

21 NOT SCARED

DAMON 1

Damon was very excited knowing his mate was finally opening to him.

He can't wait to tell the world he's found his Luna and Queen.

He had secretly arranged guards around Mona, unknowing to her who followed her everywhere she went and they in turn reported back to him.

Now that he has marked her, every werewolf will know she's his. He knew some ill intentioned Alphas might want to harm his mate.

He knew they would know sooner or later and he never have any intention of hiding his mate from his kind forever.

He is their king and as such they would accept his mate despite the fact that she's human.

He has been thinking of a good to tell his mate who he really was and not just a king.

He wasn't scared of being rejected anymore for believed his mate wasn't someone who would runaway from his kind, he has seen her to be a brave woman. The moon goddess won't send him a weak Luna, he definitely knew that.

Patrick came into his office looking very sad and gloomy.

Damon could sense his fear and nervousness.

"Care to tell me why you look so down?"

Patrick let out a big sigh he has been holding in.

" I think I might get rejected pretty soon."

Damon was confused at what his beta was saying

"How so?, have you told Sarah about who you really are?"

Patrick slumped on the chair opposite Damon's. He sighed loudly and rubbed his eyes feeling very frustrated with himself.

"I decided to tell Sarah for I thought she wouldn't mind knowing how simple and cheerful she is but now she wouldn't take my calls anymore."

Damon was now feeling very skeptical at the while issue on ground, here was still thinking of how to break the news to his mate and his beta was at the verge of getting rejected by his mate.

If Sarah who has always been cheerful could ignore Patrick just because he told her who he really was, how much more Mona.

Mona would reject him as it stands, he can't risk telling her who he really was no.. but how can he marry her if he keeps his secrets.

"Your Majesty, you think you should tell your mate about us ?, it's not a good idea if you ask me.

Damon kept mute for quite a while, he was feel his heart beating so fast like his would break out any minute.

Sarah has been in her room since she came back from her date with Patrick.

Sarah was very confused at everything that her boyfriend Patrick told her.

"Was he really telling the truth about being a werewolf?, was that why his eyes changes whenever he that kissed.

Sarah's mind was pretty messed up just thinking about the whole thing.

Age has been ignoring his call because she still couldn't bring herself to talk to him, not because she was scared of him but because he kept something like that from her.

Sarah in all her curiosity decided to visit the internet and find out everything that has to do with these werewolves.

MONA

Mona wasn't the least scared after Damon told her who he was.

21 NOT SCARED

At first she was surprised to know werewolves actually really existed.

Some years ago when she was still little, her Grandpa had told her about the werewolves who lived among them and back then she was bewildered to know werewolves were real.

Even while she was growing up she had stumbled upon the movie called twilight saga which was about Isabella a human girl who fell in love with a vampire named Edward and she was also loved by Jacob who was a werewolf.

She never knew it was real, she had never believed in those stories even when her Grandpa had told her, she had thought he was only telling a fairytale story.

This was all so so surprising, now she understood the reason why everything about Damon, his company and Everyone around him were different from the normal average people she had met.

Sarah came to Mona's room unannounced, she knew she should have told her friend the moment she found out.

"Can I come in?" Sarah asked standing at the entrance of the door.

Mona took a quick glance at Sarah with an unreadable expression. She didn't say a word to Sarah but rather repositioned herself in her bed with her legs curled up to her chest and her hands folded around her legs.

Sarah walked up to the bed and sat down at the edge giving Mona a sad look.

"Are you still angry at me?". Mona looked at her friend giving her a raised brow while she pouted her lips.

"You know I can't be mad at you for long, besides it's not your fault. They should have told us before now."

"I agree with you but considering how shocked we might be, I think that's why they kept it from us." Mona looked at Sarah smiling.

"Seems you are no longer angry at your boyfriend huh?". Sarah let out a hearty chuckle as her eyes twinkled.

"I love him Mona, that's what matters. I would be honest though at first when I found out I was very pissed to know my boyfriend wasn't human and worse of it all, he hid it from me".

Mona could relate exactly how that feels, that's exactly what she was feeling.

"Hold on!, does this mean she's in love with Damon?. No way, that wasn't what she had planned for, she's still very scared of heartbreak. What if he broke her heart just like Jack did. That will be too much to bear".

"Hey Mona, what are you thinking about?"

Mona was startled back to reality.

"Huh, am not thinking of anything".

Sarah gave a long sigh.

"You know, I think you should talk to King Damon. I mean I can tell he's head over heels in love with you, I could tell he really loves you for have never seen him with any other woman since he met you."

Mona was really confused at this moment, she was wondering if what Sarah said was right.

Besides Damon had left her tones of messages, in one of the message, he had he said he would be coming to her house.

She didn't know how she was to face him now, knowing he wasn't really human. She can't believe she isn't just entangled with a king but a werewolf king at that. This whole thing seems very crazy to her.
