

Chapter 10 - Alpha Alexa

Colter's POV

We had called packs well into the night and no one had seen anything. We had called within a five-hour radius. I can't imagine that she was further than that. I slammed my fist down in frustration. How did this girl slip out so quickly and there is no trace of her? My wolf was going to drive me mad if we didn't find her soon.

"Go to bed. It's late and we can't do anything else tonight." I told both Mac and Noah.

They just nodded their heads at me and got up to leave. Mac got to the door and turned to look at me and said "we will find her. I am not sure why you are so adamant on finding her, but we will I promise."

He walked out the door and closed it behind him. As soon as they were far enough away, and I was sure they couldn't hear anything, I walked to my desk and flipped it over in anger. Grey was pushing to the surface. He was angry, he wanted this girl.

"Grey, you want out for a run?"

"Yes, I need to get out some anger."

I walked out of my office and went to the tree line and took my clothes off and quickly called Grey forward. He was gone before his paws hit the ground. He was running at full speed through the forest. He dodged trees and jumped over fallen logs. I let him do his thing, he needed it right now. We came to a clearing in the forest, and you could see the moon. It was shining bright tonight. Grey stopped to appreciate it and let out a long loud howl. It sounded like he was in pain.

"Buddy, you, ok?" I asked him.

"No, we need to find her. I can't be without her."

"What is your obsession with her?"

"I don't know, I just know we have to find her."

He cut our link and took off running again. I sat back and left him alone. He ran all night and finally came to a stop at a little pond we had at the back end of the territory, and we watched the sun rise. This was so far back that not many people came here. I however loved it. It was peaceful and serene.

“Grey, we need to head back. I have to start work soon.”

He got up and started to head back to the pack house. He went at a slow run. It was going to take us a while at this rate, but I was ok with that.

We finally made it back to where my clothes were, and he gave me control back and I shifted back to me and threw my clothes on. I headed to the pack house and straight to my office to check my messages to see if anyone had gotten a hold of me about Alexa.

I walked into my office and found Mac cleaning up the mess from my desk.

“Hey man, I will take care of that later.”

“No, you won’t, you will have an Omega do it. Plus, I am almost done.”

I helped him finish and we flipped my desk back over and put everything back on it. I pulled up my laptop and opened my email. I only had one new email, from her father. What the hell has he done now. I clicked it to open the email and what I saw had me seeing red. He had sent out another missing flyer but this time he added a ten-thousand-dollar reward for her return. Not even her safe return, just a simple return.

I turned the computer so that Mac could see it. His eyes got big and then I could see the anger cross his face.

“Why in the fuck would he do that?”

“I don’t know but I am about to find out.”

I got my phone out of my desk and turned it on and brought up his phone number and hit send. It rang four times before he answered.

“Did you find her Alpha Colter?”

“Are you fucking kidding me, did I find her? No, I didn’t fucking find her and why are you offering a reward for her return? Not even a safe return. That is going to bring out all of the fucking weirdo’s looking for her and goddess only knows what they will do to her.”

“I really don’t care, so long as she is brought back, and we can finish our alliance.”

I was done talking to him. I threw my phone across the room and started pacing.

“Mac, I am going to kill that man. He didn’t care how she was returned, just so long as she was and that we could finish our alliance.”

“WHAT?” He screamed.

“Ya, my thoughts exactly. I can’t wait to get my hands on that vile man. I will kill him, mark my words.”

“I am going to go out and have Amanda get you a new phone and we can go back to calling people.” Mac said.

I followed him out but headed to my floor to take a shower and then I was going to get some food. When I got to my room, I found Lauren waiting for me in my bed. She must have been here all night because she was sound asleep. I walked over and ripped my blankets back and saw that she was completely naked. I kicked the bed to get her to wake up.

“Hey, you need to leave. You are not supposed to be up here.”

She rolled over and gave me lazy sleepy eyes. She had definitely been sound asleep and here all night.

“I waited all night for you. I thought maybe we could have some fun.”

“No, you need to leave. I am going to shower, and you better be gone when I get out.”

I turned the water on and got out of my clothes. I stepped under the hot water and just let it run down my body. It felt amazing. It was helping me relieve some stress that was built up in my body. After an ungodly amount of time in the shower I finally got out and when I stepped out of my room, I saw that Lauren actually listened and left. I went to my closet and got some clothes. Once I was dressed, I headed downstairs to get some food and much needed coffee.

When I got down there, I found Mac had a huge plate of food and was shoveling it in as fast as he could. I fixed my plate and went and sat down by him.

"Dude, you're going to choke slow down."

