

THE ALPHA KING'S OBSESSION Chapter 6 - HIS FIANCÉ

Chapter 6: HIS FIANCÉ

DAMON

Damon was in his office as usual setting up meetings with clients when Fiona came looking for him.

Fiona is a very beautiful lady of twenty five, she has a slender body frame, big green eyes, full red lips with a curly blonde hair that's well rested on her shoulders. She is a model in her Father's company and she is quite popular in the modeling industry.

She heard from Mr Jacob Grey who recently signed a contract with fiance King Damon. Fiona tried managed to convince Mr Jacob to let her be the model he was to send to Damon's company.

Mr Jacob agreed after being convinced by Fiona.

She went to Damon's company the next day to announce her arrival. Fiona had a mission for coming to Damon's company and that was to have an opportunity to be around him as much as she wanted to.

Fiona is a very proud lady who always wants to be noticed wherever she went., She loved the extravagant life, going shopping three times in a week, going clubbing and love's ordering people around not just because she is an Alpha's daughter but also because she See's herself as future queen to the most powerful and influential Alpha king Damon.

Fiona pulled up at Damon's company which was a massive building with skyscrapers. Fiona quickly did a little touch up on her face and lips because she clearly wasn't going to let Damon ignore her like he used to.

She's seductively dressed in a tiny handless gown which exposed her thighs to a maximum.

Clearly Fiona was on a mission to seduce her fiancé.

Getting to the company, she took a moment to put on her glasses making her face look even bigger than it already was. She cat walked to the entrance of the Company only to be met by guards who accessed her carefully.

"Do you have a business with the company ma'am?.,

Fiona took off her glasses clearly becoming a pissed she wolf.

"You want to tell me you can't recognize me?, do I need to tell you am a model. You guys must be so dumb that you don't read magazines or watch Television. How the hell did you get hired in my fiancée's company, my goodness..."

For your information am your Alpha King Damon's fiancé and your future Luna and Queen so if you don't want to be sacked, you had better let me in!

The guards look quite shocked but they dare not let her in because if they do, they might be risking getting sacked for real. Damon listen to no excuses and he gave instructions to be informed firstly of anyone's visit no matter who they claimed to be to him.

"We are very sorry ma'am but we have rules here, we suggest you give us a minute to inform his Highness's secretary of your arrival."

Fiona stood impatiently feeling terribly embarrassed at herself. Employees who passed by either recognizes her and looks at her in admiration or they look at her as one of those desperate ladies who seeks for Damon's attention. After being made to wait for what seem to be thirty minutes, she was finally allowed to enter.

"You all will pay for this, I will make sure of that". Fiona marched to the reception as she was directed to.

"Is his Highness in?."

Pearly looked flabbergasted at the sight of Damon's fiancée.

"Yes he's in, you can go in." Fiona marched into the office very annoyed.

"My love you should sack those securities of yours, they are very annoying, they made me stand outside the company for so long. You can't imagine how embarrassed I feel right now."

"Why are you here?."

"Of course am here to see you my love...have missed you."

"You should have called me before coming to my company Fiona, am too busy to give any attention to you, and maybe if you called you wouldn't have been embarrassed few minutes ago".

"Do I really need permissions to visit my fiancée?, Am going to be your Queen and Luna soon so I have every right to visit you."

"Then you should wait till you are Queen before you think of trying to boss my employees around. They leave only when I want them to, no one else has the right to lay off any worker of mine understood?."

"Yes.. very well understood your Highness."

"So am asking you for the second time why are you here, because I clearly told you I won't be seeing you till have set a date for the wedding".

"Well... about that, am here as the model sent by Mr Jacob Grey your new investor. Am the model you will be endorsing for the new magazine.

"What endorsement is that and how are you related in this?."

" Common Damon you can't possibly be joking right? have you forgotten so soon the contract with Mr Jacob Grey?

"I know Jacob Grey but I did not know he will be sending you over to be the model for my magazine

"Well you don't have to be surprised because I urged him to sign up the contract so I can be a model for you".

Fiona said feeling extremely happy why Damon felt like he was being choked to death.

"if I had known I would have rejected this Marriage alliance. I can't stand her goodness!

"lest I forget, Princess Xena is getting married next month, i cant wait to be there with you by my side holding hands so everyone would get to see who the real Queen to their Alpha king was.

My love we still haven't set a date for our wedding yet, how I hope ours will be next after Xena's", Fiona said pouting.

