

The Almighty Dragon General

Chapter 7431

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7431-Watching the divine light, Cosimeon asked tremblingly, "What... what is that?" Stavros clenched his fists tightly, his entire body tensed up.

His face became solemn, his eyes filled with deep fear.

He felt a strong sense of familiarity from the light.

The two sides stood in shock.

Everything around them began to tremble under the spreading radiance.

The mountains, plants, beasts, and cultivations emerged as if renewed with great vitality.

"No, it can't be!" Stavros muttered, his face contorting with disbelief as he watched the divine light spread.

It seemed as though the Waitara Path's Soremsia had descended upon them.

The once-ruined Goyoan Temple began to glow.

Every brick, tile, pillar, and beam was restored.

In an instant, a magnificent temple, gleaming with majesty, stood in its place.

What stunned Cosimeon and Stavros was that this newly restored temple, formerly known as the Goyoan Temple, had been transformed into the Temple of Life and Death.

Suddenly, the rapidly spreading divine light enveloped everyone.

In an instant, these powerhouses, who had been prepared to fight to the death, found themselves kneeling subconsciously in the air, suppressed to the point where they could not even lift their heads.

Stavros turned to his assembled group, his face dark with anger.

"Why are you kneeling? What if that's evil sorcery? Have you all lost your courage?" A woman hurriedly replied, "Even with our lack of knowledge, we can identify that as the Supreme Path Radiance! In its presence, who would dare defy it?" Stavros trembled at the revelation.

'The Supreme Path Radiance? She's right.

I can sense its undeniable presence, capable of suppressing and renewing everything.

Yet, this manifestation seems even more potent and sacred than the one I've seen before.' As he regained his composure, he saw Cosimeon kneeling reverently in the void, bathed in the sacred radiance.

"They're also kneeling?" Stavros shouted with clenched fists, " This cannot be!

James can't have mastered the Forty-Nine Daoisms.

How could he have become the Supreme Path?" "The Waitara Path is the only one who can be the Supreme Path! It can only be him!" A terrifying purple-gold light erupted from Stavros' body, attempting to resist the light that had filled the sky.

However, his defenses were instantly shattered.

Stavros coughed up blood and collapsed to his knees.

With bloodstained lips, he roared defiantly, "I refuse to accept this! I refuse!

You're not the real Supreme Path! You can't be..." Before he could finish, a colossal figure materialized within the radiant divine light.

Then, a powerful and commanding voice emanated from its figure.

"Do you still refuse to accept reality, Xayvion?" Stavros trembled uncontrollably after hearing his Soremsia's name.

"Ts it really you, James?" Boom! A brilliant lightning bolt streaked from the sky, severing Stavros' hands.

With acry, Stavros' face twisted in pain.

"It's you...Since you're the Supreme Path now, how can you seek vengeance for your personal vendettas..." Boom! Another loud explosion reverberated, and a thunder struck Stavros * head.

He was covered in grave injuries and writhed in agony.

The ethereal voice resonated again.

"I've given you more than one chance.

However, your stubbornness and treachery persist.

The desire for power ensnares your heart.

You're unworthy of the position of a Path Emperor and staying in Zymurgy." With a trembling voice, Stavros pleaded desperately, "No, no! I surrender! I'm willing to serve under your command! Please give me another cha...ahh!!!" Before he could finish, three more lightning bolts struck, causing him to explode mid-air.

In the aftermath, a fist-sized Soul Energy Ball emerged from the explosion.

Cosimeon shouted urgently, "Don't let his soul escape, James!" The ethereal voice replied, "Let him be.

He will return to where he came from.

After rebirth, he will not have another chance if he succumbs to his desire for power again.

don't need to intervene any further.

The colossal figure flicked his finger, and a bright light surrounded the Soul Energy, sending it out of the Forty-Ninth Heaven.

Witnessing this, the group behind Stavros trembled in fear, afraid to breathe.

"Those who seek the path may stay and comprehend.

Those who defy should leave to nothingness." Leaving these words, before the figure slowly disappeared, merging into the radiant divine light.

Cosimeon caught on and hurriedly sat cross-legged, then closed his eyes.

Following his example, everyone present did the same, sitting cross-legged in the void.

Under the divine light's embrace, they were baptized.

Their resentment and evil thoughts emerged and dissipated.

The divine light spread further, gradually permeating the entire Forty-Ninth Heaven.

When it reached the edge of the Jawdat Region, it halted abruptly.

From the divine light, James' spectral Primordial Spirit emerged.

As he stepped onto the Jawdat Region, the entire area began to tremble.

“You called for me?” James’ voice echoed throughout the Jawdat Region.

However, there was no response, as if nobody had visited the place.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7432-James’ Primordial Spirit scanned the surroundings.

Just as he was about to take another step forward, a stream of Nothingness Aura gathered into a massive gray cyclone in the void ahead.

A stream of Innate Energy instantly shot out from the rapidly rotating cyclone, accompanied by countless purple-red spears wrapped in terrifying and violent murderous energy.

Without flinching, James’ Primordial Spirit stood its ground.