He just shrugged his shoulders at me and kept piling the food in. We finished and I went to my office. I had a brand-new phone laying on my desk charging. I turned it on and waited to see if I had any messages. I had one text from Julian. He's a good friend who lives about six hours away. I am sure he wants to know more about Alexa's flyer since I am much closer in distance than him. I will call him later.

I finished eating and cleared my dishes and went back to my office. I opened my email to see if there was anything else that had come in but there wasn't. I hated this feeling. I didn't know where else to look or what else to do. I could send scouts out, but we have nowhere to start looking. I can't send them out blindly.

I decided to call Julian and see what he wanted. I picked up the phone and found him in my contacts list and hit send. It rang and rang and rang and his voicemail picked up. I hung up and sent him a text, telling him to call me back.

I pulled up my pack paperwork that I needed to get done. I couldn't neglect them just because my wolf wouldn't stop with this girl. He was going to drive me nuts.

I managed to get a few hours of work when someone started knocking at my door.

"Come in." I yelled.

Noah opened my door and closed it behind him.

"What's up Noah?"

"I just finished training for the day and wanted to see if you had heard anything about the girl."

"Her dad sent out another email offering ten thousand dollars for her return." I told him.

"What an idiot!"

"Ya, that is my thought also."

"Why don't we go get some drinks after dinner tonight. I know we could all use it."

"That actually sounds great."

With that he left my office and allowed me to get back to my paperwork. I had my hands in enough different business that it kept my pack living comfortably. I was able to employ most people from my pack in my businesses and the others I could employ here and still be able to pay them.

I finished up my paperwork and skipped eating dinner and went to my room to shower and get ready for tonight. I took a quick shower and dressed in dark blue jeans and a white button up shirt. I rolled up my sleeves to my elbows and put on a pair of black boots. I grabbed my wallet and my keys and headed back downstairs. I found Mac and Noah waiting for me.

"Ready guys, I'll drive."

They followed me out to the garage, and we all got into the SUV that I unlocked. I pulled out and headed down the driveway. It was about a twenty-minute drive to the bar. I know we were early but all of us had to be up early tomorrow and besides werewolves could drink a lot and not get drunk. We metabolized it quickly. We all piled out when we got there and went inside. We had a usual table there. So, we just walked in and sat down. The waitress brought over our usual order and left us quickly.

“What are you going to do Colter, I mean about the girl?” Asked Mac

“I don’t know, for some reason my wolf is demanding that we find her. He is so bad that I can’t stop thinking about it. I need to find her.”

“What are you going to do when you find her?” Noah asked.

“That’s one of my other problems. I wanted to make her an Omega and make her work hard. It’s all I can do to get some form of revenge for my parents. I can’t beat her, that’s not my style but something tells me I won’t be able to even do that.”

“Could she be your mate?” Noah asked.

“No, way. I would know that wouldn’t I?”

“Not necessarily. You haven’t seen her face to face yet.” Mac said.

I changed the topic of conversation because I couldn’t talk about her anymore, it was just upsetting my wolf. I felt my phone vibrate in my pocket but chose to ignore it. We were all having a good time just visiting and I didn’t want to interrupt that. I can handle whatever it is tomorrow. If it was important pack business, I would get a mind link. My phone vibrated again, this time with a text. I pulled my phone out of my pocket and unlocked it. I had a text from Julian. "Hey man, called you back, we really need to talk."

I really didn't want to leave these guys right now. We were having a good time. I will try him again tomorrow.

Chapter 10

Chapter 11 - Alpha Alexa

Alexa’s POV

I was currently sitting in Julians office because Luca and I were arguing at breakfast, and he got mad. I am not sure if he got mad because we were arguing or if because Mac and I had done stuff together when Julian and I had also slept together. I mean it is what it is. I told him it meant nothing and was just a release and I seriously meant that.

“Alright, someone want to tell me what the hell is going on between you two?” Julian asked.

I folded my arms over my chest and just glared at Luca, who just glared back at me. Neither of us said anything.

“I won’t ask again, tell me what the hell happened?” Julian growled at us.

“Someone got pissed off when I gave him blue balls!” I said with a smirk on my face.

“If you weren’t such a bitch, then I wouldn’t have that problem.” Luca said.

“Well, if you wouldn’t have told me to get on my knees like a good girl than you wouldn’t have blue balls. I was willing to take care of everything until you said that.”

Julian ran his hands down his face and groaned at us arguing.

“Both of you stop it, you’re acting like children. Luca you know better, and Alexa I want to say you know better but I’m not sure.”

“Sorry sir,” I said.

“Sorry Julian,” Luca said.

“Luca you can leave, I need to talk to Alexa.”

He got up and left and now I was stuck in Julians office with just him. This can’t be good.

“I am sorry, did I do something wrong?”