"Fiona,I was busy on the phone with a client before you came in so if you would excuse me, I would like to get back to my work. You can ask my Secretary Pearly to arrange for someone to take you around the company."

"Okay, okay, don't make it sound like am a pest in your life...its not like am asking you to take me out or something".. Fiona said grumbling the words as she left his office.

Damon heaved a sigh of relief the moment she left.

"How the hell did he not know Fiona was Jacob Grey's model.

She will do anything just be close to him and make his life a living hell.

Damon thought clearly pissed at the whole thing.

Just as he was thinking about how to get rid of Fiona, Patrick rushed into his office looking as though someone was after him.

"How did Fiona get to the company?, because I doubt you sent for her."

"Who do you blame for her coming?."

"If only you did a good as my assistant, then she wouldn't be here."

"So now tell me how come you know nothing about it?"

Damon asked, clearly about to blow up in anger any minute soon.

"Please calm down Alpha Boss, honestly I never knew Fiona had any contact with Mr Jacob Grey".

" Then find out!".

Patrick immediately left the office.

He asked pearly for explanation but pearly was as confused as they were for she was never informed of her coming or her relationship with Mr Jacob Grey.

Everyone in the Company talked about Fiona and how beautiful and gorgeous she was, some disapproved for her bossy nature and saw her not qualified to be the Queen to Damon's kingdom and this was specifically coming from the female employees.

A week later, Fiona fully started her contract with Damon's company as she modeled for cloths, magazines and shoes.

She was such a show off as she wanted to be acknowledged by everyone in the company that she was their Alpha King's Luna to be and their future Queen.

Damon went to the club as usual to cool off some steam.

Some vampires and werewolf stripers danced erotically.

The smell of wine, cigarettes and insulators mixed together gave a pungent kind of smell.

He surveyed the area searching for his Gamma and Delta.

He saw them Trying to attend to a pissed off looking werewolf who looked nothing older than seventeen.

"What in the world..?"

Damon approached the scene only to find the werewolf drunk

"Where is he from and why is he disturbing the peace of my club?".

Damon demanded an answer from Robbi and Saga who immediately bowed their heads the moment they saw him.

"Your Highness we clearly didn't know he was a minor and he refuses to tell us the pack he's from".

"Those guards needs to sacked yet again.

For goddess sake why can't they do a simple job.

Never let minor in, check their identity and age.

Do you really want me to sack you all!.

"And you, how the hell did you get past my guards!?"

Alpha Damon demanded using his Alpha tone.

The werewolf seemed pretty wasted but was startled as he sprang up immediately but lost his balance and fell back down.

Damon smelled a familiar scent around the werewolf pup, he signaled Saga to lift his head up so he could see his face clearly.

He was taken aback at the striking resemblance of the pup to Fiona.

"These siblings do nothing but try to make my life a living hell!"

Damon said in his mind looking very pissed

He knew just what to do, he told Saga to sober him up as he called for his sister Fiona.

Some minutes later, Fiona matched into the club looking very beautiful with her heels making a click-clack sound on the floor.

Everyone had eyes on her as she swayed her hips from side to side.

"Hello...Your Majesty, how nice it is for you to send for me".

Fiona said smiling brightly.

"Saga take her to him" Damon walked past her to his lounge leaving her behind.

Fiona followed behind saga looking very confused.

Fiona was surprised to see her brother Derrick looking partially wasted.

"What the hell!"

"We don't know how he got in but we saw him very drunk and making a scene".

Saga explained to Fiona.

Fiona was now very angry at this as she dragged him carelessly with her.

When they go outside, Fiona gave Derrick a hard punch on the face, which obviously took him out of his drunkenness.

"Ouch, you pack quite a punch sister".

"I will give you another punch if you do not start talking about why you are here at the King's club."

"Why can't I be here?, you are going to be the queen soon, so can't I at least enjoy some privilege as the queen to be brother?"

" Are you insane Derrick?, do you have any idea you are still a minor and shouldn't be at a club?"

Derrick just shrugged his shoulders like it was nothing serious.

"If you want to really see me become queen, then you had better stay away from the King's property, not until am fully married to him".

Fiona walked out on Derrick after saying telling him what she felt.

Here she was trying to her Damon to like her at least before their marriage but her brother here is trying to make things worse.

She hasn't found a mate as well and as such she believed she was the right woman for Damon.

She would make him love her at all costs for she alone deserve that position as his queen she thought.
