

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7661

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7661-At the peak of Mount One in the myriad realms, the Yang Governor, disguised as James, descended with Gladwin. Both looked deathly pale, as if they had just escaped a life-threatening disaster. They were filled with panic.

They stopped simultaneously upon arriving beneath a massive platform in a grand dojo.

"We need to sort this out first," the Yang Governor glared fiercely at Gladwin. "Who's going to explain this later, you or me?"

Gladwin swallowed nervously. "Of course, it should be you."

"Why should it be me?" the Yang Governor scoffed. "Haven't you always claimed to be Lord Goyo's top confidant and meddled in our alliance's affairs? Now you're chickening out when there's a major issue?"

Gladwin's face twitched. "This has nothing to do with cowardice. It's your duty as the leader of the Path Guardian Alliance."

The Yang Governor laughed in exasperation. "You've always been the one gathering intelligence across the myriad realms, boasting that you're better than Yegor from Sk. Now, such a huge event has occurred, and you only tell us now."

"You want to pin this on me? I'm telling you, absolutely no way."

With that, the Yang Governor quickly ascended the platform.

Seeing this, Gladwin became furious. "Aren't you pretending to be James? At least act the part! James wouldn't be as cowardly as you."

They continued arguing as they climbed the platform but fell silent when they saw Lord Goyo meditating with his eyes closed on a radiant Path lotus. "Why aren't you arguing now?" Lord Goyo asked without opening his eyes.

The Yang Governor and Gladwin exchanged glares, grumbling under their breaths.

Lord Goyo shouted angrily, "A Great Protector and the leader of the Path Guardian Alliance, bickering like mad dogs. What will the loyal living beings of the myriad realms think if word gets out?"

Hearing this, Gladwin immediately accused the Yang Governor, "Lord Goyo, he neglected his duty as the leader of the Path Guardian Alliance by deliberately hiding the tribulations in the myriad realms. His crime is unforgivable." The Yang Governor raised his head and hurriedly defended himself. "Lord Goyo, it's Gladwin who neglected his duty. He's responsible for gathering intelligence across the myriad realms, yet he didn't even know when the Dark World split from the Tai Chi World. "More importantly, the Dark World has completely collapsed and disappeared forever. Yet, he kept it hidden." Gladwin protested anxiously, "No, Lord Goyo..."

"Wait!" Lord Goyo's eyes snapped open, his face changing. "What did you say? The Dark World has collapsed?"

At this, the previously bickering Yang Governor and Gladwin were so frightened that they hurriedly knelt.

"The Dark World!" Lord Goyo's face twitched, his lips quivering. "Who has the power to destroy the Dark World? That was half of the Tai Chi World, once the Ying World."

Hearing this, the Yang Governor and Gladwin exchanged glances, even though their foreheads were pressed to the ground. They were too scared to breathe.

"This is bad. It's James Caden!" Lord Goyo suddenly cried out. "It must be him. He has returned from the Greater Realms."

"Why would he destroy the Ying World instead of coming to us? That was his base, where he rose to power, with countless of his kin. Has he gone mad?"

Hearing Lord Goyo's nearly hysterical muttering, the Yang Governor and Gladwin remained silent in fear.

They shared the same guess. In the entire myriad realms and Haeleth I Realm, aside from Taiyi and Yasmina, the two Xanadu Divine Beings, not even the Five Path Emperors could completely destroy half of the Tai Chi World. Moreover, Taiyi and Yasmina were unlikely to descend to the lower realm. The only explanation could be James.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7662

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7662-"No wonder," Lord Goyo finally understood after an extended contemplation.

He distinctly remembered that back at the Yin's Void, Jacopo, the incarnation of Waitara Path's Soremsia, had abruptly ordered him to move all foundations out of the Dark World. In hindsight, everything now made sense. It was likely that Jacopo had foreseen all of this.

Realizing this, Lord Goyo felt a chill run down his spine as cold sweat broke out on his forehead. Despite doubting Jacopo's identity as an incarnation of Waitara Path's Soremsia, he had followed his advice. Otherwise, the consequences would have been disastrous.

Snapping back to reality, Lord Goyo looked down at the Yang governor and Gladwin from his elevated position.

“You fool, do you realize your mistake?”

The Yang governor and Gladwin looked up simultaneously, their faces full of fear.

“Lord Goyo, I truly didn’t notice this. I had no idea when the Dark World was separated.”

“Lord Goyo, there is something fishy about this. If James has indeed returned, why would he—”

“Idiots!” Lord Goyo swept his hand, sending a blast of purple-gold light that knocked the Yang governor and Gladwin to the ground.

“Is that what I was talking about? I was referring to Jacopo, the one you wrongly accused, imprisoned, and sealed away.”

At these words, the bleeding Yang governor and Gladwin looked utterly baffled.

“You two almost made me commit a grave sin,” Lord Goyo roared. “If not for Jacopo, or rather, the foresight of the incarnation of Waitara Path’s Soremsia, we would have been destroyed along with the Dark World.”

