

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7381

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7381-Harper asked regretfully, "So Nihilos devoured Morgott?"

Taiyi shook her head and explained, "No. Morgott is Nihilos. Nihilos is Morgott.

James must have already discovered his identity before we entered the Wuia Palace. That's why he didn't allow him to tag along." Everyone gasped simultaneously at the revelation.

Yasmina said leisurely, "He would take whatever he wanted as his own and is indeed a terrifying entity. If I were James, I wouldn't feel comfortable allowing him to come with us either."

Taiyi looked at Yasmina and said, "But he's in here. Did James expect this to happen?"

Just as she finished speaking, Morgott cast a large cone-shaped formation around them.

Marius asked nervously, "Is he trying to trap us too?"

"Stop talking and start cultivating instead." Yasmina sat cross-legged on the spot and closed her beautiful eyes.

Taiyi immediately followed suit.

The others glanced at each other puzzledly but also sat down, closed their eyes, and started to cultivate.

Meanwhile, on the east side of the Wuia Palace, a Sword Light descended atop a mountain. The next moment, it transformed into James. Dressed in a white robe, he radiated with an air of nobility. His hair fluttered, and his deep eyes were like a vast universe with twinkling stars.

James suddenly waved his hand and summoned Yiulia from his space.

Yiulia staggered, then stabilized herself. She looked at James, her beautiful face filled with disbelief.

"As you wished, I've already circled the Wuia Palace about eight thousand one hundred times. Are you satisfied now?"

Yiulia trembled at his words. She lowered her head and asked nervously, "What do you mean? I don't understand."

James turned around with his hands behind his back, looking at Yiulia with amusement.

“You’re not a very good actor, Lyla. Nobility and arrogance are engraved in your very soul. It’s obvious how much you’re trying to suppress it.”

“It’s hard for me to imagine who could make someone like you willingly lower yourself to execute this plan. Moreover, I’m your target.”

Under James’ sharp gaze, Yiulia lowered her head even more. She was evidently feeling guilty and at a loss for how to respond.

James took a deep breath and smiled sorrowfully. “I fell to my Imer Demons, last time because I realized those trusted might change one day and do the unexpected out of nowhere.

“Without Frona’s help in stabilizing my Cultivation Heart, I would definitely still find it hard to believe that you were the one who hid your motives the best.”

“No, I...” Triggered by James’ words, Yiulia stepped back and shouted, didn’t do it deliberately! I didn’t want it to have to be this way either, but I had no choice!”

After speaking, she fell to the ground and cried hysterically, pained and in despair.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7382-James looked at Yiulia without moving forward to comfort her.

He wanted to hear a clear answer from her.

After a long silence, the tearful Yiulia wiped her eyes, slowly stood up, and asked, “How did you find out?”

James replied calmly, “I already gave you the answer. You’re a deity and not a very good actor. I knew as soon as you came to ask for help.”

Shocked, Yiulia asked, “Why did you come with me if you already saw through it? Why not listen to the Path Protectors and enter the Historial Palace?”

James smiled.

“How would you explain yourself to the people who sent you if I didn’t fall for the trap?”

Yiulia’s eyes showed extreme complexity at his response.

She closed her eyes, and tears rolled down her cheeks. She felt guilty, and her heart ached.

Though he was betrayed, he was still considerate of her safety.

She could not wrap her mind around why he would do such a thing for a shameless traitor.

Fighting against her tears, Yiulia said, "Since you've already discovered it was a trap, I advise you to leave immediately. You won't be able to seize the Wuia Palace. They've had everything planned out a long time ago."

Looking at Yiulia, who was grief-stricken, James squinted and asked, "Who are they? Are you referring to Amos, Quintinus, and Xanthakos? Could it be the Waitara Path and Yehria?"

Yiulia stared blankly at James, as if in deep agony.

Suddenly, two flashes of light appeared behind Yiulia.

The next moment, Amos and Xanthakos materialized.

Xanthakos folded his hands behind his back and looked at James with a triumphant expression.

"Haha! We meet again, James. I can't believe the last time we saw each other was in the Qadeer Palace so many entrapochs ago." James smiled faintly.

"You proposed to become in-laws but disappeared without a word. I thought you died."

Xanthakos twisted his beard and laughed.

"I would be more than pleased if you truly had such intentions.

"It's unfortunate that you probably don't take US ants seriously anymore since you now have the strength to take down Yefrenes."

James raised an eyebrow and said smilingly, "You still felt uneasy despite having Light Thea in your hands and had to send another Caeloros God of Nothingness to hold my friends hostage?"

Xanthakos laughed arrogantly as if his victory was guaranteed.

James, however, looked at him like a clown.

He was not enraged and remained calm.

