

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7316-James suddenly looked around and asked anxiously, "Where's Lesia?" He released his Zen, causing the surroundings to tremble violently. The ground shook, and space cracked, spreading rapidly.

Boom!

A loud explosion erupted, and the Sealed Space collapsed.

Immediately afterward, James saw the Daonus Realms in the Forty-Ninth Heaven shattered into pieces.

"What..." James raised his hand in shock. He had not used any strength, only released his Zen, yet he shattered an entire space.

'Is it because I've integrated the Three Treasures and Five Spirits? Am I that powerful after achieving the Limitless Body and Ultimate Serenity?' James was dumbfounded as he saw Marius, Taiyi, Yasmina, Yiulia, Hankin, Yianni, and Morgott tens of thousands of light-years away.

Their fearful expressions looked so unfamiliar, and James wondered if he truly possessed the aura of a Caeloros God of Nothingness. Supposedly, if that were true, then it had to be Frona.

'Could it be she...' James was shocked at the thought.

Suddenly, a beautiful woman appeared surrounded by Zen and flew toward him.

"Lesia!" James hurriedly took her into his arms, but she had no reaction and seemed to be in a deep slumber.

James gently pressed his fingers against Lesia's forehead and supplied her with Vital Energy.

A purple-gold light gradually wrapped around Lesia's body, and her fingers finally showed movement.

James called out to her anxiously, "Lesia." Lesia slowly opened her beautiful eyes and was immediately startled upon seeing James.

James exclaimed, "I'm glad you're awake! Now I can finally get some answers." Lesia said weakly, "She actually committed to it. The Void World and the Destiny Sect have a new ruler.” James frowned and asked, “What do you mean? Please explain.” Lesia said solemnly, “The Caeloros God of Nothingness’ Leader, Frona, has become one with you. She’s your Cultivation Heart.

“Simply put, she sacrificed herself to stabilize your Cultivation Heart. Not only does she want you to cleanse the Haleih’ Realm, but she also hopes for you to rule the Xanadu Realm’s Destiny Sect to prevent the Shadowborns’ invasion.”

James’ face was filled with shock upon learning the truth. No wonder even Taiyi and Yasmina were so frightened and acting strangely toward him. It was Frona, now his Cultivation Heart, that they feared.

Recalling everything Frona had told him in the tower, his heart ached for her.

Evidently, she was prepared for it. Thea being captured by the Waitara Path’s soul spirit was likely part of her plan as well. She wanted to force him to bear the burden and responsibility. In her words, he could never be a hero who showed true love if he did it for only one person.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7317-Frona’s goal was to make James the hero of the Haleth Realm, Xanadu Realm, and the Destiny Sect.

‘Is your gift a blessing or a curse? Should I be grateful or angry about it? Was it fate or a forced burden upon me?’ James slowly closed his eyes.

Lesia sighed and said helplessly, “She gave you everything but left me and the Yin governor behind. She knows I have my own will and am no longer her Soremsia. She must have also realized that no matter what decision you make, the two of us will stand by your side.

“We can’t force you into anything. It’s up to you to make a choice. The Yin governor and I aren’t worthy of providing you with advice.” James kept his eyes shut, silently processing everything. He sorted through his conversations with Frona, trying to unravel the meaning behind her words.

Sometime later, Lesia asked, “Have you decided yet, Master?” James suddenly opened his eyes, and two beams of light shot out. He waved his hand, and the group standing in the distance was instantly teleported before him.

“Do you seek peace, or do you wish to move forward courageously?” James’ words echoed in their ears like booming thunder. They exchanged glances but were hesitant to speak.

Suddenly, Morgott broke the silence and said, “Of course, the latter! Who doesn’t want to see what’s at the end of cultivation?” Yianni stared at James and asked, “You’re not going to help Xanthakos, right?

With your strength, are you thinking..." Harper suddenly expressed her thoughts, "Even if it's peace we seek, that will have to wait until our enemies are eliminated. You're loyal to your wife and will do whatever it takes to find her.

"Now that the Waitara Path has captured her, I doubt you will be able to live in peace." James squinted after hearing their answers.

"You're right! vye'll have to kill our enemies before we can talk about peace! I approve the message!" James pointed at the void, and light with black, white, gold, and purple hues burst forward. A golden tower emerged and expanded, illuminating the surroundings with its -Winding light.

The group of powerhouses looked at the tower in astonishment.

James said solemnly, "That's the entrance to the Wuia Palace. If you wish to face future challenges with me, then go forth!" The group exchanged glances, and Taiyi, who had been silent throughout the discussion, was the first to rush in.

