

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7346-Mordecai snorted and pointed into the void.

With a flash of light, an enormous chessboard appeared.

Seeing this, Taiyi and Emperor Tapia quickly flew to James' side.

"Be careful, he's up to something," Taiyi warned.

"Yes, Mordecai is different from Dillon.

He is very treacherous," Emperor Tapia added softly.

"He often has ways to kill gods invisibly." James smiled calmly and asked, "Sir Mordecai, do you want to play a game with me?" Mordecai chuckled sinisterly.

"Heaven as the chessboard, stars as the pieces.

You and I will become the game itself.

How about a wager?" James raised an eyebrow.

"I like gambling.

What's the stake?" Mordecai spread out one hand, revealing a shimmering pen and a scroll radiating black and white light.

"These are the treasures of the last twenty halls of Wuia Palace, as well as each of the ten halls to the east and west.

Isn't that why you're here?" At these words, Taiyi and Emperor Tapia quickly looked at James, their expressions tense.

"Brat, just take them since it's confirmed that the treasures are with him," Dillon said.

Then, he transformed into a beam of light and charged at Mordecai.

However, Mordecai disappeared with a flicker, causing Dillon to miss his mark.

Dillon cursed angrily, "Damn old monster, come out and fight!" There was no response, and the main hall fell eerily silent.

After a while, Taiyi spoke softly, "Each of them has their own Supernatural Powers.

You can't judge them by conventional means." Emperor Tapia said, "If it were that easy to snatch, we wouldn't be wasting our efforts here." Listening to their words, James smiled slightly.

"Sir Mordecai, what do you want if I lose?" The hidden Mordecai remained silent, but words appeared in the void in front of James: 'I want your Limitless Body.' Seeing this, Taiyi and Emperor Tapia were panicked.

"Lafayette Zelig, you're truly dreaming!" Dillon cursed.

"James' Limitless Body is unique in Haleth Realm, derived from the Three Treasures Integration and the Five Spirits Integration.

It's invulnerable and can encompass all paths..." James waved his hand before Dillon could finish speaking.

A red- glowing star from the void outside the hall was drawn onto the chessboard and shrank to fit.

Taiyi, Emperor Tapia, and Dillon were all stunned.

"Your move, Sir Mordecai," James called out.

Suddenly, a strange light flashed above James' head and shot into the chessboard.

"Brat, if you dare to gamble, do you dare to come inside without o m hesitation James transformed into a beam of light and entered the chessboard.

In front of him, an enormous black hole suddenly spun upright with hundreds of beams of light flashing across it, forming a rotating circular chessboard.

Instantly, the scene changed from the main hall to a vast boundlessn starry sky with Lames bocupying a universe by himself. Countless stars streaked across the sky, leaving long tails, creating a spectacular sight.

On the board, a red and a white star slowly rotated and emitted dazzling

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7347-"Brat, you have guts! You really dared to join the game.

It seems I underestimated you." Suddenly, Mordecai in a white robe appeared on the other side of the massive chessboard.

With a wave of his hand, countless spinning stars and planets behind him rushed towards James.

In a series of crisp sounds, numerous stars and planets slashed through James, leaving his body covered in dense bloody wounds.

James was furious at the underhanded tactics.

Spreading his arms, he unleashed a terrifying and dazzling energy of black, white, purple, and gold, forming a massive vortex that immobilized the spinning stars around him.

“Open!” Mordecai suddenly shouted.

The stars, which James had restrained, transformed into silvery- white chess pieces, falling onto the huge chessboard and forming three enormous, lifelike white dragons.

Their aura was terrifying, accompanied by dragon roars, as if they could leap off the board at any moment, bringing immense destruction.

“Hahaha!” Mordecai laughed at James.

“Brat, I forgot to tell you.

I’m invincible in the Xurraeus Chessboard.

No matter if you have the Three Treasures Integration, the Five Spirits Integration, the Limitless Body, or the Ultimate Serenity, you have to bow here!

