

The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7426-“Fancy little tricks.” A cyclone suddenly emerged and exploded from within the phoenixes’ wings, destroying them in seconds. Then, a black shadow with a murderous aura appeared, his hands spread out.

“Haha! The Hongrome Body isn’t that impressive either. You’re still so weak, Thea.”

The next moment, a huge hammer accompanied by flashing lightning appeared in the void and slammed toward the Waitara Path’s soul spirit.

The Waitara Path’s soul spirit raised his head, his pupils trembling in fear.

“Ahh!!!” His scream stretched into a chilling wail as the hammer descended and struck his head.

With a loud thud, the Waitara Path’s soul spirit and the hammer plummeted together, crashing onto the ocean’s surface with a terrifying impact.

A monstrous vortex erupted, swallowing the ocean in a swirling abyss. Giant waves surged toward the sky, and water droplets splashed in all directions like shards of glass.

The expanse of the ocean transformed into a chaotic maelstrom, each rotation of the vortex digging deeper, forming a bottomless chasm in the ocean’s heart.

Yaretzi and Youcef were stunned to witness such terrifying power. Only a handful of divine beings in the Haleth Realm could resist such destructive Supernatural Power.

Thea hovered in the air, emitting colorful lights. Her hands were behind her back, and she stared down calmly as if nothing unusual had happened.

After a long silence, Youcef gulped in shock. “The... the Waitara Path’s soul spirit was destroyed? He had at least half the strength of his original entity.” Yaretzi’s face suddenly became solemn. She quickly grabbed Youcef and fled to the peak of a nearby mountain.

A loud explosion came from the bottom of the vortex, and the Waitara Path’s soul spirit emerged from the raging waves. He instantly unleashed a series of terrifying phantom palms at Thea.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Explosions ensued as the phantom palms struck Thea’s seven-colored divine light.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit had messy hair and blood dripping from his lips. He suddenly transformed into a Sword Light and rushed toward Thea with a violent roar.

Snap!

Thea raised her hand and slapped the Sword Light away.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit emerged from the Sword Light again, angrily covering his face. "How dare you humiliate me?! Unforgivable!" The next moment, he burst out with Waltraud Power and instantly manifested tens of thousands of clones.

Before the clones could attack, Thea thrust her palms forward, and the snow-white lotuses in the sky spun rapidly and swept toward them.

The clones raised their heads, fear written all over their faces.

A series of explosions ensued, and the tens of thousands of clones were shattered by the snow-white lotuses sweeping through the sky.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit was left alone, and he fell to his knees in the void.

He was battered and covered in blood, completely disheveled and in an embarrassed state.

However, he refused to accept his defeat. He raised his head with an unyielding expression. His eyes were bloodshot, and veins bulged on his forehead.

"Your Hongrome Body has been perfected. The Ultimate Yin body type allows you to cultivate much faster than other divine beings.

"If not for my injuries, ten of you wouldn't be my opponent." Thea looked down at him disdainfully as if he were a clown.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit gnashed his teeth and shouted, "You are also an alcade being of the Haleth Rigaim, Thea. You're of noble status but submitted to a mere mortal on top of that, you believed those Calories Gods of Nothingness' lies and want to stand against me?

"Have you forgotten that there would be no Haleth Realm without me? You and your beloved husband would not even exist.

"I am fighting the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness for the Haleth Realm's sake so that we can control our fate! What's so wrong with that?

"You and James are from the Haleth Realm! Why aren't you standing on my side? Instead, you choose to listen to their lies?" Thea looked at the furious Waitara Path's soul spirit and said, "You were derived from the Forty-Nine Daoism. However, it's clear you've not comprehended them yet. Naturally, you can't grasp the Nine Daoisms."

The Waitara Path's soul spirit roared, "I don't care about their shitty Daoism. They're but constraints created to control the Haleth Realm." Thea said deliberately, "Destiny, cause and effect, life and death, good and evil, space, time, tribulations, yin, and yang. These Nine Daoisms constitute the basis for the Haleth Realm and its living beings."

"However, they were derived from the Nine Caeloros Gods when they had developed consciousness. It was when they were formless and desireless. They are the interpretation of Daoism's natural order."

"You can hate the Nine Caeloros Gods of Nothingness, but you shouldn't go against the Nine Daoisms. They're the Haleth Realm's foundation, as well as yours." The Waitara Path's soul spirit raised his head and laughed, "Foundation? What foundation? Am I not the foundation of the Haleth Realm?"

