea transformed into a purple-gold light and entered the tower.

Shortly after, Lesia, who seemed drained of all energy, collapsed to the ground.

The tower slipped from her grasp and fell to the ground.

“Lesia!” Yiulia and Hankin anxiously rushed to her.

“Pro...protect the tower. Don’t let, anything happen to it,” Lesia murmured with the very last of her strength before completely losing consciousness.

Yiulia and Hankin quickly summoned their Vital Energy to protect Lesia. Then, they set up a strong soundproof formation around them to protect the tower.

After arriving inside the tower’s space, Thea instantly spotted James entangled by black-and white lights. He struggled fiercely growled like a trapped beast Meanwhile, a beautiful woman wielding a dazzling scepter hovered above James, continuously casting light attacks at him.

The lights that surrounded James caused him intense pain, and several spectral figures with red and gold hues would emerge from his body, thrashing and roaring furiously. It was a terrifying sight to behold.

The spectral figures attempted to return to James’ body but were trapped by black-and-white bubbles and were immobilized.

Thea leaped into the air and landed on a black-and-white cloud.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7303-Caeloros Supreme!’ Frona continuously waved her scepter and asked, “Are you worried I’ll make him disappear?” Thea hurriedly shook her head and said, “Of...of course not! Lesia asked me to come...” Frona interrupted, “She sure is in a difficult spot. Well, go calm him down so I can finish this faster.” Thea hesitated for a while before unleashing a dazzling purple-gold light and constructing a bridge. She stepped onto it and slowly approached James.

Meanwhile, James waved his hands and roared violently like a ferocious beast.

His reaction was not only from the pain of expelling his Inner Demon but also the betrayal and binding he felt.

Thea shouted, “James!” Unfortunately, James was not affected and continued to growl in pain.

Thea took a few more steps forward and called, “Darling!” James waved his hand, and red-gold lights spread out, instantly knocking Thea away.

Puff!!

Thea spat out a mouthful of blood but refused to give up. She turned into a purple-gold light, rushed to James, and grabbed his hand.

James felt a wave through his body and calmed down, his bloodshot eyes revealing surprise.

Thea said softly, "It's me, Darling. It's Thea. I'm here. Don't move." James finally reacted and grabbed Thea's hand desperately.

"Honey...honey..." "I'm here." Thea hugged him tightly, consoling him with her presence.

Seeing James calm down, Frona, who had been casting lights from her scepter onto James, pulled several spectral figures from his body.

Although Thea was embracing him, James was still trembling from the excruciating pain. Fortunately, he had calmed down significantly and gritted his teeth to endure the process repeatedly.

After the last Inner Demon was extracted from his body, the sky filled with black and white bubbles containing figures that looked like James. The Inner Demons growled and tried to break free in an attempt to return to James.

Frona slashed her scepter downward, instantly forming a bridge from black and white clouds, extending to James and Thea.

"All right. Let's take a look at these Inner Demons that were harming you," said Frona.

James, who was in Thea's embrace, slowly opened his eyes. His bloodshot eyes gradually subsided, and he returned to his normal appearance.

Thea slowly let go of James and burst into tears of joy.

"You've gotten rid of your Inner Demons and returned!"

James lovingly wiped the tears from Thea's face, then hugged her and raised his head to look at Frona who was standing above a black-and-white cloud.

"We meet again." Frona nodded and made a welcoming gesture, inviting him to approach.

James took Thea's hand and followed the bridge, walking toward Frona.

Suddenly, one of the black-and-white bubbles exploded. A spectral figure emitting crimson lights rushed toward James like hungry prey.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7304-"Watch out, Darling!" Thea instinctively pulled James aside, confronting the Inner Demon head-on.

Boom!

The demon exploded upon impact with Thea, and even James was blasted away by the force.

"Thea!" James balanced himself and rushed toward the explosion site without hesitation.

Meanwhile, Frona's brows furrowed, and her face darkened as she realized what had happened.

"Thea!" As the dust settled, James stood at the explosion site, frantically searching for her.

Frona sighed and said, "There's no need to look for her. We were fooled." James turned around and stared at her in confusion. "Fooled?" Frona said solemnly, "It's the Waitara Path's scheme, another one of your tribulations." With another sigh, she elaborated, "I thought I accounted for everything but did not foresee he would use the Yin governor to escape. He took advantage of your feelings. It was something I had not anticipated. It seems he knows you better than I do. After all, you're a Historial being that he created." James was uninterested in her words and simply wanted to find Thea.

He flashed in front of Frona and asked coldly, "I only want to know how to save my wife." Frona took a deep breath and said solemnly, "You must understand, James. The Yin governor is not complete until she merges with the Light Thea. The Yin and Yang governors are this world's soul and core. Now that you've killed The Yang governor, the Yin governor holds sovereignty over all beings.

"If the complete Yin governor returns, the Greater Realms will change into the Greater Realms of Daoism if they will have abundant Spiritual Providence and revere Zymurgy, ultimately worshipping the Waitara Path." James frowned and asked, "I also have Spiritual Providence, so why does the Waitara Path's Soremsia not show himself?" Frona explained, "Your Spiritual Providence comes from the living beings' recognition and admiration for your Daoism. However, the Yin governor's Spiritual Providence is produced by their faith.

"Unfortunately faith is supreme in comparison to recognition and admiration. That's why the Waitara Path's Soremsia hasn't shown himself. He needs the Spiritual Providence gathered by the Yin governor. It's the basis for his return." James clenched his fists and slowly turned around. "So as long as I have the Light Thea, the Waitara Path won't harm my wife and will eventually come for me?" Frona did not respond.

