

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7407

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7407-With a flash of purple-red light, Morgott brought Harper to the entrance of the Xyrisia Gate in Jawdat Region. A touch of emotion crossed his handsome face as he gazed at the swirling mass of black-and-white gas, brimming with boundless Innate Energy.

Once, he too had emerged from the Xyrisia Gate. By rights, he should have been a supreme Caeloros God. In the end, he had been reduced to a despised demon shunned by divine beings.

“Why did you run away? Why didn’t you help my little lover? Aren’t you brothers, sworn to live and die together?”

Just then, Harper’s questioning voice sounded from behind him.

Morgott took a deep breath and slowly lifted his head. “He has his own matters to attend to, and I have mine.”

“Ugly Morgott, your matter is wanting to sleep with me, right?” Harper sneered. “I’m telling you, until you catch my master’s killer...”

“I came here to fulfill that promise.” Morgott turned to face her. “Only by being here can James focus entirely on fighting Waitara Path’s soul spirit.”

Harper was surprised. She was shocked that Morgott had become so profound and cryptic and even more surprised that he took his promises so seriously. However, there seemed to be more to his words.

Thinking this, Harper squinted at Morgott. “I want the truth, not vague talk. Don’t make me put you on the scumbag blacklist.”

Morgott’s face showed a trace of bitterness. “Then I’ll be frank. James is wary of Xanthakos, Waitara Path’s soul spirit, and even me!

“So, I won’t be helping him if I stay by his side. Instead, I’ll be a distraction. Against Waitara Path’s soul spirit, who is more formidable than Xanthakos, he would surely lose.”

Harper’s face turned cold. “You’re judging a gentleman with a petty mind!”

Morgott burst into laughter. “Oh, Harper! Do you know my true identity? Why do Quintinus and Amos flee at the sight of me?”

Harper was taken aback. This had vel.net been a lingering question for her. Morgott’s notorious reputation was indeed terrifying, but it only held sway over the divine beings of, Haleth Realm. Someone like Xanthakos, Taiyi, or Emperor Tapia would not be afraid, let alone the Caeloros Gods from Xanadu Realm.

“I am Nihilos!” Morgott stared at Harper. “When Xanadu Realm was born, I was the first of the Ten Holinesses derived from Xurraeus, ranking above Frona Dhimer.” Harper suddenly stood up. “You...”

“You are the fourth divine being to know my identity. James was the first,” Morgott said coldly.

“I cannot derive Daoism, so I cannot be one of the Caeloros Gods. However, I can devour the Nine Caeloros Gods one by one!”

Harper looked at Morgott in horror and involuntarily stepped back.

Seeing this, Morgott chuckled. “Look at your reaction. You should now understand why James is cautious of me. You won’t think I’m judging a gentleman with a petty mind anymore.”

Staring at Morgott, Harper opened her mouth but could not speak.

“I know what you want to ask.” Morgott turned away. “Rest assured, in Haleth Realm, the person I respect most is James. I truly regard him as a brother, and we get along well. en.swhovels.net “So, I can devour anyone, but never James!”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7408-As he spoke, he turned around with a wicked smile. “Now, I must add you to the list.”

“No!” Harper quickly waved her hand and retreated. “I can’t handle it, don’t...”

“I accepted your oath. Naturally, I will help you with this matter,” Morgott interrupted forcefully. “Of course, it is also to help James eliminate any future worries.”

Harper was speechless.

Morgott looked up with a sigh as he spoke, “James’ journey has been anything but easy. I am an outcast in Xanadu Realm, just as he is in Haleth Realm. Our fates are intertwined.

“It would be a blessing if I can see him rule Haleth Realm and change those so-called rules.”

Harper swallowed nervously as she glanced at Morgott.

“So, why do you like me?”

Morgott laughed and turned around. "Because you too are an outcast. You tread paths other women dare not walk, do things other women dare not do, speak words other women dare not utter." "Damn!" Harper stomped her foot. "So, you plan to sleep with me, right?"

Morgott laughed again. "Don't worry, I will treat you better than James treats the Yin governor."

Just as Harper was about to speak, two beams of black and white light shot through the sky from afar.

Morgott chuckled evilly, and his demonic spear suddenly flew out of his hand, piercing between the two beams of light and embedding itself into the roof of a distant main hall with a buzzing sound.

Immediately after, the two beams of light landed, revealing the figures of Quintinus and Amos. They looked disheveled, their clothes torn and their bodies covered in blood, as if they had just escaped a fierce battle. However, at the sight of Morgott, terror seized them, and they turned to flee.

"If you dare to run beyond the range of my demonic spear, you two bastards will be obliterated!"

Hearing this, Quintinus and Amos, who had just started to run, trembled and stopped in midair. With expressions of panic, they turned around and knelt down. "Greetings, Nihilos!"

Witnessing this, Harper's eyes widened in disbelief as the two Caeloros Gods bowed so humbly before Morgott without resistance. She pondered whether Morgott's identity as Nihilos was indeed true and what could possibly make the powerful Caeloros Gods fear him so deeply.

"Get down here," Morgott said impatiently. "You're bowing higher than me. Do you think I'm too lenient?"

As Morgott spoke, he waved his hand, and two beams of purple-red light shot out, striking Quintinus and Amos and sending them crashing to the ground.

Just as they were about to get up, Morgott raised his hand again, and two divine whips surrounded by purple-red light appeared, striking them down.

The continuous whipping quickly knocked Quintinus and Amos back to the ground, leaving them sprawled in the dirt.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7409—"After all these years, you still lack discernment," Morgott scoffed. "Didn't you see there's someone beside me?"