"The Haleth Realm came from me, yet I'm not allowed to be its master and can only follow their Daoism? Then what's the point of my existence?" Thea sighed and said, "Your desire to be the Haleth Realm's master says everything about you. Daoism exists not for someone to become the master but for everyone. For this reason, you're not qualified to be the Supreme Path."

staring at Thea, the Waitara Path's soul spirit clenched his fists and slowly stood up.

"Is that so? You've acquired Frona's teachings and are so eloquent in your talk about Daoism."

"Aren't you and your husband also trying to seize control over the Haleth Realm? What difference does that make from me?" Thea slowly closed her beautiful eyes. Talking to a man blinded by ambition and desire was futile, as it felt like talking to a brick wall.

As soon as she closed her eyes, the Waitara Path's soul spirit seized the chance to launch an attack. He swung his fist and tried to land a punch.

However, Thea suddenly raised her hand, and a huge hammer materialized in the void and instantly descended toward the Waitara Path's soul spirit.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7427-The Waitara Path's soul spirit knew he was in danger.

He quickly withdrew, but a dazzling light emerged from the hammer, blocking his path.

He slammed into it and was bounced back.

Left with no choice, he raised his hands to block the hammer.

However, the hammer's overwhelming power knocked him into the ocean.

He emerged, holding the hammer high, and said furiously, "Do you really want a battle to the death with me, Thea? Don't you know I'm immortal?" "I'll have to try to know for sure," Thea replied, then flipped her hand.

A wave of Sword Lights instantly darted at the Waitara Path's soul spirit.

Accompanied by the harsh whistles of the wind, they pierced his body one after another.

His body was instantly covered with numerous holes, blood flowing unstoppably from the wounds.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit was still holding up the hammer, unable to evade the attacks.

His face contorted angrily as he examined his injury-ridden body.

"You think this is enough to kill me? You're too naive." Thea waved her long sleeves and appeared before the Waitara Path's soul spirit.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit glared at Thea as he twisted in pain.

"You! Fine, come at me.

Kill me if you can.

Do you have the guts to do it?" Thea said coldly, "You claim to be immortal, right? What if I shave the flesh from your bones, then take the Forty-Nine Daoism Pearls from you?" The Waitara Path's soul spirit's eyes widened anxiously.

"You...

impossible! I'm indestructible! No tribulation or weapon can kill me.

Neither you nor James will be able to get rid of me!" Thea did not say anything.

She stretched out one of her hands, and a dagger emitting seven-colored lights materialized in her grasp.

"The Xurraeus Dagger!" The Waitara Path's soul spirit was terrified.

"No! That's impossible! Frana is the owner of that dagger! Why do you have it?

You're an incomplete Yin governor..." He trailed off as he came to a sudden realization, then stared at Thea in horror.

“Frona passed it to you before she perished.

She knew very well how to deal with me.” Thea smiled.

“You can still think clearly at the brink of death.

Unfortunately, it’s too late for you.” Puff! Thea slashed at the Waitara Path’s soul spirit, instantly disemboweling him.

Faced with his miserable screams, Thea calmly reached into his stomach with her other hand.

She pulled out dazzling pearls one after another.

Meanwhile, the Waitara Path’s soul spirit leaked Waltraud Power.

After a while, Thea suddenly frowned.

“That’s not right.

There should be forty-nine pearls.

Why are there only twenty-eight?” The Waitara Path’s soul spirit trembled and screamed in agony.

He was unwilling to accept his fate but could do nothing to resist.

Thea pressed the dagger to the Waitara Path’s soul spirit’s neck.

Speak Where are the other Daoism Pearls?” The Waitara Path’s soul m spirit twitched in pain and screamed, I’m just a soul spirit! How could I collect them all?” Thea shrugged.

“True.

The Waitara Path would’ve already made a comeback if you had om collected them all.” She wiped the dagger on the Waitara Path’s soul spirit’s shoulder.

“ I’ll take these twenty-eight pearls for my husband.

As for you...” A wicked smile crossed her face.

The Waitara Path’s soul spirit trembled, horrified at what awaited him.

“Though I captured you, I’ve never mistreated you.

When you fought with Yehria, I stood on your side..." Thea nodded.