“Really, you slept with me this morning and then Luca?”

“What, I am a woman who has needs, a lot of them and I am not going to turn down a chance to get what I want. I had that taken from me once upon a time and I decided that I won’t allow that to happen to me ever again.”

He got up from his desk and walked over to where I was in front of his desk. He leaned down and placed his arms down on the arm rest of my chair and got about an inch from my face and smirked at me.

“Beautiful, if you have needs, I want you to come to me for all of them, no one else. Do you understand me?”

Usually something like this would piss me off. Nobody tells me what to do especially when it comes to my sexual needs, but he had sent a chill down my spine and goose bumps covered my body.

“I have a lot of needs, are you sure you can keep up?” I said as I looked his body up and down as best as I could. I could feel my panties getting wet from this interaction and I knew he could smell it because his eyes kept switching back from his natural green color to black and back again.

“OH, I think I can keep up without a problem.”

“Good to know.” I stood up and pushed him out of my way. I headed for the door.

“Wait, we still need to talk.” Julian said as he walked back over behind his desk.

I went and took my seat back and waited for him to speak.

“You have a new room as taking the gamma position. You will have a room on the second floor. You and Luca do. No one is allowed up there. You also need to work on a training schedule and start teaching some classes. I would specifically like you to work with girls and women. I think they will relate to you more than they do Luca.”

“Really, you want me to teach classes?”

“Yes, I do. You’re the Gamma and besides that I have seen you fight, and you are a skilled fighter. It would be dumb of me not having you do that.”

“Thank you, Julian. You don’t know how much this means to me.”

“I know. I will get you class times and levels and you can take it from there. We will also leave about three am for your old pack. I will get you close enough to the pack lands that you can break the bond you have and then we will be getting the hell out of there.”

“I can’t wait to get that taken care of. I know we are going to have to be careful, but I can tell you that they aren’t early risers there, but my father will be awake at that time, will he feel it?”

“If he truly handed the pack over to your brother, then no he won’t. Your brother will be the one to feel it.”

“Thank you. Is there someone that can take me to town? I need to get some clothes and other things.” I asked him.

“Yes, I will take you after this but first you have to know that I have to tell Alpha Colter that you are here. I promise that you are safe here and I promise I will not allow anything to happen to you.”

“I understand, I would never ask you to keep something from your friend and a pack that you have an alliance with.”

“Thank you, like I said I will not let anything happen to you. Now go get whatever you need, and we will go to town.”

I got up and left the room and headed to my current room. I went in and grabbed my bag and pulled out a couple of hundred dollars and shoved it in my pocket. The first thing I would get is a wallet and a purse.

“Jade, what do you think about him telling Alpha Colter?”

“Lex, I don’t know. As much as I would like to say run, I think that it is a bad idea. He will just continue to look for us and so will your father. If we face this head on with Julians help it might be ok.”

“I agree. So, we stay put for now.”

I headed out of my room and back towards to Julians office when I ran into Christina going in the same direction as me.

“I told you once already, stay away from Julian.” She said through gritted teeth.

“I have just as much right to be headed this direction as you, besides he is waiting for me.”

She stepped in front of me and stopped me from going further. She placed her hands on my shoulders and started to squeeze. I don’t know who this bitch thinks she is, but I will wipe the floor with her.

“Get your hands off me now!” I growled at her.

“I don’t think you understand that he belongs to me, and you are going to learn that now.”

I reached up and pulled her hand off my shoulder and spun it, so I had her arm behind her back, and she was now facing away from me. I kicked her feet out from under her and she toppled to the ground face first. She let out a scream, but I had a smirk on my face.

“Lex, let me finish her!” My wolf excitedly asked.

I just ignored her and threw a knee in her back and held her in place.

“Listen here, I never said I had any claim on Julian. He is simply helping me out. So, either back off or I will show you just how much of a bitch I can be!” I told her.

That was about the time that Julian had come out of his office and turned the corner to the hallway that we were in.

“Alexa, what in the hell are you doing?”

I snapped my head up and saw him storming over here really fast.

“She is the one who put her hands on me first and told me to stay away from you. I was simply letting her know to never touch me again and that I had no claim on you and that you were helping me.”

“Get off her.”

I let her up and Christina got up with tears coming down her face. She was relatively unharmed but of course she had big alligator tears coming down and ran straight to Julian. He stepped away from her as soon as she got to him.

“Christina, I don’t know what you’re trying to do but I’ve told you that we are not a couple, nor do we have anything between us. So please leave Alexa alone.”

“What are you talking about, we were sleeping together a week ago.”

“No, we weren’t. We haven’t slept together in weeks, and I broke it off. You’re delusional. Go away and stay away from both of us unless it concerns the pack.” He told her as he stepped further away from her.