“T truly didn’t expect it.

Even Waitara Path and Dillon don’t dare to enter the Xurraeus Chessboard, yet you dared to barge in.

You are indeed more foolish than Dillon.” Pointing at James, Mordecai continued, “James Caden, right? I’ll take your Limitless Body for myself.” As he spoke, the three enormous white dragons on the chessboard roared fiercely and charged straight at James.

To his surprise, James neither dodged nor moved.

The dragons wrapped around him and instantly swallowed him whole.

Mordecai, who had been prepared for a fierce battle, was suddenly stunned.

He could not believe that James, a master of the Limitless Body and the Ultimate Serenity, had fallen so quickly, not even lasting a hundred moves.

“No, something’s not right.” Mordecai frowned deeply.

“Even Dillon willingly became his follower.

He can’t be that weak.” As he spoke, he sent another eerie beam of light toward the intertwined white dragons, making them even more violent and faster in their movements.

Despite this, he still could not sense any trace of James’ aura, as if he had never entered the game.

This unexpected victory did not bring Mordecai any joy.

Instead, he felt an unprecedented sense of unease.

Clenching his fists, he looked around warily, a growing sense of fear welling up inside him.

After a while, a burning red star suddenly flew out from in front of him and rushed towards him at an incredible speed.

Just as he was about to strike it down, the star transformed into a fiery red chess piece and landed on the massive chessboard.

“What is this...” Mordecai’s face changed drastically, his nerves stretched to the limit.

In the next moment, more and more burning red stars flew in from all directions.

They transformed into chess pieces and landed on the board, forming a strange encirclement.

Following this, the encirclement, surrounded by black, white, purple and gold energy quickly connected into a line, emitting an incredibly dazzling light.

Accompanied by three loud dragon roars, the three gigantic white dragons that had been entangling James were instantly wallowed by the light emerging from the chessboard. Then, a handsome figure stepped out from the chessboard, his body glowing with a divine radiance, one hand behind his back. Mordecai widened his eyes in shock at this sight.

“Impossible, this is absolutely impossible! No one can survive my Helion Formation, not even waitara Path or dillon He flipped his hands again, sending countless eerie beams of light, wrapping around all the stars, rapidly forming a gigantic ball of light, which he directed straight at the glowing figure.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7348-Boom! Boom! Boom! A series of endless explosions erupted as the star cluster engulfed the handsome figure, shaking the entire starry sky.

After the explosions ceased, the figure emerged once again and pressed toward Mordecai.

"This can't be!" Mordecai was utterly terrified.

He unleashed countless palm strikes as he rapidly retreated, but they had no effect on the approaching figure.

"James Caden, are you a Path or a demon?" He pointed at the relentless figure and shouted in panic, "This is my Xurraeus Chessboard.

How can you..." With a swish, James' afterimage instantly appeared in front of Mordecai.

As he tried to turn and flee, James grabbed him by the hair and yanked him back.

"Sir Mordecai, you've lost." Mordecai stumbled and fell into the void, lying there and looking up at the towering James.

He was scared out of his wits.

This young man's presence shattered his understanding of Daoism, delivering a soul-crushing blow.

With a scream, Mordecai scrambled to his feet.

"How did you do it?" "Hand over the wager first.

We have plenty of time to talk." James extended his hand to Mordecai.

Under James' sharp gaze, he reluctantly handed over a pen and a scroll.

James took them and examined them carefully.

The pen glowed brilliantly, filled with powerful Waltraud Power, seemingly capable of controlling the entire Haleth Realm.

The scroll, radiating black and white light, hummed faintly, almost alive, and exuded an air of mystery.

Mordecai looked at the items in James' hand with regret.

"These are the Nothingness Neon Pen and the Zirconia Path Scroll..." "No need to explain, I know," James interrupted.

"The Nothingness Neon Pen combined with the Zirconia Path Scroll can rewrite the fate, life, death, fortune, and tribulation of any divine being in Haleth Realm." Mordecai was stunned.