"That's true.

Since you've taken good care of me, I'll make this quick for you." After m speaking, she slashed his throat with the sharp dagger.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7428-At that moment, Yaretzi's voice came from afar.

"Don't kill him! Otherwise, he will be reborn..." Unfortunately, it was already too late.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit tensed up after his throat was sliced, and a stream of blood spurted out.

His Waltraud Power leaked rapidly like a flood.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit laughed eerily.

"You're impressive, Yin governor.

You perfected the Hongrome Body and matched James' Limitless Body perfectly.

You two are the strongest within the Haleth Realm.

However, you're not as wise as James." The Waitara Path's soul spirit gradually became translucent as his Waltraud Power leaked.

However, he laughed wildly as if he had been freed.

Thea clenched her fists at the sight.

The Waitara Path's soul spirit sneered, "See you soon, Thea! You're an excellent wife to James.

Not only are you pretty, but you did him a huge favor!" Suddenly, the Waitara Path's soul spirit twisted uncontrollably, and his translucent body expanded rapidly.

"Get out of the way, Thea!" Yaretzi shouted from the distance.

Thea quickly regained her senses and flew into the air.

Shortly after, the Waitara Path's soul spirit exploded.

The shock waves rolled up and blasted Thea away.

Then, a strange light beam rushed to the southeast rapidly.

“Catch it!” Yaretzi shouted and chased after the light beam.

Just as she was close to grabbing it, the light beam escalated and escaped at a terrifying speed.

Youcef shouted from behind, “Stop chasing it, Mom! The Waitara Path is incredibly cunning! Be careful not to be fooled.” Yaretzi stopped and sighed deeply.

She had forged the Hongrome Body for Thea, intending for her to resist the Waitara Path’s soul spirit and drive him away.

She had not expected Thea to really kill him.

On the surface, it seemed as if Thea had won gloriously.

However, she had caused a massive disaster for James.

Once the Waitara Path’s soul spirit reincarnates and finds his Soremsia, the Leere Tribulation would be countless times more grave than it already was.

Youcef approached Yaretzi and said, “Let’s check on the Yin governor.” Yaretzi shook her head.

“No need.

Let her have some time alone.

She needs to think about how to resolve the impending disaster.” Youcef was stunned.

‘The Waitara Path’s soul spirit was destroyed, wasn’t it? How big of a storm could arise?’ Yaretzi looked at Youcef and shook her head solemnly.

‘The Waitara Path’s soul spirit’s actions will not be much of a big deal if he is contained within the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

However, once he reincarnates into the Greater Realms, it would spell great disaster for all of the Greater Realm’s living beings. The foundation that James worked so hard to lay, and the Spiritual Providence that he gathered, might accelerate the Waitara Path’s return.”

Youcef was taken aback by the news.

“Get ready.

We need to disperse the formation and leave.” After speaking, Yaretzi turned to go.

Youcef stood frozen in place, completely dumbfounded.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7429-In a mysterious space, James sat cross-legged in the void with a lotus rotating beneath him.

Forty-nine lotuses fluttered gracefully, each emitting nine different colors.

The 58 infants sat cross-legged on a Path Cauldron, their eyes closed.

They were bathed in Hadufen Light emanating from James, slowly rotating around him.

Their bodies also glowed with the same nine colors of light.

This scene resulted from James’ countless years of studying the 58 Daoisms.

He had successfully converged all Paths into one and had returned to his original state.

Now, only one step remained.

Suddenly, James’ eyes snapped open, and two beams of light shot out, forming the beautiful figure of Frona in the void.

Bathed in golden light, Frona slowly raised her hands, baffled by the situation.

“Huh? I...

James! You’re at a critical point of converging all paths into one! How can you waste energy to bring me back? I’m your Cultivation Heart!” James said calmly, “I’ve already comprehended the fifty-eight Daoisms.

It’s time I return the Cultivation Heart that I borrowed from you.

I must forge my own now.” After speaking, a glowing crimson heart emerged from his chest.

It had nine holes evenly distributed throughout.

Frona exclaimed, “That’s a Nonusential Heart!” The Nine Celestial Infants and Forty-Nine Divine Infants surrounding James raised their hands, casting a sacred light toward the Nonusential Heart.

With a crisp buzzing sound, the heart was enveloped in fifty-eight layers of light.

