

Kaiden's P.O.V.

The comfort Aziza offered me was something I needed and I was more than happy to take it.

The moment she said I could beat the crap out of them, I forgot about everything else. I ran to the dungeons and now I am standing at the top of the stairs that will lead me to the men that hurt an innocent woman.

"Gunnar, are you awake?" I ask through the mind-link and he asks me what I want. I chuckle before I say "Want to keep me company, while I beat the crap out of those fuckers." Two seconds later I hear him rushing down the stairs.

'Kaiden, you can't do this. Aziza will bench you for this.' Gunnar says and I tell him that Aziza was the one who suggested it. He smiles at me and asks what we are waiting for.

"Okay Dumb and Dumber, which one of you will be first?" Gunnar asks and I actually like his nicknames for the men. "Dumber is the Mate, the one on your left." I say and we both laugh.

I step up to Dumb and ask "Who's idea was it to share a Mate?" Dumb looks at me for a second and then he tells us that they had seen Roger and Talon share women.

They had seen older Pack-members share their Mate with Roger as a punishment and that it had always turned them on. They had seen men punish their Mates, by watching as another fucked them.

Gunnar and I look at each other and right now we don't care who's idea it was, they will both pay for what they did to Tayla. We open the cell-door at the same time and we let our Lycans push forward as we start punching them.

We have beaten them to a pulp, but they are still breathing. "Maybe we will come back tomorrow." I say before we lock both cell-doors.

After my run and the beating I gave Dumb, I feel calm enough to go to sleep. Gunnar and I make our way back to our rooms and wish each other goodnight.

Aziza's P.O.V.

I get up early, after a rather restless night. Every time I dozed off, I saw his hands roaming my body. From my breasts down to my core and every time he was close to pushing a finger in, I would wake up.

I feel so fucking frustrated that I know I am going to take it out on someone today, I just hope that it is someone that deserves it. I hear giggles coming from the kitchen and I decide to see if there is some breakfast for me.

"Goodmorning, Ladies." I say as I walk in and three Omega's stare at me. "I am sorry if I startled you, that was not my intent. I was just hoping that there was some breakfast or at least some coffee."

The girl from last night turns around and pours me a mug of coffee, I thank her as she puts it in front of me. A few minutes later I have a plate full of my breakfast favorites and I smile as I remember Tullia's cooking.

As soon as I have finished breakfast I dive in to the Pack's Archive and I grab file after file and read through all of them. I find out quickly that no one in this Pack has a fated Mate. The further back I go, the more it becomes clear that this Pack probably doesn't allow its members to have a fated Mate.

One of our Pack Elders had once told us that some Alphas believe that fated Mates were not only a male's weakness, but also that of a Pack. She had mentioned she had known of a Pack that didn't allow its members to be mated to their fated Mate.

So every male and female was forced to choose a Mate as soon as they became of age. They had to mark their Mate in front of the entire Pack, so everyone could see that they were chosen Mates.

I don't know if that Pack still exist or that it could be this Pack, but I will contact Alpha Ewan later today to find out. Elder Simone is still alive and maybe she remembers the name of the Pack.

I write it down on my tablet and continue reading through the files, it is not my most favorite task but I know that it has to be done. I find out that Roger's Father was an ass just like him, he had had eleven chosen Mates and only his last Mate had given him children.

Gunnar's P.O.V.

I wake up well rested and with a huge smile on my face as I remember the fun Kaiden and I had with Dumb and Dumber last night.

I had taken a shower before turning in, so I am done pretty fast this morning and I whistle as I walk down the stairs in search of food and coffee. In the kitchen I find three Omega's and without saying a word they put coffee and breakfast in front of me.

I need to find some answers in regards to Gyanna and I ask the women in the kitchen where I might find them. After a few minutes one of them says "Her Mother lives in a cottage near the border, if you head out the backdoor and walk straight ahead you will find her.

She can answer any question you might have, except for one." I ask her which question that is and she tells me that her Mother doesn't know how her Daughter died.

"Why wouldn't her Mother know that she died trying to give birth to her Pup?" I ask and the answer blows my mind "Because she doesn't know that Gyanna is dead."

"Aziza, where are you? I am in need of some advice." I ask through the mind-link and I jump out of my chair when I hear behind me "Right here." She giggles at my actions and I ask her what she heard of my conversation.

"Sorry, Gunnar. I didn't hear anything, I am trying to wrap my head around this. So I am afraid that other things were running through my mind." I get a refill on my coffee and grab a mug for Aziza, before I ask her to join me in the office.

I link the others and ask them to join us, soon the six of us are seated in the office. "Okay, here is the challenge in my investigation. How do you ask someone questions about a person, they think is still alive?"

They all stare at me and I tell them what I had learned in the kitchen about Gyanna's Mother. Aziza is typing on her tablet and for a second I want to tell her that I already typed down everything I heard, when we hear her mutter "Fuck."

She turns her tablet towards me and I see that she made some notes on Gyanna's Mother. My Lycan is trying to push forward, but I tell him to stand down and reluctantly he does as I say.

"Do you think Roger knew about this?" I ask her and the others look at the both of us. She shakes her head as she leans back in to the armchair she is sitting in.

Aziza looks around the room and then says "Gyanna's Mother is also Roger's Mother." Kaiden crouches down before her and ask if she made a similar note on Freyja, his third chosen Mate.

She starts typing again and I see her face pale as she is reading through her notes. Freyja was also related to Roger, her Mother and Gyanna's Mother were Sisters.

"Aziza, I hate to ask this, but what about Samyrah and Meara, his other chosen Mates?" Chase asks and Aziza starts typing again. Meara's Father and Samyrah's Father were his Uncles, they were the Brothers of Gyanna's Mother and Freyja's Mother.