"Answer me." James' face darkened.

Frona closed her eyes and said, "You've temporarily lost the Light Thea.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7305-James was stunned by Frona's words. 'I temporarily lost her? Was she also captured?' Frona looked at James and answered, "We encountered Xanthakos on our way here. Light Thea and your other pet fell into his hands." James was shocked by the news. He turned around abruptly, his face filled with hostility.

Faced with James' gaze, Frona lowered her head in shame and replied, "We couldn't save her. Your second body was already seriously injured after shuttling back and forth through the Xyrisia Gate. It was a miracle she escaped from Xanthakos' hands..." "Enough," James raised his hand and interrupted, then took a deep breath.

James did not blame Frona. Instead, he felt it was his fault for being so naive.

He thought everything was under his control but ended up as someone else's pawn. He paved the path for them, and even his wife got caught up in their scheme.

Frona sighed and sat down cross-legged, unsure of what advice to give James.

After all, only he could make the decision.

After a long silence, James looked at Frona. "So, to save my wife, I must kill Xanthakos first." Frona warned, "Xanthakos is probably as powerful as you now that he has gained the support of three of the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness.

They have given him a boost in power." Shocked, James thought to himself, 'Could it be the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness are having an internal conflict? Their leader, Frona, is on my side.

However, her subordinates sided with Xanthakos.' "I can't provide much help to you with the Haleth Realms' affairs," Frona said as she waved her hand to summon a glowing scroll.

James opened the scroll, and his face was immediately filled with shock. It contained a route to the Gate of Wuia and the way to enter it, detailing what obstacles awaited him.

After reading it, James put the scroll away and looked at Frona.

"There is no time to lose. I will set off now." Frona asked, "Have you already integrated your Five Spirits? You and Xanthos will definitely have fierce-battle, which would likely determine the Haleth Realm's fate.

Shouldn't you be more cautious James squinted and asked, "What do you mean it will determine the Haleth Realm's fate?" Frona explained, "Simply put, Xanthakos indifferent from you. You are able make decisions based on your Daisim. However, to gain strength Xanthakos betrayed himseff and the Haleth Realm surrendering to three of the nike caeloros Gods of Nothingness.

“If he defeats you and the Waitara Path’s Soremsia, he will be able to seize the haleth Realm, which marks the end of the Haleth Realm The Xanadu Realm will get involved, and it could be worse than when the Waitara Path ruled, N wil be a M catastrophe worse than thè Leere Tribulation.” James’ brows furrowed tightly. He did not care about the Haleth or Xanadu Realm. His goal was to rescue his wife and kill the Waitara Path and Xanthakos. Having made up his mind, he sat cross-legged in front of Frona. “Will I be able to integrate my Five Spirits now?” Frona pointed at James’ Inner.

Demons in the sky and said, “You’ll have to eliminate them first. It will increase your chances.” James.

looked in the direction Frona pointed and was dumbfounded by the sight.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7306-The densely packed black and white bubbles floated in the void, each containing different versions of James. From the powerful Dragon General on Earth towhen he embarked on a path of cultivation, each represented his past experiences, hardships, the cycle of life and death, affection, and hatred.

Friends and foes he encountered throughout his life emerged one by one.

Frona said emotionally, “After walking a long journey, people eventually forget why they set out in the first place. However, one of the Great Daoism is cause and effect, which records each living being’s spoken words and deeds. Their fate is a result of their past actions.

“However, your biggest problem is not cause and effect. It’s that you lack the determination to seek the peak of cultivation. In fact, it seems like you’re not interested at all.”

James did not refute her words. Instead, he felt like she understood him well despite being the leader of the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness. She was much brighter than Lesia and knew him better than Thea. She was the very first person to recognize that cultivation did not hold a place in his heart.

Everyone had their own opinions on what Daoism was and believed in different rules. However, nobody could really define or clearly explain it.

The Book of Daoism had clearly stated that Daoism had no limits. The laws were ever-changing, and so were valid for Daoism as well. Therefore, there was no reason to adhere to the doctrines of any party, as none of them could be determined as the iron truth.

As long as it brought joy in a specific environment, it deserved to be one's respected Daoism. For example, James went through countless hardships and survived many near-death experiences because of his love for Thea. However, his determination and resolution today remained the same as the beginning. In a sense, his act could also be considered Daoism.

Though many would consider him unambitious, to James, it was meaningful and worthwhile.

Frona looked at James and took a deep breath. "Being tolerant makes one great. Being without desires makes one strong. This might be the essence of your virtue and sincerity.

"However, if you still think like this in your current position, it is a sin. It's no wonder the opponent could take advantage of your Inner Demon." James opened his eyes and retorted, "I'm not as noble as you say. I'm not a saint, and I am not without desires!" Frona questioned, "Do your desires match your current position and strength?" James was at a loss for words.

Frona resigned, "You desire to stay, with your wife and children forever. In addition, you likely wish for your group of close friends and relatives to be able to live in happiness too."

James squinted and asked, "Does it bother anyone?" Frona responded, "If you were an ordinary mortal, it wouldn't be a problem.

However, you've already become a god, one that could control the Greater Realm's affairs. Your words and actions determine the fate of the Greater Realm's living being

"If your priority were still your family and friends, then selfishness would not be enough to describe your crime. After all, your actions would harm lives and bring about disaster to the Greater Realms." James' face instantly darkened. Frona slowly stood up, looked at the numerous Inner Demons in the sky, and said, "Take a look. These figures represent different stages of you throughout your life."