The nine inner layers were blinding white lights, and forty-nine outer layers of purple-gold light, taking on a form that resembled beautiful wings.

“All paths converge into one heart?! Is he trying to integrate the fifty-eight Daoisms into his heart? Even the Waitara Path can only gather the Daoisms around him.

He could not integrate them into physical items.

Does James already possess such a great understanding of all the Daoisms?” Frona exclaimed, covering her mouth in disbelief.

The Destiny Infant turned into a ball of light and then entered the Nonusential Heart.

She immediately materialized as a shiny pearl, filling the first hole in the heart.

The other eight infants of the Nine Major Daoisms also turned into m Celestial Pearls, filling the remaining holes.

The Celestial Pearls emitted dazzling lights and connected, forming a rotating pattern.

Shortly after, the other 49 infants were transformed into purple- gold m celestial pearls and linked with the pattern, forming the word ‘ path.’ Frona exclaimed, “By embracing the path, one’s heart achieves enlightenment.

The path and heart become one, living as a harmonious whole.

“Your understanding of the different Daoisms has surpassed us and the Waitara Path by a bunch.” James spread his arms, and the Nonusential Heart entered his body.

The next moment, his body erupted with dazzling lights, permeating the surroundings.

Under the divine light, the mysterious space’s mountains, rivers, plants, and animals glowed with new vitality.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7430-The divine light broke through the mysterious space, illuminating the Historial Palace and the 81 halls of Wuia Palace, repairing all that was damaged and making everything appear brand new.

However, the light did not stop there.

It surged outward, its radiance breaking through Wuia Palace’s barriers, extending its reach to the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

The Pro-James Alliance, led by Emperor Cosimeon, stood on one side.

The alliance boasted the mightiest warriors from the Wyrmscale Source, Taichu Daonus Realm, Yiulia Daonus Realm, and Cosimeon Daonus Realm.

Opposing them was the Anti-James Alliance, commanded by Emperor Stavros.

He had rallied all the former subordinates of Xanthakos and had marshaled Taiyi, Goyo, Stavros, and other unorthodox factions.

Both sides professed allegiance to or opposition against James, but beneath their declarations lay a deeper truth—it was a decisive battle for dominion over the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

Since the mysterious disappearance of James and his allies, they had endured relentless skirmishes, culminating in this tense standoff.

The tense atmosphere reverberated throughout the place, making it clear that a battle could break out at any moment.

Despite the situation, Cosimeon and Stavros met for final negotiations.

Stavros sneered, “You keep flaunting a dead man’s name to show off your power, Cosimeon.

Do you have no shame? Are you not embarrassed? James has been dead for who knows how long.

Even Taiyi, Taichu, Marius, and Yiulia disappeared without a trace.

Yet, you’re still living off a dead man’s reputation.” Cosimeon sneered, “Are you afraid? Even after all these years, does James’ influence still make you tremble in fear? You’re still terrified at the mere mention of his name?” He threw his head back and laughed, “I pity you, Stavros.

It seems James is an eternal nightmare that you can never escape.

The more you fear him, the more we will remind you of him.” Stavros waved his hand and retorted, “Cut the act.

You’re just using James’ name to assemble his die-hard followers, but you’re just sending them to their deaths for your own interest.” Cosimeon’s face darkened instantly.

“Are you any different? You rallied troops using Xanthakos, Goyo, and Taiyi’s names.

Without them, you’re nothing.” Stavros laughed in fury, “Fine, fine.

Since we can’t reach an agreement, we’ll settle this by force.

This battle will end with either your death or mine.

The Forty-Ninth Heaven cannot remain in this deadlock any longer.”

‘Since it’s a war you want, a wanyou’ll get!’ Cosimeon raised his hand and commanded, “Warriors, prepare for battle!” Stavros slowly lifted his head and shouted, “Prepare for battle!”

Suddenly, a dazzling light burst forth from the void and spread rapidly.

‘What’s that?’ “Such divine radiance!

Could it be the return of the Waitara Path ?” “No, it can’t be the Waitara Path.

Emperor Xanthakos must have succeeded!” “It might be James! After all, he was the first in the Greater Realms to have integrated the Three Treasures. ” “Damn! The light is intense! My legs fee] weak.” As exclamations and shouts erupted from both sides, the originally battle-ready Cosimeon and Stavros also turned to look at the sacred radiance in shock.