"You know that too?" James picked up the Nothingness Neon Pen and wrote the name Quattro on the Zirconia Path Scroll, then embedded a treasured Quattro inscription into it.

Instantly, a purple-gold light flashed, and the image of Quattro, with its pig head and human body, appeared in the void.

Alongside it, several lines of text appeared, detailing Quattro's current cultivation base, fate, fortune, and tribulation.

Seeing this, James exclaimed, "After all these years, this piggy hasn't shown much improvement in cultivation and strength.

He needs some pressure." He then used the pen to modify Quattro's cultivation base, fate, fortune, and tribulation.

With a wave of his hand, the image of Quattro in the void transformed into a beam of light and shot out of the chessboard world. He disappeared without trace. Witnessing this, Mordecai was shocked. "You actually know how to use these supreme treasures, and you handle them with such ease. Are you a reincarnation of the Waitara Soremsia?" James put away the pen and scroll.

He said with a smile, "Who are you scolding? You're the reincarnation of Waitara Soremsia. Your entire family is." Mordecai was taken aback.

"But you won these treasures of Nothingness.

How could you possibly have such power..." James turned and surveyed the surroundings.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7349—"The Xurraeus Chessboard is impressive.

From now on, it's mine, including you." As he spoke, he waved his hand.

The vast starry sky rippled, and the scene shifted.

He and Mordecai appeared in the main hall.

With a flash of light, the dazzling chessboard in the void instantly fell into his hands.

“No, it can’t be.” Mordecai panicked.

“That’s mine.

How can you...” “Yours?” James handed the chessboard to Mordecai.

“Call it and see if it responds to you.” Mordecai’s face twitched.

He hurriedly performed a spell, emitting an eerie light that struck the chessboard, but there was no reaction.

“This is impossible.

This isn’t real!” Mordecai shouted desperately.

“My Xurraeus Chessboard can’t be controlled by you.

This must be an illusion.” Watching the nearly hysterical Mordecai, Taiyi, Emperor Tapia, and Dillon exchanged glances and revealed strange expressions.

“Sir Mordecai, you only knew that the Xurraeus Chessboard was under your control,” James said slowly.

“However, you never considered where it came from.” Mordecai looked up in shock.

“The Xurraeus Chessboard was created by the Caeloros God of Garuda when he evolved you,” James said deliberately.

“The most powerful aspect of this chessboard isn’t the Three Dragons Chess Game you were manipulating, but the Garuda Technique.

“with your strength, you could only control the Three Dragons Chess Game.

So, when I broke the game, the Xurraeus Chessboard was no longer under your control.” “As for how I knew,” James revealed a sinister smile.

“It’s because I possess the Cultivation Heart of the Caeloros Supreme.” Hearing this, Mordecai seemed to understand something.

He collapsed to the ground in realization.

It meant James had devoured Frona Dhimer.

He finally understood why James was so powerful.

Neither Waitara Path nor Dillon dared to enter the Xurraeus Chessboard, yet he handled it with ease.

Moreover, he never took the initiative to attack or even defend in their recent encounters, yet Mordecai still lost.

It seemed James' strength had reached an unfathomable level.

James looked at the surrounding gods.

"Everyone, I need to go into seclusion and refine these two treasures of Nothingness.

During this time, explore the front twenty halls and the central twenty halls to find opportunities and improve your strength.

"You can only enter once I control the last twenty halls and each of the ten halls to the east and west.

"However, remember this well.

If you encounter new enemies, don't engage them head-on.

Return here, and I will handle it." The gods and powerhouses exchanged glances and nodded in agreement.

"When will we head to Waitara Path's main dojo?" Dillon asked.

"Soon." James narrowed his eyes into slits.

.

"Once I've fused these treasures and you all have the strength for the final battle Hearing this, the gods opened their mouths but held back their words.

