

Contract With Alpha Logan by Misha K

Chapter 68

Zoe POV

I wanted to slap Alpha Liam for the way he was talking to me. He was such a pervert. Coral wanted to kill him when he dared to touch us.

“Shut up!” I snapped. “When Alpha Logan finds out about your deeds, he will make sure you are destroyed. Then I looked at Zoe. “You orchestrated my father’s death along with Graham to get my pack, but look where that got Graham? He is betrayed by you.” I chuckled humorlessly. “Look around. Karma is tightening its noose around your neck. Your own mate doesn’t believe that it’s his pup you are carrying.”

She snarled, peeling her lips back. “Fuck off! We are this close to getting what we wanted. Alpha Liam and I are going to be powerful leaders of three packs.” She walked to Liam and held his hand. “Come on, love. We have to make a strategy on how to fight Graham’s warriors. I know all about their secrets and how they plan a battle.” She tittered. “You know, at one point in time, Graham wanted to fight Alpha Logan and his warriors because Kylie, but I stopped him because Alpha Logan is so much stronger than him. I stopped him because I wanted bring together our packs and stand together in a war against Alpha Logan.”

Zoe looked hurt. “Liam, she is of no use. In a few days, her pack is going to be ours. By the way, have you sent your warriors to attack the Lunar pack?”

He sighed. “I know her pack will be ours, baby, but I want to check her out.” He winked.

I couldn’t help laughing when Zoe almost let out a cry. “This is the best shit-show I have ever watched!” I said to her. “You came between me and Graham and see how your mate is doing the same to you. How do tables turn? Isn’t it interesting, Zoe?”

She glared at me and hissed, “You mind your own business, b*tch. In a few days, I’ll be done with you!”

“Oh, no!” I replied. The only way to stall these monsters was to play mind games with them. From the way Alpha Liam was doubting her and showing interest in me, one thing was sure—he didn’t know whether that pup was his or Graham’s. And that’s what I was going to focus on—create discord between them. “In my opinion, you should be bothered about the pup you are carrying. Does it belong to Alpha Liam or Alpha Graham?”

“This is Liam’s pup!” she shouted.

“Then you better get a paternity test done,” I shrugged. I turned my gaze to Liam and said, “Because all I can say at this point is that Graham didn’t live without her, even for a single day. He was always in her bedroom. She made sure that they had enough Sex to weaken me.”

Liam’s face contorted in rage, which meant that my strategy was working.

So, I added, "In fact, there was a time when I wanted to meet Graham and I couldn't because he had specifically told his guards that I shouldn't be allowed to get in the room. And the reason being that they were both having sex."

Zoe's blood drained from her face. "Liam, don't listen to her. You sent me there because we had a mission in mind. We had to take over the Lunar pack!"

His fists clenched. "All you had to do was seduce him, Zoe. Did that mean that you had to have Sex with him every f*cking day? You know, Kylie is right! I used to feel the pain all the time."

"Liam!" Zoe exclaimed. "Can't you see what she is doing? She is sowing seeds of discord between us! The only way to attract Graham towards me was to have Sex with him whenever he wanted." She stabbed her fingers in her hair. "This was all a part of a scheme. You can't just blame me now!" She went to him and cupped his cheeks. "Look at me. I love you a lot."

He slapped away her hands. "No! You had the option to not sleep with him every other time. It looks like you were having the time of your life!"

This was what I wanted if I had to escape or buy time. I added, "By the way, Zoe, I remember the day you trained with me in the pack house. You said that you were pregnant with Graham's baby. And you had been with him for like ten days?" I suppressed a smile and got up. Tapping my chin, I said, "I was surprised by how quickly you could be pregnant with Graham's pup. However, now I remember. Did you not visit him several times earlier?"

Her eyes popped out in surprise, and when she flushed, I knew I was right. My words hit right on the mark.

Liam walked to her and slapped her tight across the face. She cried as she fell on the ground and skidded some ten feet away. "I knew you were a whore! Planning, scheming and everything else is in one place, but you-" he strode to her and fisted her hair. "You had gone to your loverboy! Your childhood sweetheart to have fun."

"What? No!" she cried. "Liam, we are both in this. We are this close to getting what we wanted. Don't get diverted by what she is saying. You worked with me on the outside to attack all the Lunas and the Alphas at the Head Council meeting to weaken them. This is our chance. We can now attack all of them and become the strongest pack in North America!"

I gasped.

vote against me?" I rasped. It was Zoe who had convinced Graham to bring all the Alphas to the Head Council meeting. And then asked Liam to attack them, making it look like a rogue attack.

"Yes!" she said, wiping the blood from her lips. She returned her attention to Liam. "Liam, this is our time. You have to-"

I interjected immediately, "You have to get a paternity test done if you have to prove your fidelity to Alpha Liam." I waved at her. "What goes around comes back. Why did you ask Graham to give me an anti-pregnancy shot?

Because it was your plan to get pregnant with his pup. "

Liam glared at her and shoved her away. "Yes, I want you to get a paternity-

“She is messing with you, Liam!” Zoe cried. “Graham wanted a pup with me and if he had it with her, where would have that left me with all my plans?”

I shook my head. “Zoe, Zoe, Zoe. Now it’s proven. You are carrying Graham’s pup. The Moon Goddess has delivered her justice. Tsk tsk. You cheated on your husband knowingly. You played with his feelings.”

“Shut up!” she yelled. “I didn’t cheat on Liam. This is Liam’s pup!”

The door suddenly opened and a tall man with light brown hair walked in. “Alpha Liam!”

“Beta Nico?” Liam got up with a worried expression on his face. “What’s wrong?”

“Our warriors attacked the Lunar pack as you had instructed, and Lunar pack was losing until-” His gaze flitted to me. “Alpha Logan came along with his warriors for his Luna!”

“What the fuck!” Liam shouted in surprise with wide eyes. “How did he know she was here?”