As the Innate Energy attacked, a dazzling divine light enveloped him, shooting upward to form an enormous barrier.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Explosions echoed through the Jawdat Region as the spears collided with the barrier.

The spears exploded on impact.

The resulting shockwaves created a howling wind and a storm of lightning.

The cyclone intensified, increasing the power of the Innate Energy.

It shot dense spears mixed with growling spirits.

James’ Primordial Spirit frowned, raised his hand, and unleashed a colorful dragon that clashed with the Innate Energy, both forces locked in a fierce standoff.

“By embracing the path, one’s heart achieves enlightenment.

It seems you’ve surpassed the Waitara Path, derived from the Forty- Nine Daoisms,” a powerful voice boomed from the cyclone.

James remained silent as he waved his hand and unleashed a colorful phoenix.

After letting out a piercing cry, it rushed toward the cyclone.

Boom! Another burst of Innate Energy erupted from the cyclone, clashing with the phoenix.

The mysterious powerhouse said, "Don't you have the Nine Treasures of Nothingness? Why don't you use them? It's such a waste.

Instead, you're casting such fancy but useless attacks.

You still don't understand the power of being the Haleth Realm's controller." Suddenly, a wave of potent Waltraud Power emerged from the cyclone and slammed into James' barrier.

Boom! Boom! Boom! After a series of explosions, the barrier was shattered.

James' Primordial Spirit was forced to retreat.

He raised his head to the sky, surprised that Morgott had become so powerful.

He pondered, 'Has Morgott devoured the two Caeloros Gods of Nothingness, Quintinus and Amos? Wouldn't he become invincible if he were to return to the Xanadu Realm's Void World and devour the other Caeloros Gods of Nothingness?' Morgott's arrogant voice came from the cyclone.

"Lend me the Jawdat Region for now.

I need more time to prepare.

Don't worry.

Everything outside of the Xyrisia Gate is yours.

I won't interfere." James sighed lightly.

"1 Do you think I came here for this?"

Morgott laughed, "Aside from them OK .

Jawdat Region, your Supreme Path Radiance has already reached every other corner of the Forty- Ninth Heaven.

I don't want to make things difficult for you, but I have no other choice."

James shook his head.

"We haven't met for so long.

Is it that hard to see you?" Morgott said arrogantly, "You can see me if you can defeat me.

All you need is the strength to do so.” James was baffled.

So whether I agree or not, you will take the Jawdat Region?KMorgott !!

laughed, “That’s right.

You’ve gotten smarter after comprehending the Forty-Nine Daoisms and becoming the Supreme Path.

“T”m informing you because we’re friends.

I wouldn’t only borrow the Jawdat Region if I were anyone else.

Plus, I wouldn’t even bother informing you before taking the place.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7433-Listening to Morgott’s words, James sighed.

“It seems like he hasn’t had his ass kicked in a while and has grown arrogant.” The divine light behind James swirled and formed numerous ‘path’ words that circled his head.

Morgott exclaimed, “Oh? Do you still want to fight? I won’t show mercy this time!” As he finished speaking, a dazzling divine light shot out from the ‘ path’ words and headed straight toward the gray cyclone.

Boom! The cyclone was knocked backward.

It slammed into the Xyrisia Gate and rebounded.

James’ spectral Primordial Spirit gradually became solid and walked out of the divine light.

As the cyclone headed in his direction, he swung his leg and kicked it.

The cyclone was sent flying toward the Xyrisia Gate and rebounded once again.

James smiled bizarrely, then waved his hand, sending another divine light to strike the cyclone.

The cycle repeated a few times, with the cyclone bouncing back and forth between James and the Xyrisia Gate.

The formidable cyclone quickly dissipated and shrank to a size no larger than a football.

Morgott said urgently, "Stop! Stop it! We're friends, aren't we? How can you toy with me like this? Are you trying to kill me?" James paid him no heed.

He swung his leg again at the cyclone, but only used half his strength this time.

The gray cyclone exploded, and a disheveled figure fell from it.

With a loud thud, he crashed into a palace within the Jawdat Region.

"You're going to kill me!" Morgott shouted, shaking his messy hair as he stood up.

"Impossible! This must be an illusion.

You're only a Primordial Spirit.

How can you have such strength? You would have died a long time ago if I hadn't shown mercy...huh?" He suddenly fell silent after seeing that James was no longer a spectral figure but the real deal.

Morgott jumped as if he had seen a ghost.

"Wait, what? When did you come out? Shouldn't you be in the Wuia Palace?" James looked at Morgott's startled expression and asked smilingly, "Do you still want to borrow the Jawdat Region?" Morgott was at a loss for words.

He thought for a while, then laughed awkwardly, "I was just joking! We're friends, so you should know..." "That's not what you said just now," James interrupted him.

Morgott sighed.

"Yes, yes! I was a bit arrogant, but you know how I am." "So if I didn't come show up, you think you can bully my Primordial Spirit?" James asked while slowly approaching the edge of the Jawdat Region.

Do you think my Primordial Spirit is a clone and is different from me " Morgott waved his hand hurriedly.

No, no! Of course not! What I mean is ... " James interrupted, "I know.

You're a god who values etiquette.