"If you're growing impatient, the Three Caeloros Gods must be even more so," James said with a smile.

"However, we have two guests to welcome before that." The gods were puzzled, about the guests but they decided not to disturb James and dispersed, watching as he sat cross-legged in the void.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7350-"Master, who else is coming aside from Waitara Path's soul spirit?" Lesia asked James through voice transmission.

James slowly opened his eyes and replied calmly, "Your old friends, but I can't determine if they are friends or foes." Lesia was taken aback and immediately emerged from James' space.

Staring at James, she pondered for a long time but still could not figure it out.

Suddenly, James waved his hand, and three Soul Energy Balls, glowing with purple-gold light, emerged from his body and floated before Lesia.

"These are the souls of Wesley, Taichu, and Xabat," James sighed.

"They risked their lives to save me when I fell into darkness.

They are truly reliable and trustworthy friends." Lesia was stunned.

"Master, you..." "I'm entrusting them to you for now," James said slowly.

"They've sacrificed too much and mustn't suffer any more harm.

"You will take them, along with Yukha, and leave Wuia Palace.

Return to the Great Historial Land and don't linger in Zymurgy." As he spoke, James squinted slightly.

"Leaving now should be the safest time because all the powerhouses and gods who could threaten you are already in Wuia Palace." Lesia was shocked.

"Master, you're sending me away at this crucial moment?" "You must go," James said firmly.

"The living beings of the myriad realms and the brothers of the Great Historial Land need you.

Only by entrusting them to you can I truly be at ease." These words sounded like a final farewell, making Lesia feel an unprecedented sense of crisis.

She wondered if James lacked confidence in seizing Wuia Palace and the Path Designation Bead.

If he truly thought so, this battle was doomed.

Thinking this, Lesia raised her head abruptly.

"Master, have you forgotten our oath?" "Now is not the time for impulsiveness," James said calmly.

“Lesia, remember, you are no longer just the Soremsia of the Caeloros Supreme, but a tangible being who can fully control her own fate.

“Moreover, you are no longer my second body, but you are still connected to me in heart and soul.” Lesia became anxious.

“Then we should...” James waved his hand and sighed.

“Listen to me first!” Lesia’s beautiful face showed tension.

James spoke slowly.

“The battle for Wuia Palace should have been straightforward.

We initially expected to face only Emperor Qadeer, and I had a ninety percent chance of winning.

“But now, the Three Caeloros Gods of Nothingness have intervened, and Waitara Path’s soul spirit is holding my wife hostage.

All their attacks will be aimed at me.

“whether it is Xanadu Realm or Haleth Realm, all the gods have gathered.

This will be a battle to determine the fate of Haleth Realm and the destiny of me and my wife.

Whether we control our fate or are subject to others must be decided in this epic battle.

“However, against such powerful enemies, I may not be able to defeat them even with the thee treasures integration, the Five Spirits Integration, the Limitless Body, and the Ultimate Serenity.

“In this critical moment, if you can guard the living beings of the myriad realms and the Great historial land with the assistance of taichu and and Rebella, I can fight the enemies without any worries.” After hearing this, Lesia gasped. Visit Novelebook.com to read the latest chapter of this novel “Master...”

“Remember,” James said earnestly, “When you return to the Great Historical Land, the first priority is to fortify the Spiritual Providence.

Then, use all resources to build your Nothingness Formation, ensuring that the myriad realms and the Great Historial Land are not affected by the war in Zymurgy.” James waved his hand again, and a Spiritual Providence Pearl entered Lesia’s body.

Lesia’s body trembled and immediately shone with dazzling light.

Her strength greatly increased.

“T entrust the Spiritual Providence Pearl to you.

You will be the Divine Emperor in the myriad realms, capable of mobilizing all resources and power.” Looking at herself, Lesia felt no joy.

There was only heart- wrenching sorrow.

James had entrusted even the Spiritual Providence to her, clearly preparing for his end.

She wondered if he could be facing something unfortunate.