Amos stood beside Xanthakos with an indifferent expression, as if everything was under control.

“Leave, James! Xanthakos has already obtained the Xurraeus Path Mantra and cultivated the triple nothing ness Martial Technigue, In the Haleth Realm, he is. co invincible. Even Quintinus and Amos are under his control now.You don’t stand a chance...argh!!!” Before she could finish, Xanthakos grabbed and tugged her long hair. Her face contorted in immense pain, but she could not fight back. James squinted at the sight, his eyes slowly narrowing.

Yiulia shouted anxiously, “Go, James!

Don’t worry about me! you must survive to have a chance to take revenge, rescue your wife, and reclaim the Haleth...Ahh!”

Xanthakos looked at him and taunted, “You didn’t expect this did you James the Woman who committed suicide because of her love for you would one day betray you.” James said nothing in response, but his eyes grew red as he glared at Xanthakos.

Xanthakos pointed his fingers at her, sealing off her voice before she could finish speaking to James.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7383-Xanthakos looked at James and smiled.

“She’s too noisy.We’ve finally met after so long.How can we let a servant ruin the atmosphere, right?”

James stared at him silently.

The next moment, Xanthakos waved his hand, and a glowing table emerged before them.

A few black and white lights flashed on the table, revealing dozens of wine jars along with rich, appetizing food.

Xanthakos said with a smile, “You are a Historial being that has dedicated your body to cultivation.

However, I know of your love for wine.

I’m also guessing that you haven’t tasted delicious food in a long time, right? I’ve sent my men to search the Haleth Realm to gather these valuable treasures so that I can share them with you on this occasion.1' James scanned the extravagant feast on the table.

Xanthakos sent Yiulia away and said, "Let me introduce them to you.

The first dish is called steamed Ancestral Dragon.

It's made from the tender meat of the Ancestral Dragon, slowly steamed with Nothingness Path Flames."

James' brows furrowed at his words.

'Ancestral Dragon? Is that Yrian from the Dark World's Yin's Void? Did Xanthakos kill him?' After scanning the dish on the table, James sensed Yrian's aura from it.

'Damn it.Xanthakos really is a vicious and insidious being!' Seeing James' silence, Xanthakos laughed, "The second dish is braised bull.It's meat from the first-ever green bull to exist.It's a rare delicacy."

'Green bull? Hador's mount? Did he also perish?' thought James.

Xanthakos chuckled, "The third dish is stir-fried pork.It's made with meat from a beast with a pig head and human body, called Aveswine.It's an entity that has been cultivated for hundreds of millions of years.It was a really rare find."

James immediately thought of Quattro but quickly dismissed the thought.

When he was in Mordecai's chessboard, he used the Nothingness Neon Pen to experiment with Quattro's fate.

Back then, he was still well and alive.

After reassuring himself, James' anger subsided significantly.

He was confident that Xanthakos was bluffing, mixing truth with falsehood.

Some of his words might have been true, but it was impossible for him to have killed all of his friends.

James crossed his arms and listened to Xanthakos slowly introducing the remaining dishes with peace of mind.

From his friends from the Genesis Worlds to Zymurgy Xanthakos had hinted at killing and using them in the food he had prepared Amongstm them, the most ridiculous bluff was Febby. After finishing the introduction, Xanthakos looked at James with a smile, "The feast !

prepared for you is not bad, right?"

"It's a little shabby." James glanced at the dishes and smiled disdainfully.

Xanthakos' eyes widened in shock.

James waved his hand and said smilingly, "No, no. It's good. The mean is that a feast is lacking without a dish made with fish. It's essential for a great occasion like this."

"It's too shabby? Dragon meat and phoenix are valuable, in the Greater Realms. Are they still not to your liking? You're quite a picky eater."

Xanthakos' face immediately darkened.

"Don't overstep while I'm still being nice, James."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7384-James looked at Xanthakos innocently.

"I'm just saying there isn't a dish without fish. Why are you so mad?"

Xanthakos was seething with anger.

"You..."

James suddenly waved his hand and interrupted Xanthakos.

"Alright, alright! It won't be long before it's my turn to treat you to a meal of exquisite delicacies. We'll prepare the best wine, arrange for great music and performances, and not forget beautiful women to accompany us!"

Xanthakos' fury quickly diminished, and his eyes lit up. He walked over to James, opened a jar of wine, and raised it toward him.

"Then it's a deal, James! No going back on your word! Here's a toast to you!"

James also grabbed a jar of wine from the table and opened it.

Then, he said smilingly, "A feast for a big shot like you must consist of the best fish from the Hareth Realm..."

Puff! Xanthakos choked and spat out his wine.

James was complacent at the sight but pretended to be surprised.

