

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7326-Feeling their murderous aura, Xanthakos immediately kowtowed in fear.

“Please spare my life.

I did not hide it on purpose, but I felt that apart from James, the others were not important.

Where James is, the Caeloros Supreme must be there.

I did all this for your sake and do not have any other motives...” “Enough,”

Yefrenes suddenly shouted impatiently.

Her domineering voice stunned Xanthakos.

Even Quintinus, who was about to take action, retracted his hand.

Amos came up and whispered, “Yefrenes, although Taiyi and Yasmina are not as powerful as James, they are gods of the Haleth Realm and are also Frona’s staunch defenders.

“Though we had billions of living beings to cover US to pass through the Xyrisia Gate, we only retained fifty percent of our strength from the Xanadu Realm.

“We might be able to handle James together, but if Taiyi, Yasmina, and some other powerhouses from the Haleth Realm teamed up as well, I am afraid...” Quintinus snorted coldly, “What are you afraid of? How much trouble can this group of ants from the Haleth Realm cause?” Amos stared at Quintinus and asked, “What if Frona gave the Caeloros Supreme Scepter to James?” Quintinus was at a loss for words.

Yefrenes frowned solemnly but remained silent.

Their goal was to obliterate Frona and ensure she could never return to the Xanadu Realm.

At the same time, they wanted to seize the Caeloros Supreme Scepter and remove the Caeloros Supreme title forever.

However, the reality was laid before them.

James alone was enough to give them a headache.

With the addition of his comrades, the outcome was unpredictable.

Quintus raised his head again and said, "We have a better way to deal with James." As soon as these words came out, the three Caeloros Gods of Nothingness stared at Quintus simultaneously.

Xanthakos, who was kneeling, looked at Quintus with extreme anger, wishing to tear him to pieces.

"Tell me, what do you have in mind?" Quintinus asked murderously.

Quintus's lips twitched as he swallowed his saliva in fear.

"Can I come forward and make a secret report?" The three Caeloros Gods of Nothingness looked at each other and nodded simultaneously.

Quintus rushed over and whispered to them.

The three Caeloros Gods of Nothingness nodded frequently while listening to him.

Xanthakos, who was kneeling, watched anxiously.

He wished he could tear Quintus into pieces.

'It is over.

That bastard must have told them that I captured the Light Thea and could threaten James.

'They are going to force me to hand the Light Thea and Yukha over.

I am done for, and all my efforts are about to go down the drain.' Xanthakos grew even more anxious as he thought about the possibilities and was reluctant to accept his fate.

While the Caeloros Gods of Nothingness were still conversing with Quintus he quickly transformed into Nothingness Dead Energy and rushed toward the formation around the Wuia Palace.

Boom! A loud sound that broke through the air; immediately attracted the attention of the Caeloros Gods of Nothingness.

"Oh no, Xanthakos is running away," Quintinus shouted angrily.

Quintinus looked at Yefrenes.

Amos snorted coldly, "What a cunning guy.

I knew he was unreliable." "We must catch him.

We have enhanced his strength, and he has our Xurraeus Cauldrons.

We cannot lose him." Just when Quintinus and Amos were about to rush forward , they were stopped by Yefrenes.

Looking at the formation with a big hole, Yefrenes took a deep breath.

"Xanthakos' goal is the Haleth Realm.

He and James are mortal enemies and cannot exist under the same sky.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7327-"Let him go fight James. Once they're both injured, we'll follow up. It's not too bad of a plan."

Quintinus and Amos exchanged glances and stopped simultaneously.

Quintus suddenly asked, "Will Xanthakos tell James about your arrival?"

Yefrenes looked back at him and said, "You seem to be smarter than Xanthakos."

Quintus laughed awkwardly, "I am not strong enough, so I can only n"

Before he could finish, Yefrenes interrupted by shooting out a black and white energy ball.

Yefrenes said deliberately, "Swallow it This is a reward for you. With this, you won't have to be servile anymore. When you meet Xanthakos, you won't have to fear him anymore."

Quintus widened his eyes and swallowed the energy ball floating before him.

A terrifying gray-black light burst from his body.

He twisted and rolled in the void, screaming in pain.

Countless phantom figures with bared fangs and claws emerged from his body, exploding in the air.

Quintinus frowned and asked, "Why did you give him the Void Cyclone? Aren't you afraid he will betray US?"

Yefrenes said coldly, "He is much wiser than Xanthakos and won't make foolish decisions."

"Plus, Xanthakos ran away. We need an extra pawn to contain him."

Yefrenes looked at the Wuia Palace.

"Frona risked her life to pass through the Xyrisia Gate and leave the Xanadu Realm. Now is our only chance to seize control of the Destiny Sect.

