

Alpha's Purchased Luna

Chapter 1

Alice P.O.V

"Alice, run. Please my child, run far away from here." My mom said while lying on the ground.

"No mom, I can't do this. I can't leave you here to die. Don't worry, I'll call the pack doctor." I cried and told her.

"No honey, you have to. Your dad, our Alpha, has already died. We lost the war. You are not safe here so please listen to me and run away." She pleaded.

"Please, mom. Just wait here, I'll do something." I sobbed.

I was about to call the pack doctor when my mom grabbed my hand and stopped me. "Alice, listen to me. Our pack has been destroyed and they will destroy you too. You don't have much time, maybe they had killed our pack doctor already. Don't get caught in their hands. But remember one thing, Don't bow to anyone except your head alpha and your mate. Your mate will protect you and love you forever. So run away from here and find your mate."

I was crying and couldn't understand what I should do. My mom took a deep breath and then she closed her eyes and didn't open them again.

"MOM!!!! Please mom open your eyes. You can't leave me. How can I live without you and Dad?" I screamed but mom did not react at all.

All of a sudden, I felt gripped by my arm. I turned my head and saw a man with a dirty smirk.

"I was looking for you, Princess. The war is over. And I'm tired. But you can give me pleasure as a winning gift, right?" He said while smirking.

"Who are you? Leave me." I said angrily.

"Oh come on. Are you assuming that this is still your pack? My father has won the war, he has killed your father. I killed your beta and her pregnant wife. There are no gammas or thetas here to protect you." He let out proudly.

I cried out and said, "Why are you all doing this? My father never did anything bad to you all. He was always good to every pack member and you killed him?"

"Just shut up. I don't have time to listen to your tantrums." He yelled.

There were other rogues behind us. One of them said, "Alpha Xander told you to leave her to us and visit him. He has something to announce."

"No, I'll have her first. I'm not a fool who will give her to you all." He tightened his grip and started to drag me forward with him. I struggled but couldn't get out of his grip.

"Leave me," I shouted at him.

"I'll leave you when you will be underneath me." He said without any shame.

He went to my parent's room and pulled me with him. He closed the door and pushed me to the bed. He grabbed my hair and said,

"Your father was a struggler I must say. You should have seen his face when he died."

I was shocked. How cruel a person could be!

He started to rip my clothes. When suddenly, someone busted open the door. A man in his middle age stood there with a grim face.

"Didn't I tell you to leave her to them?" The man asked.

"Dad? What are you doing here? See? I'm having fun with the former Alpha's daughter." He laughed.

"Shut up. She is the former Alpha's daughter, that's why you should stay away from her. We just won the war, we are not rogues anymore. we can't spoil our newly created reputation by having her here. She is an Omega. She must be a virgin. I will sell her at a high price. Many Alphas want to buy a pure Omega." That man said.

Then some rogue came and gripped my arms. They pulled me out of my parent's room and started to walk out of the pack house. I was crying hard.

For two days I was living in a cave-like cabin. There were so many Omegas like me in that cabin. When I came, they recognized me and cried before me. I couldn't do anything, I was powerless. If I had the power, I could have released them all and all the omegas who were suffering from slavery. Living there was like hell. They didn't give me any food, just water. They slapped me for nothing. It was like they were punishing me because my parents were the Alpha and Luna.

My mom was a Beta female, she was a very strong woman. She always told me to be strong. She was the perfect Luna. But I couldn't be like her. I was fearful and powerless.

Today was the auction day.

One by one Omegas were going outside and did not come back again. I was afraid of everything. The Alpha of rogues was really brutal. He was selling all our Omegas. Because in our world Omegas were weak and only made to pleasure male wolves.

I was thinking about all of this and crying when someone called my name.

"Alice Harrison, it's your time. Come out and go to the stage."

I was going to be someone's slave today. I didn't understand why it was happening to me. I was living happily two days ago. Why was fate doing this to me? I loved my parents and my pack. My parents always taught me to think about the pack before myself.

What would I do now with everything they taught me? After all, I had to live my life being a slave to pleasure others.

I wished my mate could save me from this hell. I wished he would come to protect me and take me with him. But this was only my imagination.

"What are you thinking, bitch? Come out fast. They all are respected Alphas. Don't make them wait." Someone shouted angrily.

I stood up. My hands were tied up, I was still wearing the same clothes for two days. They didn't give me clothes because they wanted other Alphas to see what would happen to their family if they were involved in a war against them.

"I started to walk to the stage hearing someone say,

"Here. Let me present to you the Former Alpha's daughter, Alice Harrison. She is beautiful and a pure virgin Omega, everyone. Feel free to offer your price."

I was feeling numb. I was feeling like a product that would be sold on the market. I walked to the center of the stage slowly while lowering my head.

"Start with the pricing," Auctioneer said beside me.

"SOLD OUT."

Someone with a deep voice declared loudly.

Everyone was surprised that before they could react they heard a loud growl.

I almost kneeled but controlled myself.

Auctioneer said nervously,

"But you didn't even offer your price. Others may not agree with you."

Another voice came, "If he said sold out then it is sold out. No one in this room dares to disagree with him."

Auctioneer thought it was a big client so he said, "Can I know the purchaser's name, please?"

Everyone was furious with the conversation. They didn't come here to insult themselves.

Then after a few seconds, the same voice replied,

"Alpha Dylan."

Each and everyone was shocked and frightened after hearing the name, including me.

I heard about him from my parents and our Beta. I was surprised and murmured to myself,

'ALPHA DYLAN?'