Hearing this, the Yang governor and Gladwin were even more confused.

“Where is he?” Lord Goyo demanded as he leapt down from the Path lotus to stand before them. “Bring Waitara Path’s Soremsia to me immediately. No, I’ll go get him myself.” “No, wait,” Gladwin anxiously called out, looking at Lord Goyo. “Lord Goyo, isn’t this a mistake? What does this have to do with Jacopo?” Bang!

Before he could finish, Lord Goyo sent him flying with a single strike.

Seeing this terrifying scene, the Yang governor quickly shut his mouth.

“Where is the incarnation of Waitara Path’s Soremsia?” Lord Goyo screamed. “Tell me now, or we will all face annihilation if James arrives.” The Yang governor glanced at the distant Gladwin, then hurriedly stepped forward.

“Lord Goyo, the incarnation of Waitara Path’s Soremsia is imprisoned in the mysterious purgatory by Gladwin. He intended to kill Jacopo.”

“That useless fool,” Lord Goyo cursed. “Follow me quickly. Without his support, we are at James’ mercy.”

With that, he took to the sky. The Yang governor hesitated for a moment, then fearfully followed.

Meanwhile, the returning Gladwin was filled with dread.

“Lord Goyo, don’t fall for this trick.

Jacopo can’t possibly be the incarnation of Waitara Path’s el Soremsia. He is the son of James and the Yin governor.” “If that were true, wouldn’t that make Waitara Path James’ son? He would have to call him ‘father.’”

“This is truly foolish. To believe such a ploy is beyond hopeless.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7663

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 7663- The sky was a brilliant blue, accented by white clouds. Vast plains stretched out with rolling peaks, rivers, and seas crisscrossing the expansive land, while an aura of Spiritual Energy permeated everything. This was a new world, brimming with life and vitality, existing independently from the myriad realms.

Countless cultivation resources awaited discovery here. Unending adventures beckoned the brave, and limitless opportunities awaited those with exceptional talent.

This was the new world James had created, based on the Forty-Nine Daoisms and merged with his own Daoism, to resolve the Leere Tribulation and save countless beings across the myriad realms.

In this world, there was no powerful Heavenly Path, no hierarchy of races, no strict rules or oppressions, and no fate governing everything. Instead, actions were judged by karma. Fortune and misfortune, as well as success and failure, were determined by karma.

Though it adhered to the principle of survival of the fittest and respect for the strong, it also provided more choices and opportunities for the weak and newcomers.

At this moment, James, Thea, and the Four Vanguard-Feryndor, Lyrion, Hylaris, and Sylorin-led by Wyot, stood at the pinnacle of the void.

In this new world, James established the River of Time and the River of Karma. The River of Time was used solely to store the past experiences of living beings collected from the myriad realms, ensuring minimal impact on the development of current beings. The newly established River of Karma replaced the former River of Time, becoming the repository for all living beings’ records in the new world.

Every action and word of a living being was recorded in the River of Karma. When a living being attempted to break through a major realm, all recorded actions and words would convert into fortune or misfortune based on karma.

Additionally, James preserved all cultivation bases below the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank to help beings understand the new world. The chaotic Quasi Daeclon Rank was abolished, and cultivation bases above the Yuraeceon Daelm Rank's Ninth Tribulation were redefined from First to Ninth Xaeclon Rank. Following that were the Xurxo Daeclon Rank, Yitro Daeclon Rank, and Soma Daeclon Rank, leading up to the highest current level, the Daeclon Mahayana Rank.

To address the issue of cultivation bases beyond the Daeclon Mahayana Rank, James established five new levels: Emperor, Holiness, Path King, Path Emperor, and Heloria God.

He established the Daeclon Mahayana Rank as the dividing line between the new world and Zymurgy. Anyone reaching the Daeclon Mahayana Rank was eligible to enter Zymurgy.

He divided the Forty-Ninth Heaven into seven divine regions. The First to the Ninth Heavens were designated for those who attained the Daeclon Mahayana Rank called the Rynox Region. The Tenth to the Twentieth Heavens were designated for the Emperors, called the Xarion Region.

The Twenty-First to the Thirtieth Heavens were designated for the Holiness, known as the Zarvion Region.

The Thirty-First to the Fortieth Heavens were designated for the Path Kings, known as the Solara Region. The Forty-First to the Forty-Fourth Heavens were designated for the Path Emperors, known as the Dravion Region.

The Forty-Fifth to the Forty-Eighth Heavens were designated for the Heloria Gods, called the Ravion Region.

The Forty-Ninth Heaven, being the entrance to the Xanadu Realm and the most likely place to encounter Shadowborn, was temporarily closed to all but the Heloria Gods.

The determination of cultivation bases and regions not only accommodated the living beings migrating from the myriad realms to the new world but also set a standard for future beings. To maximize the utilization of cultivation resources and strengthen the Haleth Realm, James also bound Life-and-Death Daoism to the cultivation bases. Those ranks below the Emperor have their lifespans bound accordingly.

From this moment on, all living beings below the Emperor level were no longer immortal.