"Any sacrifice will be worth it if we can kill her, or even trap her within the Haleth Realm forever and acquire her Caeloros Supreme Scepter."

Quintinus and Amos took a breath at the same time.

They were loyal followers of Yefrenes and obeyed her decisions unconditionally.

Quintus, who had been rolling in the void for a long time, finally stopped screaming.

He sat cross-legged, wrapped in a thick Nothingness Aura.

A faint "path" word hovered above his head.

The three Caeloros Gods of Nothingness waited as if Quintus was the real protagonist.

Crack! Crack! With a burst of cracking sounds, the Void Cyclone that wrapped Quintus gradually shattered.

Inside, a figure rolled in the void several times quickly appearing in front of Yefrenes, and knelt on one knee.

"Thank you for the gift, Your Holiness."

Yefrenes commanded, "Go on. Open the formation. We need to enter too."

Quintus nodded and immediately turned into a ball of Nothingness Aura, rushing straight into the formation.

There was another loud rumble.

A light flashed and another crack formed in the formation.

Yefrenes winked at Quintinus and Amos, and they simultaneously turned into gas masses and passed through the formation.

Quintus, now completely renewed, showed a strange smile.

"I never thought I would have such an opportunity it must be meant to be wait for me, James. I'll find you really soon."

As soon as Quintus passed through the formation, a light flashed behind him and sealed the gap.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7328-Pavilions and towers rose elegantly, surrounded by intricate rockeries and peculiar stones.

The mountains and waters intertwined seamlessly, with mist blanketing the ground, creating an exquisite landscape that was both breathtaking and serene.

James and his companions stood at the edge of a swirling mass of black and white energy.

Despite the awe-inspiring scenery before them, none of them dared to take a single step forward.

After entering the Wuia Palace, they encountered countless illusions, formations, prohibitions, and attacks in the first twenty halls.

Even James, strong as he was, had failed to block some unexpected ambushes.

As a result, Yianni, Harper, and Hankin were injured.

Now that they had passed twenty halls, they had to be cautious in the face of the unknown.

Taiyi retorted, "The Waitara Path is cunning.

It seems that before he fled, he made comprehensive changes to the Wuia Palace to prevent US from coming back to seize the place."

Yasmina sneered, "Hmph! He can't even trust his own disciple, Goyo. How could he trust US?"

James, who had been silent, suddenly frowned.

"After the Waitara Path fled, didn't Goyo come to take the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword? How did he find it?"

Yasmina glanced at Taiyi and hesitated to speak.

Taiyi answered, "The Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword is only a treasure from the first twenty halls. Moreover, Goyo is the Waitara Path's direct disciple. He must know something we don't..."

“wait!”

James interrupted, “The Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword is only a treasure from the first twenty halls?”

Taiyi nodded and replied, “Yes. The Wuia Palace has twenty halls in the front, middle, and back courts. Then, ten to the east and ten to the west. Each court has a different treasure stored within.”

Yasmina took over the conversation and said, “There’s the Wuia Demon- Slayer Sword, Historial Pestle, the Nothingness Brush, the True Path Diagram, the Sky Cauldron, the Void Furnace, the Path Stamp, the Righteous Axe, and the Path Designation Bead, which are the Nine Treasures of Nothingness.”

“Nine Treasures of the Righteous Path exist within the Haleth Realm, allowing Daoism to continue and bringing salvation to all living beings.”

Yasmina looked at James.

“The reason why Goyo and Xanthakos want the Wuia Palace isn’t just because it’s the representation of authority, but because of the Nine Treasures of Nothingness.”

“with the Nine Treasures of Nothingness, you can control the forty -nine cauldrons, as well as the fate of any divine being in the Haleth Realm without having to become the Supreme Path. You will basically hold complete authority over the Haleth Realm.”

James gasped after listening to the explanation.

Fortunately, he had asked the question.

Otherwise, he might have missed a lot of important information.

From the information he inherited from Frona, there were only details about the Path Designation Bead.

It was possible the Waitara Path had modified everything in the Haleth Realm behind the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness’ backs.

After thinking for a while, James asked, “Are the Nine treasures of nothing ness Equivalent to the key to open the forty-nine cauldrons?”

“Yes.”

Taiyi and Yasmina nodded at the same time.

James questioned, “There are twenty halls in the front, middle, and ten halls in the east and west with the addition of the Waitara Path’s hall, there should only be six treasures. Where are the other three?”

Taiyi and Yasmina looked at each other and then sighed simultaneously.

James suddenly asked, “Does the Waitara Path have them? What if his Soremsia is hidden in these treasures?”

