Chapter 20 - 19 Hero Saves the Beauty_1

The third update is here, asking for recommendation tickets and favorites~~~

"Little sister, be good... big brother cares about you!"

By this time, Mouse Qiang was truly blinded by lust; he didn't even notice Qin Fang rushing over, nor did the other two underlings who were also fixated on the girl.

It was the girl who, in her panic and utter helplessness, was clutching onto her collar and the hem of her clothes, when suddenly, she caught a glimpse of Qin Fang charging toward them. A flash of surprise crossed her eyes. Just as she was about to call out, she saw Qin Fang gesture for silence with a 'shh' motion, and she forcefully suppressed the cry that had reached her lips.

The girl calmed down ever so slightly. Facing three villainous fiends like rabid wolves, she knew crying was futile. Clearly intelligent, she understood Qin Fang's intention when she saw the brick in his hand.

Whoosh~~

Mouse Qiang, at this moment, was directly in front of Qin Fang with his back turned. Seizing such an excellent opportunity, Qin Fang immediately used the brick as a formidable weapon, smacking it down on the back of Mouse Qiang's head.

True to his reputation as a seasoned brawler, Mouse Qiang sensed the rush of wind brought about by Qin Fang's charge, as well as the whooshing sound of the brick, and instantly became alert, almost instinctively turning to look back.

Smack~~

But by then, it was too late.

As he was just turning his face, he saw a dark object swooping down, then a sharp pain erupted in his face, followed by a severe dizziness that obliterated his ability to think—his scream of agony was even delayed.

"Attack successful, target entered Dizzy State..."

These words popped up in Qin Fang's mind, but he didn't have time to pay them any heed, as there were still two other thugs to deal with.

"Ergh..."

The two thugs were momentarily stunned by Mouse Qiang's scream, their lecherous chuckles faltering. Before they could react, one of them felt a blunt force strike the back of their head, immediately causing dizziness and the loss of the ability to think.

As for the other, Qin Fang no longer had the time to retract the brick for another blow, so he forcefully kicked out, landing a heavy kick.

The positioning of this thug was just right; Qin Fang's kick caught him completely off guard and sent him flying, crashing hard against the wall of Ninghai University.

Unfortunately for the thug, because of Qin's tilted posture, the kick landed on the thug's upper body, flipping him over so his head slammed against the hard wall. Although he didn't pass out, he saw stars and probably trembled even when walking.

"Whoosh~~ that was close!"

When Qin Fang had finished, he couldn't help but gasp for air, knowing even a slight mishap could have been bad for him, but luckily, his luck held up.

"Why aren't you leaving yet?"

Xiao Xue, the girl that Qin Fang had rescued, was still frozen in place, clearly shocked that Qin had managed to take down all three thugs with his moves. Qin Fang, somewhat angered, barked at her unceremoniously.

"Oh, I'm going, I'm going..."

The girl immediately snapped back to reality after Qin Fang's shout and hurriedly tried to turn and flee. However, just as she took a step, she realized something, then turned back somewhat sheepishly to thank Qin Fang, "Thank you... Ah, be careful..."

But as she turned around, she just happened to notice that Mouse Qiang, who was in a dizzy state behind Qin Fang, had regained consciousness and was holding a dagger, poised to stab Qin Fang. Her face turned pale with shock as she cried out to warn him.

After the girl's cry, Qin Fang immediately understood. His expression changed slightly; he didn't even have time to look back, only managing to move a step to the side.

Slash~~~

A clear sound of a knife tearing through fabric rang out, and Qin Fang immediately felt a sharp pain at his waist. He couldn't help but gasp and kicked back in response.

Qin Fang's kick was blind and frantic, but the pain made it much stronger than usual. By chance, it landed on the vital area of Mouse Qiang's lower abdomen, sending Mouse Qiang flying.

Ah~~

Mouse Qiang screamed in agony, no longer caring about the dagger still stuck in Qin Fang's waist. He clutched his groin with both hands, his rat-like face turning a purplish hue, indicating just how fierce Qin's kick had been.

However, Qin Fang was not faring much better. The dagger was embedded in his waist, and blood flowed like it was free, with constant alerts in his mind of "Life Points decrease by one." Within the blink of an eye, seven or eight of the ten life points had ebbed away.

Qin Fang, suffering from major blood loss, immediately felt his head grow heavy, almost as if he was about to pass out.

When he had lost five or six points of blood before, he had nearly passed out. This time the loss was far more severe, almost reducing his life points to zero. Qin Fang had no doubt that such an outcome would mean his instant death.

"Wuwuwu... Are you okay? Don't die..."

At that moment, Xiao Xue had forgotten about escaping. Qin Fang's waist was bleeding profusely, and his complexion was terrifyingly pale, all because he had saved her. How could she just walk away from that?

"Boss..."

Though Mouse Qiang seemed badly injured, it was merely pain, nothing compared to Qin Fang, whose situation was far more dire. The two dizzy lackeys had recovered by now and, seeing Qin Fang bleeding profusely, were also panicked and at a loss.

They were only ordinary thugs, good for brawling and extortion, but murder... They wouldn't dare even with tenfold the courage.

However, as for Ye Chen, who had a dagger sticking out of his wound, it was clearly Boss Mouse Qiang's. How could they not worry? After all, if Qin Fang were to die, Mouse Qiang would be the murderer, and they would be accomplices.

Mouse Qiang's worry was no less than theirs. Seeing the blood pooled on the ground, he panicked and almost wanted to run away on the spot, but his legs were somewhat weak.

Slash~~

Right at that moment, they watched, wide-eyed, as Qin Fang, covered in blood, actually pulled the dagger out himself. A blood arrow spurted out, making all three of them tremble with fear.

But when they saw what Qin Fang did next, it made them feel as if the blood spattered on the ground wasn't blood at all, but rather tomatoes that had been scattered.

The bleeding Qin Fang, with his ashen face, actually pulled out several baozi from his body and began to gobble them up...