Yasmina shouted at Taiyi, quickly following after her.

Shortly after, Hankin, Yianni, Harper, and Yiulius rushed into the tower.

Morgott transformed into a light , beam and charged forward but slammed into a wall. Puzzled, he asked, "What do you mean by this, James?"

James said calmly, "There's no rush. Let's talk about your identity first. Are you a demon or a cultivator?" Morgott felf a cold shiver down his spine but composed himself and laughed, "Are you playing with me, James? It's not funny..."

Does it seem like that to you?" James' body emitted a divine light, and his aura suppressed Morgott.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7318-"What are you doing, James?" Morgott asked anxiously before turning to flee.

However, the aura swiftly caught up to him and imprisoned him.

Morgott shouted, "Stop playing around, James! You're overdoing it!" James flipped his hand, and a colorful light instantly surrounded Morgott, extracting Soul Energy Balls from his body.

The Soul Energy Balls contained memories of Morgott's past and present lives.

After examining them, James did not find what he sought.

Following Frona's instructions, James thrust his palms forward, and four potent lights emerged, circling Morgott's body.

As Morgott screamed, a sinister aura emerged from his head and formed a mysterious figure with a blurred face, fangs, and claws, exuding a terrifying air.

'I knew something was wrong with him!' James frowned at the sight.

"Should I call you Frona or James?" the mysterious figure suddenly spoke, and his aura seemed capable of destroying everything.

James squinted and asked, "Who are you?" The mysterious figure chuckled eerily and replied, "Is that important? You can continue calling me Morgott like old times." James shook his head and said, "Strange. You have a very potent aura.

However, you're not one of the Caeloros Gods of Nothingness. In fact, you seem even stronger than them." The mysterious figure burst into laughter. "Frona didn't sacrifice so much for nothing. You're indeed perceptive.

"Since you've inherited everything from Frona, you should be able to figure out who I am." James quickly searched the information he obtained from Frona. After a while, his eyes widened, and he exclaimed, "You're the Voidshade, Nihilos?" The mysterious figure laughed, "Are you scared, James?" James took a deep breath, not responding this question. From Frona's memories, he recalled that ten entities formed in the Void world after the Xurraeus awakening. The Voidshade, Nihilos, was one of them.

After understanding Daoism, the other entities became the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness. Then, they created the Waitara Path, which led to the formation of the Haleth Realm.

Nihilos, however, was wild and reckless. He held no regard for Daoism and used his strength to bully the other Caeloros Gods of Nothingness. He was ambitious, and wanted to seize control of the Destiny sect To put it simply, he had never created a Daoism or space of his own. With brute force, he seized possessions from others. He even attempted to take the other female Caeloros Gods of Nothingnesses as his to reproduce. He was the Xanadu Realm's troublemaker, behaving dominantly and tyrannically. He defeated the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness and was about to take charge of the Destiny Sect, but Xurraeus killed him in an act of mutual destruction.

Unexpectedly, his residual spirit entered the Haleth Realm and evolved into Morgott.

After learning of this history, James looked at him perplexedly.

"You're a damn troublemaker. It's no wonder you reincarnated as someone like Morgott in the Haleth Realm." Nihilos growled, "I've been respectful and polite, James. You shouldn't...

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7319-“James waved his hand and said, “Save the threats. Since you have great ambitions and want to rule over everything, why don’t you create a Daoism like the other Caeloros Gods of Nothingness? Why resort to stealing?” Nihilos retorted, “Do you think I want to? That old bastard, Xurraeus, was super biased. He created Ten Entities, but I’m the only one who can’t comprehend Daoism or create my own space.

“Given my circumstances, I had no other choice but to steal from others.

Everyone else had their own territories and treasures. I couldn’t possibly wander the Xanadu Realm and beg for stuff, right?” James sneered, “You were born strong but with a dull mind. That’s quite pitiful.

But since you only wanted to seize territories for fun, why did you want to take the other female Caeloros Gods of Nothingness for yourself?”

Nihilos retorted, “What about you? Why do you want the Yin governor? Why did you have children with her?” James was momentarily stunned by his words.

Nihilos snorted, “You can’t answer, right? All men want three things.” James asked, “What are three things?” “To become the strongest, sleep with the most beautiful women, and hold the highest authority.” ‘What a despicable person! Men usually use morality, love, pride, status, and everything else to cover up their natural instincts. Yet, he did not even bother and was honest about his desires.’ Nihilos looked at James and asked, “You’re questioning me about creating my own Daoism and space, but what about you? You have a Daoism, but has it been recognized?