Taiyi denied, “That’s impossible. The Waitara Path’s Soremsia is the first Historial being to be born in the haleth realm it’s a physical entity. For him to return to power, he will have to be baptized by the Greater Realms and has to go through tribulations for millions of entrapochs. Hence, doing that would get in the way of his own plans.” Visit Novelebook.com to read the latest chapter of this novel

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7329-Yasmina said solemnly, “I also believe it is impossible. The Waitara Path is very scheming and does not trust anyone. He would not let anyone have leverage over him.”

James silently recalled how the Waitara Path’s soul spirit resided within the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword.

This led him to suspect that the Waitara Path might have concealed something within the other eight treasures as well— perhaps fragments of his soul or his Primordial Spirit.

It was also probable that he deposited something valuable inside them.

Nevertheless, the Nine Treasures of Nothingness were crucial to unlocking the forty-nine cauldrons.

Securing them was imperative.

Otherwise, their entire mission here would lose its significance.

At first, James thought he could easily obtain the Path Designation Bead after seizing the Wuia Palace.

However, it appeared he had to go through several obstacles before achieving his goal.

James squinted and said, “Do not be deceived by the scenery. We might be led into an unknown dimension or universe. Stay on guard. We must not underestimate our adversary.”

His words spurred the group to activate their strongest defensive skills.

As James advanced, the scenery ahead transformed abruptly.

Pavilions and towers morphed into roaring dragons, hurtling toward them.

Mountains and rivers became beasts, charging ferociously.

James raised his hand, enveloping his comrades in a Three Treasures Formation.

The dragons slammed into the formation with a deafening crash.

This time, James chose not to engage in a confrontation.

Instead, he used the Three Treasures Formation as cover and the Wuia Demon Slayer Sword to pave the way, then led his comrades forward.

Faced with the onslaught of dragons, James was unfazed and pressed forward until they reached a vast blue world.

A single shade of blue dominated the landscape as if submerged in the ocean's depths.

It was a suffocating and terrifying sight.

Harper looked around and asked, "Are we underwater?"

Yianni retorted, "Do not be absurd. We are in the Greater realms highest point it is just an illusion. Just as he finished speaking, rumbles echoed above the three treasures formation and several koi fish charged at them with their mouths opened wide.

Boom! A few more deafening rumbles followed, and cracks formed across the formation.

Marius exclaimed, "They are even stronger than the dragons just now.

Could it be that Yehria, whom you despise so much, also came from this place?"

James spread his arms and deployed lights of black, white, purple, and gold to the surroundings.

But before long, the koi fish swarmed toward them and shattered the Three Flowers Formation.

Blue waves swept over the group and swept them away. James was about to take action but was swallowed by a colossal beast.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7330-With a flash of light, James opened his eyes and found himself inside a mysterious cave.

He was surrounded by magical fruits that emitted dazzling lights, akin to little lanterns illuminating the area.

He scanned his surroundings vigilantly and spotted a luminous figure sitting cross-legged deep within the cave.

The figure's face was obscured, but a potent aura emanated from him.

"You must be exceptionally strong to have made it here," a mighty voice resounded within the cave.

"Who are you?"

James frowned, fixing his gaze on the luminous figure.

After a drawn-out sigh, the figure said leisurely, "It's been too long. I can't recall my name anymore. Just call me Dillon Zacharias."

"Dillon Zacharias?"

James' heart skipped a beat as the name rang a bell in his mind.

He abruptly looked at the figure and asked, "Could you be one of the unorthodox factions' gods imprisoned by the Waitara Path?"

The figure chuckled.

"Unorthodox faction? It's a fitting name.

To disciples of the Waitara Path like you, we're a group that committed treason, huh?"

James silently took a few cautious steps forward.

To his surprise, the ground beneath him crumbled with each step.

By the time he reached the figure, a deep abyss had formed behind him.

Dillon chuckled.

"Don't be scared! It's just an illusion! Hmm?"

Suddenly, two blood-red eyes appeared above the figure and shot out crimson light beams that instantly surrounded James.

Dillon exclaimed excitedly, "Three Treasures, Five Spirits, Limitless Body, and Ultimate Serenity! It's no wonder you made it here! The Haeleth Realm truly harbors great talent! "However, you seem to be a Historical being.

Is the Waitara Path not afraid you'll take his place?"

"That's quite rude of you. Do I seem like someone with a good temper?"

James shook himself free from the crimson lights surrounding him.

Dillon nodded in agreement.

"You're right! I apologize for my manners. I haven't seen another living being in so long and was excited. Please forgive me."

James questioned, "Where are my companions?"

Dillon replied, "I need you to answer my question first."

James squinted and demanded, "I'll ask one more time. Where are they?"

Seeing James' stubbornness, Dillon chuckled.

"I haven't fought in over a million eras do you want to challenge me James did not waste any words.

He pointed two fingers into the void and summoned the Wuia Demon-Slayer Sword.

With a flick of his fingers the sword hurtled toward Dillon with incredible speed Bang!