It was indeed rude of me to visit in the form of my Primordial Spirit.

I realized my mistake and came in person.

Shall we continue to spar then?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7434-Seeing James about to attack again, Morgott hurriedly waved his hands and stepped back.

“No, no more! That’s enough fighting! The Haleth Realm is your territory now, making you invincible here.

Even if you win, it wouldn’t be a fair fight.

“I don’t want to fight anymore.

It’s up to you whether or not to borrow the Jawdat Region.

Perhaps you could just let me use a small corner near the Xyrisia Gate.

We’re brothers through thick and thin.

You can do this much for me, right?” James rolled his eyes at Morgott’s sudden humility, a huge contradiction to his earlier arrogance.

Morgott sighed bitterly.

“I can’t return to the Xanadu Realm’s Void World, James.

I still have business here.

You don’t have to be so wary of me.

You’ve already comprehended the Forty-Nine Daoisms and become the Haleth Realm’s ruler.

I’m not a match for you here and can’t cause you much trouble.

For the sake of our friendship...” James interrupted.

“Enough.

Don’t give me that.

I must know what else you’re trying to achieve in the Haleth Realm.” James was genuinely concerned about Morgott’s plans.

As the Haleth Realm’s new ruler, he had many responsibilities, including cleaning up the mess left by the Waitara Path and the Five Path Emperors.

He had not even found the time to search for his wife.

It would be even more exhausting if Morgott were to add to his troubles.

Seeing James' vigilance, Morgott sighed.

"It was supposed to be a surprise, but I guess I'll have to spoil it in advance." He waved his hand, and a dazzling light flashed in the void.

Then, a beautiful woman appeared beside him.

He wrapped his arm around her and said excitedly, "My main purpose is to hold our wedding." The woman immediately elbowed him in the stomach, making Morgott giggle.

James was momentarily confused.

He looked at Morgott, who seemed half-joking, then turned to the woman with a shocked expression and asked, "you two are getting married?"

Morgott laughed, "Of course! She's going to be my wife ... argh." Before he finished speaking, the woman punched him, sending him flying into the distance.

She looked at James sorrowfully and said, "Congratulations on becoming the Supreme Path, ruler of the Haleth Realm.

It's a pity I can't be by your side or spend sleepless nights with you.

"I'll be a married woman soon!" She burst into tears, then reached out to wipe them away.

James stared at her dumbfoundedly, his eyes filled with shock.

Morgott returned and immediately asked worriedly, "What's wrong?"

com What happened ? was James mean to you? Tell me, and I'll fight him if I have to!" She cried even harder in Morgott's arms.

James said irritably, "Are you two toying with me?" Morgott stared at him confusedly.

The woman stopped crying and raised her head.

"I'm telling the truth, my dear! I can't love you anymore! I swore an oath to be the slave of whoever captured Quintinus and avenged my two masters!" "Morgott has dealt with Quintinus and Amos, so I must ... "

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7435-Harper choked with sobs, leaning against Morgott's chest.

Morgott panicked, embracing Harper tightly, and patted her back.

“ It’s okay, don’t cry.

We’re the real soulmates.

I’ll treat you well.

“Stop saying you’re a slave.

We’ll capture those bad guys and enslave them.

We’ll ask James to give us hundreds of millions of divine beings as dowry.” Seeing their public display of affection, James laughed helplessly.

“ Alright, enough.

Stop playing with me.

You two should return to the Xyrisia Gate and get married in the Xanadu Realm’s Void World.

Stop showing off your love in front of me.” After speaking, James waved his hand and summoned a vast, divine aura.

Seeing James about to get serious, Morgott and Harper hurriedly stopped their performance, waving their hands frantically.

“No, no! We’ re just joking! I’m still willing to accompany you, my dear!” “No fair, James! You’re allowed to have a wife but won’t let me have one?” Watching their playful banter, the divine aura that James had summoned suddenly dissipated.

Then, he burst out laughing.

“You two are a perfect match.” Morgott and Harper looked at each other, then laughed.

James slowly approached them, then stared at them seriously.

“Have you two really decided?” The two exchanged a glance, then nodded firmly at him.

James said with a smile, “Alright.

With her personality, you won’t have the chance to bully her.

You have my sincere blessing if you two truly are to become a pair.

However, having hundreds of millions of slaves as a dowry is out of the question.” Morgott glared at James dissatisfied.

“You’re the Haleth Realm’s ruler and the new Supreme Path! On top of ‘m that, you’re like family to Harper! You should be gifting us something since we’ re getting married.” James waved his hand, then looked at Harper.

“She’s not just like family to me.

I’m also her disciple.

How can I not give her anything when she’s getting married?” Harper’ eyes immediately welled with tears, touched by James’ words.

Morgott asked anxiously, “So what are you going to give? How will it be delivered?” The next moment, he felt his head being hit a few times, and he ran away with his hands covering his head.

Meanwhile, Harper looked at James, and tears rolled down her cheeks.

“T’m more than satisfied that you still acknowledge me as your teacher.

I don’t need anything else.” James smiled and said, “No, a gift is a must.

We can’t let Morgott look down on us.”