“What’s wrong, Xanthakos? Are you already drunk?”

Xanthakos suddenly raised his head, stared at James fiercely, gnashed his teeth, and wished he could tear him to pieces.

However, seeing James leisurely drinking, he swallowed his anger.

‘Act arrogant while you can, James. When everything is in place, I’ll settle all accounts with you and take revenge for the humiliation I’ve suffered.’ Xanthakos picked up his utensils and took a piece of dragon meat.

Chewing on it, he said, “It’s really delicious! Try some, James!”

James ignored him and summoned a chair.

He sat down, raised a leg onto his chair, and then calmly drank his wine.

“What’s the matter? Are these dishes not to your liking?”

Xanthakos was determined to use the opportunity to disgust James.

Unsatisfied with James’ reaction, Xanthakos grabbed Yiulia and said, “Since James doesn’t like them, then you should eat them in his stead.”

He picked up a piece of dragon meat and forced it into Yiulia’s mouth.

Yiulia spat it out and glared at Xanthakos, wishing she could kill him.

Evidently, she knew what the dishes were made of.

Xanthakos struck her head, knocking her to the ground.

“How ungrateful. You better finish everything on this table. Otherwise, you’ll face consequences.”

Yiulia used all her strength, tears rolling down her cheeks.

She was unable to speak and could only silently approach the table.

Just as she reached out for the plate of dragon meat, she was interrupted by a wine jar being thrown from the other side.

The wine jar smashed into the plate of dragon meat, scattering the dish over the table.

Yiulia quickly withdrew her hand and staggered backward, staring at James in shock.

Xanthakos squinted at the sight and smiled mockingly.

Xanthakos replied, "Sorry, James. The wine was made with the blood of the Ancestral Dragon as well as the heart and liver of the Yin Ancestral God. I haven't even tasted it myself. Let me have a sip."

James complained, "What the hell is this wine? This isn't worthy of being called jade nectar you have really bad taste,

While speaking, Xanthakos deliberately emphasized the Ancestral Dragon and Yin Ancestral God.

After that, he reached out for the wine however James waved his hand and a Sword Light shot out to smash all the wine jars

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7385-The wine splashed everywhere, and the shattered jar fragments flew, ruining all the food on the table.

Xanthakos raised his head suddenly.

"James..."

James patted the jar of Chaos Absinthe in his hand and interrupted.

"This is what I call good wine!"

Seeing James pouring the wine into his mouth, taking big gulps, Xanthakos smiled strangely.

He knew that though James seemed calm, his heart was boiling with anger.

He simply could not act because of his disadvantageous circumstances.

Xanthakos felt great pleasure seeing the Greater Realms' strongest man suffer a setback.

After coughing twice, he said, "You ruined the dishes, James. How about..."

James said smilingly, "Don't worry.ru treat you to Chaos Absinthe and a fish feast later.ru make sure you won't be able to refuse it."

His tone was laced with clear hostility.

Xanthakos laughed, "You're really humorous, James.I hope you're not waiting for reinforcements to arrive and fight me."

James put down his wine jar, stared at Xanthakos, and asked smilingly, "Are you scared?"

After briefly being stunned, Xanthakos laughed.

Amos, who was standing behind, suddenly stepped forward.

He stared at James, his eyes full of mockery.

"Do you think the few weaklings you've brought are capable of resisting a Caeloros God of Nothingness?"

Xanthakos glared at Amos and warned, "Although you're a Caeloros God of Nothingness, you shouldn't speak to my friend like that."

Amos stared at James arrogantly.

"I'm merely speaking facts.Hand over the Caeloros Supreme and her scepter if you're sensible.otherwise..."

Xanthakos interrupted, "Amos..."

James burst out laughing, cutting him off.

"A Caeloros God of Nothingness is nothing.I just scared one away just now."

Amos and Xanthakos looked at him in surprise.

They assumed that James had killed Yefrenes and were in doubt.

They had expected James to have the strength to take down a Caeloros God of Nothingness whose strength was weakened by half.

They pondered whether they had overestimated him.

James said smilingly, "Among the friends I've brought in, there's Taiyip and Yasmina additionally i have the help of dillon and Mordecai it shouldn't be too difficult for them to kill a Caeloros God of Nothingness."

Amos squinted, feeling insulted by his words.

James retorted smilingly, "Isn't that Caeloros God of nothingness behind you also a slave to you, a being from the Health Realm?"

Xanthakos pointed at James and laughed, "You must be drunk james hay can beings from the Health Realm defeat a Caeloros..."

He turned to Amos, who was fuming but at a loss for words.

He waved his hand and laughed, "I won't argue. Since you're so confident, how about we make a bet?"