“I will not forget this Julian and you Alexa, I will get you for this.”

“You really don’t scare me Christina so just go away.” I told her.

Julian just laughed and walked towards me.

“Should we go to town?” He asked me and Christina just huffed and took off down the hallway not getting her way. I am sure this isn’t the last run in with her but like I said I am not scared of her.

I followed him to his car and got in and away we went. It was about a ten-minute drive to their little strip mall. It was something that was owned by local wolves, and it was nice to be able to buy from them and not big stores that had enough money.

“What are you needing?” He asked me.

“I need some more clothes and also some toiletries.”

“OK, I know right where to start.” He said as he led me to a store.

We walked in and it was full of women's clothing. I walked past the dresses and went straight to the pants section. I found a few pairs of skinny jeans and a few pairs of boot cut jeans. I knew exactly what size I needed so no need to try them on, so I headed to the shirts and picked out a few T-shirts and a few nicer ones. I handed them to Julian and took off to the sportswear. I grabbed a few leggings and shorts and sports bras. I also grabbed socks and underwear.

“Is this everything?”

“From this store it is.”

We headed to the check out and I went to get my money out and he swiped a card before I could get my cash out.

“You do not need to pay for my stuff. I am very capable of doing that myself.”

“I know but if your part of my pack I will help take care of you.”

“Please don’t do that. I don’t want to owe anyone anything or feel like I owe anything.”

“I really didn’t mean anything by it. I would have done it for anyone.”

I just nodded my head at him and walked out of the store. We went and put my bags in the car.

“OK, I would love a shoe store. I left my home with very little, so I need boots and tennis shoes.”

“OK, follow me.”

We walked through more of the strip and towards the end of it we came to a shoe store. I walked in and like any other girl I walked through and looked at every shoe they had. I really did love shoes and could buy all of them. It was a problem. I finally found a pair of white and pink tennis shoes and a pair of black combat boots.

I walked to the counter and found Julian talking to the guy behind the counter. I put my shoes up there and he rang them up and this time Julian let me pay. That made me feel better. Julian said goodbye to the guy at the counter and followed me out.

“OK, Alexa, what is next?”

“I just need some girl things if you know what I mean.”

“Ya, girl stuff?”

“Like makeup?”

“No dummy, like shampoo and conditioner and tampons.”

“Oh goddess, I am sorry I asked.”

I just looked at him and raised an eyebrow.

“You mean the big bad Alpha has a problem with tampons?”

“No, it's just I have never been with someone when they have bought them.”

I burst out laughing at him and told him to lead the way. This is one stop I would love to see him pay for. He led me to the store and goes “I think I will just wait out here for you.”

“OH no you won’t, you are going to go in with me.”

“Do I really need to do that?”

“Yes, come on let's go.”

He just groaned at me and followed behind me but kept his distance. I purposely took my time getting any girly products I needed while he stood behind me looking really uncomfortable. I was finally done and walked to the register and paid for my things and headed back to the car. We got in and he didn't have a lot to say after what I just made him do.

“Lex, you're kind of a bully.” Jade said.

“Why is that?”

“Because you made him do something he didn't want to do. You would never tolerate that.”

“Ugh, I hate it when your right.”

“I think you should apologize.”

“Fine only because I would be pissed if that was me.”

“I am sorry that I made you go in there. I didn't think about it, and I won't make you do that again.”

“Your fine, if I am going to have a female Gamma, there are certain things that I will have to get used to.”

We got back to the pack house, and he was helping me carry my bags inside.

“Let me show you to your new room and you can move your other stuff in here.”

“Thank you and when I say this, I really mean it. Thank you for everything. Taking me in, giving a safe place to stay and a job and helping take care of problems.”

“Always. We like to think we are a nice pack and when people need help, we want to offer it.”

While we were talking, we made it to my new room on the second floor. He opened my door for me, and it was a stark difference from the one I was currently in. It had a king-size bed on the back wall, with windows overlooking the training field and the forest. The walls were a cream color and it had dark greys and blues in the bed spread and the carpet was also dark grey. It had a large TV mounted on the wall and a couch. There were two doors along one of the walls along with what looked like a mini kitchen. I couldn't cook in there but could store drinks and snacks and a few other things.

“Will this do?” He asked me.

“Yes, the other room was just fine also.”

“Not for our Gamma. Here is your key. Housekeeping has a key and so do I but don’t worry I won’t ever use it unless you tell me to.”

“Oh, I will be telling you to but right now I need to unpack and also go get stuff from my other room.”

“I will leave you to it. Remember we are leaving at three am so be downstairs and ready to go by then.”

“Thank you.” I told him.