“The Waitara Path created everything within the Haleth Realm, including you.

“Isn’t everything you have today also acquired from other people? What’s the difference between US?” James shrugged and asked, “So, does that make it my fault?” Nihilos said solemnly, “We’re the , same, we can’t create our own rules and space. However, we can use those already established to do what our Heart’s desire.”

James looked at Nihilos and raised an eyebrow. “What is it that you want now?” Nihilos replied without hesitation, “I want to seize the Haleth Realm and become its ruler! Then, I’ll use it to take over the Xanadu Realm and Destiny Sect.” James squinted and said, “That makes US enemies.” Nihilos hissed then floated back and forth twice. He then suggested, “Since you’ve discovered my identity, let’s make a deal. As long as you agree to one condition, I will stay out of your affairs and won’t cooperate with you. I’ll even do my best to help you James asked, “You want the Xanadu Realm?” Nihilos pointed at James and complimented Clever belong to the xanadu realm and you’re from the haleth realm we can rule over our own worlds and do what we want without interfering with each other James asked smilingly, “Then should I send you to the Xanadu Realm now?” Nihilos immediately became anxious. “You’re not that stupid, are you? Why would you send me back now? I haven’t recovered, so how will I fight them?

“Moreover, will you really be able to resolve the Leere Tribulation without my help? I don’t think so.” James frowned at his words.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7320-Nihilos said deliberately, “Even though Frona has become your Cultivation Heart and passed her aura to you, she still went against the natural order by passing through the Xyrisia Gate. You possess only thirty percent of her strength.

Though she could transfer all her knowledge to you, she couldn’t bestow her full strength.” James replied calmly, “I don’t need it.” Nihilos acknowledged, “True. You are quite formidable now. You’ve integrated the Three Treasures and the Five Spirits. Frona even sacrificed herself to become your Cultivation Heart to help you achieve a Limitless Body and Ultimate Serenity. But do you really think it’s enough to stop the Waitara Path from returning and prevent the Leere Tribulation?”

James frowned at his words.

Nihilos emphasized, “You’re only formidable in the Haleth Realm. In the Xanadu Realm, you won’t even rank in the top ten.” James said firmly, “My business is within the Haleth Realm.” Nihilos laughed, “Isn’t your goal to deal with Xanthakos? With your current strength, it would be a piece of cake to eliminate him if he were still the old him.

Unfortunately, he has gained the support of three Caeloros Gods of Nothingness. He isn’t the same anymore.”

James clenched his fists. From Frona’s memories, he was already aware of this information. He was prepared to fight to his death.

After the conversation with Nihilos, he wavered.

Nihilos stared at James and said, “Your second body, Lesia, recognized me at a glance. However, she did not expose my real identity.

“While Witten the Sealed Space, Frona also- sensed my presence.

Given our past enmity, don’t you think she would’ve taken action against me?

Why didn’t she think about it.”

James came to a realization. “So that you could help me?” Nihilos pointed at James and laughed, “Haha! You’re indeed the smartest Historial being in the Haleth Realm. You’re wiser than the Waitara Path.

“Lesia and Frona know very well that I would never side with the Waitara Path.

After all, the Leere Tribulation would not be beneficial for me.

“My only option is to help you resolve the leere tribulation to eliminate the Waitara Path first. My Demonic Body can merge perfectly with yours, enhancing our strength beyond imagination. It’ll bridge the gap between your strength and the waitara Path greatly boosting your chances of victory James said indifferently, “So you’re also another pawn in Frona’s plan that will sacrifice for me. I appreciate the gesture. For now you should stay here and focus on growing stronger. I’ll come to meet with you after I deal with xanthakos and seize the Wuia Palace and Path Designation Bead.”

Without waiting for Nihilos to respond, James transformed into a Sword Light and disappeared into the tower.

Nihilos hurriedly shouted, “Wait! Don’t go yet! We haven’t finished discussing the terms! Your comrades will become Xanthakos’ snacks! You must take me with you.” Despite his desperate cries, the tower shut with a loud bang. He watched helplessly as he was surrounded by Caeloros Aura and the light cyclones that James had unleashed.

“That bastard. He tricked me into revealing everything and made sure to leave a hand against me, afraid that I would seize the Wuia Palace and Path Designation Bead.” Nihilos slapped his forehead hard and grumbled, “Why did I trust him so easily?”

He’s even more cunning than Xurraeus.’