The two Caeloros Gods froze, then looked at Harper in terror before kneeling and kowtowing.

“Greetings, supreme god!”

Smack! Smack!

The two divine whips struck again, knocking Quintinus and Amos to the ground once more. “What supreme god?” Morgott scolded. “This is your future mistress.”

At these words, not only did the two Caeloros Gods look shocked, but even Harper stared at Morgott in surprise.

“Me?”

“Yes, you.” Morgott nodded. “These two bastards aren’t worth me devouring. They can be used as slaves for now.”

Then, he laughed and patted Harper on the shoulder. “We’ll catch a few more bastards to be slaves when we reach Xanadu Realm. Then we’ll build a mansion and have ten or eight children...” “Wait!” Harper quickly waved her hands to interrupt him. “This gift is too twisted. I can’t handle it.”

Morgott snorted and then waved his hand. Two terrifying beams of purple-red light sucked in Quintinus and Amos. With a couple of loud thuds, the two Caeloros Gods fell helplessly at Morgott’s feet. “Hand over everything you have.”

Seeing Morgott looking like a bandit, they trembled with fear and handed over all their magical treasures and valuables from their spaces.

Harper was stunned by the sight of the countless treasures piled into a small mountain. She was unable to react for a moment.

“Any grievances, we’ll find a place to settle them properly and slowly.”

Under Morgott’s manipulation, the two Caeloros Gods, Harper, and himself were all swept into a nearby temple.

Meanwhile, inside Historial Palace, James, assuming his role as the Chosen One, led Yianni, the net Marius, and Quintus, breaking through the formations and barriers until they finally arrived before the eighty-first gate.

Only after entering Historial Palace did James fully understand the advantages of being the Chosen One.

The first eighty gates, which were extremely difficult to break through, resisted the combined efforts of him, the Divine Marius, Quintus, and Yianni. By chance, he merely touched the latch and the gates opened effortlessly. However, James did not rush to open the final gate. Instead, he looked around.

“James, hurry up,” Yianni urged suddenly.

The Divine Marius and Quintus were also excited.

The smooth progress in Historial Palace exceeded their expectations, filling them with excitement as the rulership of Haleth Realm seemed within reach.

Clearing his throat, James smiled and asked, “Where do you think Waitara Path’s soul spirit is hiding at this moment?”

At this, the three gods exchanged glances.

Then, the Divine Marius laughed. “Master, I think he’s probably hiding somewhere outside Historial Palace, too afraid to come in.”

“We’ve even destroyed Xanthakos.

What can a mere soul spirit do?”

Quintus added with a slight smile. “He’s probably already on the run by now, right?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7410-“I don’t think so.” Yianni frowned. “Don’t y’all think our journey has been too smooth, almost as if it was arranged?”

Upon hearing this, the Divine Marius and Quintus immediately froze and looked at James.

Scanning their surroundings, James smiled and said, “In my opinion, he is right here with us, watching from some dark corner.”

At this, the Divine Marius, Quintus, and Yianni became vigilant.

Suddenly, an eerie laugh echoed from the void outside the palace. It was chilling and terrifying.

“James Caden, you are indeed perceptive. It seems our battle is inevitable.”

James remained calm, but the others appeared tense, as if they were confronting a formidable enemy.

In the next moment, a strange afterimage flashed past behind them, accompanied by another sinister laugh.

As Yianni, the Divine Marius, and Quintus prepared to attack, James immediately kept them in his space. The deaths of Taiyi and Emperor Tapia still haunted James, and he could not afford to lose any more of his remaining brothers. This was a high-stakes situation, and their skills still needed honing. They could not be sacrificed needlessly.

Just then, the mysterious shadow passed in front of James again, trailing an enticing fragrance. James frowned, a trace of suspicion crossing his face.

“Hahahaha!” Another laugh echoed.

James raised his hand and swiftly grabbed the afterimage as it swept past him once more. With a crisp sound, it was yanked down to James feet. Only then did he see the prankster clearly. It was an odd-looking man with gray hair and a long beard, who looked youthful yet behaved bizarrely.

In the moment James was momentarily stunned, the peculiar man suddenly attacked with a powerful strike, exuding overwhelming Waltraud Power.

James blocked the attack, taking only a few steps back before the man seized the chance to escape.

Just as James was about to pursue, a rapidly expanding dazzling light cluster suddenly appeared directly ahead, brimming with vast Waltraud Power, as if countless mystical beings were beckoning him to join them for fun!

James abruptly halted and cautiously observed the scene. Suddenly, there came a muffled banging from the eighty-first gate from behind him. James was taken aback and immediately turned to look.

With a playful flick of his robe, he casually sat down right where he stood. It was as if he had realized something profound. Not only did he sit down, but he also obviously pulled out a jar of Chaos Absinthe and drank from it.

Witnessing James’ actions, the man hiding behind the expanding light cluster grew increasingly agitated. He wondered if James had sensed something and why he had suddenly stopped moving. “Pity for the charming posture no longer exists. Silver arrows and golden shuttles gather in one basin. Regrettably, my pool’s capacity is small. Eagles and hounds have nowhere to seek the gate.” After reciting this poem, James lifted his head and gulped down the absinthe, as if nothing here concerned him anymore.

At this moment, the frustrated man behind the light cluster could not help muttering, "You're the real eagle here. Your whole family is. Do you think you can seize Haleth Realm just by composing poems and insulting people? You wish!"

"Hey, damned fish!" Suddenly, James' voice thundered like a storm. "Are you going to keep playing hide-and-seek with me, or are you coming out? I'll give you the Best Supporting Useless Actor award!"